ODE.

BY JOHN G. WHITTIER.

One morning of the first sad fall,
Poor Adam and his bride
Sat in the shade of Eden's wall—
But on the outer side.

She, blushing in her fig leaf suit,
For the chaste garb of old;
He, sighing o'er his bitter fruit
For Eden's drapes of gold.

Behind them smiling in the morn,
Their forfeit garden lay;
Before them, wild with rock and thorn
The desert stretched away.

They heard the air above them fanned,
A light step on the sward,
And lo! they saw before them stand
The angel of the Lord!

"Arise!" he said, "why look behind
When hope is all before,
And patient hand and willing mind
Your loss may yet restore?"

I leave you with a spell whose power
Can make the desert glad,
And coil around you fruit and flower
As fair as Eden had.

I clothe your hands with power to lift
The curse from off your soil;
Your very doom shall seem a gift,
Your loss a gain through Toil.

Go, cheerful as you humming bees
To labor as to play."
While gleaming over Eden's trees
The angel passed away.

The pilgrims of the world went forth
Obedient to the word,
And found where'er they filled the earth
A garden of the Lord!

The thorn tree cast its evil fruit
And blushed with plum and pear;
And seeded grass and trodden root
Grew sweet beneath their care.

We share our primal parents' fate,
And in our turn and day,
Look back on Eden's awarded gate
As sad and lost as they.

But still for us his native skies
The pitying Angel leaves,
And lends through Toil to Paradise
New Adams and new Eves.

TOO MUCH IN HASTE.

A late letter from New York city says: "One of our rich merchants—a man of the fortune of a million and a half—a resident of the 5th Avenue—connected with one of the first houses of New York, was carried yesterday to the Insane Hospital. He is another illustration of what our city shows in many lamentable cases, of the danger of over attention to business. We keep a list of the drunkards who die, of the suicides, of deaths by railroad, collisions and accidents. But could the number of deaths and cases of insanity, growing out of the "haste to be rich"—of the incessant application to business—the overtaxing of the mind in the accumulation of wealth—the appalling number would startle and convulse society. Intemperance has her thousands of victims. But avarice can count up her tens of thousands. Probably no city in the world demands so much of a man who has a fortune, or means to make one, as New York. All his time, brains, affections, intenseness, must be laid on the altar of his idol. A business man of this city must be almost a stranger to his own home. He lives far up town from his office or store. He leaves early, after taking a hasty breakfast. He comes home late to dine, if he don't dine down town. He sees his children for a moment or two in the day, if at all. He would hardly know them if he saw them in the street. His wife has all the day alone. Domestic life and comfort is a thing he reads of. He hope is that when his fortune is made he will settle down at home and enjoy domestic life. But to a thriving New Yorker that time seldom comes. And a failure, insanity, or early death, cuts off his hopes. He lives, eats, sleeps, works and dies on the run."

A MAN FROZEN TO DEATH.—The Manchester American states that a man named Asa Fairbanks, of Sandwich, N. H., was frozen to death on the night of the 17th inst., while on a hunting excursion near the "Birch Interval," in Tamworth. He had stopped at the residence of Mr. Lowell Brown, at the "Interval," the preceding night, and had gone out early in the morning without breakfast, and without taking provisions with him. He was found on Thursday morning, and seemed to have travelled some distance after his legs had frozen. He was 73 years of age, and leaves children.

The stockholders of the Lewiston Falls Company in Maine have had a meeting, and voted to sell the property, in consequence of their indebtedness. It has been purchased by or transferred to a new company, called the Franklin Company, who have chosen for directors, Benjamin E. Bates, William P. Pierce, Francis Skinner and Mr. Beale, Boston; Daniel Pratt, Lowell; Josiah Little, Newburyport; William R. Porter, Portland.

The Newburyport Herald says a "double marriage" of a couple took place in that city on Christmas. The gentleman was a Catholic; the lady an Episcopalian; and both of the highest respectability. They were first united according to the forms of the Episcopal Church, and afterwards, according to the Catholic usage; at first in what is a legal as well as a religious manner, and next ecclesiastically, as the faith

Correspondence of the Chronicle.

LIFE IN MINNESOTA.

SIBLEY CO., M. T., NOV. 27. 1856.

In a late number of Porter's Spirit there is a capital article entitled "Our Shanty." In just such a shanty as is therein described, in the midst of woods extending for miles on every side, far beyond the outposts of civilization, "Far from gay cities and the ways of men," we are enjoying some slight experience of Western pioneer life. In this seclusive spot the noise of bitter political strife, of blind partizan fury, is never heard.

At long intervals, by some wonderful freak of the mail carriers, a straggling newspaper from the outer world finds its way in. Since it fell from the press, many a western city has leaped into existence and become of age; but not the less news to us are its contents. With hope we read the signs of approaching tempests in Europe—with adorations of gallant little Sardinia; and the success of Walker assures us that the administration of President Pierce will be rendered memorable by great and important additions to the territories of the Republic.

Isolated as we are, our eagerness to know the latest news can only be equaled by that of a dealer in flour, with thousands of barrels on hand, the flour going up and nearly at the culminating point.

Buried in the depths of the forest, the nights are long, the days are short: the sun goes suddenly down behind the thick curtains of trees, darkness coming upon us with a bound. Through the long night watches, these cold November winds roar madly through the branches of the grand old giant oaks. Oft there is heard a dull, sullen crash, which shakes the firm ground and all things tremble convulsively in response! 'Tis the dying groan of some stout old oak, which has fronted the gales for centuries, but now covered with scars and wounds, weakened by old age, worn out with continued struggling, it at last succumbs to the Storm King, whose forces are plunging and tearing with triumphant malignant glee through the lifeless limbs of the fallen forest monarch.

At frequent intervals, mellowed by the distance, comes like enchantment faintly upon the ear, the melodious voice of some solitary owl on a midnight mousing expedition. Anon a squad of sneaking wolves open their throats and take a distinguished part in the nocturnal serenade.

"Silence, ye wolves! while Ralph to Cynthia howls,
And makes night hideous;—answer him, ye owls."

A running fire of hoots, vollies of howls, accompanied by the creaking groans of heavy laboring trees—this kept up through the live-long night, clear into the small hours, when the morning light breaks its way through the branches, is a treat that few have the good fortune to enjoy, and the few thus fortunate can never cease to remember. Don't talk of Italian operas and that long catalogue of foreign celebrities, from Alboni to the Lord knows who down below Vestvali; pass but one night in a Minnesota forest, a Sibley county forest, and you will be convinced that all this array of distinguished foreign talent combined can barely succeed in carrying off the palm from unappreciated native American genius.

A short distance from our quarters, encamped on the bank of a nameless creek that winds its crooked course from High Island lake, through the "Big Woods" to the Minnesota, is a band of Sioux, with squaws and papooses innumerable. The men frequently visit us, dropping in unceremoniously, like old acquaintances, to spend a social hour. They first look in at the window, and having apparently satisfied themselves that everything is right, walk boldly in without knocking. A general hand shaking all round then ensues, in the course of which our digits suffer some. This ceremony gone through, they seat themselves round the fire, produce pipes, their inseparable companions, and forthwith proceed to indulge in a smoke, appearing to enjoy it so much, that we are almost ready to believe that there really is some virtue in tobacco. They not understanding English, nor we Dacotah, a profound silence prevails, interrupted only by the wheezing of asthmatic pipe stems. After finishing their pipes, and convincing themselves both of the (to them) sad fact of the scarcity of whiskey, and the impracticability of any attempt on our commissariat department, one suddenly bolts for the door, the rest file off after him, and they disappear at a quickstep as silently as they came, leaving us to philosophize over the fallen state of this once powerful race.

They are generally tall, straight and athletic; armed with hatchet, knife and rifle, they appear as if they might be hard customers to manage in a free fight, in fact almost equal to their brethren of Baltimore, to whom they would prove valuable auxiliaries. They are of course excellent hunters; in this pursuit nearly all their time is passed, bringing in ever day several deer, besides any number of rabbits, prairie hens, and such small game so abundant in this county. They are very fond of liquor, and when under its influence generally manifest a strong desire to take somebody's scalp. At other times they are very peaceable and quiet. Some are adepts in the art of begging, and would probably practise the profession after the fashion of the fellow in Gil Blas, if they dared. All have the reputation of being great thieves; but we have not yet learned the fact by experience; perhaps because they are really honest, possibly because of the sharp look out kept after goods and chattels when honored with their company, but probably because they can find nothing worth stealing.

They are not, however, near so bad as represented. It is the fashion out here to abuse them, and every new comer, thinking that he must do as the Romans do when at Rome, invariably falls into the habit. In a horse stolen, a stack burnt, henroost robbed, a prarie set on fire,—why of course the Indians did it,—and every one joins in the hue and cry: whereas, if the truth were but known, in nineteen cases out of twenty, poor Johnny would be found innocent as the pappoose unborn.

The Sioux or Dacotah tribe, to which belong our neighbors, and the Chippewas are hereditary foes. To the beginning of the feud no one can trace back. It has come down through centuries, leaving behind a bloody path—increasing always in ferocity, in bitterness; a war to the knife, ending only when one tribe is exterminated. Thus, through their own fierce quarrels, the ravages of whiskey, and small pox, they have fearfully diminished in number.

Not long will it be before the last of the race disappears. Of his virtues, manly, heroic, spartan virtues, the poets of coming ages will ring; in his grave will be buried the remembrance of his vices; or should we choose to remember them, let us not forget that most of them he learned of us. For one thing, if for no other, he is entitled to our gratitude, to the eternal gratitude of posterity,—for that shower of beautiful names scattered broadcast over the great west, not one of them without a meaning poetical and appropriate, but many of them, I regret to say, falling like pearls before those who cannot appreciate them.

PONTIAC.

The Nashville, Tenn., Union denies, probably by authority, the report that Mr. Buchanan is to marry the widow of President Polk. It says:

"Our knowledge of the lady warrants us in saying that, though Mr. Buchanan were ten times President, there would be no truth in the report."

And probably the old gentleman has no more idea of marrying now at the eventide of his life, for the first time, than the lady has of a second marriage. She has seen and proved the cares and toils of the White House, as its mistress, for a period of four years, with the husband of her youth, whom she loved: and she has no desire to repeat the experience, with an old bachelor a dozen or twenty years her senior, transformed into a bridegroom. He probably, as above suggested, has given up his youthful dreams of wedded bliss long ago, or if he dreams on, will only dream.

FUN IN THE CAMPAIGN OF '44.—Henry Clay was the Whig candidate. A Liberty party man making a speech, somewhere in New Hampshire, objected very strongly to the gallant Kentuckian on the ground of his being a duellist. This done, he began to glory his own party as small in numbers, but destined to achieve great things. He compared it to David going forth with sling and stones to combat with the giant Goliah. Piling up the eloquence, he reached the climax at last, and cried out—"and then—then, fellow citizens,—what did David do?" "Fit a duel, Sir,"—came in shrill tones from one of the assembly. This may be an old story, but it can do no harm to tell it again, to exemplify the cars with which such rhetorical edge tools as illustrations should be played with.—Boston Traveler.

Judge Bishop held court in Northampton, Ms., on Christmas day—entirely forgetting that the law makes it a holiday. One of the witnesses "happened to think of it" in the course of the afternoon, and the parties interested not making any objection, but waiving their legal rights from the amusing blunder, the trial went on.

NEWBURYPORT.—The "Maine Law" was enforced in this city on Monday, in the case of one Martin Felon, who for selling spirituous liquors was sentenced to pay a fine of $10 and costs, be imprisoned twenty days in the House of Correction, and give bonds in $1000 to keep the peace one year.—Herald.

SHARP, THE MURDERER.—On Wednesday afternoon chief of police Rawlings returned to St. Louis, having in his custody William T. Sharp, alias Charles Morton, the murderer of Dr. Cleveland, at the Virginia Hotel. Sharp confesses the deed, accounting for the act by saying that they quarrelled and he stabbed him, and he would just remark that no man with hair on his face should insult him. He said that during his travels in Mexico and Texas he had been in worse scrapes, and that he could get out of this as he had always had before. On his way down, Sharp was quite communicative, speaking of his hardihood, and desiring that it might not be set down to the account of villainy or hard-heartedness, but to an acute sense of honor.

A very chivalrous man is he,—as fit for Congress as Herbert or Brooks.

HUNTINGTON, THE FORGER.—In the criminal court at New York, the Jury in Huntington's case, after several hours' consultation, rendered a verdict of guilty; and he was sentenced to the state prison for four years and ten months. The jury, it seems, deemed him just such a crazy man as had better be in prison than elsewhere.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—It appears from a communication to-day transmitted to the Senate by the Secretary of the Interior, in reply to a resolution of inquiry, that the department has endeavored to have the entire land reservation in Kansas, heretofore set apart for the New York Indians, maintained and guarded against encroachments by white settlers, until it shall be determined, either by legislation or treaty, what rights, if any, therein remain to such of these Indians as have not removed west of the Mississippi, having an unlimited right to remain in New York; and in what manner the interests of those who emigrate shall be secured and definitely settled.

NEW YORK, 20th.—Railroad Accident.—The Saturday afternoon Albany express train, on the Harlem Railroad, met with a serious accident yesterday morning, near Turner's station, by the breaking of a rail, which threw the train from the track, injuring the conductor and 8 or 10 passengers, two of the latter quite seriously.

BALTIMORE, Dec. 30.—Fire, and Death from Suffocation.—The shoe store of Simon Bass, in Broadway, was damaged by fire this morning. Two apprentice boys, who slept over the store, were smothered to death.

GREAT INJUSTICE.—"This is to certify that I have illegaly maid prisener in the the toon of New Britton and confined to the work hoest 16 monts for non offense whatter. I was maid prisner by Mr. Pratt and maid to work for the toon and youred in the most abusive way by thretning to smash my head with a club & &c.

The toon of New Britton dr. to John H. J. Heamond.

For 16 mounths labor 1.00 per m 16,00."

The above tells its own story. It is the true and literal copy of a paper presented at the Police Court by the aggrieved party this morning.—Hartford Free Press, 23th.

No action has yet been taken on the Kansas nominations. Judge Lecompte's friends are preparing for a vigorous assault upon the administration for his removal, but his successor will be confirmed.

Timothy Kendrick, Esq., Lebanon, N.H. for many years an extensive railroad contractor, and for twenty years Town Clerk of Lebanon, died at his residence last Monday.

Sophia Defoe, who was sent to school in Tonawanda, N. Y., while her parents emigrated to Michigan, hung herself, from grief and homesickness.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

We have never known any other medicine win as large a share of public confidence in so short a time as this has done. It has not been more than a year since we first heard of it, and it now stands at the head of all remedies of the kind. We have never used any of it ourselves, having had no occasion, as our "crown of glory," not only as yet retains its original color, but gets more so—but some of our friends have, and we have never know it fail of restoring the hair to its original color. We advise such as are becoming prematurely gray, to give the "Restorative" a trial.—Chester (Illinois) Herald, June, 1854.

NO FAMILY

Can afford to be without Mustang Liniment in their houses. The many accidents we are liable to, may render it necessary any moment, and nothing is capable of performing such a certain cure. (Extract.)—"In lifting the kettle from the fire it caught and scalded my hands and person severely—one hand almost to a crisp. The fracture was unbearable. It was an awful sight. * * * The Mustang Liniment appeared to extract the pain almost immediately. It healed rapidly and left no scar of account. CHAS. FOSTER, 420 Broad street, Philadelphia." It is truly a wonderful article. It will cure any case of Swelling, Burns, Stiff Joints, Eruptions or Rheumatism. For Horses it should never be dispensed with. One Dollar's worth of Mustang has frequently saved a valuable horse. It cures Galls, Sprains, Ringbone, Spavin and Founders. Beware of imitations. Sold in all parts of the habitable Globe.

PROFESSOR HEDRICK.—The Cincinnati Gazette says that Prof. Hedrick, whose name has become widely known, on account of the able and fearless letters against the extension of slavery which he wrote before election, and which caused his expulsion from the University of North Carolina, is likely to accept a professorship in one of the best and most liberal educational institutions in Ohio. He is now in Cincinnati.

Baltimore seems to be rather a riotous city. The papers of Friday record a riot, which the police quelled before proceeding far, but not until a lady, standing in her doorway, was shot in the neck. Then three persons were arrested for deliberately firing a pistol at a house, while the contents of a liquor store were smashed, the keeper shot, and his wife injured by a knife.

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 29.—Five Hundred Recruits for Walker.—The steamship Texas sailed for San Juan this morning, with 500 recruits for Walker's army.

NEW-YEAR.—We wish our readers, advertisers and friends, one and all, a happy new year, and as many returns of it as they can enjoy. We have no new promises to make nor schemes to disclose, beyond our purpose to make as good a paper for them, and as profitable to ourselves, as possible.

Among the New Year's Presents which have come to our knowledge, we have great pleasure in noticing some gifts to the Boys' High School, which will minister both to pleasure and profit.

Two of these are from Rev. Mr. Whiting, being medallion likenesses of Washington and Franklin; one a large Map of the World from Mr. John Lord; another a valuable print of Washington, in the attitude of speech, from a lady who wishes to have her name withheld; three other beautiful engravings, in rich frames, contributed by donors who send the following note with their present:

MR. PAYSON, Teacher High School—

If the accompanying Pictures can be a source of gratification to the Boys of the High School, their thanks are due to Rev. Mr. Whiting for his beautiful suggestion at the dedication of their building.

The offering is by three friends, who with one voice would wish them a cheerful close for the present, and a happy commencement for the coming year.

Dec. 31, 1856.

☞ The present of Dr. Kane's valuable works, which we mentioned a day or two since as having been made to Mr. John P. Payson, by his school—we now learn was the gift of a single much-prized pupil, Master Howard L. Jackson, and was selected by him as a token of respect and esteem for his instructor. Far above the great intrinsic value of the gift, must be—to the teacher, the satisfaction caused by the existence and manifestation of such a feeling in a scholar.

☞ The South School House came very near burning down, or up, a few days ago. On going into the room, in the morning, the principal, Mr. Patten, discovered fire under the stove, which had burned through the floor—but a liberal application of water soon stopped the progress of the flames.

Mr. D. L. Randall also came nigh being scorched out, one of the cold nights lately. His wife awoke him with the pleasant announcement that the house was all a-fire—but he pulled down a wooden fire-board in a lower room, to which the fire had communicated from soot falling down chimney; and soon poked it all out. He had slept above stairs till within a day or two—and would have stood a pretty good chance to be scorched had he been there still.

Doubtless "the incendiaries" would have been charged with both these fires, had they occurred. Look out!

COURT OF COMMON PLEAS.

No. 107, Stephen Little vs. William G. Little et als., is now on trial.

U. S. DISTRICT COURT.—N. H. DIS.

PORTSMOUTH, Jan. 30—31.

Judge Harvey presiding. The Court was occupied those two days in the trial of Maritime Cases.

Thomas Rice and Edward Wells were arraigned on two indictments,—one for resisting an officer and refusing duty on board the ship Commerce, Capt. Lunt,—and the other for revolt or mutiny with piratical intent, in the same ship. They were found guilty on the first indictment, and the second is now on trial.

The ship had $28,000 in gold on board.

☞ We need not draw attention to neighbor Thacher's advertisement, in this morning's paper—it shows, and will speak, for itself; and will be seen and "read of all men," or at least, by a great many. Mr. T. has tried liberal advertising in the Chronicle before—and doubtless finding it pays well, is here again, in no "questionable shape." We are glad of it—glad for his sake, glad for our own, and for the public, who are therein informed where the best drugs, medicines and fancy articles are always to be had. May this advertisement prove one column to help hold up a substantial business, for a capital fellow.

☞ All who are intending to subscribe for a Magazine or Newspaper, with the new year, will find something to suit any taste, in the column of J. P. Morse, the prompt, reliable and indefatigable newsman of our city. He will furnish any publication, at publishers' rates.

☞ Our prices for Advertising will be found in another column. We have a good long list of advertising patrons, but are always ready for new contracts. Our charges for insertion in our Weekly are the same as the other weekly papers—and in our Daily (including Weekly) only about twice as much.

☞ We regret to learn that the injury to Mr. Geo. Stackpole, whose knee was badly crushed while unloading lumber from a schooner at Messrs. Raynes' shipyard, a few weeks since, has resulted so seriously, that amputation of the leg had become necessary,—which operation was performed by Dr. Oliver on Tuesday last.

MUSICAL CONVENTION.—Our advertising columns announce the third Convention of the Rockingham Musical Association, to be holden in this city next week. These gatherings are worthy the attention of all the musical, and yearly increase in interest and success.

☞ Services appropriate to the close of the year were held in the Stone Church, on Wednesday evening. A solemn and impressive sermon was delivered by Dr. Lamson, of the Middle Street Church, and the concluding prayer by Dr. Peabody was peculiarly touching to those who called to mind the numbers now absent, but who were with them at the beginning of the last New Year.

Just previous to the singing of the last hymn, the lights suddenly became extinguished. Attempt was made to re-light them,—successfully only in the galleries. The services, however, continued without interruption, and at the close, the audience quietly dispersed.

☞ Presents intended for the Chronicle, may be left at the Office, (in the shape of new subscribers or advertisers,) between 5 A. M. and 10 P. M. to-day.

ARRIVAL OF THE FULTON.

Steamship Fulton, from Havre 17th of Dec., and Southampton 18th, has arrived at New York. Breadstuffs dull and declining. Cotton unchanged. Severe gales had caused several vessels to put back. The Queen had visited the ship Resolute, and invited the American officers to her palace in the Isle of Wight.

CONGRESS.

TUESDAY, Dec. 30.

SENATE.—On motion of Mr. Weller, a resolution was adpoted calling on the President to communicate a statement of all payments and allowances which have been made, and of all claims disallowed Gen. Scott, from the date he joined the army in Mexico to Dec. 1, 1856, together with any correspondence on the subject.

Adjourned to Friday.

HOUSE.—The Diplomatic and Consular Appropriation bill being under consideration, Mr. Haven of New York moved to strike out the appropriation for salaries to 25 consular pupils, and asked whether we are to have a consular school, in which to educate them.

Mr. Pennington of New Jersey, explained that consular pupils were merely clerks to consuls, whose salaries were insufficient to enable them to employ such assistants. They would, however, be trained to the business of consuls.

Mr Quitman of Mississippi concurred with Mr. Haven. He always thought it should be honest diplomacy, and not that of deceit which exists in European countries.

Further debate ensued, involving the propriety of paying consular pupils, when the appropriation for their salaries was stricken out, and the bill passed.

Adjourned to Friday.

NEW YORK, Dec. 31.—John Wesley Lyman, the murderer of Cornelius Cannon, was fully committed to Brooklyn Jail, yesterday, on the charge of murder. A large crowd of excited Irishmen had assembled at New Utrecht, resolved on lynching the culprit, having all the necessary arrangements for hanging him, but their purpose was frustrated by the officers hurrying the prisoner off to Brooklyn.

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., Dec. 30.—On Saturday last a locomotive attached to a train of cars on the New York and Erie Railroad, exploded at Addison, instantly killing the fireman and demolishing the engine.—The engineer and passengers escaped uninjured. The fireman, whose name is S. W. Atwood, resided at Oswego, N. Y.

What is the difference between a young girl and an old hat?—Merely a difference of time—one has feeling and the other has felt.

HEALTH AND STRENGTH.

☞ DR. S. O. RICHARDSON'S SHERRY WINE BITTERS is the best Medicine ever used, for Summer Complaint. It has been more liberally patronized than any other ever established in this country. It is the same Richardson's Bitters which has restored so many invalids to health throughout New England during the past thirty years.

N. B.—Beware of imitations called Sherry Wine Bitters. The genuine have a fac simile of my signature upon the outer envelope. For sale by druggists everywhere, and at my office, No. 51 Hanover St., Boston. au8 6m

THE GREAT DISCOVERY.

Many years ago, Doctor Burleigh Smart, of Kennebunk, Me., discovered that a simple article never before used as a medicine, was a sure and failing cure for coughs of every description, and an excellent blood purifier. By its use in his private practice, he acquired the reputation of being the best physician in New England, for all diseases of the lungs. After his death, Messrs. Shaw & Clark of Biddeford, Me., obtained a Copy Right from Government, for its exclusive manufacture, and now have it carefully prepared strictly according to the original recipe. There is no cough but it will not cure, unless the patient is past all human aid before commencing its use! It is called "Doctor Burleigh Smart's Cough Medicine," and is for sale by all apothecaries. no27 1y1a3 6m

In calling the attention of the public to my list of Magazines and Newspapers; I would CAUTION all against subscribing for Magazines, Newspapers, or other works, to irresponsible and transient persons, or travelling agents; for in nine cases out of ten you will be swindled and cheated.

If you wish to take any Magazine or Newspaper, subscribe of some responsible firm in Town.—Hundreds of dollars are lost every year by subscribing for works of strangers and travelling agents, and by being induced to subscribe by the thousands of contrivances to cheat the public—such as Art Unions, Premiums, Cosmopolitan Art Associations, and various humbugs to gull the unwary. Keep clear of all these, and pay your money to those whom you know to be responsible.

The subscriber has been in the business fourteen years, and will guarantee to furnish any publication as cheap as can be obtained.

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.

DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS FOR FEMALES,

Prepared by an old Physician of 40 years experience.

THE combination of ingredients in these Pills, is the result of a long and extensive practice; they are mild in their operation, and certain to restoring nature to its proper channel. In every instance have the Pills proved successful. They are certain to open those obstructions to which females are liable, and bring nature into its proper channel, whereby health is restored, and the pale and deathly countenance changed to a healthy one. No female can enjoy good health unless she is regular; and whenever an obstruction takes place, whether from exposure, cold, or any other cause, the general health immediately begins to decline, and the want of such a remedy has been the cause of so many consumptions among young females. Headache, pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, loathing of food, and disturbed sleep, that most always arise from the interruption of nature; and whenever that is the case, the Pills will invariably remedy all these evils. In all cases of painful menstruation, or nervous and spinal affections in the back and limbs, lowness of spirits, hysterics, &c. Nor are they less efficacious in the cure of Leucorrhœa, commonly called the "Whites." These Pills should never be taken during pregnancy, as they would be sure to cause a miscarriage. Warranted purely Vegetable, and free from anything injurious to life or health. Full and explicit directions which should be read, accompany each box.

These Pills are put up in square, flat boxes.—Persons residing where there are no Agencies established, by enclosing One Dollar in a letter, prepaid, to DR. C. L. CHEESEMAN, Box No. 4 581, Post Office, New York City, can have them sent to their respective addresses by return of mail.

A SECOND LAMBERT.—The West Tennessee Whig contains the following:

"On the 20th ult., as we were passing the cabinet-shop of our friend Sinclair, our attention was called to the putting together of the large4 coffin we ever saw. It measured 3 1-2 feet across the top; 28 inches deep, and 7 feet long. This coffin was for Mr. Thomas C. McCarter. But a short time before his death he was in town, and some of our citizens, curious to know his weight, persuaded him to be weighed. His weight was 527 pounds.

MISS SEDGEWICK NOT DEAD.—The papers are just now freely circulating an announcement that Miss Sedgewick, the authoress, died at her home in Stockbridge last October; the din of politics was so great at the time the world's ear did not resound with the sad news. The error, for it is one, grew in some way out of the fact of her brother's death. Miss Sedgewick herself still lives, and we trust has many a year of that life which so charmingly unites, in her case, the useful and the beautiful, before herself and her friends.—Springfield Republican.

LOUISVILLE, Dec. 29.—The examination of the negroes, charged with the murder of the Joyce family took place on Saturday. The Court House was surrounded by an excited crowd, one of whom, the brother of the murdered man, proposed that the negroes should be burnt on the spot. The crowd responded in favor of the proposition, but quiet was restored by the Court, and the negroes were remanded. The presumptive evidence against the prisoners is strong, but there is nothing direct excepting the confession of one of them.

Great American and Foreign Office

For Securing Patents for Inventions.

Agency for business with US Patent Office, Washington

R. H. EDDY,

No. 76 State st, oppo. Milby st, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber, late Examiner of the U.S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages in applying for Patents superior to those offered inventors by other, then bogus strange, hence whether my applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others, will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain the patent, and the withdrawal thereof from him within thirty days after the rejection.

This agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not incomparably superior to, those which other offices; them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his ample library of English and American scientific works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers and Drawings necessary to the procural of patents in this and foreign countries properly and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, or infringement of patents. All members of Congress, in Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Copies of claims of any patent furnished for one dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington—Patents secured in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries, through Agents of the highest responsibility.

R. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office, and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skillful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in a saring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 11, 1855.—During the time I have held the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.

CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

Arnold's Vital Fluid

PURIFIES and strengthens the blood by eradicating, through a nice chemical action, the causes of impurities and humors. Hence its power to cure humors that resist other remedies. Hence its power of strengthening and vitalizing the blood. It furnishes to a certain extent, the element of which pure blood is composed, and therefore cleanses away what ever clogs and thickens the blood.

ARNOLD'S VITAL FLUID

Renders the system strong and healthy, by treating the blood and stomach from objectionable materials. It nerves and vivifies the system, by furnishing the elements which give vigoring.

ARNOLD'S VITAL FLUID

Gives to the system an invigorating and most similar to that produced by exercise in the free open air. It exhilarates by strengthening the blood to bright and better action, giving its work beginning at the beginning. It is pleasant to the taste, and becomes a favorite wherever known.

ARNOLD'S VITAL FLUID

Removes Biliousness in the most direct and easy manner, by neutralizing the bilious matter, the principle of its action in removing illness generally. It neutralizes the cause, by freeing the blood from impurities to its proper fulfilment of its life-giving functions.

This principle of neutralizing the cause is why ARNOLD'S VITAL FLUID CURES HUMORS that most medicine cannot sensibly affect, and why it cures other diseases

Resulting from Poisons in the Blood, that mere medicinal treatment cannot reach. Humors are poisons in the blood, and it is by their chemical action in neutralizing those poisons that ARNOLD'S GLOBULES AND VITAL FLUID are enabled to cure them so that they stay cured.

VITAL FLUID 50 cents per bottle; GLOBULES 25 cents per box.

PATENT SELF GENERATING

Gas Lamp!

PARTICULARLY ADAPTED TO CHURCHES, HALLS, HOTELS, FACTORIES, STORES, PARLORS AND FAMILIES.

THERE is nothing more desirable, when engaged in any avocation, than a good light—the same will right for the day—we want something like it for night. Candles were invented in 1290, and have ever been denounced in consequence of prematurely injuring the eyes by their brilliant flame. We possess a more natural light, and it was discovered and patented in 1849, and has been tested by thousands since that time. The brilliancy of its flame is unequalled by any other artificial burner

SOME OF ITS GOOD QUALITIES.

It is perfectly safe.
No chance for explosion.
It is not extinguished by an ordinary wind.
It requires re-wicking only once in six months
It will not get out of order.
A child may take care of it.
It is unequalled for reading or sewing.
The light is uniformly to the eyes.
For Economy, Cleanliness and Comfort it defies competition, and it is the best and cheapest light in the world.

☞ We wish it understood that the Gas Lamp will give twice the amount of light as three Sperm Candles, for half a cent an hour, and the light of seven candles for 1 cent.

All Fluids used in Oil Lamps adapted to Gas Lamps.

If Fluid is bought at wholesale prices it will cost the consumer very much less than the above prices. For sale by R. K. BODGE,

Prince & Co.'s Improved Melodeons.

THE OLDEST ESTABLISHMENT IN THE U.S.

Employing Two Hundred Men, and Selling

Eighty Instruments per Week.

BETWEEN 19,000 AND 19,000

of these instruments have been finished and are now in use.

THE latest improvement in our Melodeons is the DIVIDED SWELL, secured to us by Letters Patent 22d May, 1855—By means of this Swell Solo Passages may be played with the full power of the Instrument, while the Accompaniment is soft and subdued—Heretofore the whole Melodeon could be furnished with this attachment without extra charge.

Extract from the Commercial Advertiser, July 27, '55

"Messrs Prince & Co could realize a handsome fortune by confining their attention to manufacturers to use their new improvement; but as they prefer to make it a feature in their instruments it can only be obtained by purchasing one of their manufactures.

It is now eight years since we commenced the manufacture of this new celebrated Musical Instrument, during which time we have finished and sold nearly TWENTY THOUSAND! Volumes of testimonials to the excellence of our Instruments, from the most distinguished Professors of Music in the United States, have reached us from time to time been received. Thus far we have said but little, and our advertisements were seldom seen for the reason that we could not supply the demand. We have been devoted our time to the largest and most perfect Manufacturing Establishments in the United States, and we now think that we can fill orders promptly. We therefore give one testimonial we have received.

New York, 15th Oct., 1855.

"G. A. Prince & Co.: Gentlemen—the Double Reed Melodeon you have arrived safely, and charming instrument it is. It has been played on by Wallace, Dodt, Hodges, Wm. Mason, and a host of others, and they all pronounce it one of the most beautiful tones of any instrument they have ever touched. Very reedily. JAMES F. HALL."

We are not aware that the above mentioned Melodeon is in any particular superior to those we now are building, and we would say to those who are inclined to favor us with their orders, that they will be furnished with an instrument equally as good. Our Instruments are all finished in Rosewood Cases, and the workmanship is of the very best quality. The styles and prices are—

IN PORTABLE CASE:

Four octave Melodeon, from C to C	$45
Four and a half octave, " C to F	50
Five octave Melodeon, " F to F	75

Singer's Sewing Machines.

THESE celebrated machines are in practical and profitable use in almost every part of the civilized world. In all the various trades, and in sewing every sort of fabric, either of cloth or leather, they have been fully tried and proved, and if other machines of other manufacturers often fail to work, but SINGER'S MACHINES being strong, durable and complete in contrivance and workmanship. A perfect sewing machine properly employed affords a clear profit of $1000 a year; but one imperfect one is a source of constant vexation and loss. The entire RELIABILITY of our machines is one great reason for their unparalleled success.

ARE SEEN TO OPERATE PERFECTLY,

MACHINES FOR FAMILY SEWING,

of a trifling and delicate construction, are recommended by some manufacturers. Such machines are made to catch the eye, not to perform substantial work. The truth is, family sewing machines ought to be stronger than any other, because they are used by persons unskilled when sold to manufacturers, and are need for a greater variety of work. The machines which have proved best for all purposes, are those most in demand for family use, and they are Singer's. The speed of our machines has lately been doubled. No other can compare with them in quantity of work.

☞ New machines of the latest improved style will be exchanged on liberal terms for old sewing machines of our own make, or for operative machines of other manufacturers. Local agents wanted to sell our machines.

N. B.—All persons desiring full information about sewing machines, can obtain it by applying for a copy of "I. M. Singer & Co.'s Gazette," a paper devoted entirely to the subject. It will be sent gratis, on application to I. M. SINGER & CO.

HEAVY SNOW.—A TRAIN OF CARS BURIED IN THE SNOW.—A passenger gives us some items of his Journey from Prarie du Chien on the Milwaukie and Mississippi railroad during the late heavy storm. His party left Prarie du Chien two weeks ago, and arived the same night at Boscopel, 24 miles this side, being the first station on the railroad. The snow drifts were deep, and no trains could get away. Getting a fair start on the shovelled track, and after two or three days' delay, the train brought up in a deep drift some six miles this side of Boscopel, and then commenced the work in earnest.

The train would plunge into the drifts, the snow being sometimes as high as the tops of the cars, and coming to a dead halt, wait till the shovelers—passengers and all amusing themselves that way—could clear the wheels, and then running back, dash in again. So they struggled, but three days and three nights passed in making a dozen miles' progress. Provisions were all gone; only scanty supplies could be obtained from the few farm houses accessible. Parties were detailed to cut and bring wood for the engines, and they kept up steam with difficulty in the four locomotives. At length after almost despairing of being thawed out till Spring, one of the working parties returned to the train at about 2 o'clock one morning, with the joyful report of having heard the whistle of engines coming from the eastward, and the excitement was intense till, just about daylight, the relief train from Madison, with four engines, which had been working for several days from the eastward broke the drifts, and "hitching on," the whole train moved to Muscoda.—Milwaukie Sentinel, Dec. 25.

OLD HUNDRED.—A correspondent of the New York Evening Post furnishes the following statement in regard to the Old Hundredth Psalm Tune:

In Dr. Mason's Musical Library is to be found a copy of the Huguenot Bible, published by Estienne, in Paris, in 1567, under the title of Calendrier Historiel—an almanac, in fact, preceding the Old and New Testament, in order to disguise the book from the Catholic soldiery. At the end of this volume is found a reprint of the German Psalter with Marot and Beza's Psalms, and Calvin's preface to the original issue, under date June, 10, 1543, where it is stated that "all the Psalms, with their music, were now printed for the first time at Geneva." In this collection the Old Hundredth is found, in melody exactly as now found, but with a different rhythmic form, the form of most of the old copies extant.

ENGLISH AND DUTCH.—The Boston Advertiser's correspondent says, under date of Washington, Dec. 31:

The President last session transmitted to the Senate an extradition treaty with the Netherlands, which the committee on Foreign Relations find to be couched in such uncertain English, that they will not report it for ratification. The President, who did not discover its palpable and ludicrous defects at an earlier date, is so ashamed of it, that he desires now to withdraw it, which will probably be permitted. The treaty is one of Augusta Belmont's negotiations, who is entitled to the credit also of its remarkable free translation.

The New York Mirror says it is estimated that one of the richmen of that city has now a regular income of $3000 a day, or about $1,100,000 per year.

☞ Mr. Dempster, the ballad-singer, is in London. He visited Europe rather for recreation, than with a professional object.

SLAVE BREEDING.—The following passage from a letter written in Richmond and published in the New Orleans Delta, makes a shameful confession. Read it, and see if any indignation can be too strong for the traffic in human flesh, which is here openly avowed:

"The policy of reviving the slave trade is unpopular here, not more because of the hostile feeling which it would be likely to produce against the South among the leading European nations, than of the ruin which it would envolve to the interests of this State and North Carolina, where large profits are derived from the trade in slave property. It is in this respect that most profit accrues from the institution in these two States, Virginia in particular; for here our climate and soil is not adapted to the production of these staples—cotton, rice, sugar, etc.—which render slave labor most remunerative. Our profit arises from the raising and sale of negroes.—With you it arises from their labor. In this state of things, it is not to be wondered that Virginia should be opposed to this policy while no doubt it would result benefitially to the more Southern States."

THE DANES.—The Danes are very English in manner and appearance. There is a very fair amount of business and bustle in the streets, well-appointed carts and wagons driven rapidly about, and at every town one meets a workman or tradesman whose configuration of nose, whisker and cheekbone is English every whit. If one strolls about the gardens, or takes an excursion to Tivoli, the Vauxhall of Copenhagen, one sees plainly enough from what source the tall, slight figures, and the bright eyes and complexions of our English girls are derived. Often, when traveling in Germany, I have looked in vain among the flat-sided, broad-footed, wide-faced, low-caste natives, for some trace of kindred race and origin with ourselves;—but in Denmark you are constantly encountered by groups who would pass muster anywhere for the Anderson girls, or the Johnsons, and upon inquiry they will prove to be the Johannsen girls, or the Andersens. Indeed we have no reason to be ashamed of our Danish cousins: they are a bold, energetic race, and if we have given them unhappily little cause to love us, they, on the other hand, have given us every reason to respect them.—Rev. R. E. Hughes.

SPECIMEN OF SPECIAL DISPATCHES.—A special telegraphic dispatch, dated at Washington, gives the following important intelligence;

Mr. Buchanan may be here about the 15th of January, or he may postpone the time of coming to a fortnight after. Both contingencies are probable, from his recent declarations, and either event may happen, according to the developement of circumstances.

One of the toasts drank at a recent celebration, was—"Woman—She needs no eulogy, she speaks for herself."

INTERESTING FROM JAPAN.—Steamer San Jacinto.—A letter from Shanghae to the Philadelphia Inquirer, informs us that the United States steamship San Jacinto, the flag vessel of the East India squadron, arrived at Woosung on the 11th of September, in six days from Simoda, Japan. She left Hong Kong on the 12th of August for Simoda, having on board Mr. Harris, United States Consul General to Japan.

During the trip she rescued quite a number of Chinese from fragments of wrecks. In one case, no less than fifty-five persons were taken from a government junk while she was in a sinking condition. The San Jacinto had a very pleasant visit to Japan, and the intercourse between the Commodore, his officers, and the Japanese authorities, was of the most friendly character. It is said, however, to be the policy of the Japanese government, to oppose with every obstacle in its power, foreign intercourse, and the arrival of the San Jacinto, with Mr. Harris on board, was not desired. In an interview with the Commodore, the question was asked, if he could not take Mr. Harris back again. The reply was, that his orders were to bring Mr. Harris there and leave him; and he should obey them. Finding the Commodore thus decided, the authorities immediately set about to prepare a residence for the Consul General, and for that purpose fitted up one of their temples, near by which a flag staff was erected, from which, as the San Jacinto left the harbor, the stars and stripes were displayed.

INSANITY.—The trial of David Merrill for the murder of his wife in East Boston, has been postponed to give him time to send to California for witnesses to prove his insanity. The Newburyport Herald says "it is high time to sift this insanity matter pretty thoroughly. When Rufus Choate cleared that miserable Tirrell, than whom a baser wretch never graced the scaffold, he did a great harm to society, more we fear than his law practice will ever do it good. Every scoundrel skulks in a corner since, and says he is crazy; but the very men, physicians, and all, who swear they are insane, three weeks afterwards will be asking pardon for them on the ground of their complete recovery. We feel glad that a New York jury have found out that Huntington could commit forgery without insanity. We hope Massachusetts will discover as much in Tuckerman's case and in the half dozen murder trials now progressing in Boston."

MAKING A PILE.—The Nevada (California) Journal says that "the Keystone Co., on Selby Hill, sold 582 oz. of gold ore, valued at $10,000, to a banker, recently. The amount was washed out in ten days from drift dirt. The Company has considerable more dirt of the same kind drifted out."

The Journal doesn't say how large the Company is, nor at what sacrifice of time, health, comfort, and life, this "pile" was procured. Generally, such piles have cost much more than they come to—and a heap of vegetables in New England has paid much better.

☞ A Meteor, of great brilliancy, was seen over a large extent of country, between three and four o'clock last Friday morning. Its appearance was much like that of a rocket, only larger and brighter, with large pieces of fire dropping off, like the sparks from a rocket. The light was as intense as at noonday, and the meteor most brilliant and beautiful.

WOMEN ELECTED TO OFFICE.—The Nevada Journal says, "Two women, Mrs. Patsy Nye and Mrs. Legget were elected,—the former Justice of Peace, the latter Constable, in East Chance, Placer county, California, at the late election. The township went Republican. People got infatuated after Jessie, and could not stop there."

WINSLOW EDDY, on trial in Boston for the murder of his wife, has been found guilty. The defence was insanity; if not insanity, then man-slaughter. On Wednesday the jury came in for instructions from the bench.

The foreman inquired of the Court as follows—"Do words in an affray mean, or have the same significance as blows?"

The Court—"No words can justify a homicide—men must restrain their passions, and no words would reduce the crime of murder to that of manslaughter."

The jury then again retired and in a few minutes returned with their verdict of GUILTY!!"

Lean liberty is better than fat slavery.

For the Chronicle.

VARIETIES IN EXETER.

EXETER, Dec. 31, 1856.

Dear Chronicle:—That veteran knight of the whip, Sandy, still pursues the even tenor of his way; and daily, as sure as the sun rises and sets, arrives here, bringing your Chronicle to keep the good folks hereabouts posted up in the news of the world in general and Portsmouth in particular. The railroad companies would as soon endeavor to run their train with a locomotive as without Sandy on board. The N. H. Statesman in an article on expressmen who have been long in the service, says that Sandy used to keep such exact time that the people all the way on his stage route would wind up and set their run-down clocks when he passed by their houses.

Considerable snow fell on the day and night before Christmas, and the natural consequence is fine sleighing. Such heavy, bungling affairs as wheels are now ignored, and the swift cutter flies over the snow at a speed more congenial to Young America's mind. We believe it is against the law to drive through the streets with sleighs without bells. This is as it should be, for why should we undertake to enjoy the luxury of a sleigh-ride without the accompaniment of some merry belles? Bachelors please take notice.

On Wednesday evening, Mr. G. McCarty, the blind Pianist, gave a concert, assisted by Mr. C. K. Adams and Miss Jenny Twitchell, at the Town Hall. The night being stormy, but few were in attendance, but those speak very highly of the performance. Miss T., we believe, has sung in Portsmouth.

Rev. Mr. Cole, of the Unitarian Church, being absent from town, no services were held in that church on Christmas Eve, as was anticipated; but on Sunday last a neat decoration of evergreen testified to the fact that Christmas was near. We hear that Rev. Dr. Peabody's church at Portsmouth presented a most charming appearance on Wednesday evening last,—from the tasteful decorations in addition to the fair audience always to be met there.

Since the very exciting presidential election, (previous to which for many months the people were indulging in stimulating political speeches,) it seems that religious lectures rather than those of a lyceum are needed, and consequently the former will take the place of the latter for this Winter, in Exeter.

Exeter has got the start of your city in regard to martial music—(and by the way, we are happy to see that the prospects for the Portsmouth Cornet Band are so promising)—as a Band was formed here last Summer, and is now ready to appear before the public. They are to perform at a Concert to be given at the new Town Hall on Thursday evening, by Miss M. E. Durgin of this town, who is said by the News-Letter to have a fine, rich-toned voice, and only needs the advantages of a more thorough culture to place her among the best singers in our State. Miss D. will be assisted by a troupe of singers, and Miss E. M. Hadley, of your city, will preside at the piano.

As the new Custom House which is soon to be erected in Portsmouth, probably forms the greatest local object of interest there, so our big building, the structure dignified by the name of the "New Town Hall," bears a conspicuous part in our affairs.—Perhaps you may have seen the story of the mother who, on being asked the name of her youngest boy, replied, "Well, we couldn't think of any particular name last fall, and so we let him go without one, thinking he could winter it through!"—This seems to have been the policy adopted with regard to the building in mention—no name was given to it at the outset, and it has wintered it through twice, almost, but still nameless—everybody calling it the "New Town Hall" by way of distinction, and yet expecting some better appellation to be given it in future.

Yours,
F. G.

☞ The Ocean Bank of Newburyport, have declared an extra dividend of 10 per cent., payable Jan. 1. The Ocean has heretofore made several extra dividends, besides its regular dividend of 10 per cent. per annum. It is the best banking stock in Massachusetts, and after the dividend has been paid—leaving then $17,000 surplus earnings—it would probably command 25 per cent. premium.

☞ Timothy Kendrick, Esq., of Lebanon, N. H., whose death we have already chronicled, was the most prominent member, in that section of the State, of the Order of Free Masons.

An individual named James Marshall was recently arrested in Savannah, for making an "abolition speech" in the street, and, together with "another gentleman of the same stripe," previously arrested, was to be sent to the North.

☞ The Home Journal, New York, for Jan. 3, 1857, commences a new volume, in new and handsome dress, and with other increased attractions. Among the numerous list of talented writers, besides Morris, Willis and Aldrich, editors, are occasional communications from "A. L., "Y.," and "Mad Cap," a new writer, said to bail not far from Portsmouth. The Journal is $2 a year, and well worth the price.

GIFT CONCERT.—At a concert in Liverpool, recently, among the inducements for an audience, a prize was offered, and drawn for, consisting of a "free passage to America, and a complete outfit for the voyage." The lucky individual who drew the prize, was a warehouse man, and on his name being announced, he was greeted with hearty cheers on his good luck.

We learn that the Independent Democrat and the State Capital Reporter, two papers in Concord, are about to be united. They are nearly agreed in sentiment, and the combined talent of both will make a strong paper.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

We have never known any other medicine with as large a share of public confidence so short a time as this has done. It has not been more than a year since we first heard of it, and it now stands at the head of all remedies of the kind. We have never used any of it ourselves, having had no occasion, as our "crown of glory," not only as you retains its original color, but gets more so—but some of our friends have, and we have never known it fail of restoring the hair to its original color. We advise such as are becoming premature gray, to give the "Restorative" a trial.—Chester (Illinois) Herald, June, 1854.

NO FAMILY

Can afford to be without Mustang Liniment in their house. The many accidents we are liable to, may render it necessary any moment, and nothing is capable of performing such a certain cure. (Extract.)—"In lifting the kettle from the fire it caught and scalded my hands and persons severely—one hand almost to a crisp. The fever was unbearable. It was an awful sight. * * The Mustang Liniment appeared to extract the pain almost immediately. It heals rapidly and left no scar of account. CHAS. FOSTER, 420 Broad street, Philadelphia." It is truly a wonderful article. It will cure any case of Swelling, Burns, Stiff Joints, Erupsions or Rheumatism. For Horses it should never be dispensed with. One Dollar's worth of Mustang has frequently saved a valuable horse. It cures Galls, Sprains, Ringbone, Spavin and Founders. Beware of imitations. Sold in all parts of the habitable Globe.

U. S. DISTRICT COURT.

In the District Court of the United States, Wednesday, Charles Malone was convicted of refusing to do his duty as a seaman on board the ship Noonday, in the harbor of Singapore, in June last, and of attempting to incite the crew to revolt.—He was sentenced to eighteen months' confinement at hard labor in the State Prison.

Thomas Rice and Edward Wales were convicted of an assault upon the master of the ship Humb lt, in the Pacific Ocean, in May, 1855, and of inciting a revolt among the crew, for the purpose of taking the ship. They were sentenced to four years' confinement at hard labor in the State Prison.

The court finally adjourned Thursday morning.

A PLEASING INCIDENT.—On Wednesday afternoon, the City Missionary received a call from a bright, interesting boy of five or six years old, attended by an older sister. Taking from his porte-monnaie four gold half dollars, the child presented them to the Missionary, requesting him to accept them as a New Year's Present to the poor children of this city. From the sister the Missionary learned that the money had been presented to her brother some months previous, to be disposed of as he might choose.

Was not this an example of true greatness. Is not the lesson it teaches worth more than any amount of gold?

We will not mar the beauty of the act by publishing the name of the donor; but should the same spirit of benevolence accompany him up to manhood, the next generation may expect to see his name among the benefactors of mankind. N.M.

HISTORICAL ERROR CORRECTED.—Misled by the Portsmouth Directory, a book generally accurate—we stated that Rev. Dr. Burroughs of this city had received Deacon's orders in 1810. It is a fact, however, that he received such orders in the year 1809, and of course he has preached on 47 successive Christmas Days, instead of 46. Owners of the Directory, for 1851 and 1857, will do well to correct this error with pen or pencil, for reasons quite obvious to every person who endeavors to be thorough in research and accurate in statement.

☞ We learn that a lady, Mrs. M. E. Walker, on New Year's Day, presented a beautiful engraving of Swiss Scenery to Ornament the Girls' High School Room.

Also that the Teachers of both the High Schools were remembered by those in their charge, with Presents appropriate, beautiful, and of course pleasing.

☞ No. 20 of Spencer's History of the United States, contains a fine picture of Thomas Jefferson. Sold in numbers by the agents.

☞ We accidentally came across an old copy of the Boston Daily Mail, yesterday, dated July 7, 1855. The first item which met our eye was a notice of Dr. Frank Fuller, dentist, of this city, containing the following allusion:—

"Highly skilled in every branch of his profession, Dr. Fuller has attained an eminence as a dental practitioner which but few arrive at, even in a life-time."

We believe we but state the simple fact, when we say that very few dentists in New England do a more successful business than our friend Dr. Frank Fuller, of No. 60 Congress Street, Portsmouth.

MURDER ON THE HIGHWAY.—At about noon on Sunday, Cornelius Cannon, farm servant of Mr. James Mattison, in New Utrecht, L. I., was deliberately murdered in Third Avenue, Gowands, by John Wesley Layman. The murderer was arrested in Jersey City during the afternoon, and is confined. He is about 5 feet 8 inches in height, rather spare, with long dark hair. He is 21 years of age, a shoemaker by trade, and his parents, with whom he lived, reside at 81 Charlton street, New York. He confessed all the deed; says he found he could not live by shoemaking; stole $25 from his boss; bought a revolver, staid in a grocery all night, and on Sunday set up for a robber, to get a living; shot and killed a man in broad daylight, and got a three cent piece, two cents, and some matches from his pocket.

The murdered man, it seems, was returning from Brooklyn, having taken Mrs. Mattison to church. Getting into conversation with the prisoner, he invited him to take a ride for company. Some persons noticed them along the road, and a man heard the report of the pistol and saw the flash. Cannon was seen sitting in the wagon with his head on his breast; but it was thought he was sick, and the man was driving him home. His body was found shortly after in a hollow belonging to Langley's country seat, and the police being notified, officer Bush followed the track of the wagon, and arrested him as he was trying, in Jersey City, to trade away the wagon for a saddle.

The prisoner says he has been a socialist, and had "gone through the second degree of death." He answers every question unhesitatingly. His appearance is wild and haggard, and he is supposed to be crazy.—He has been examined and committed.

SLAVE EXECUTIONS.—Augusta, Ga., 18th.—We find the following intelligence in the Alabama Advertiser and Gazette: In York District, S. C., to-day the slave excitement continues. Powder and muskets have been found in possession of the slaves.

A despatch from Columbia says fifteen negroes have been killed by their owners in Perry. Escapes of slaves are numerous. The whites in all directions are arming themselves.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—I have reliable information from New Orleans that within a few days there have been serious troubles among the slaves in Louisiana, and that as many as 20 negroes have been hung, but the newspapers carefully refrain from any mention of the facts.

A party of South Carolinians from Kansas, passed through here to-day, returning home, having abandoned that Territory, as presenting no hopes to their political enterprise or personal fortunes. They and others from the South relinquish the experiment as desperate, and complain of the limited material aid furnished by their own section.

MISSOURI LEGISLATURE.—FORGERIES.—St. Louis, Dec. 31.—The Missouri Legislature organized permanently yesterday. W. D. McCracker (Dem.) was chosen Secretary of the Senate, and Robert Harnson, (Dem. Whig,) Speaker of the House. The Bentonites and Americans fused in opposition to the Democrats.

E. C. Davis, late Superintendent of Public Schools, has been arrested here for forgeries on various persons and banking houses, to the amount of $12,000.

THE LYONNAIS.—New York, Dec. 31.—Just before the Fulton left Havre, a telegraph dispatch was received by the purser from Bordeaux, stating that the reported arrival there of some of the passengers of the Lyonnais, was untrue.

HEALTH AND STRENGTH.

☞ DR. S. O. RICHARDSON'S SHERRY WINE BITTERS is the best Medicine ever used, for Summer Complaints. It has been more liberally patronized than any other ever established in this country. It is the same Richardson's Bitters which has restored so many invalids to health throughout New England during the past thirty years.

N. B.—Beware of imitations called Sherry Wine Bitters. The genuine have a fac simile of my signature upon the outer envelope. For sale by Druggists everywhere, and at my office, No. 51 Hanover St., Boston. au3 6m

THE GREAT DISCOVERY.

Many years ago, Doctor Burleigh Smart of Kennebunk, Me., discovered that a simple article never before used as a medicine, was a never failing cure for coughs of every description, and an excellent blood purifier. By its use in his private practice, he acquired the reputation of being the best physician in New England, for all diseases of the lungs. After his death, Messrs. Shaw & Clark of Biddeford, Me., obtained a Copy Right from Government, for its exclusive manufacture, and now have it carefully prepared strictly according to the original recipe. There is no cough that it will not cure, unless the patient is past all human aid before commencing its use. It is called "Doctor Burleigh Smart's Cough Medicine," and is for sale by all apothecaries. au27 TuTuSh 6m

In calling the attention of the public to my list of Magazines and Newspapers; I would CAUTION all against subscribing for Magazines, Newspapers, or other works, to irresponsible and transient persons, or travelling agents; for in nine cases out of ten you will be swindled and cheated.

If you wish to take any Magazine or Newspaper, subscribe of some responsible firm in Town.—Hundreds of dollars are lost every year by subscribing for works of strangers and travelling agents, and by being induced to subscribe by thousands of contrivances to cheat the public—such as Art Unions, Premiums, Cosmopolitan Art Associations, and various humbugs to gull the unwary. Keep clear of all those, and pay your money to those whom you know to be responsible.

The subscriber has been in the business fourteen years, and will guarantee to furnish any publication as cheap as can be obtained.

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.
DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS FOR FEMALES,
Prepared by an old Physician of 40 years experience.
THE combination of ingredients in these Pills, is the result of a long and extensive practice; they are mild in their operation, and certain to restoring nature to its proper channel. In every instance have the Pills proved successful. They are certain to open those obstructions to which females are liable, and bring nature into its proper channel, whereby health is restored, and the pale and deathly countenance changed to a healthy one. No female can enjoy good health unless she is regular; and whenever an obstruction takes place, whether from exposure, cold, or any other cause, the general health immediately begins to decline, and the want of such a remedy has been the cause of so many consumptions among young females. Headache, pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, loathing of food, and disturbed sleep, that most always arise from the interruption of nature; and whenever that is the case, the Pills will invariably remedy all these evils. In all cases of painful menstruation, or nervous and spinal affections in the back and limbs, lowness of spirits, hysterics, &c. Nor are they less efficacious in the cure of Leucorrhœa, commonly called the "Whites." These Pills should never be taken during pregnancy, as they would be sure to cause a miscarriage. Warranted purely Vegetable, and free from anything injurious to life or health. Full and explicit directions which should be read, accompany each box. These Pills are put up in square, flat boxes—Persons residing where there are no Agencies established, by enclosing One Dollar in a letter, prepaid, to Dr. C. L. Cheeseman, Box No. 4581, Post Office, New York City, can have them sent to their respective addresses by return of mail.

DIARIES for 1857—for sale by
d13 JOHN S. HARVEY & SON.

An official circular from the U. S. Patent Office concerning the culture of the Chinese sugar cane, says that an agent of the Patent Office, while traveling in Europe in the year 1854, collecting agricultural information and seeds for the office, saw the plant growing near Verneres, in France, and being struck with its resemblance to Indian corn, inferred that it would flourish in any region where that plant would. He procured 200 pounds of the seed, which were distributed in small packages by the Patent Office among the members of Congress, with a view of experimenting with it in all parts of the Union. In numerous instances the results proved highly satisfactory, as it attained the height of eight or ten feet as far north as St. Paul, Minnesota, and matured its seed at various points in Massachusetts, New York, Pennsylvania, Illinois, and other places farther south. The following year several bushels more of seeds of the Caffrarian variety of the same plant were produced, but they have proved to be identical with those previously used. The results of all the experiments is that the plant is of the same cultivable nature as Indian corn, and will thrive wherever that does.—Boston Tel.

DEATH FROM A FRICTION MATCH.—A little child named Wittenauer, aged 6 1-2 years, and living with her parents, came to a painful death on Monday by burning. It appears that in the morning soon after rising she took a match from the mantel-piece, which she lit and let fall towards the floor, when it ignited her dress, and before help could arrive she became enveloped in flames and seriously burnt that death ensued in the afternoon.

Great American and Foreign Office

For Securing Patents for Inventions.

Agency for business with US Patent Office, Washington

R. H. EDDY,

No. 76 State st, opp. Kilby st, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1836) determined to present advantages in applying for Patents, superior to those offered inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, FIFTY DOLLARS (Instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, not accumulating the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL, AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate—The immense practice of this subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents, forming a more extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him peculiarly competent, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers and Drawings necessary for the procural of patents in this and foreign countries prepared and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting Inventions, or infringement of patents. All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Copies of claims of any patent furnished for one dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington—Patents secured in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries, through Agents of the highest respectability.

R. H. EDDY,

Solicitor of Patents.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,

Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

AGENCY U. S., —During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules and practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.

Arnold's Vital Fluid

PURIFIES and strengthens the blood by eradicating, through a nice chemical action, the causes of impurities and humors. Hence its power to cure humors that medicine cannot cure. Hence its power of strengthening and vitalizing the blood. It furnishes to a certain extent, the element of which pure blood is composed. It invigorates and cleanses away with every dose and thickens the blood.

ARNOLD'S VITAL FLUID

Renders the system strong and healthy, by freeing the blood and stomach from objectionable materials. It nerves and vivifies the system, by furnishing the elements which give vitality.

ARNOLD'S VITAL FLUID

Gives to the system an invigorating influence and effect similar to that produced by exercise in the free open air. It substitutes by strengthening the blood to brighter and better action—doing its work by beginning at the beginning. It is pleasant to the taste, and becomes a favorite wherever known.

ARNOLD'S VITAL FLUID

Removes Biliousness in the most direct and easy manner, by neutralizing the cause. This is the principle of its action in removing bilious generally. It neutralizes the cause, by freeing the blood from impediments to its proper fulfilment of its life-giving functions.

This principle of neutralizing the cause is why ARNOLD'S VITAL FLUID CURES HUMORS that mere medicine cannot sensibly affect, and why it cures other diseases.

Resulting from Poisons in the Blood, that mere medicinal preparations cannot alleviate. Humors are produced in the blood and it is their chemical action in neutralizing those poisons that ARNOLD'S GLOBULES AND VITAL FLUID are enabled to cure them so that they stay cured.

VITAL FLUID 50 cents per bottle; GLOBULES 25 cents per box.

PATENT SELF-GENERATING

Gas Lamp!

PARTICULARLY ADAPTED TO CHURCHES, HALLS, HOTELS, FACTORIES, STORES, PARLORS AND FAMILIES.

THERE is nothing more desirable, when engaged in any avocation, than a good light.—The Sun is all right for the day—we want something like it for night. Candles were invented in 1230, and have ever been denounced in consequence of prematurely injuring the eyes by their pernicious fumes. We desire a more natural light, and it was discovered and patented in 1850, and has been tested by thousands since that time. The brilliancy of its flame is unequalled by any other artificial burner.

SOME OF ITS GOOD QUALITIES.

It is perfectly safe.
No chance for explosion.
It is not extinguished by an ordinary wind.
It requires re-wicking only once in six months
It will not get out of order.
A child can take care of it.
It is unequalled for reading or sewing.
The light is uninjurious to the eyes.
For Economy, Cleanliness and Comfort, it defies competition, and it is the best and cheapest light in the world.

☞ We wish it understood that the Gas Lamp will give the same amount of light as three Sperm the Candles, for half a cent an hour, and the light of seven candles for 1 cent.

If Fluid and Oil Lamps altered to Gas Lamps. All Fluid or Oil Burners, wholesale prices it will cost the consumer very much less than the above prices. For sale by Prince & Co.'s Improved Melodeons.

THE OLDEST ESTABLISHMENT IN THE U.S.

Employing Two Hundred Men, and finishing

Eighty Instruments per Week.

BETWEEN 18,000 AND 19,000 of these instruments have been finished and are now in use.

THE latest improvement in our Melodeons is the DIVIDED SWELL, secured to us by Letters Patent 22d May, 1855.—By means of this new improvement, but one hand plays with the full power of the instrument, while the Accompaniment is soft and subdued.—Hereafter, all Melodeons made by us, will be furnished with this attachment without extra charge.

Extract from the Commercial Advertiser, July 27, 1855.

"Messrs. Prince & Co. could realize a handsome fortune by disposing of rights to other manufacturers to use these improvements, but as their prefer to make it a feature in their Instruments, it can only be obtained by purchasing one of their manufactures."

It is now eight years since we commenced the manufacture of this new celebrated Musical Instrument, during which time we have finished and sold nearly NINETEEN THOUSAND. Volunteer testimonials to the excellence of our Instruments, from the most distinguished Professors of Music in different parts of the United States, have from time to time been published. Thus far we have said but little, and our advertisements were seldom seen for the reason that we could not supply the demand. We have lately erected one of the largest and most perfect establishments for Establishments in the United States, and we now think that we can fill orders promptly. We therefore give one testimonial, we received.

NEW YORK, 15th Oct., 1855

"G. A. Prince & Co.: Gentlemen—The Double Reed Melodeon has arrived, and a most charming Instrument it is. It has been played on by Mr. Bernard Hodges, Wm. Mason, and a host of others, and they all pronounce it one of the most beautiful toned reed instruments they have ever touched. Yours truly, J. C. F. HALL."

We are not aware that the above mentioned Melodeon is in any particular superior to those we are daily finishing, and we can assure those who are inclined to favor us with their orders, that they will be furnished with an instrument equally as good. Our Instruments are all finished in Rosewood Cases, and the workmanship is of the very best quality. The styles and prices are—

IN PORTABLE CASE:

Singer's Sewing Machines.

THESE celebrated machines are in practical and profitable use in all parts of the civilized world. In all the various trades, and in sewing every kind of cloth or leather, they have been fully tried and approved. Sewing machines of other manufacturers often fail to work, but SINGER'S MACHINES being strong, durable and complete in contrivance and workmanship. A perfect sewing machine has employed and affords a clear profit of $1000 a year; but an imperfect one is a cause of constant vexation and loss. The entire assurance of our machines is one great reason for their unparalleled popularity.

ALWAYS OPERATE PERFECTLY,

MACHINES FOR FAMILY SEWING,

of a frail and delicate construction are recommended by other manufacturers. Such machines are made to catch the eye, not to perform substantial work. The truth is, family sewing machines ought to be stronger than any other, because they go into less skilful hands than when sold to manufacturers, and are used for a greater variety of work. The machines which have proved best for all other purposes must be best for family use, and they are Singer's. The speed of our machines has lately been doubled. No other can compare with them in quantity of work.

☞ New machines of the latest improved style will be exchanged on liberal terms for old sewing machines of our own make, or for operative machines of other manufacturers. Local agents wanted to sell our machines.

N. B.—All persons desiring full information about sewing machines, can obtain it by applying for a copy of "A Singer & Co.'s Gazette," a paper devoted entirely to the subject. It will be sent gratis. I. M. SINGER & CO.,

HARD TO PLEASE.—Before the election our excited friends in South Carolina and the Old Dominion contemplated rebellion only in case of Buchanan's defeat. But he was not defeated. A constitutional majority (aye the editor of the Boston Telegraph) have decided that slavery is better for a Republic than freedom. A constitutional majority have granted all that the evil genius of despotism unjustly claimed. Had we not then reason to hope that the mouth of rebellion would for a little while be shut? O, for a law and a judge to punish all counsellors of treason! We quote from the Charleston Mercury:

"Mr. Buchanan, we believe, is elected President, and we doubt not that he will do all that the powers of his high office permit him to assuage the sectional strife, through which he has made his way to a distinction earned by long and honorable public services. But he cannot extinguish this fire, through which he has waded. It still burns undiminished; and the mere fact that it has almost succeeded in casting its lurid flames upon the temple of our common confederacy, is sufficient to show us that we have no safety in this Union.—We may linger in it a few years longer, but always at our peril. The hope of peace, of good understanding, has all passed away. Henceforth we are, necessarily, two peoples—the North and the South.

The Democratic party have presented to the country a Northern man, no way identified with peculiar Southern interests; a man who could raise against himself no prejudices on the part of the North; and yet it has depended upon the almost unanimous vote of the South, whether this man, great in talents, famous by a long life of noble statesmanship, irreproachable in morals and manners, should be elected to the Presidency over an adventurer, without experience in politics, with a doubtful reputation even as an explorer, and a still more doubtful one as a man; whose sole qualification as a candidate, was that he was willing to embody the sentiment of the hostility of the North to the South. What conclusion can we draw from this result, except that we are on the verge either of revolution or destruction? For ourselves, we prefer the former."

MORE ASSAULTS. — The Newburyport Herald says:

What next we are to hear from that prison, [Charlestown] nobody can say;—but it is singular that Decatur should have had a knife that was not used in the shop, and that the pistol which dropped from Mr. Tenny's hand, could not afterwards be found.

The following is a copy of the note which Magee handed to the Chaplain of the State Prison at the time he murdered Walker:

"though man of god take heed to yourself for thy life is a takin away and you know it not one mans has been taken in order to Blind the eyes of som and there will others Say nothing to the Wardin for he would not believe nevertheless he will meet the same fate as others that would not and he will be the third Warden for Judes and his clan to cut off as to Robinson his was taken in the same way will god save men if the will not here."

The day after the assault upon Walker, an attempt was made to murder an officer named Hoadley, by a convict. He was observed in season for Mr. Hoadley to escape the blow. The convict was disarmed, and upon searching him, two very sharp knives were found.

☞ Wheat, says the Shasta Courier, is selling in Scott's Valley, Siskiyou county, California, for 75 cents a bushel. It has been sold as low as 50 cents.

MIRACULOUS ESCAPE.—The Rochester Union gives an account of George Shale falling one hundred feet over the Great Genessee Falls, in Rochester, without killing himself.

It appears that the boys went down the slope, towards the mill, perhaps to see how far they might venture; one of them named George Shale, ventured too far, slipped upon the crust, and in an instant went over the precipice, falling over one hundred feet, to the verge of the water boiling up from the eddy under the Great Fall. All who heard the alarm concluded at once that the lad was dead, but he was so far from being dead that his cries attracted the attention of skaters on the river, some forty rods distant, and they went to his relief. He was found partly upright in the snow, about six feet from the edge of the water. One of his legs was badly shattered, and some of his ribs were broken. The precise extent of his injuries could not be at once ascertained. He fell feet foremost, and was terribly jarred, though striking in the soft snow may have, in some measure, lessened the shock.

Ole Bull, the celebrated Norwegian violinist, was arrested in New York, Friday morning, by a Deputy Sheriff, on a civil suit. About five six years since, he brought over a Norwegian colony, which he settled in Pennsylvania. By the roguery of some of his agents, he became greatly involved, and has been constantly engaged in litigation, which his unfortunate campaign in the Academy of Music largely increased. During the late political campaign he established a Norwegian Fremont paper out west, and was otherwise active in the Republican cause.

☞ A Woman's Dress Reform Convention is called to assemble at Canasota, Madison county, N. Y., on the 7th of January.

That's right—there is need enough of a re-form in this matter.

CLOSED ON THE SABBATH.—The Nevada (California) Journal announces that the Banking House of C. W. Mulford in that city, will hereafter be closed on the Sabbath.

A Louisiana correspondent of the Journal of Commerce says the sugar crop of that State will fall short of 100,000 hhds. the present year. In 1853, the yield was 495,000 hhds.

By the earthquake in the Island of Candia, 1152 persons were killed, and 10,230 houses injured or destroyed. As a natural consequence there is much suffering among the inhabitants.

GAMBLING.

A discussion having arisen respecting Lotteries, it may not be a loss of time to go beyond the name, and inquire into the nature and influence of all Gambling. Games of chance for gain are gambling transactions, and the lottery is only one of the many forms under which chances are hazarded.—If ten men contribute one hundred dollars each and agree that the thousand dollars thus collected shall belong to one of their number upon the arrival of a certain contingency, this is a game of chance for gain, and is consequently gambling, whether this contingency is arrived at by the turn of a die, or by drawing a lot from an urn, or by the arrival of a ship at her destination within a given date, or by the result of an election, or by the prospective price of stocks, or by the death of an individual upon whose length of life the contingency was to depend. In all transactions of this nature there are several points worthy of consideration.

First—This mode of effecting exchanges of property creates no wealth, and therefore differs essentially from those numerous and daily exchanges of ordinary traffic, which, as they serve to stimulate industry, are the basis of the wealth and prosperity of the community. When the shoemaker or the tailor sell their fabrics to the purchaser for money, they exchange with him the wealth which their own skill and industry have created, just to the extent to which a pair of shoes or a coat are of more value to the buyer than are the unfashioned leather or cloth of which they are composed. It is the certainty and facility of such exchanges which stimulates the industry of a community and by leading to a perpetually recurring creation of values, enriches and civilizes a nation; for there is no characteristic which more clearly marks the distinction between savage and civilized life than the meager and infrequent exchanges of the former as compared with the ceaseless and untiring traffic of the latter. But in games of chance for gain there is no creation of wealth; neither party adds anything to the value of the article exchanged, and in all the innumerable gambling transactions which have been and which now are, the world has not been enriched to the extent to which the shoemaker enriches it by making a single pair of brogans, for Secondly—In all gambling transactions, what is one man's gain is necessarily another man's loss. Games of chance for gain therefore merely operate the exchange of values which already exist and by some haphazard contingency transfer the wealth of one man to the pocket of another. When an individual draws a great prize in a lottery or wins a fortune by a bet, those who pay the forfeit are made poor in exact proportion as he is made rich. It is a transfer without an equivalent. The wealth of the world is stationary in face of the operation, because, as above remarked, the gain of one man is counterbalanced by the loss of another.

Thirdly—Unlike the beneficial exchanges of daily and hourly traffic, the question of who is to gain and who is to lose is left to a contingency over which neither party has any control. Hence the exercise of forecast and reliance upon a sound and cultivated judgment, so essential in the business routine of ordinary exchanges, find no place and are wholly uncalled for in the operations of the gambler. With him, the whole subject of gain or loss rest in the domain of an uncontrolable chance, and when he has once invested his money in the game, he is not called upon for a single useful effort, nor for the exercise of a single mental faculty. If he gains, the wealth of others is transferred to him; and if he loses, others are made rich by his loss.

If therefore games of chance for gain have been rightly defined, it is evident that they embrace a fearfully wide circuit of operation. The lottery and the gambling table are not the sole means by which they are practiced. The time purchases of the stock speculator, however gigantic they may be, are the same in their moral aspect as the pitch farthing game of the roadhead. Both operations serve only to effect a transfer of value by appealing to a fortuitous contingency. Art-unions, gift lotteries and gift-book-sales may serve to disguise the truth, but just to the extent that they involve the principle that one man's gain is necessarily another man's loss, and that the decision of who is to gain and who is to lose depends upon a chance contingency, to just that extent they are gambling transactions. The same remarks are applicable to the whole system of life insurance, where the gain or loss is made to depend upon the solemn hazard of death. H.

GAMBLING.—We give in in this column some sound remarks by one who is well versed in political economy. He draws a definite line between honest dealing and gambling, which may be of some benefit to those who have heretofore found difficulty in ascertaining the boundary.

We would most respectfully inquire of the editor of the Journal, whether the now-scrupulous moralist who bought out the chance of a ticket-holder in the Printers' Lottery, once on a time, had then "ascertained" the said "boundary?"

SHIP ANNIE SISE.—This new and elegant ship sailed from our port on Saturday last, for Mobile, under command of Capt. Charles F. Sise. She was built at the ship yard of George Raynes & Son, and will well compare with any of the renowned ships which have been there built. The workmanship will bear a scrutinizing examination in those parts where strength and not beauty has usually been sought. Particular care has been taken for most effectually ventilating the ship, and such arrangements are made for clearing the pumps as will enable any obstruction to be removed without disturbing the cargo. The cabin is finished in elegant style—the wheel-house is well arranged for comfort, as well as safety of the ship. The tonnage of the Annie Sise is 1030. She is owned by Messrs E. F. Sise, John Chase, John Davis, Portsmouth; Isaac Bell, jr., Lemoyne & Bell and John D. Simes, New-York. She will take a freight at Mobile for some European port. Success attend her!—Journal

Morning Chronicle.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 3, 1857.

THE DRED SCOTT CASE AND THE MISSOURI COMPROMISE.—The New York Herald says its correspondent at Washington states that the "United States Supreme Court have come to a decision upon the important questions presented in the case of Dred Scott, recently argued before that tribunal. Judges Taney of Maryland, Daniel of Virginia, Wayne of Georgia, Capron of Tennessee, Nelson of New York and Grier of Pennsylvania hold that Congress has no power over the question of slavery in the territories, and that the Missouri Compromise is unconstitutional, and therefore of no effect. Judges McLean of Ohio and Curtis of Massachusetts hold that Congress has power over the question of slavery in the territories. The decision will be formally announced in a few days by Chief Justice Taney."

THE MORALS OF WALL STREET.—It leaks out in the Huntington trial, that the confidential, personal and business friends of the dashing forger know of his criminal transactions, and yet were "hand and glove with him in the street and in the house.—The New York Mirror says "they associated with him openly, drank his wine, drove his fast horses, admired his pictures and pretty women, knowing all the while that he had committed forgeries enough to send a hundred men to Sing Sing!"

A WORD OF CHEER FOR LAWRENCE.—The Lawrence Courier states that the Pacific Mills of that city have just made up their half-yearly accounts, which show a clear net profit of a trifle over $120,000 beyond interest and expense. This is equal to six per cent. on the entire capital for 6 months. This result will give a favorable upward tendency to the stock not only of the Pacific but of the Essex Company, who own $287,000 of the Pacific stock, which by order of the directors is to be divided among the Stockholders of the Essex Company sometime during 1857.

FATAL RELAPSE.—On the 19th inst., Mr. John Doyce, of Avon, Me., was frozen to death in the night. Mr. Doyce was a man of intemperate habits, but of more than ordinary abilities. During the Washingtonian reform, he was an active and conspicuous laborer in the cause of temperance and was chosen President of the Franklin County Washingtonian Society. But he afterwards relapsed. He was the father of the notorious "Helen Jewett," who was murdered in New York many years ago.

To the above, from the Portland Advertiser, we add, that some other paper said, None of the family were in a condition to aid him.—It would seem then, that the poor deceased, was the drunken father of a drunken family.

WHEAT IN EAST TENNESSEE.—The Knoxville Whig states from personal observation of its editor and others, it is thought that from the amount of wheat sown, and its present fine appearance, that there will be more than three millions of bushels produced in the thirty counties of East Tennessee the next season, should it continue favorable.

☞ Mr. Jonathan Gove of North Deering, N. H., was killed on Wednesday evening, while returning home from drawing logs. The sled was loaded, and in coming down hill the staple broke, letting the sled upon the oxen. Mr. Gove was probably knocked down by the oxen, and the runner passed over his back, killing him instantly. He was 60 years old.

☞ We learn that a laborer named Stone was killed in York woods on Wednesday. A heavy log, which he was loading upon a sled, slipped and crushed him in a shocking manner. He belonged in Berwick, Me., and leaves a family.

Capt. Reuben Turner, well known for his efforts in the Washingtonian cause some years ago, died suddenly of congestion of the brain, in Cleveland, Ohio, last week.

☞ A late letter from Kansas, published in the Exeter News Letter, has this item:

The prisoners, it is rumored, have all been pardoned—those who were sentenced at Lecompton. The militia have all been disbanded; both companies at Lecompton and one at Lawrence, and the U. S soldiers have to return to winter quarters at Fort Leavenworth. So that there would be no soldiers to guard the prisoners—and as there was no regular prison in Lecompton, and the prisoners were more plague than profit, they were discharged.

Barnum's giant, Mr. Behan, had his house and out-buildings, just out of Hampstead Branch, burnt last Saturday night.

WHITMAN ON KANSAS.

We have, at last, a full letter from a most reliable man, Mr. E. B. Whitman, just returned to Boston from Kansas. We have regarded its condition as fixed for slavery, by the result of the presidential election,—and we still regard it so. This was the aim of Douglas, Atchison, Stringfellow and company; and we see no evidence that they have abandoned their purpose.—Mr. Whitman, however, has been upon the ground, and in the Boston Telegraph he publishes a letter, on the Condition and Prospects of Kansas, which we copy entire, dividing it into two parts.

PART FIRST—CONDITION OF KANSAS.

The frequent enquiries pressing upon me from every quarter in regard to the results of my observation and experience during a late tour in Kansas, have suggested the propriety of a public statement of some points of leading interest to the friends of Kansas in this community, and of importance to the territory and the cause. The haste with which I am forced to prepare this communication must be an excuse if the various topics are not introduced in their most appropriate order.

The first and most prominent question that everywhere presents itself is, What is the present condition of affairs in the Territory?

Not materially different from its condition immediately preceding the Presidential election. The favorable opinion I expressed of Gov. Geary on my visit to Boston in October, though received with some surprise and considerable distrust, as well it might be, I am happy to say has been thus far essentially verified by his official and private conduct. The pacification he was sent to secure was in a measure achieved before election, and it has been made more complete since. The measures adopted to aid the oppressed settlers by the North, and the prompt and bold action of the people themselves, had paved the way for such a result. The shrewd and far-seeing policy of Gov. Geary; his willingness to bear for a time unjust imputations in order the better to accomplish his ends, have been crowned with distinguished success. The departure of Col. Titus with his band of mercenaries for Nicaragua; the emphatic lesson taught the Missouri invaders by Gen. Lane and his brave army; the prompt manner in which some of the corrupt and wicked government officials have been removed at the request of Gov. Geary, inspire us with greater hope for the future. There is a feeling of quiet security now felt in the territory which has been unknown since the first invasion, a year ago last June.

The Free State men have never sought contest, and the actual pro slavery settlers, if we except the government officials, are in the main a quiet and orderly people.—The iron heel of the administration in the shape of its officials, its edicts, and its employment of mercenary fillibusters being taken from the necks of the people, the fillibusters themselves driven away, foreign interference kept out; it cannot be otherwise than quiet and peaceful. And this state of peace and security will continue so long as this policy shall be pursued, and no longer. Restore the right of free speech, and of the free press—protect the sacredness of the ballot-box—guarantee the rights of suffrage untrammeled—set aside all laws of foreign imposition, and restore to the citizen his inalienable rights, and the inhabitants of Kansas will no longer complain.

Are the wants of the people relieved by the recent contributions of clothes and money?

To a great extent they are being relieved. Upwards of 700 packages of clothing, at an aggregate cost, including freight, of nearly $75,000, has been received by the National Committee at Chicago. Upwards of 400 of these have been forwarded up the Missouri River, a large part of which have arrived in the Territory. The balance remains to be forwarded at the opening of navigation. About $20,000 worth of provisions have been supplied for distribution. This most probably will relieve the immediate wants. What new developments there may be in the Spring I am unable to say. The balance of the clothing will then be forwarded, and will meet the Spring demand, and should there be a need for further supplies of provisions, the call will, I am sure, be heeded as the past has been by our kind and sympathizing friends at the North. It certainly is never desirable to bestow charity beyond the supply of present want, if the recipients are in a condition and have the ability to help themselves.

What effect has the reception of this aid upon the people?

While it is undoubtedly accompanied in many cases with some of the evils inseparably attendant upon the bestowment of charity, either in form or reality, yet the effect upon the minds of the people, in inspiring them with fresh courage to endure on and persevere to the end, is most cheering. They see that the sympathy of the great Northern heart does not waste itself in words alone. Add to this the moral effect of the mighty vote rolled up by the friends of Freedom, and you can well imagine the hearts of the oppressed to be filled with emotions of joy and gratitude.

While we accord all due credit to the men for the political victory, the noble-hearted Freedom-loving women must receive tha chief credit for the generous provision made to relieve the physical necessities of their suffering brethren in Kansas.

Is the distribution of clothing and food being made in a judicious and satisfactory manner?

In the distribution of so large an amount in the form of relief, it could hardly be expected that human imperfection should avoid some mistakes, in judgment at least. I have no question that those entrusted with this duty aim to perform it with impartiality and justice, and so far as I could learn, the arrangements to do so were well planned and faithfully carried out. True, there have been complaints, some of which have reached the East. But a slight investigation often showed them to be unfounded. Selfish and avaricious persons are to be found in Kansas as elsewhere, and whenever such persons are thwarted in their purposes, they are the very ones to complain. There is also a large class of persons needing aid to whom such a condition is a novelty; oftentimes they are extremely sensitive, and when particular inquiries are made to enable the Committee to discriminate, their feelings may be at times unintentionally wounded, and some may refrain from application from fear of such a result.—This evil, though giving rise to complaint, is in part remedied by the distribution of supplies sent to private individuals who can act in the circle of their more immediate acquaintances without such results.

NEW HAMPSHIRE.—The "State Capital Reporter." of Concord, N. H., is to be united to the "Independent Democrat" of Mr. Fogg, the regular anti-slavery paper of the state. The Reporter was established by the late Cyrus Barton as a sort of organ for Edmund Burke, but the latter gentleman has an organ of his own in the Democratic Standard, in which he attacks the Pierce Democracy proper with unsparing ferocity, and the opposition journals assert that he has the ear of the President elect.—Boston Courier.

REMOVAL OF A POSTMASTER IN ENGLAND. It is rarely that a public officer in England is removed, especially a postmaster; yet we have before us an order from the Postmaster General of England for the removal of a postmaster in the county of Kent, on no other ground than that of being discourteous to those who had business with his office.

☞ The Boston Journal says that Burden's Pressed Boat, Ship, Brad and Countersunk Railroad Spikes, are the greatest blessing that recent invention has conferred upon builders of ships. Blodget, Brown & Co., 80 and 82 Pearl Street, Boston, are selling them all over the United States.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

We have never known any other medicine win as large a share of public confidence in so short a time as this has done. It has not been more than a year since we first heard of it, and it now stands at the head of all remedies of the kind. We have never used any of it ourselves, having had no occasion, as our "crown of glory," not only as yet retains its original color, but gets more so—but some of our friends have, and we have never known it fail of restoring the hair to its original color. We advise such as are becoming prematurely gray, to give the "Restorative" a trial.—Chester (Illinois) Herald, June, 1854.

THE GREAT DISCOVERY.

Many years ago, Doctor Burleigh Smart, of Kennebunk, Me., discovered that a simple article never before used as a medicine, was a never failing cure for coughs of every description, and an excellent blood purifier. By the use of this simple article, he acquired the reputation of being the best physician in New England, for all diseases of the lungs. After his death, Messrs. Shaw & Clark, of Biddeford, Me., obtained a Copy Right from Government, for its exclusive manufacture and now have it carefully prepared strictly according to the original recipe. There is no cough but it will cure, unless the patient is past all human aid before commencing its use! It is called "Doctor Burleigh Smart's Cough Medicine!" and is for sale by all apothecaries. nov7 Tu&Th

In Board of Aldermen, — Thursday evening, Jan. 1, 1857.—A petition of Henry Palmer, asking for compensation for damage received in running against lumber near Middle St. Meeting House, was referred to a special Committee—Mayor Jenness, and Aldermen Rundlett, Yeaton and Band.

Israel Marden, jr., applied for a license for a Biliard Room. Referred to Committee on Police.

Patrick Rafferty applied for Jefferson Hall, to deliver a lecture to the foreign population, on Naturalization. Referred to Committee on Public Buildings.

Daniel Senter complained of the coasting of boys on Brimstone Hill. Referred to the City Marshal.

No quorum in Common Council.

☞ In our report of the doings of the Board of Aldermen, on Thursday evening, is mentioned the presenting of a petition by Mr. Henry Palmer, asking compensation for, or aid in consideration of, injuries received by running against lumber near the Middle Street Church. The accident occurred during the time the late repairs were in progress at that Church,—when Mr. P., being a fireman, was running for his tub, at an alarm, and struck his stomach forcibly against a timber or board lying across his path. He is said to be seriously injured, has since raised blood, and his recovery is doubtful. The trusty joiner who had the repairs of the Church in charge, states that the lumber had been carefully laid out of the way, and must have been misplaced by some mischievous boy or evening loafer.

New Year's Gifts.—We have already noticed quite a number, since which we learn that Mr. Daniel W. Jones of the Franklin School, received a Porte Monnaie, Book and Fruit Knife; Miss Caroline Mason a beautiful reticule; Mr. John P. Payson, of the Bartlett School, an elegant carved Dressing Case, with all the apparatus usually belonging to the same; Mr. Nichols, we think, received a copy of Dr. Kane's works.

Mr. A. M. Payson, of the Boys' High School, also received Dr. Kane's work; and the lady Assistant, a valuable Portfolio, with other writing conveniences.

These presents are indications of the harmony and good feeling between parents, teachers and scholars.

Mr. Demeritt and Mr. Kimball, we hear, received elegant Canes—very appropriate for two comparatively young men, who have worn themselves prematurely old, even to the need of staffs, in the service of the young seekers after knowledge—whom it would be much less labor to take charge of, at school as well as elsewhere, did they but really seek instruction.

P. S. We learn that Mr. Demeritt's gift was a Kane (book), but we will let our item stand.

☞ The Old New Hampshire Gazette commences the year 1857, in a new garb, enlarged in size, and altogether improved in appearance—doubtless looking better than ever before. Edward N. Fuller, Esq., editor and proprietor, as heretofore. Terms only $1 25 per year, in advance—too cheap for a publisher to get rich on, in these parts We wish our century-an neighbor success, in proportion as the principles he may advocate are democrdtic.

"First Course Young Americans' Lyceum; at Washington Hall—1857." This is the inscription on a handsome Ticket presented us by a young friend. It explains itself, in part; and further we learn from the Gazette, that some very young men in this city formed a debating club recently, and now hold weekly meetings.—Determined not to be behind their elder brethren, they have resolved to have a course of eight lyceum lectures, commencing on Wednesday evening next, at Washington Hall, Market street; on which occasion Mr. William G. Nowell, of Bowdoin College, will read from the poets. The lectures will all be of home manufacture,—and should be considered all the better for that. We are told the tickets sell well, and that the audience will be fully equal to the capacity of the hall.

☞ We would call the attention of our readers to the advertisement (on our outside) of Prince & Co.'s celebrated Melodeons, for sale by Messrs. John S Harvey & Son. The manufacturers have made many improvements in the style and finish, and now turn out most excellent instruments; and they are having a rapid sale here and everywhere.

Messrs. Harvey & Son also have these Instruments to let, on favorable terms.

ROCKINGHAM CO. MUSICAL ASSOC.

The third Annual Convention of this Association is to be held in this city during the coming week, and should receive the countenance and support of all who feel an interest in music among us.

The Convention will open on Tuesday morning, at 10 o'clock, in Hanover Street Chapel, and continue through three or four days and evenings; and will give a Grand Concert, of Choruses, Glees, Songs, &c., at the Temple, on Thursday evening.

The exercises will be under the direction of Prof. B. F. Baker, of Boston, one of the most popular and successful teachers in the country.

The mornings will be devoted to Lectures, and to Exercises on the development and cultivation of the voice; the afternoons to Choir Training; and the evenings to exercises preparatory to the Concert. Baker's Church Music and the Union Glee Book, (newly revised,) will be used; also "The Storm King"—all which will be furnished.

Below we give the Constitution of the Association, with the Officers.

CONSTITUTION.

Article 1. This Association shall be called the Rockingham County Musical Association; whose object shall be the cultivation of Sacred and Secular Music, both instrumental and vocal.

Article 2. Any Gentleman may be a member of this Association by paying annually the sum of one dollar; and any Lady may be a member by paying annually fifty cents. The Association may also admit, by major vote, any person as an honorary member. And all clergymen in Rockingham County, shall be honorary members.

Article 3. The Officers of this Association shall be, a President, Vice President, Secretary, Treasurer, and an Executive Committee, who together shall constitute a Board of Directors. The Executive Committee shall at present consist of ten, but may be hereafter increased or diminished by a vote of this Association at any annual meeting.

Article 4. It shall be the duty of the President to preside at all business meetings of the Association or Board of Directors; he shall direct all musical performances, either in person or by substitution: and in case of absence the Vice President shall act in his stead.

Article 5. The Secretary shall keep a record of all the transactions of the Association and Board of Directors.

Article 6. The Treasurer shall receive all moneys and pay them out under the direction and by the order of the President; and his accounts as well as the records of the Secretary shall always be open to the inspection of the President and Executive Committee.

Article 7. It shall be the duty of each member of the Executive Committee to use his influence for the promotion of the objects and interests of the Association.

Article 8. The Association shall meet annually in the month of January, for the choice of officers, and for practice in music, (and at other times when in the opinion of the Directors it may be advisable,) at such place as the Directors may determine.

Article 9. This constitution may be altered or amended at any annual meeting, provided however that notice of any proposed amendment or alteration be published in the call of said meeting.

The Hutchinsons had the fullest attendance ever given to a concert in Newburyport, Tuesday evening. There must have been 1500 there, and 500 tickets were sold at the door, in twenty minutes. The sincerity, simplicity, earnestness and sweet music at their entertainments, captivate their hearers, and, the Herald says, an importation of all the singers in Europe would not attract more in Newburyport than those native songsters of our northern hills.

☞ Uncle Toby acknowledges the receipt, from Mr. B. H. Penhallow, printer, at Lowell, Mass., of a finely printed Counting House Almanac for 1857, with four months each of 1856 and '58:—one of the neatest he has seen.

President's Levee.—Washington, Jan. 1.— All persons connected with diplomatic corps, in full dress, together with members of the cabinet, paid their respects to the President, this morning. At noon the doors of the White House were thrown open to the public, and thousands, including prominent statesmen, judges, army and navy officers, entered, the Marine Band meanwhile performing. The reception continued about two hours.

Heads of the departments, and many others, hospitably entertained visitors at their residences. Nearly all secular business was suspended, and public offices closed.

Henry Danforth, of Danville, Vt., shot a bear last week, which "stood him in" $10 state bounty for the head, $5 for the skin, and ten cents a pound for the meat, to say nothing of the bear's grease.

In calling the attention of the public to my list of Magazines and Newspapers; I would caution all against subscribing for Magazines, Newspapers, or other works, to irresponsible and transient persons, or travelling agents; for in nine cases out of ten you will be swindled and cheated.

If you wish to take any Magazine or Newspaper, subscribe of some responsible firm in Town.—Hundreds of dollars are lost every year by subscribing for works of strangers and travelling agents, and by being induced to subscribe by the thousands of contrivances to cheat the public—such as Art Unions, Premiums, Cosmopolitan Art Associations, and various humbugs to gull the unwary. Keep clear of all these, and pay your money to those whom you know to be responsible.

The subscriber has been in the business fourteen years, and will guarantee to furnish any publication as cheap as can be obtained.

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.
DR. CHRESEMAN'S PILLS FOR FEMALES,
Prepared by an old Physician of 40 years experience.
THE combination of ingredients in these Pills, is the result of a long and extensive practice; they are mild in their operation, and certain to restoring nature to its proper channel. In every instance have the Pills proved successful. They are certain to open those obstructions to which females are liable, and bring nature into its proper channel, whereby health is restored; and the pale and deathly countenance changed to a healthy one No female can enjoy good health unless she is regular; and, whenever an obstruction takes place, whether from exposure, cold, or any other cause, the general health immediately begins to decline, and the want of such a remedy has been the cause of so many consumptions among young females Headache, pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, loathing of food, and disturbed sleep, that most always arise from the interruption of nature; and whenever that is the case, the Pills will invariably remedy all these evils In all cases of painful menstruation, or nervous and spinal affections in the back and limbs, lowness of spirits, hysterics, &c. Nor are they less efficacious in the cure of Leucorrhœa, commonly called the "Whites." These Pills should never be taken during pregnancy, as they would be sure to cause a miscarriage. Warranted purely Vegetable, and free from anything injurious to life or health Full and explicit directions which should be read, accompany each box.
These Pills are put up in square, flat boxes.—Persons residing where there are no Agencies established, by enclosing One Dollar in a letter, prepaid, to Dr. C. L. Cheeseman, Box No. 4,531, Post Office, New York City, can have them sent to their respective addresses by return of mail.

DIARIES for 1857—for sale by

The laws of Virginia require every man who marries, to give security for the support of his wife and children. Many lovers who find this inconvenient, go to Maryland to have the ceremony performed.

Forty men in Utah, including the Governor, members of the Council and House of Representatives, have 420 wives! None of the list have less than three, and some labelled as "crippled and old," have 25 or 30!

It is stated that Hon. Mr. Damrell continues in ill health. He has to be carried daily from his seat in Congress to his carriage, on account of paralysis in his lower limbs.

☞ The women of Albany, Athens county, Ohio, headed by a lady 60 years old, recently marched into a tavern, kept by a man named Becker, and smashed all the bottles, jugs, tumblers, &c. Becker has left for parts unknown.

AYER'S Cathartic Pills,

(SUGAR COATED,)

ARE MADE TO

CLEANSE THE BLOOD AND CURE THE SICK

Invalids, Fathers, Mothers, Physicians, Philanthropists, read their Effects, and judge of their Virtues.

Cure of

Headache, Sick Headache, Foul Stomach,

PITTSBURG, PA., May 1, 1855.

DR. J. C. AYER. Sir: I have been repeatedly cured of the worst headache any body can have by a dose or two of your Pills. It seems to remove the foul stomach, which they cleanse at once. If they will cure others as they do me, the fact is worth knowing.

Yours with great respect, ED. W. FREBLE, Clerk of Steamer Clarion.

Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR, WASHINGTON, D. C., 7 Feb., 1855.

SIR: I have used your Pills in my general and hospital practice ever since you made them, and cannot hesitate to say they are the best cathartic we employ. Their regulating action on the liver is quick and decided, consequently they are an admirable remedy for all diseases of that organ. Indeed, I have seldom found a case of bilious fever so obstinate that it did not readily yield to them.

Tryingly yours, WM. H. WEM, M. D., Physician of the Marine Hospital.

Dysentery, Relax, and Worms.

POST OFFICE, HARTLAND, LIV. CO., MICH., Nov. 16, 1855.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the perfection of medicine. They have done my wife more good than I can tell you. She had been sick and piining away for months. Went off to be doctored at great expense, but got no better. She then commenced taking your Pills, which soon cured her, by expelling large quantities of worms from her bowels and body. They afterwards cured her and our two children of bloody dysentery. One of our neighbors had it bad, and my wife cured him with your Pills. Our neighbors and others around us paid from five to twenty dollars doctors' bills, and lost much time, without being cured entirely even then. Such a medicine as yours, which is actually good and honest, will be prized here.

GEO. J. GRIFFEN, Postmaster.

Indigestion and Impurity of the Blood.

From Rev. J. V. Himes, Pastor of Advent Church, Boston.

DR. AYER: I have used your Pills with extraordinary success in my family and among my people, and I wish to say in thankfulness. To regulate the organs of digestion and purify the blood they are the very best remedy I have ever known, and I can conscientiously recommend them to my friends. Yours, J. V. HIMES.

WARSAW, WYOMING CO., N. Y., Oct. 24, 1855.

DEAR SIR: I am using your Cathartic Pills in my practice, and find them an excellent purgative to cleanse the system and purify the fountains of the blood.

JOHN G. MEACHAM, M. D.

Erysipelas, Scrofula, King's Evil, Tetter, Tumors, and Salt Rheum.

From a Partnership Merchant of Cincinnati, Aug. 8, 1856.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the paragon of all that is great in medicine. They have cured my little daughter of ulcerous sores upon her hands and feet that had proved incurable for years. Her mother, too, has been greatly afflicted with blotches and pimples on her skin and in her hair. After our child was cured, she also tried your Pills, and they have cured her of her long-term ailment.

From the Rev. Dr. Brooks, of the Methodist Episc. Church.

PULASKI HOUSE, SAVANNAH, GA., Jan. 6, 1856.

HONORED SIR: I should be ungrateful for the relief your skill has brought me if I did not report my case to you. A cold settled in my limbs, attended with inflammatory rheumatic pains, which ended in chronic rheumatism. Notwithstanding, I had the best of physicians, the disease grew worse and worse, defying all treatment, for twelve long months. Hearing of your excellent agent in Baltimore, Dr. Mackenzie, I tried your Pills. Their effects were slow, but sure. By persevering in the use of them I am now entirely free from disease.

SENATE CHAMBER, BATON ROUGE, LA., 5 Dec., 1854.

DR. AYER: I have been entirely cured by your Pills of Rheumatic Gout—a painful disease that I had suffered for years.

For Dropsy, Plethora, or Kindred Complaints, requiring an active purge, they are an excellent remedy.

For Costiveness or Constipation, and as a Dinner Pill, they are agreeable and unequaled.

Fits, Suppression, Paralysis, Inflammation, and even Dyspepsia, a variety of which these pills have been cured by the alterative action of these Pills.

Most of the pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skillful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the dreadful consequences that frequently follow its incautious use. These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

and for the relief of consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease.

We need not speak to the public of its virtues. Throughout every town, there is some one who has felt its effects. The American States, its wonderful cures of pulmonary complaints have made it already known. Nay, few are the families in any civilized country on this Continent without some personal experience of its efficacy; and fewer yet are communities any where which have not among them some living trophy of its victory over the subtle and dangerous disease of the throat and lungs. It is the most powerful antidote yet known to man for the formidable and dangerous disease of the pulmonary organs, it is also the pleasantest and safest cordial that can be employed for infants and young persons. Parents should have it in store against the insidious enemy that steals upon them unprepared. We have abundant grounds to believe the Cherry Pectoral saves more lives by the disappointments it prevents than those it cures. Keep it by you, and cure your colds while they are curable, nor neglect them until no human skill can master the incurable canker that, fastened on the vitals, eats your life away. All know the dreadful fatality of lung disorders, and so they know too the virtues of this remedy, we need not ignore than to assure them it is still made the best it can be. We spare no cost, no care, no toil to produce it the most perfect possible, and the public know and who rely on it the best agent which our skill can furnish for their relief.

PATENT SELF-GENERATING

Gas Lamp!

PARTICULARLY ADAPTED TO CHURCHES, HALLS, HOTELS, FACTORIES, STORES, PARLORS AND FAMILIES.

THERE is nothing more desirable, when engaged in any recreation, than a good light—The Sun is all right for the day—we want something like it for night. Candles were invented in 1120, and have ever been denounced in consequence of permanently injuring the eyes, and the pernicious flame. We desire a more natural light, and it was discovered and patented in 1859, and has been tested by thousands since that time. The brilliancy of its flame is unequalled by any other artificial burner.

SOME OF ITS GOOD QUALITIES.

It is perfectly safe.
No chance for explosion.
It is not extinguished by an ordinary wind.
It requires re-wicking only once in six months.
A child may take care of it.
It is unequalled for reading or sewing.
The light is uniform to the eyes.
For Economy, Cleanliness and Comfort, it defies competition, and it is the best and cheapest light in the world.

☞ We wish it understood that the Gas Lamp will give the same amount of light as three Stearine Candles, for half a cent an hour, and the light of ten candles for 1 cent.

All Fluid and Oil Lamps altered to Gas Lamps.

If Fluid is bought at wholesale prices it will cost the consumer very much less than the above prices. For sale by

THE OLDEST ESTABLISHMENT IN THE U.S.

Employing Two Hundred Men, and finishing

Eighty Instruments per Week,

BETWEEN 18,000 AND 19,000

of these Instruments have been finished and are now in use.

THE latest improvement in our Melodeons is the DIVIDED SWELL, secured to us by Letters Patent 22d May, 1855.—By means of this Swell Solo Passages may be played with the full power of the Instrument, while the Accompaniment is soft and subdued.—Hereafter, all Melodeons made by us will be furnished with this attachment without extra charge.

Extract from the Commercial Advertiser, July 27, '55.

"Messrs. Prince & Co. could realize a handsome fortune by directing all right to the manufacturers to use their new improvement; but as they prefer to make it a feature in their Instruments, it can only be obtained by purchasing one of their manufacture."

It is now eight years since we commenced the manufacture of this new celebrated Musical Instrument—during which time we have finished and sold nearly NINE HUNDRED THOUSAND. Voluntary testimonials to the excellence of our Instruments, from the most distinguished Professors of Music in different parts of the United States, have from time to time been received. Thus far we have said but little, and our advertisements were seldom read for the reason that we could not supply the demand. We have lately erected one of the largest and most perfect Manufacturing Establishments in the United States, and we now think that we can fill orders promptly. We therefore give one testimonial we have received.

NEW YORK, 15th Oct., 1855

"G. A. Prince & Co.: Gentlemen—The Double Reed Organ you have arrived, and a most charming Instrument it is. It has been played upon by Wallace, Dodt, Hodges, Wm. Mason, and a host of others, and they all pronounce it one of the most beautiful toned reed instruments they have ever touched. Very really, JAMES F. HALL."

We are not aware that the above mentioned Melodeon is in any particular superior to those we are now offering for sale, and we refer those who are inclined to favor us with their orders, that they will be furnished with an instrument equally good. Our Instruments are all finished in Rosewood Cases, and the workmanship is of the very best quality. The styles and prices are—

IN PORTABLE CASE:

Four octave Melodeon, from C to C	$45
Four and a half octave, " C to F	50

Singer's Sewing Machines.

THESE celebrated machines are in practical and profitable use in all parts of the civilized world. In the various trades and in sewing every sort of fabric, either of cloth or leather, they have been fully tried and approved. Sewing machines of other manufacturers often fail to work, but SINGER'S MACHINES being strong, durable and complete in contrivance and workmanship. A perfect sewing machine kept employed affords a clear profit of $1000 a year; but an imperfect one is a cause of constant vexation and loss. The extraordinary of our machines is one great reason for their unparalleled popularity.

ALWAYS OPERATE PERFECTLY,

MACHINES FOR FAMILY SEWING,

of a frail and delicate construction, are recommended by other manufacturers. Such machines are made to catch the eye, not to perform substantial work. The truth is, family sewing machines ought to be stronger than any other, because they go into less skilful hands than when sold to manufacturers, and are used for a greater variety of work. The machines which have proved best for all other purposes must be best for family use, and they are Singer's. The speed of our machines has lately been doubled. No other can compare with them in quantity of work.

☞ New machines of the latest improved style will be exchanged on liberal terms for old sewing machines of our own make, or for operative machines of other manufacturers. Local agents wanted to sell our machines.

N. B.—All persons desiring full information about sewing machines, can obtain it by applying for a copy of "I. M. Singer & Co.'s Gazette," a paper devoted entirely to the subject. It will be sent gratis. I. M. SINGER & CO.

Arnold's Vital Fluid

PURIFIES and strengthens the blood by eradicating, through a nice chemical action, the causes of impurities and humors. Hence its power to cure humors that mere medicine cannot cure. Hence its power of strengthening and vitalizing the blood. It furnishes to a certain extent, the element of which pure blood is composed. It eradicates and cleanses away whatever clogs and thickens the blood.

ARNOLD'S VITAL FLUID

Renders the system strong and healthy, by freeing the blood and stomach from objectionable materials. It nerves and vivifies the system, by furnishing the elements which give vitality.

ARNOLD'S VITAL FLUID

Gives to the system an influence and effect similar to that produced by exercise in the free open air. It cathartizes by strengthening the blood to brighter and better action—doing its work by beginning at the beginning. It is pleasant to the taste, and becomes a favorite wherever known.

ARNOLD'S VITAL FLUID

Removes Biliousness in the most direct and easy manner, by neutralizing the bile. This is the principle of its action in removing illness generally. It neutralizes the cause, by freeing the blood from impediments to its proper fulfilment of its life-giving functions

This principle of neutralizing the cause is why ARNOLD'S VITAL FLUID CURES HUMORS that mere medicine cannot sensibly affect, and why it cures other diseases

Resulting from Poisons in the Blood, that mere medicinal preparations cannot alleviate. Humors are poisons in the blood, and it is by their chemical action in neutralizing those poisons that ARNOLD'S GLOBULES AND VITAL FLUID are enabled to cure them so that they stay cured.

VITAL FLUID 50 cents per bottle; GLOBULES 25 cents per box.

Great American and Foreign Office

For Securing Patents for Inventions.

Agency for business with US Patent Office, Washington

R. H. EDDY,

No. 70 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1836) desires to present advantages, in applying for Patents, superior to those offered inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers and Drawings necessary to the procural of patents in this and foreign countries prepared and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, or infringement of patents. All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Copies and claims of any patent furnished for one dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.—Patents secured in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries, through Agents of the highest respectability. R. H. EDDY,

Solicitor of Patents.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MAGRUDER,

Commissioner of Patents.

TREMONT MILLS.

Teas, Coffees, Chocolates, Cocoans, Spices, &c.

WHOLESALE,—AND ALSO IN SMALL PACKAGES.

E. E. DYER & CO.

(Sign of the Chinaman grinding coffee,)

141 Washington St., Boston,

SUPPLY the best, finest and purest articles, at lowest Cash prices. Their Stock consists of Teas, Coffees, Chocolates, Allspice, Pepper, Mustard, Ginger, Cayenne Pepper, Nutmegs, Cinnamon, Cloves, Cream Tartar, Taraxacum, or Prepared Dandelion Root, &c., &c.

Having every facility for manufacturing and preparing the several articles named, we feel confident upon having them pure and genuine, as they are put up carefully, and bear our name and label, "TREMONT MILLS, E. E. DYER & CO."

To give consumers some idea of our sales, we annex the following scale of prices, viz.:

5 lb. Souchong Tea,	1.50	5 lb. Mocha Coffee,	1.00
5 lb. Oolong "	1.75	5 lb. Java "	.90
5 lb. Y. Hyson "	2.25	8 lb. good "	1.00

☞ The Spices are put up in ¼ and ½ lb. tin cases, expressly for family use, and are warranted to be strictly a pure article, and only need a trial to establish them in public favor.

SPANISH COFFEE.—We would call the attention of customers and dealers to our Spanish Coffee, the best and most highly esteemed, and gives the greatest satisfaction. It is prepared with particular care, and by a peculiar process in roasting, one pound of this coffee, it is believed, is equal to 2 lb. of any other.

DANDELION COFFEE.—This article is carefully prepared at our Mills, and put up in packages having our trade mark, and may be relied upon as the best and most approved mixture of dandelion and coffee.

TARAXACUM, or Prepared Dandelion Root.—This article is prepared and roasted at our Mills, is retailed by Family Grocers generally in city and country, and bearing our trade mark, "Chinaman grinding coffee," may be relied upon as the Genuine Article. The proportion used is about one-half the quantity of coffee. The price is 20 cents per pound, and it is warrented to be the same as that which has been sold for fifty cents a pound by druggists.

The medical properties of Dandelion are well-known, and held in high estimation by all who use it. This being a preparation of the root, with all its medicinal virtues retained, can be mixed with coffee or not, as best suits the taste, and will be found cheap and economical as a family beverage, one pound of which being nearly equal to two pounds of coffee It is prescribed by many eminent physicians to invalids, children and aged persons, as a nutritious beverage, and as a remedy for Dyspepsia, Bilious affections &c.

☞ Be careful to observe that all our Coffees have our trade mark, "Chinaman grinding coffee,"

☞ To Grocers and Dealers a liberal discount is made, enabling them to supply their customers at the same low rate.

☞ TO CASH PURCHASERS.—Our object being to secure large sales at small profits, we offer inducements which cannot be afforded by those who do business on the credit system; and we confidently invite an examination of the quality of our stock and our prices, as compared with those of any other house.

Morning Chronicle.

MONDAY, JANUARY 5, 1857.

Nearly all the Protestant denominations of New England, at least, were implicated in the Disunion schemes of the Black Republican party. They stood before the country as the advocates of the cause of Disunion, for such is the inevitable event of successful Black Republicanism.

On the other hand, the Roman Catholic denomination were wiser and more patriotic. They stood by the Union and the Constitution.—Democratic Standard.

Very important. if true:—and if true, moreover, our Irish fellow-citizens understand the principles of our government better than we do ourselves!—are better legislators!—and the Roman Church is the guardian of liberty of conscience and of suffrage.

And this is said in New Hampshire, where, within ten years, the people have twice, by a two-thirds vote, refused to alter the Constitution so as to admit these same Roman Catholics to seats in the legislature, Congress, or the Governor's chair.

Average Duration of Human Life.—Prof. Buchanan, in a recent lecture before the Mechanics' Institute at Cincinnati, said that, in the latter part of the sixteenth century, one half of all who were born died under five years of age; the average longevity of the whole population was but 18 years. In the seventeenth century one half of the population died under 12 years. But in the first sixty years of the eighteenth century one half of the population lived over 27 years. In the latter forty years one half exceeded 32 years of age. At the beginning of the present century one half exceeded 40 years; and from 1838 to 1845 one half exceeded 42. The average longevity at these successive periods has increased from 18 years in the sixteenth century up to 43. 7 by the last reports.

A most interesting and encouraging view of human progress?

Four Children Thrown Twenty-six Feet.—The Manchester Mirror states that on Monday evening of last week, a boy eleven years old, who lives with Robert M. Shirley, of Goffstown, N. H.; Mr. Shirley's daughter, about 14 years old, and a son and daughter of Mr. Doel, neighbors of Shirley, started for a spelling school in the neighborhood, with a horse and sleigh. Going down a hill, the harness gave way, letting the sleigh upon the horse's heels, and inciting him to go at the top of his speed for half a mile. The horse kept the road to a certain point, and turned out, the sleigh hitting a rock, with so much impulse as to throw the children down a descent twenty-six feet, among rocks, injuring them all severely, so that they were senseless when found. Shirley's boy had the point of his elbow broken off, but the others received no permanent injury. The horse disengaged himself from the sleigh and ran, no one knows how far, and was found in a pond of water, dead. It was a valuable, high-spirited horse owned by Mr. Doel.

Mathematical Question.—I have two boards, each 20 feet long, and 36 inches wide at each butt end, and 4 inches wide at each narrow end. Each board I cut in two lengths crosswise, so that the two butt ends shall contain 33.4 square feet, and be 13 feet long, and the two narrow ends 33.4 square feet, and be 27 feet long. Required each one of the four lengths, and the contents of each length. F.

American and Foreign Patent Office. We would call the attention of inventors and others, to the advertisement of R. H. Eddy, Esq., Boston, the well known solicitor for Patents. His long experience in the business, his extensive practice, and his unusual facilities for securing patents, render his services of inestimable value to those having business at the Patent Office. See advertisement in another column.

☞ A man named John Farris, has been arrested in Boston, charged with drawing a number of forged checks which were offered at several banks in that city in October last, three of which, amounting to $3200, were paid. He was convicted of forgery in 1851, and sentenced to four years' imprisonment in the State Prison. and is a most adroit knave and forger.

A correspondent of the New York Tribune states that the Electors of Wisconsin managed to reach the capital of the State on Wednesday, the stress of weather preventing them from arriving on Tuesday.—They transacted the business for which they were elected, and chose a messenger to convey the vote of the State to Washington, not doubting but that their proceedings were entirely legal.

WHITMAN ON KANSAS.

PART II. PROSPECTS.

What are the prospects for the future?

Favorable in some respects. The prompt and efficient action of the settlers in defending themselves when abandoned by the General Government or oppressed by its action; the energetic movement of the people in opening a northern route over and into the besieged territory; the large numbers of emigrants going in under so discouraging circumstances; the appointment of an efficient Governor; the avalanche of votes in favor of freedom and against oppression which swept the free States; the dismissal of corrupt officials, judicial and executive; and finally the liberal supplies for their pressing needs, are silently but surely doing their appropriate work.

The presence of so large a number of purchasers from all parts of the Union at the recent land sale, and the consequent influx of capital; the prospect of the immediate opening of the land office and of a large emigration in spring; the peaceful condition of the country, and increase confidence in Gov. Geary, are all conspiring to give great activity to business generally, and are exciting to a high pitch the energy and enterprise of the settlers. Every preparation is being made for the expected influx in spring. New town sites are being laid out, saw-mills erected, and towns built up. An enterprising company have been at length successful in securing for a town site the long coveted and eligible Wyandott Point, at the junction of the Kansas and Missouri rivers, to be called Wyandott, in honor of one of the most celebrated and civilized of the North American tribes, whose existence as a nation has just terminated. Six miles further up the river is another embryo town, Quindaro.

Wyandott, with Kansas city on one side and Quindaro on the other, will at no distant day present one continued city, at which will center some three or four railroads from the East, and from which most unquestionably the great Pacific track will take its departure. Delaware City, Leavenworth and Iowa Point, further up the Missouri; Lawrence, Topeka and Manhattan, on the Kansas; and Osawatomie in the south, all present their respective claims to the attention of the settler and speculator. The speedy opening of the Shawnee Reserve for Pre-emptors, and the probable sale of the Miami and the balance of the Delaware trust lands in the spring invite in, even during the cold and inclement season, the bold and hardy pioneer.

In regard to the political condition and prospects, I think all we are justified in asserting at this moment is, that all hopes of making Kansas a slave State by violence and open fraud have been abandoned.—But, that the long cherished purpose of securing in some way the influence and power of the new State to the slave interest has been laid aside, no one acquainted with the struggle and with the actors can for a moment believe.

The contest that is really to decide the question is yet to come. In Congress it may come, and the decision there may be adverse to Freedom; but I cannot believe it; but Population must eventually decide; it may do it at an early day. If we would hold the ground we have gained; if we would not be shamefully and irretrievably beaten, we must lose no time. The emigration to go in during the ensuing spring may forever decide the momentous question, and settle the destiny of this country for ages.

Let it not be a money-making population merely, but one which shall embody the religious and intellectual sentiment of the New England character. Let there be literary, social and religious privileges among the attractions which shall draw settlers into the territory, in addition to the prospects of improving their pecuniary conditions.

I do not propose now to suggest any specific mode of action by which the emigration may be increased or improved in its character. The National and State Committees have the matter in charge, and I doubt not will be able to devise a mode of action acceptable to the public and effectual in its results.

On one point I can speak with a feeling of confidence. The route up the Missouri River will not only be open to emigrant travel from the North, but its patronage will be sought. The people of Missouri will interpose no further obstacles to a passage through her borders. Once in the territory no apprehension need be feared. The safety of life and property there will, from present appearances, compare favorably with that of any other new territory.

Should Gov. Geary prove recreant to his duty, or be removed for his faithfulness; should the new Judge and Marshal prove a Lecompte and a Donaldson; should Titus and his mercenaries return, and Missouri madly attempt another invasion, then look for a contest that shall shake not Kansas alone, but this entire Union to its lowest foundation stone. Peace in such a crisis will be found nowhere in this unfortunate country, and Kansas in the conflict may be the safest spot to be found.

I intended to add something of the inducements to emigration, more than would be inferred from what has been said—but this communication has already been extended to an undue length for a newspaper article, and I must reserve what more I have to say for another occasion.

Yours truly for the Freedom of Kansas by all just and lawful means.

Correspondence of the Chronicle.

LETTERS FROM GERMANY—The Last.

Geneva, Switzerland, Dec. 15, '56.

I have been hoping a long time to be able to send you some more letters for your Chronicle, but am finally compelled to inform you candidly that I do not think it will be possible to write any more. I have a great deal of matter on hand, which, could it be put into an interesting form, would, without doubt, greatly interest some of your readers at least.

I spent all last September travelling; visited Dresden, Frankfort-on-the-Maine, Heidelberg; the Rhine, down and up; Baden, Strassburg, entered Switzerland at Basle; visited the Falls of the Rhine, the largest cataract in Europe, but an infant compared with Niagara; lake Constance, Constance, where John Huss was condemned and burnt; Zurich; climbed the Rigi, 5600 feet high; sailed up and down Lake Lucerne, the centre of those thrilling events that have given to the world the names of Wm. Tell, Gesler, Winkelreid and others, surrounded by a wall of mountains from 3000 to 9000 feet high—probably the most charming and on the whole most interesting lake in the world; crossed the Brunnig Pass on foot; visited several glaciers; crossed what is called the Wengern Alp, 6900 feet high; passed close to the foot of the Jungfrau, 13,700 feet high, the highest of the Swiss Alps; saw several waterfalls or cascades, varying from 300 to 1000 feet in height; visited Bern and various other interesting cities; then turned our steps towards Mont Blanc, 15,760 feet high, spent two days in looking up to his heaven-aspiring peak, and climbing some of his giant neighbors, one of which, the Breven, is 8500 feet high, on whose summit we found a snow storm, and obtained no view at all; went upon the glacier called Mer de Glace, (sea of ice,) and finally stopped for the winter here in Geneva, this Athens of Switzerland, the home of John Calvin, the birth-place of Rousseau; for some time the residence of Byron, where he wrote his Childe Harolde; the present residence of Mousaun Merle D'Aubigne, and the centre of a thousand attractions, both on account of the past and the present.

Thus you see it is not for want of material that I cannot write for you. * * * To no one of your readers and admirers has the Chronicle come more punctually than to me. My whereabouts will be very irregular for the future.

Yours very truly, T. H.

Halifax, Jan. 2.—A fire broke out yesterday at 4 P. M., in Wass's building, corner of Hollis and Prince streets, extending south to the residence of Dr. Allan, crossing Hollis street, burning nearly the whole block between that and Granville street, including St. Matthew's Presbyterian church.

Twenty buildings were consumed, and thirteen partially. Two entire blocks, from Bedford Row to Barrington street were gutted. The scene is most desolating—streets are filled with goods and furniture. Several persons were seriously injured, but no lives were lost. The estimated loss is $100,000.

☞ Mr. Jones, residing on the Jersey coast, lost his life while endeavoring to save the passengers and crew of the wrecked barque Tasso. He left a wife and seven children in destitute circumstances. Mr. E. Merriam, of Brooklyn, interested himself in their behalf, and called upon a number of merchants, twenty of whom subscribed $20 each, and thanked Mr. M. for calling on them. He will hand to the widow and children an acceptable new year's present of $410.

The bachelor who undertook to mend his breeches with the "thread of life," gave it up as a bad job and sent them to a tailor.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

We have never known any other medicine win as large a share of public confidence in so short a time as it is has done. It has not been more than a year since we first heard of it, and it now stands at the head of all remedies of the kind. We have never used any of it ourselves, having had no occasion, as our "crown of glory," not only as yet retains its original color, but gets more so—but some of our friends have, and we have never known it fail of restoring the hair to its original color. We advise such as are becoming prematurely gray, to give the "Restorative" a trial.—Chester (Illinois) Herald, June, 1854.

NO FAMILY

Can afford to be without Mustang Liniment in their house. The many accidents we are liable to, may render it necessary any moment, and nothing is capable of performing such a certain cure. (Extract.)—"In lifting the kettle from the fire it caught and scalded my hands and person severely—one hand almost to a crisp. The torture was unbearable. It was an awful sight. * * * The Mustang Liniment appeared to extract the pain almost immediately. It healed rapidly and left no scar of account. Chas. Foster, 420 Broad street, Philadelphia." It is truly a wonderful article. It will cure any case of Swelling, Burns, Stiff Joints, Eruptions or Rheumatism. For Horses it should never be dispensed with. One Dollar's worth of Mustang has frequently saved a valuable horse. It cures Galls, Sprains, Ringbone, Spavin and Founders. Beware of imitations. Sold in all parts of the habitable Globe.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,

[Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.]

No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston,

AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered on all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

August 17, 1856.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

CATER, THE MURDERER.—This case has excited much remark. One Boston paper contains an item derived from some person who has lived here, stating that two persons were convicted of larceny, on his evidence in one of our Courts. This is not correct. Three boys were taken up for the crime: Cater turned State's evidence; the second boy forfeited his bonds; and the third was acquitted by an alibi. But those who heard the trial, deemed Cator the worst of the three.

Before this, when his father was away, and sent money home to his mother, Cater, (now the murderer,) used to take out the letters from the post office, purloin the money, and destroy the letters, which fact was seen and can be proved.

He was also, farther back still, at school, sometimes the bearer of weapons, and was a boy of such conduct that a teacher of one of our town schools, among other warnings, admonished him that his conduct must probably lead him to the gallows.

The statement, which we adopted from Boston papers, that Cater was born in Kittery, is erroneous. We are informed by one who claims to know, and doubtless does know, that he was born in Portsmouth.—His mother, it is said, died insane; and a sister of his mother is said to be now living in that condition.

Upon being asked what he thought would be done with him, he replied that he expected to be hung, and "would rather meet death in that form than stay in prison three years, by a d——d sight."

SABBATH SCHOOL REUNION.—Mr. J. M. Lord, on Thursday evening, received the former teachers and pupils of his Sabbath School, at Hanover Street Chapel, to the number of two or three hundred. They had not previously assembled for five years, and the meeting brought to mind many pleasant and some sad occurrences. Four teachers and eighteen scholars have died.

Mr. Lord conducted the exercises of the evening. After an anthem by the choir, and reading selections from Scripture, he delivered an address, chiefly relating to his former School, and of much interest to them. Mr. J. D. Odams also made some remarks.

It was proposed to revive the Sabbath School under Mr. Lord's superintendence; and the proposal received sufficient favor, apparently, to warrant its being successfully carried out.

CHARLESTOWN (MASS.) FEMALE SEMINARY.—Mr. Nathan Merrill, formerly a school teacher in Portsmouth, is Superintendent of this popular and flourishing institution; and among the fourteen Instructors, we notice the name of "Mons. C. Ladreyt, Professor of the French Language and Literature"—who, from a few years' residence among us, as teacher of his native language, has left here many pleasant remembrances.

A TESTIMONIAL.—In the window of Mr. Robert N. Bodge's Jewelry store, corner of Congress and High Streets, may be seen a handsome Silver Pitcher, which we notice bears this inscription:

"Presented to Robert B. Henderson, by his friends, for his noble and successful effort in saving George O. Athorne from drowning, Dec. 10th, 1856. Portsmouth, N. H."

It will be remembered that we published, at the time, an account of the boy's breaking through the ice on the Mill Pond;—and that while the bystanders were "after fetching" a ladder, with which to get him out, Mr. Henderson jumped in and rescued the lad.

It is always advisable to "keep your wits about ye," whether you are in danger yourself, or are witnesses of others' peril; and we are glad to see so good a point put to this moral in general, and this particular instance of prompt courage so handsomely noticed.

We are told that Mr. J. H. Thacher suggested the idea of the presentation, and easily procured subscriptions for the purpose.

MERCANTILE LYCEUM.—The Poem, read before this institution on Friday evening, by Mr. Rice, was an excellent performance. We have the promise of some extracts from it, which we shall lay before our readers when that promise is fulfilled.

COURT OF COMMON PLEAS.

SATURDAY, Jan. 3.

This day, added to Thursday and Friday, was devoted to the Brick Yard Case, Brummell vs. Peaslee and Bryant.

☞ We print in another column, a brief letter from our Germany correspondent "T. H.," which was not written for publication — that his numerous friends among our readers in this city, may learn something of his whereabouts, and of his wanderings since we last heard from him. We regret, as they will, that circumstances will prevent his sending us more notes of his travels.

CONGRESS.

FRIDAY, Jan. 2.

SENATE.—In the Senate to-day, Mr. Slidell of Louisiana called for the correspondence of our government with the Netherlands, relative to the refusal of the Dutch Consul to testify in the Herbert case. Adjourned till Monday.

HOUSE.—The House was occupied exclusively with the consideration of private bills, and passed 13 of them. Adjourned till Monday.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—The Dred Scott Case.—There is no truth in the report that the Supreme Court has come to a conclusion on the Dred Scott case.

Senator Hamlin will resign his seat tomorrow, and proceed home.

Francis S. Clayton of New York was confirmed to-day as Consul to Moscow.

The Kansas nominations are not yet acted upon in the Senate.

In reply to the inquiry of the Senate, relative to the better security of steam vessels against accident by fire, the Secretary of the Navy has transmitted a communication from the Bureau of Construction, in which, it is said, no variation is required in the ordinary construction of vessels of wood for this purpose, but in that part of them where boilers and fire rooms are situated, a greater degree of security can be given. To this end it is considered practicable and expedient that boilers for all seagoing steamers, and all having their boilers under the main deck or using a forced draught, have their furnaces surrounded by the water of the boiler, or what is termed "water bottoms;" that smoke chimneys extend above the continuous deck, next over the boilers; that all fire rooms be covered with iron, and that a similar substance be used for the protection of other parts most exposed to combustion.

THE MURDER OF WARDEN TENNEY.—Coroner Sumner has concluded his inquiries to the manner of the murder of the Warden of the State Prison, and the jury have returned a verdict that Solon H. Tenney came to his death on the 29th day of December, between three and four o'clock, "in the Massachusetts State Prison, by mortal wounds then and there inflicted with a deadly weapon—a knife in the hands of a convict named Charles L. Decater, alias Cater; and the jury say that said wounds were then and there inflicted with malice aforethought and intent to kill." The jury are of opinion that "a sufficient number of men are not employed as officers in said prison to preserve a proper discipline therein," and "that, while convicts sentenced to the State Prison for committing deadly assaults are allowed the means and opportunities to commit the same crimes while serving out their sentence in the State Prison, there can be no security against the taking of other valuable lives."

The inquiry disclosed that Cater, on the day of the murder of Deputy Warden Walker, remarked to another convict that he would "see more fun soon," and it was shown that the officers had been cautioned against Cater; yet, nothwithstanding what they knew of him, and the forewarnings, they suffered him to enjoy all the privileges extended to the best behaved convicts of the prison. From conversations with prisoners before the murder, and with officers since the homicide, it would seem that Cater is ambitious to be hanged; and it is now likely that his ambition will be gratified. He is a "little villain" of the worst kind; and although hanging is a mean way of disposing of a man, it is perhaps, the best thing that can be done for this wretch.

It turns out now that Cater had a grudge against the Warden, who, while an officer in the House of Correction, punished Cater; that Cater remembered this, and hence the murder.—Boston Courier.

DREADFUL TYPHOON—LOSS OF A THOUSAND LIVES.—The North China Herald of Sept. 10th contains the following account of a terrible typhoon and its appalling consequences:

The captain of a large junk from Bangkok has communicated the following note on the disasters occasioned by a typhoon he encountered on the 12th of August on approaching the Chausan Islands from the South:—"We formed one of a fleet of twenty-two junks bound to various ports from Shanghae to Tientsinn. On the 11th of the moon the wind blew furiously from the Northwest, and suddenly chopped round from the South; seventeen vessels soon foundered, and the remaining five were dismasted. We also lost both our double rudders. About one thousand men perished in that storm. In consequence of assistance liberally afforded by a steamer, we were saved from starving or drowning."

HEALTH AND STRENGTH.

☞ DR. S. O. RICHARDSON'S SHERRY WINE BITTERS is the best Medicine ever used, for Summer Complaints. It has been more liberally patronized then any other ever established in this country. It is the same Richardson's Bitters which has restored so many invalids to health throughout New England during the past thirty years.

N. B.—Beware of imitations called Sherry Wine Bitters. The genuine have a fac simile of my signature upon the outer envelope. For sale by Druggists everywhere, and at my office, No. 51 Hanover St., Boston. au8 6m

THE GREAT DISCOVERY.

Many years ago, Doctor Burleigh Smart, of Kennebunk, Me., discovered that a simple article never before used as a medicine, was a never failing cure for coughs of every description, and an excellent blood purifier. By its use in his private practice, he acquired the reputation of being the best physician in New England, for all diseases of the lungs. After his death, Messrs. Shaw & Clark of Biddeford, Me., obtained a Copy Right from Government, for its exclusive manufacture, and now have it carefully prepared strictly according to the original recipe. There is no cough that it will not cure, unless the patient is past all human aid before commencing its use! It is called "Doctor Burleigh Smart's Cough Medicine," and is for sale by all apothecaries. nu27 TuTh&h 6m

In calling the attention of the public to my list of Magazines and Newspapers; I would CAUTION all against subscribing for Magazines, Newspapers, or other works, to irresponsible and transient persons, or travelling agents; for in nine cases out of ten you will be swindled and cheated.

If you wish to take any Magazine or Newspaper, subscribe of some responsible firm in Town.—Hundreds of dollars are lost every year by subscribing for works of strangers and travelling agents, and by being induced to subscribe by the thousands of contrivances to cheat the public—such as Art Unions, Premiums, Cosmopolitan Art Associations, and various humbugs to gull the unwary. Keep clear of all those, and pay your money to those whom you know to be responsible.

The subscriber has been in business fourteen years, and will guarantee to furnish any publication as cheap as can be obtained.

LOTTERIES.

The Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn Commissioners to superintend and certify that everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties a thousand miles off are as well protected as if they were present. Another fact the managers desire to call attention to, is, that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the sale is there made, in a State where Lotteries are legalized. They draw a Lottery on or about the 10th, 20th, and 30th of each month. All orders received are filled in the drawing next to take place after the communication comes to hand. The price of tickets is always $10—half, $5—quarter, $2.50. No tickets are forwarded unless the money is received with the order. The drawing is upon the principle of one number upon each ticket, and it is so simple that every one can understand it. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $60 to $30,000; every prize is drawn.—Write your address plain, and direct to

S. SWAN & CO., Atlanta, Georgia.

P. S.—The fairness of our Lotteries can be ascertained by inquiring of any respectable citizen of our state. jan 3 1y

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.

DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS FOR FEMALES,

Prepared by an old Physician of 40 years experience.

THE combination of ingredients in these Pills, is the result of a long and extensive practice; they are mild in their operation, and certain to restoring nature to its proper channel. In every instance have the Pills proved successful. They are certain to open those obstructions to which females are liable, and bring nature into its proper channel, whereby health is restored, and the pale and deathly countenance changed to a healthy one. No female can enjoy good health unless she is regular; and whenever an obstruction takes place, whether from exposure, cold, or any other cause, the general health immediately begins to decline, and the want of such a remedy has been the cause of so many consumptions among young females. Headache, pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, loathing of food, and disturbed sleep, that most always arise from the interruption of nature; and whenever that is the case, the Pills will invariably remedy all these evils. In all cases of painful menstruation, or nervous and spinal affections in the back and limbs, lowness of spirits, hysterics, &c. Nor are they less efficacious in the cure of Leucorrhœa, commonly called the "Whites." These Pills should never be taken during pregnancy, as they would be sure to cause a miscarriage. Warranted purely Vegetable, and free from anything injurious to life or health. Full and explicit directions which should be read, accompany each box.

These Pills are put up in square, flat boxes.—Persons residing where there are no Agencies established, by inclosing One Dollar in a letter, prepaid, to Dr. C. L. CHEESEMAN, Box No. 4,531, Post Office, New York City, can have them sent to their respective addresses by return of mail.

AYER'S Cathartic Pills,

(SUGAR COATED,)

ARE MADE TO

CLEANSE THE BLOOD AND CURE THE SICK

Wealthy, Fathers, Mothers, Physicians, Philanthropists, read their Effects, and judge for themselves.

Headache, Sick Headache, Foul Stomach.

PROVIDENCE, PA., May 1, 1856.

DR. J. C. AYER. Sir: I have been troubled with the worst headache any body can have by a close use of your Pills. It seems to arise from a foul stomach, which it cleanses at once. If they will cure others as they do me, the fact is worth knowing.

Yours with great respect, ED. W. PEEBLE, Clerk of Bessemer Church.

Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints.

STEPHENSON'S OFFICE INSURANCE AGENT, WASHINGTON, D. C., 7 Feb., 1856.

SIR: I have used your Pills in my general and hospital practice ever since you made them, and cannot hesitate to say they are the best cathartic we employ. Their superiority arises on the liver is quickness and decided, consequently they are an admirable remedy for derangements of that organ. Indeed, I have sometimes thought that their superiority arises on the liver is quickness and decided, consequently they are an admirable remedy for derangements of that organ. Indeed, I have sometimes thought that their superiority arose on chemicals that it did not really yield to them.

Fraternally yours, ALONZO BALL, M. D., Physician of the Marine Hospital.

Dysentery, Relax, and Worms.

POST OFFICE, HARTLAND, LIV. CO., MICH., Oct. 16, 1854.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the perfection of medicine. They have done my wife more good than I can tell you. She had been sick and pining away for months. Went off to be doctored at great expense, but got no better. She then commenced taking your Pills, which soon cured her, by expelling large quantities of worms (dead) from her body. They afterwards cured her and four two children of bloody dysentery. One of our neighbors had it bad, and my wife cured him with two doses of your Pills, while others around us paid from five to twenty dollars doctors' bills, and had much time, suffering and sickness and only even then. Such a medicine as yours, which is actually good and honest, will be prized here.

OBED A. MONTGOMERY, Postmaster.

Indigestion and Impurity of the Blood.

From Rev. J. V. Hunter, Pastor of Advent Church, Boston.

DR. AYER: I have used your Pills with extraordinary success in my family and among those I am called to visit in distress. To regulate the organs of digestion and purify the blood they are the best. I have used them. I have every known, and I can confidently recommend them to my friends. Yours, J. V. HUNTER.

WARREN, WYOMING CO., N. Y., Oct. 24, 1855.

DEAR SIR: I am using your Cathartic Pills in my practice, and find them an excellent purgative to cleanse the system and purify the fountains of the blood.

JOHN G. MILLER, M. D.

Erysipelas, Scrofula, King's Evil, Tetter, Tumors, and Salt Rheum.

From a Forwarding Merchant of St. Louis, Feb. 4, 1856.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the pageon of all that is great in medicine. They have cured my little daughter of ulcerous upon her neck, a painful fact that had proved incurable for years. Her mother has been long grievously afflicted with blotches and pimples on her skin and in her hair. After our child was cured she tried your Pills, and they have cured her. ASA MORRIDGE

Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and Gout.

From the Rev. Dr. Hawkes, of the Methodist Episc. Church.

PULASKI HOUSE, SAVANNAH, GA., Jan. 6, 1856.

HOWARD, DEAR SIR: I should be ungrateful if I forget your skill has brought me! I did not report my case to you. A cold settled in my limbs and brought on excruciating neuralgic pains, which ended in chronic rheumatism. Notwithstanding I had the best of physicians, the disease grew worse and worse, until, by the advice of your excellent agent in Baltimore, Dr. Mackenzie, I tried your Pills. Their effects were short, but perfect cure. By persevering in the use of them I am now entirely well.

SENATE CHAMBER, BATON ROUGE, LA., 5 Dec., 1855.

DR. AYER: I have been entirely cured by your Pills of Rheumatic Gout—a painful disease, which I had labored for years. VINCENT SLIDELL.

For Dropsy, Plethora, or kindred Complaints, requiring an active purge, they are an excellent remedy.

For Costiveness or Constipation, and as a Dinner Pill, they are agreeable and effectual.

Fits, Suppression, Paralysis, Inflammation, and even Deafness, and Partial Blindness, have been cured by the alterative action of these Pills.

Most of the pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skilful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the dreadful consequences that frequently follow its incautious exhibition. These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

and for the relief of consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease.

We need not speak to the public of its virtues. Throughout every town, and almost every hamlet of the American States, its wonderful cures of pulmonary complaints have made it already known. They, we are assured, have overflowed every other table contained without some personal experience of its effects; and fewer yet the communities any where which have not among them some living trophy of its victory over those terrible and dangerous diseases of the throat and lungs. While it is the most powerful antidote yet known to man for the formidable and dangerous disease of the pulmonary organs, it also the pleasantest and safest remedy that can be employed for infants and young persons. Parents should have it in store against the insidious enemy that creeps upon them unprepared. Those who have experienced believe the CHERRY PECTORAL saves more lives by the early symptoms it prevents than those it cures. Keep it by you, and cure your colds while they are trifles. Let no prejudice against the public will be disappointed in their fight. S. CLEAVES & SON have been agents and sell Cow Bedford Fish for the past seven years, during which time the Oils sold by them have given the best satisfaction.

Fresh and newly manufactured Oils only, will secure a clear and brilliant light. jan 29

PATENT SELF-GENERATING

Gas Lamp!

PARTICULARLY ADAPTED TO CHURCHES, HALLS, HOTELS, FACTORIES, STORES, PARLORS AND FAMILIES.

THERE is nothing more desirable, when engaged in any avocation, than a good light—The Sun is all right for the day—we want something like it for night. Candles were invented in 1290, and have ever been denounced in consequence of prematurely injuring the eyes by their pernicious flame. We desire a more natural light, and it was discovered and patented in 1856, and has been tested by thousands since that time. The brilliancy of its flame is unequalled by any other artificial burner.

SOME OF ITS GOOD QUALITIES.

It is perfectly safe.
No chance for explosion.
It is not extinguished by an ordinary wind.
It requires re-wicking only once in six months
It will not get out of order.
A child may take care of it.
It is unequalled for reading or sewing.
The light is uninjurious to the eyes.
For Economy, Cleanliness and Comfort, it defies competition, and it is the best and cheapest light in the world.

☞ We wish it understood that the Gas Lamp will give the same amount of light as three Sterine Candles, for less than one cent an hour, and the light of seven candles for 1 cent.

All Fluid and Oil Lamps altered to Gas Lamps. If Fluid is bought at wholesale prices it will cost the consumer very much less than the above prices. For sale by R. N. BODGE,

Prince & Co.'s Improved Melodeons.

THE OLDEST ESTABLISHMENT IN THE U.S.

Employing Two Hundred Men, and finishing

Eighty Instruments per Week.

BETWEEN 18,000 AND 19,000 of these instruments have been finished and are now in use.

THE latest improvement in our Melodeons is the DIVIDED SWELL, secured to us by Letters Patent 22d May, 1855.—By means of this Swell Solo Passages may be played with the full power of the Instrument, while the Accompaniment is soft and subdued.—Hereafter, all Melodeons made by us, will be furnished with this attachment without extra charge.

Extract from the Musical Review, July 27, 1855.

"Messrs. Prince & Co. could realize a handsome fortune by disposing of rights to other manufacturers to use their new improvement; but as they prefer to make it a feature in their instruments, can only be obtained by purchasing one of their manufacture."

It is now eight years since we commenced the manufacture of the new and improved Melodeon, during which time we have finished and sold nearly NINETEEN THOUSAND. Voluntary testimonials to the excellence of our Instruments, from the most distinguished Professors of Music in different parts of the United States, have from time to time been received. Thus far we have made but little, and our advertisements seldom seen for the reason that we could not supply the demand. We have lately erected one of the largest and most perfect Manufacturing Establishments in the United States, and we think that we can fill orders promptly. We therefore give one testimonial we have received.

NEW YORK, 15th Oct. 1855

"G. A. Prince & Co.: Gentlemen—The double Reed Melodeon has arrived, and a most charming instrument it is. It has been played on by Wallace, Dest, Hodges, Wm Mason, and a host of others, and they all pronounce it the most beautiful toned reed instruments they have ever touched. Very resp'ly. JAMES F. HALL."

We are not aware that the above mentioned Melodeons have ever been surpassed, but we know we are daily finishing, and we can assure those who are inclined to favor us with their orders, that they will be furnished with as good instruments equally as good. Our Instruments are all finished in Rosewood Cases, and the workmanship is of the very best quality. The styles and prices are—

Singer's Sewing Machines.

THESE celebrated machines are in practical use throughout the world, and the civilized world. In all the various trades, and in sewing every sort of fabric, either of cloth or leather, they have been fully tried and approved. Sewing machines of other manufacture often fail to work, but SINGER'S MACHINES being simple, durable and complete in contrivance and workmanship. A perfect sewing machine kept employed affords a clear profit of $1000 a year; but an imperfect one is a cause of constant vexation and loss. The entire labor of our machines is one great reason for their unparalleled popularity.

ALWAYS OPERATE PERFECTLY,

THE MACHINE FOR FAMILY SEWING, of a trail and delicate construction, are recommended by other manufacturers. Such machines are made to catch the eye, not perform substantial work. The truth is, family sewing machines ought to be stronger than any other, because they go into less skilful hands than when sold to manufacturers, and are used for a greater variety of work. The machines which have proved best for all other purposes must be best for family use, and they are Singer's. The speed of our machines, lately been doubled. No other can compare with them in quantity of work.

☞ New machine of the latest improved style will be exchanged for old machines for sewing machines of our own make, or for operative machines of other manufacturers. Local agents wanted to sell our machines.

N. B.—All persons desiring full information about sewing machines, can obtain it by applying for a copy of "I. M. Singer & Co's Gazette," a paper devoted entirely to the subject. It will be sent gratis. I. M. SINGER & CO.

AN OLD PASTOR.—The fiftieth anniversary of the pastorate of Rev. Dr. Ely at Monson, Mass., occurred on the 17th, and on the following Sabbath, the venerable clergyman gave to his people an interesting account of his labors and the events that had occurred in the parish during the half century, the entire village and most of the business of the place having grown up within that time. The Springfield Republican says:

Between 700 and 800 joined the church within 36 years. In the afternoon he repeated, by request, the first sermon which he preached after his ordination, and its vigor afforded sufficient explanation of the success that afterwards attended his ministry. The church was crowded throughout the day by attentive listeners, citizens and strangers, and the occasion was one of great interest and gratification.

☞ The Boston Chronicle does not believe quite all the story about the pro-slavery decision in the Supreme Court of the United States. It says:

We do not credit the whole of the statement. The latest previous report on the subject was that Messrs. McLean, Curtis and Nelson were of opinion that Congress had power to prohibit; Messrs. Campbell, Daniel and Catron were of the opposite opinion, and Messrs. Taney, Grier and Wayne were undecided. It is altogether likely that the Court has come to the conclusion stated by the Herald's correspondent. But its decision, however authoritative, will command no more popular respect than a vote in the Senate or House of Representatives. The Court, in its political capacity, is the agent of the slave power, and like all the other agents of that power, has got to be reformed by the power of the popular will.

MORE MURDER CASES IN BOSTON.—James McDonald and his wife Mary were brought before the Supreme Judicial Court to answer to the charge of beating Michael Keagan, at their house on Endicott street, in such manner on the 29th of June last, that he died on the 4th of July following. They had already pleaded not guilty of "murder." Owing to the illness of the Attorney General, the government was represented by assistant district attorney Brewster, who stated that the prosecution had come to the determination not to proceed against the woman, and to nolle pros the allegation of "malice aforethought" against the husband. Record was made of these proceedings, Mary McDonald was discharged; and James McDonald pleaded guilty of manslaughter. Mr. B. F. Russell, counsel for the defence, made a brief address in mitigation of sentence,—upon which the prisoner was ordered to the House of Correction for three years. He seemed quite satisfied; and his wife was so overcome with her escape, that she fainted in Court. The assault on Keagan was the result of bad liquor.—Boston Courier.

Morning Chronicle.

TUESDAY, JANUARY 7, 1857.

Rev. Mr. Lovejoy, of Cambridge, Mass., has been elected Democratic member of the Legislature of that State. He has been invited to address his party and has accepted. Won't some religious paper rebuke him for "preaching politics," and "not minding his own business?"—Evangelist.

We rebuked the Rev. Mr. Lovejoy for preaching politics when he came to this city [Concord, N. H.] just before our last March election, to hold forth in a political Convention; but as he still officiates as a "political priest," giving no heed to our rebukes, we turn him over to those of our cotemporaries who make it their weekly business to rebuke ministers for "preaching politics," and for not "minding their own business." — Congregational Journal.

Most of the talk about preaching politics is mere "blarney." Most of it is made by men who rarely go to meeting anywhere to know what is preached. And most of those who talk of stopping the supplies, never give a sixpence towards them. Most of those politicians who really go to church learn to stand fire, and stand it admirably. Then again, those ministers who preach any thing worth hearing, preach politics sometimes along with ethics, theology, and metaphysics. And those who know how, preach anything they please, without offending any body whose offence is of any consequence.—Poor bungling preachers, hearers who understand with their elbows, and men whose visits to the church are, as to their frequency, like those of the angels, few and far between, but as to their purpose, are like those of a certain eminent visitor in the book of Job, —these get into difficulty and make a fuss. But the great body of the clergy and churches of all sorts in New England, see, and hear, and regard "blarney" about preaching politics, as seriously and fearfully as the engineer and passengers on a railway train see the dancing and hear the yelping of the dogs along the track. The dogs are ludicrous in their capers, and so are the puppies.

A Sad Couple.—Wilson Eddy, tried for the murder of his wife, in Boston, was found guilty. It would appear from the evidence that he was a drunkard, and his wife a drunkard and perhaps a prostitute. They attempted to show that he had been insane, but the District Attorney testified that Darius Stafford stated before the grand jury, that he saw no evidence of insanity in Eddy on the night of the murder, and officer Wright testified that he saw Eddy drunk about 6 o'clock of the evening in question. Dr. C. H. Sherman was called as an expert; and testified that he was not satisfied that Eddy was insane at the time yet there was a reasonable doubt of his sanity.

The jury after deliberating two hours rendered the verdict, which was received by Eddy with considerable emotion, but upon being remanded to jail, he walked off with firmness.

Massachusetts State Prison.—Matters at this institution since the late dreadful tragedy, have generally remained quiet and peaceable, but some slight breaches of discipline are almost daily committed by some of the inmates who have manifested a violent disposition. On Sunday, one of the prisoners, when ordered into line after divine service, replied that he "would be d——d if he would;" and when seized by the officers and taken to a solitary cell, made such an outcry that a momentary but slight confusion among the prisoners was produced. On searching the cell of this prisoner, two sharpened knives were found concealed in his bedding.

Seasonable Remark.—An exchange paper from a snowy region, remarks: The season for the healthy exercise of shovelling snow has arrived, and our citizens will soon have to turn out in the morning and clear the path. Particular care should be taken that the path be dug wide enough to admit the free passage of ladies with hoop skirts, with switching off places at intervals, in case two of them should happen to meet.

☞ David Miller, Dudley, Mass., went out hunting Christmas day, and, on returning home, stopped in a groggery, where he drank freely and became intoxicated. He wandered off into the woods, and was found on Friday about fifty rods from his house, frozen to death.

Princely Donation.—It is reported that the late Francis C. Gray has bequeathed to the Boston Athenæum his collection of engravings. He has been engaged many years in collecting it, and spent on it more than $25,000.

Baking Bread.—No class of mechanics, perhaps, get abused (usually in words, to be sure, and behind their backs) and misrepresented more than the bakers. But we have never seen any reason for it, or justice in it—or any evidence that they make more profit by their business than other working or trading men; though the occupation of a baker must be very toilsome, unpleasant and unhealthy. The following sensible remarks on this subject, from the Newburyport Herald, we commend to all grumblers.

We take it that persons who can afford to buy a barrel of flour, and wish to live economically, generally bake their own bread, as it would thus be cheaper, for a greater part of the year. In summer it is often a saving to purchase of the baker—as we can dispense with the cost and inconvenience of fire; and in cold weather bakers often prove a great accommodation; and in fact they are a very useful class of people. As we do not see them getting rich very fast, we doubt whether they are making more money than they should.—Naturally we should suppose at first glance, that the baker could give us as much bread for a dollar as the best house-keeper, since he can purchase flour one dollar cheaper a barrel, and obtain one dollar's worth more bread from a barrel, by using stronger fermentations, than are usually had in a family. But we must reckon that there is much expense in men, horses, rents, and interest money, to be made up some way, and those who employ bakers must pay for it.

Whether families get more bread for their money, by baking at home or employing the baker, depends upon circumstances.—The very poor who purchase flour by the quarter of a dollar's worth, and every thing else in proportion, never get much for a day's work. They prove the truth of the proverb, that the poverty of the poor is their destruction. The more wealthy who depend upon hired help for their house work—such as we generally have in these days—are no better off. What bread they have, costs them all it is worth. The economical housekeepers, who are able to purchase at fair prices, and do their own work without being plagued with hired girls, are not the persons who patronise bakers to a great extent. If it could be had it would be cheaper to purchase bread of bakers, and beef cooked, potatoes boiled, and coffee ready for the table, in nine cases in ten, so far as our experience goes, than it would to depend upon hired girls to do it at home. This topic, the price of bread, has been agitated of late in more than half the civilized world.

The Right Spirit.—The Democracy of northwestern Virginia lately presented to the editor of the Wheeling Argus the sum of a thousand dollars, in hard cash, to enable him to purchase new types, and increase the efficiency of his paper.

We are glad to see the labors of one editor appreciated. As a general thing, especially in the smaller cities and towns, the publishing of newspapers is of vastly more benefit to the "patrons" of those papers, than to the printers—that is, the convenience to business men and pleasure to news seekers, derived by the public from their local newspapers, is vastly greater than any pecuniary return which can reasonably be expected or is usually acquired from the issuing of them. So that a donation of a thousand dollars or so, is needed to balance the account. But how many think of this? or thinking, act accordingly?

Accidental Death.—On Thursday morning, says the Charlestown Advertiser, the body of a man was found lying on the top of a lime kiln on Medford street in that city, dead. The body was taken down and recognized as that of John A. Roland, 21 years of age, son of James Roland, residing in Hill Street. It is supposed that he went to the top of the kiln for the purpose of warming himself, and was overcome by the gas. He is represented to be a man of temperate habits.

A "Bloomer" passed up Washington street, Boston, in full costume. The singularity of her dress attracted very general attention, and the boys set up such a hullabaloo that she took refuge in a store near School street. From thence she proceeded in a carriage to one of the depots and sought her home.

☞ The jury, in Boston, on the case of Tuckerman, the defaulting Treasurer of the Eastern Railroad, found him guilty of embezzling $2000. The defalcation was about 100 times this sum.

☞ There is to be a great Temperance Banquet at Lancaster Hall, Portland, on the evening of Jan. 9. Open at 6 o'clock; tickets 50 cents. The best of speakers and good music will be on hand.

The number of cases in the Police Court of Boston, last year, was 8530; about 1700 less than in 1855. The falling off was in arrests for drunkenness, though there was no falling off in drunkenness itself.

Betting is immoral, but how can the man who bets be worse than he who is no better.

Mr. Burke, or somebody who seems to speak by authority, through the Democratic Standard, at Concord, intimates that Mr. Buchanan will not, as a general thing, retain in office the present incumbents.—He says:

We do not suppose that Mr. Buchanan will proscribe, that is, remove those, or many of them, who are now holding the principal offices in the country. Such we do not believe will be his policy. But, we do believe, that he will very generally appoint new men, his friends, to their places, as the terms of their office shall expire.—We think that such a course of policy is expected by all parties. * * * *

Nor will the Pierce cliques and coteries have the disposition of the patronage, nor the particular favor of Mr. Buchanan, under the new administration. Let it be borne in mind that they were the bitter enemies of Mr. Buchanan, reviling and abusing him publicly and privately, previous to his nomination. And especially, how was it with the packed delegation from this State?—They were, to a man, known to be the bitter enemies and revilers of Mr. Buchanan. Before they went to Cincinnati, they were boasting and swearing that Mr. Buchanan could not, and should not, be nominated—that if Mr. Pierce could not be re-nominated, he had the power to dictate his successor, and they were a part of the mercenary gang who were sent there to carry out those menaces. They went to Cincinnati, and they did all they could to carry out their threats made before they went. They voted, and manœuvred, to defeat Mr. Buchanan. They kept poor Mr. Pierce in the field, until they made his case one of pity and contempt, and then, when it was apparent to the whole world that Mr. Buchanan's nomination was inevitable, they, like idiots, went over to Mr. Douglas. These facts Mr. Buchanan well knows. We know that some of them, after they were guilty of acts like those, went to the house of the illustrious statesman of Wheatland, and attempted by sycophancy and fawning, to make their peace. Mr. Buchanan treated them politely, but he understood them. They have since attempted to curry favor through the friends of Mr. Buchanan, and as their votes and support were wanted, they were treated politely by him, but they were understood.

Now we do not desire Mr. Buchanan to proscribe any of these men. We do not desire him to proscribe any friend of Mr. Pierce. All we desire and expect at his hands, is, that these men will find their true position in the ranks of the Democratic party—that they will be deprived of the power of proscribing others—in short, that they will be reduced to their original nothingness in the Democratic ranks.

Temperance Men; and Papers.—The Portland Journal says:—

It is important that every temperance man should feel that he can and should do something to sustain the Temperance Press; and should this feeling pervade the community, the temperance paper can be made all it ought to be, and its influence will be felt far and wide.

Liberated Slaves.—Mr. Michael Whitmore, of Augusta county, Va., by his last will and testament, liberated all his slaves, and provided for their transportation to Liberia, or one of the free States, at the expense of his estate. To each of them he left the sum of $150, and to those who had served him beyond the age of 35 years, $30 a year for the excess of time.—Rockingham (Va.) Register, Jan. 2.

The wife of William Johnson was found frozen to death in the park, New York, Christmas morning, having probably fallen there while intoxicated.

The laws of Virginia require every man who marries, to give security for the support of his wife and children. Many lovers who find this inconvenient, go to Maryland to have the ceremony performed.—Exchange.

Which is the quickest, heat or cold? Heat, because you can catch cold.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

The greatest natural ornament to the "human form divine," is unquestionably a fine, luxuriant, healthy growth of hair. It has ever been so in all ages of the world, and among all nations, savage and civilized. Hence, the Indian brave regards the scalp of his enemy as his greatest trophy. For a similar reason, the fashionable belle often disguises the region of vanity, as well as her other phrenological organs with borrowed locks.

He who should discover a mode of preventing the hair from showing the inroads of envious Time by turning prematurely gray, a method by which it could be restored when falling off or turning white, and a way of promoting its continued and luxuriant growth, would be justly entitled to rank among the benefactors of the human race. Read the testimonials of the wonderful, not to say almost miraculous effects of "Professor Wood's Hair Restorative," and see if he has not accomplished all this. [Capital City Fact.

(Extract.)—"In lifting the kettle from the fire it caught and scalded my hands and person severely—one hand almost to a crisp. The torture was unbearable. It was an awful sight. * * * The Mustang Liniment appeared to extract the pain almost immediately. It healed rapidly and left no scar of account. Cuar. Fox, 420 Broad street, Philadelphia." It is truly a wonderful article. It will cure any case of Swelling, Burns, Stiff Joints, Eruptions or Rheumatism. For Horses it should never be dispensed with. One Dollar's worth of Mustang has frequently saved a valuable horse. It cures Galls, Sprains, Ringbone, Spavin and Founders. Beware of imitations. Sold in all parts of the habitable Globe.

LOCAL.

THE SNOW.—The snow of Saturday will, we hope, furnish us with sleighing. It fell thickly and heavily, and with such a good bottom to fall on, it will tread finely. It scarcely drifted at all, yet the trains were much retarded. In the morning the up train on the Eastern Road was stopped awhile at Hampton by the parallel rod on the engine, part of which went through the bottom of the tender, letting out all the water. The second down train, which should arrive at half past 7, did not reach this city till half past 1 A. M. Sunday;—the snow being about two feet on a level from Hampton to Greenland. A train which left for the East on Saturday did not return till Monday.

☞ The Musical Convention commences this morning, at Hanover Street Chapel. The largest gathering of singers held here for many years,—probably the largest ever here,—is expected.

Tickets for the whole Convention, or for a single session, may be had at Mr. Preston's, or at the Chapel. See advertisement.

COURT OF COMMON PLEAS.

MONDAY, Jan. 5.

The interminable "Brick Yard Case," was continued, putting one in mind of the great case of Jarndyce v. Jardyce. We are pleased to inform our readers that the witness for the prosecution is all in, and we are in hopes that the case will be ended in a few days.

THE WARDENSHIP.—The Charlestown, Mass., Advertiser understands that the Wardenship of the State Prison has been tendered to Capt. Robbins of the House of Correction, South Boston, by His Excellency Gov. Gardner. It is known to most people that the same office was tendered to Mr. Robbins last year, before Mr. Tenney was appointed, and that it was not accepted on political considerations. Now that the appointment is tendered regardless of political considerations, it is thought it will be accepted by Mr. Robbins.

☞ Huntington the forger started for his new quarters, at Sing Sing, Friday afternoon. The Times says that several of his friends were at the Tombs and shook hands with him as he came into the passage, and bade him good bye. He was elegantly dressed, and seemed to have but little concern about his situation. Since his conviction and sentence he has been visited by his wife, who still clings to him with all the devotion of a wife's love.

BADLY SCALDED.—On Wednesday of last week, Geo. W. Brown, while making some repairs on the steam works at the Sunapee mill, near Claremont, N. H., was badly scalded. He jumped from the boiler into a hogshead nearly full of hot water and steam, scalding his limbs badly. The covering to the hogshead had been forced off by the steam, and temporarily replaced, which was not known to Mr. Brown; and the vessel being let partly into the floor, and the room not being very light, he could not see very distinctly where he was jumping, and he no sooner struck the broken covering than his limbs were submerged in boiling water nearly up to his body. He was quickly rescued from his uncomfortable position, and is now doing well.

BOSTON MUSIC SCHOOL.—The object of this institution is to furnish a solid musical education in all its branches, practical and theoretical, to those who intend fitting themselves for the profession, either as artists or teachers. The system of teaching in classes, besides reducing the cost of tuition to a very low standard, has also the advantage of emulation to incite the student to increased exertion, and the force of example to enable him or her to derive benefit from the experience of others. The school will go into operation the first Monday in April, 1857. Board of Instruction:—B. F. Baker, J. W. Adams, Levi P. Homer, and J. C. D. Parker.

☞ The worst part of Mormonism is, that there being more men than women in the territory, the cabins of the laboring poor are stripped of wives to fill the harems of graceless scamps.

Pending a famous "water suit" somewhere in Vermont, Saxe, the poet, amused the Court with the following impromptu:

"My wonder is really boundless,
That, among the queer cases we try,
A land case' should often be groundless,
And a 'water case' always be dry?"

☞ Wm. Carpenter, a native of Ireland, 30 years of age, while intoxicated, on Sunday night, fell into a dock at New York and was drowned.

☞ The Guards of Temperance is a new Order in Massachusetts.

FUGITIVES FROM SLAVERY.—Two fugitive slaves arrived in Boston Saturday, one from Mississippi, the other from the "Old Dominion." The former came by vessel, and but a few hours after his arrival, discovered his master in State street, in earnest conversation with two other persons. The fugitives were immediately cared for, and furnished by generous friends with means of escape from the State which could give them no protection. The slave from Mississippi had attempted escape before, and had been threatened with death for the audacious act. For obvious reasons, says the Telegraph, no names are mentioned.

SHOCKING ACCIDENT.—Washington Jan. 4.—A shocking accident occurred here last night—the wife of Judge Daniels of the Supreme Court, having been burnt to death. Mrs. Daniels had repaired to her sleeping room, and commenced disrobing, preparatory to retiring for the night, and being very near sighted, she did not perceive a candle that was standing on the hearth; and the flames communicated to her clothes, and completely enveloped her.

She then ran from the room shrieking for assistance, but before any effectual assistance could be rendered she was so shockingly burnt that she died after eight hours of suffering. She was an estimable lady, about thirty-five years of age, a daughter of the late Dr. Harris of Philadelphia. Much sympathy and regret is felt on all hands.

Speaking of hoops, Punch says that a man who intends getting round his wife, must start very early in the morning.

We publish as a great curiosity the following characteristic letter, received by our friend Dr. J. C. Ayer, of Lowell, Mass. from the "Rebel Chief," or usurping Emperor of China, in acknowledgement for quantities of his Cherry Pectoral and Cathartic Pills, the Doctor sent him as a present.

To Dr. Ayer in America—

The great curing Barbarian of the outside country.—Your present of sweet curing seeds (Pills) and fragrant curing drops, (Pectoral) of the Cherry smell, has been brought to Hug seu-Tsene—the mighty Emperor (Kwangto) of the terrible stout Ming dynasty, by the grace of heaven revived after an interval of ages—Prince of peace (Ta-ping-wang) of China, the central flowery land. He directed his powerful Mandarines to give them to the sick according to what the Interpreters read from your printed papers (directions.) Be profoundly happy, O wise barbarian! for I, Yang seu-Tsing, say it. Your curing seeds and sweet curing drops were given to the sick in his army of the Winged Sword, and have made them well. Be profoundly happy while you live, for this is known to the Mighty Emperor of China, who approves your skill, and permits you to send more of your curing medicines for his fierce armies of myriads of men.

The high Mandarins of China, have heard of your great knowledge, surpassing all other Foreigners, even aspiring to equal the keen wisdom of our own healing teachers, who make remedies that cure instantly. We are glad to know you bow in trembling terror before our mighty Emperor.

Written by YANG-S U-TSING,
Minister-in-chief of the restored Imperial Ming Dynasty, destined by the heavenly wisdom to rule in China.

(Translated by the American Consulate at Hong Kong, China, 3d May, 1855.)

FORTUNES FROM TRIFLES.—After all that has been said concerning the best means for obtaining wealth, the world must acknowledge that what is called luck, more than any great business talent, is the foundation of success. The great thing, as John Jacob Astor said, is to get the start—the first thousand dollars. We suppose, and we know, that many of our wealthiest and most respected citizens owe the beginning of their success to the purchase of a lottery ticket. To be sure, some of the old lotteries were wretched affairs, but where they are sanctioned and supervised by the State, as they are in "The Southern Military Academy Lottery," at Mobile, Ala. to be drawn on the 10th day of January, and "The Fort Gaines Academy Lottery," at Atlanta, Geo., to be drawn on the 20th of January, there can be no fear that an investment will not be wisely made. S. Swan, of Montgomery, Alabama, and S. Swan & Co., of Atlanta, Georgia, sell whole tickets at $10, and halves and quarters in proportion; and as they are the managers and responsible gentlemen, persons dealing directly with them by letter can legally do so, as they make their purchases in the States where the law sanctions and established these institutions. A friend wishing to make a present may thus turn a trifle into a fortune for one he would benefit, while all the excitement attending the speculation will not waste a single hour of time, as is done in all other ways in which money is put out at a risk. Many persons prefer to invest their surplus means in such promising chances than in business schemes, which sometimes involve large and unanticipated sums. Trifles sometime do wonders. A.

HEALTH AND STRENGTH.

☞ DR. S. O. RICHARDSON'S SHERRY WINE BITTERS is the best Medicine ever used, for Summer Complaints. It has been more liberally patronized than any other ever established in this country. It is the same Richardson's Bitters which has restored so many invalids to health throughout New England during the past thirty years.

N. B.—Beware of imitations called Sherry Wine Bitters. The genuine have a fac simile of my signature upon the outer envelope. For sale by druggists everywhere, and at my office, No. 51 Hanover St., Boston. ass8m

THE GREAT DISCOVERY.

Many years ago, Doctor Burleigh Smart, of Kennebunk, Me., discovered that a simple article never before used as a medicine, was a never failing cure for Consumption, Coughs, Colds, and an excellent blood purifier. By its use in his private practice, he acquired the reputation of being the best physician in New England, for all diseases of the lungs. After his death, Messrs. Shaw & Clark of Biddeford, Me., obtained a Copy Right from Government, for its exclusive manufacture, and now have it carefully prepared strictly according to the original recipe. There is no cure that it will not cure, unless the patient is past all human aid, when commencing its use! It is called "Doctor Burleigh Smart's Cough Medicine," and is for sale by all apothecaries. ow27 TuTh&S 6m

In calling the attention of the public to my list of Magazines and Newspapers; I would CAUTION all against subscribing for Magazines, Newspapers, or other works, to irresponsible and transient persons, or travelling agents; for in nine cases out of ten you will be swindled and cheated.

If you wish to take any Magazine or Newspaper, subscribe of some responsible firm in Town.—Hundreds of dollars are lost every year by subscribing for works of strangers and travelling agents, and by being induced to subscribe by the thousands of contrivances to cheat the public—such as Art Unions, Premiums, Cosmopolitan Art Associations, and various humbugs to gull the unwary. Keep clear of all these, and pay your money to those whom you know to be responsible.

The subscriber has been in the business fourteen years, and will guarantee to furnish any publication as cheap as can be obtained.

LOTTERIES.

The Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn Commissioners to superintend and certify that everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties a thousand miles off are as well protected as if they were present. Another fact the managers desire to call attention to, is, that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the sale is there made, in a State where Lotteries are legalized. They draw a Lottery on or about the 10th, 20th, and 30th of each month. All orders received are filled in the drawing next to take place after the communication comes to hand. The price of tickets is always $10—half, $5—quarter, $2.50. No tickets are forwarded unless the money is received with the order. The drawing is upon the principle of one number upon each ticket, and it is so simple that every one can understand it. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $6,000; every prize is drawn.—Write your address plain, and direct to

S. SWAN & CO., Atlanta, Georgia.

P. S.—The fairness of our Lotteries can be ascertained by inquiring of any respectable citizen of our state. Jan 3 1y

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.

DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS FOR FEMALES,

Prepared by an old Physician of 40 years experience.

THE combination of ingredients in these Pills, is the result of a long and extensive practice; they are mild in their operation, and certain to restoring nature to its proper channel. In every instance have the Pills proved successful. They are certain to open those obstructions to which females are liable, and bring nature into its proper channel, whereby health is restored, and the pale and deathly countenance changed to a healthy one. No female can enjoy good health unless she is regular; and whenever an obstruction takes place, whether from exposure, cold, or any other cause, the general health immediately begins to decline, and the want of such a remedy has been the cause of so many consumptions among young females. Headache, pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, loathing of food, and disturbed sleep, that most always arise from the interruption of nature; and whenever that is the case, the Pills will invariably remedy all these evils. In all cases of painful menstruation, or nervous and spinal affections in the back and limbs, lowness of spirits, hysterics, &c. Nor are they less efficacious in the cure of Leucorrhœa, commonly called the "Whites." These Pills should never be taken during pregnancy, as they would be sure to cause a miscarriage. Warranted purely Vegetable, and free from anything injurious to life or health. Full and explicit directions which should be read, accompany each box.

These Pills are put up in square, flat boxes.—Persons residing where there are no Agencies established, by enclosing One Dollar in a letter, prepaid, to DR. C. L. CHEESEMAN, Box No. 4,581, Post Office, New York City, can have them sent to their respective addresses by return of mail.

Prepared in this form, it is rendered more pleasant and convenient, without being deprived of its medicinal virtues; while it is wholly free from the unpleasant flavor which attends its usual preparation.

THE MORNING STAR.—We learn that the children's subscriptions towards paying for the beautiful missionary brig, "The Morning Star," have reached the sum of nearly or quite $22,000. As the vessel cost but $13,000, this will leave a sufficient surplus to keep her in repair.—Boston Chron.

REVOLT OF THE BACHELORS.—On Sunday evening, Dec. 21st, Rev. Mr. Partridge, pastor of the Universalist Society in Essex, preached a sermon on the subject of matrimony. A party of epicures dined together at a hotel; after they had drank an enormous quantity of wine, they called for their reckoning. "It is absolutely impossible that we four men have drunk so much," stammered one. "You are quite right" replied the butler, "but you forgot the three under the table."

CLEANSE THE BLOOD AND CURE THE SICK

Parvalida, Pathway, Mothers, Physicians, Philanthropists, read their Effects, and judge of their Virtues.

FOR THE CURE OF

Headache, Sick Headache, Foul Stomach,

PITTSBURGH, PA., May 1, 1855.

DR. J. C. AYER. Sir: I have been repeatedly cured of the worst headaches any body can have by a dose or two of your Pills. It seems to arise from a foul stomach, which they cleanse effectually. If they will cure others as they do me, the list is worth knowing.

Yours with great respect, ED. W. PREELE,
Clerk of Banner Cotton.

Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints.

BRIDGEWATER, NEW HAMPSHIRE, Feb. 1, 1856.

SIR: I have used your Pills in my general and hospital practice ever since you made them, and cannot hesitate to say they are the most perfect cathartic pill we have, combining action on the liver in a quick and decided, consequently thus always a valuable remedy for derangements of that organ. I shall, I have no doubt, continue to use them as I know no substitute that it did not readily yield to them.

Fraternally yours, ALONZO HALL, M. D.,
Physician of the Marine Hospital.

Dysentery, Relux, and Worms.

POST OFFICE, HARTFORD, LIV. CO., MICH., Nov. 18, 1855

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the perfection of cathartics. They have done my wife more good than I can tell you. She had been sick and pining away for months. Went off to be doctored at great expense, but got no better. She then commenced taking your Pills, which soon cured her, by expelling large quantities of worms (dead) from her body. They afterwards cured her and our two children of bloody dysentery. One of our neighbors had it bad, and my wife cured him with two doses of your Pills, while others around us paid from five to twenty dollars doctors bills, and lost much time, and yet did not cure, and even then. Such a medicine as yours, which is actually good and honest, will be prized here.

Yours, JAMES M. GRIFFIN, Postmaster.

Indigestion and Impurity of the Blood.

From Rev. J. V. Himes, Pastor of Advent Church, Boston.

DR. AYER: I have used your Pills with extraordinary success in my family and among those I am called to visit in Boston. They regulate the organs of digestion and purify the blood; they are the best remedy I have ever known, and I can conscientiously recommend them to my friends. Yours, J. V. HIMES.

WARSAW, WYOMING CO., N. Y., Oct. 24, 1854.

DEAR SIR: I am using your Cathartic Pills in my practice, and find them an excellent purgative to cleanse the system and purify the fountains of the blood.

JOHN G. MERCHAM, M. D.

Erysipelas, Scrofula, King's Evil, Tetter, Tumors, and Salt Rheum.

From a Forwarding Merchant of St. Louis, Feb. 4, 1855.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the paragon of all that is great in medicine. They have cured my little daughter of ulcerous sores upon her hands and feet that had proved incurable for years. Her mother has been long grievously afflicted with blotches and pimples on her face and in her hair, which your Pills have cured, and my little girl, after using Pills, and they have cured her. ASA HORSFORD.

Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and Gout.

From the Rev. Dr. Hawkes, of the Episcopal Epis. Church

PLEASANT HILL, SARANAC, OHIO, Jan. 3, 1856.

HONORED SIR: I have been a sufferer from Rheumatic chill has brought me to it. I did not report my case to you. A CAPT writes to my little and brought us surprising notoriety, which we do not desire. Notwithstanding I had the best of physicians, the disease grew worse and worse, until, by the advice of your excellent agent in Baltimore, Dr. Mackenzie, I tried your Pills. Their effect was wonderful. By persevering to the use of them I am now entirely well.

SENATE CHAMBER, BATON ROUGE, LA., 5 Dec., 1854.

DR. AYER: I have been entirely cured by your Pills of Rheumatic Gout—a painful disease, which has troubled me for years. VINCENT SIGNOIGNY.

For Dropsy, Plethora, or kindred Complaints, requiring an active purgative, they are an excellent remedy.

For Costiveness or Constipation, and as a Dinner Pill, they are agreeable and efficacious.

Fits, Suppression, Paralysis, Inflammation, and even Deafness, and Partial Blindness, have been cured by the alterative action of these Pills.

Most of the pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skilful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the dreadful consequences that frequently follow its improper exhibition. These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

and for the relief of consumptive patients in advanced stage of the disease.

We need not speak to the public of its virtues. Throughout every town, and almost every hamlet of the American States, its wonderful cures of pulmonary complaints have made it already known. Even in Europe, its virtues are so well established and so generally diffused among the people, that a few years ago it was a common thing for persons who had tried its effects, and found it produce some decided relief in cases which have not passed the last stage of the disease, to bring in their neighbors and recommend the use of it to them. Its effects are so well known,

NEW YEAR'S MORN.

Another fleeting year is past,
Its joys and sorrows all are o'er;
Its rolling waves, resistless tides,
Have left its impress on her shore.

And on this beauteous New Year's Morn,
When Nature wears her robe of white;
Which in the sun's bright smiling rays
Sparkles like gems of living light,

I'll linger from my daily toils,
To weave a song of love for thee;
And wish, dear wife, thy future years
May always happy, happy be.

May health, and peace, and joy, and love,
Your every future hour attend;
And on your head like copious showers,
Heaven's richest blessings all descend.

And if upon life's troubled sea,
Thy bark by some times tempest tossed;
God grant it safe may reach the shore,
Nor compass, chart, nor rudder lost.

And O! in sorrow or in joy,
Be it my bliss thy lot to share;
Whether thy path with smiles be decked,
Or it be clouded o'er with care.

But time speeds on its rapid course,
And I a kind good bye must say;
And sign myself your loving friend,
And absent husband,—

FRANKLIN K.

AN ENGLISHMAN'S DIGNITY OUTRAGED.—An English merchant of our acquaintance tells the following good thing at his own expense. He had come out, as he expressed it, to wind up the affairs of a concern which owed him considerable money, and having never been in this country before, acted precisely as if he had been at home. He got about pretty well, until he had occasion to take a journey into Maine. There he managed, during a stage ride, to get on the box beside the driver. He states that he was greatly surprised, after the coach had proceeded a mile or so, to hear the driver familiarly address him thus:—"Captain, I guess we'll have rain fore long." Our English friend pulled up his collar, and looked away without deigning any reply. Shortly after, the driver made another observation on the state of the roads, whereupon the gentleman said, "My man, I'll thank you not to address yourself to me," and, unconsciously pulled at his dickey again; but the good natured loquacity of the driver was not to be so easily repressed, for when again it had been rebuked with another pull at the dickey, it broke out in this overwhelming manner:—"Look here, captain, if you pull your collar much more, you'll jirk up your shirt tail." The Englishman confesses that it was imp ssible for him to maintain his habitual reserve from that instant, so, passing from one extreme to the other, he joined in repeated outbursts of merriment, in which the driver heartily joined, and they parted at the journey's end upon the best of terms.

NEWBURYPORT.—The Herald says:

The Temperance men in this city are waking to renewed action, and are about to commence a course of lectures at City Hall. We judge that there is some necessity for this, in the fact that one of the first things to be seen on the morning of New Year's day, was a well-dressed young man, of not more than twenty years, from Lawrence, picked out of a show-bank where rum had pitched him, with a temperance man on one side of him brushing off the snow, and a constable on the other, asking him to walk along to the Watch-house. This was a poor beginning for one who would otherwise have been a likely looking man; but it is what many in these parts are tending to. How surprising that young men, when they see the evil—when they know the result, can't have force of character enough to resist—to renounce—to abhor rum and rum's doings!

GAMBLING.—A writer in the Portsmouth Journal of last week attempts to define the boundary between gambling and honest dealing, and the editor commends his efforts as successful. This correspondent maintains, and thus corroborating our remarks upon this subject offered some weeks ago, that all speculation is gambling—or any operation for making money without contributing to the wealth of the world. To be sure, he labors to make it appear that ordinary traffic differs from games of chance, by stimulating industry, and thus increasing wealth; but the distinction is by no means clearly made. How a man who buys for a dollar an article of merchandize which he hopes to sell for a dollar and a half, but which may suddenly depreciate in value to 50 cents, is less a gambler than he who invests in fancy stocks or bets on an election—in what manner he adds to the wealth of the community—or in what degree he stimulates industry more than the person who offers for a small sum the chance of a large prize—we think it would trouble the gentleman to demonstrate to the public satisfaction.

We do not think the writer has defined the line so clearly as to be of "much benefit to those who have heretofore found difficulty in ascertaining the boundary," although he may have done something to open the editor's eyes as to the degree to which he encourages gambling. The writer condemns stock speculations as being quite as reprehensible as pitching coppers, and the system of "life insurance, where the gain or loss is made to depend upon the solemn hazard of death," is equally open to censure. And if life insurance be gambling, we would ask why not fire or marine insurance? And then why not banking, note shaving, money-letting—any operation, in short, by which men, at risk of loss, gain wealth without producing anything?

We commend to our conscientious neighbor, who thinks an editor of a public journal should possess the untainted character which Cæsar required of his wife, a revision of his advertising columns, and a rigid and prayerful self-examination, to determine whether he is entirely guiltless of the offence of encouraging gambling, as defined by the correspondent whose "sound remarks" he so warmly commends.—Ballot.

Arnold's Vital Fluid

PURIFIES and strengthens the blood by eradicating through a nice chemical action, the causes of impurities and humors. Hence its power to cure humors that mere medicine cannot cure. "Purify the river of strength and vitalizing the blood. It furnishes to a certain extent, the element of which pure blood is composed. It eradicates and cleanses away what ever clogs and thickens the blood.

ARNOLD'S VITAL FLUID

Renders the system strong and healthy, by freeing the blood and stomach from objectionable materials. It nerves and vivifies the system, by furnishing the elements which give vitality.

ARNOLD'S VITAL FLUID

Gives to the system an influence and effect similar to that produced by exercise in the free open air. It exhilarates by strengthening the blood to brighten and better action—doing its work by beginning at the beginning. It is pleasant to the taste, and becomes a favorite where ever known.

ARNOLD'S VITAL FLUID

Removes Biliousness in the most direct and easy manner, by neutralizing the cause. This is the principle of its action in removing illness generally. It neutralizes the cause, by freeing the blood from impediments to its proper fulfilment of its life-giving functions.

This principle of neutralizing the cause is why ARNOLD'S VITAL FLUID CURES HUMORS that mere medicine cannot sensibly affect, and why it cures other diseases

Resulting from Poisons in the Blood, that mere medicinal preparations cannot alleviate. Humors are poisons in the blood, and it is by their chemical action in neutralizing those poisons that ARNOLD'S GLOBULES

are enabled to cure them so that they stay cured.

VITAL FLUID 50 cents per bottle; GLOBULES 25 cents per box.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 7, 1857.

GEORGE WHITEFIELD.

CHAP. V.

It has often seemed to us doubtful whether Whitefield's audiences were possibly so large as they are reported; especially those in some houses in Boston, that are now standing, and that could not contain half the numbers stated. We were also in doubt, some time ago, whether Whitefield, at his last visit to Portsmouth, preached at the Old South Meeting House, as well as at the North.

Both these doubts are now resolved.—The reader will remember that in Chapter 4 we quoted from Holley's Life of Franklin, the Doctor's estimate of one of Whitefield's congregations, and his trial of the power of Whitefield's voice, to be audible to many thousands of hearers. To this we now add, that an aged and venerable citizen, recently deceased in this city, repeatedly stated, that at the last visit of Whitefield here, he, (the aged citizen, then a youngster,) stood on the platform, outside the pulpit window of the Old South Meeting House, behind Whitefield, while the latter preached to the multitudes before him in the House, and behind him on the hill, where his noble voice was distinctly heard and understood.

The pastor of the North Church, at this visit, was Rev. Samuel Haven, D. D., by whose invitation Whitefield preached there, and at whose hospitable mansion he was cordially entertained.

The reader will remember, that in chapter 4, Franklin was concerned in getting up a free chapel in Philadelphia, primarily for Whitefield to preach in, but secondarily for any preacher who might come along.—About 1748, Franklin, having taken a partner, and released himself from active service in printing and publishing,—was interested largely in getting up subscriptions for an academy in Philadelphia.

The subscription being closed, and twenty-four trustees elected, two of the number, Franklin and the provincial attorney-general, Francis, being appointed a committee for the purpose, prepared a plan for the organization and management of the academy, which was adopted, and the school was put in operation. The pupils soon became so numerous, that the house first occupied was found too small for their accommodation. It will be recollected that some years previous, under the excitement produced by Whitefield's preaching, a large building had been erected for public worship, irrespective of sectarian distinctions; and that the property and care of the house and ground, had been vested in a legally constituted board of trustees. The feeling which led to that step having passed away, and the trustees being embarrassed and annoyed by the debt it had created, Franklin, who was one of those trustees, as well as a member of the academy board, suggested the expediency of ceding the whole of that property to the trustees of the academy, for the use of the new school. After some negotiation this measure was effected, on the conditions that the trustees of the academy should pay the debt for the house and ground; keep open a large hall for occasional preaching without distinction of sect: and maintain therein a free school for the instruction of poor children in reading, writing, and arithmetic. This arrangement being consummated in legal form, the trustees of the academy discharged the outstanding meeting-house debt, and being put in full possession of the property, forthwith converted the building into a structure of two stories, with suitable apartments for the respective schools; and a little additional ground being purchased to complete the requisite accommodations thither the academy was transferred.

The immediate superintendence of this whole affair, including the alterations made in the building, the purchase of materials, the hiring of workmen, and all other details, devolved on Franklin. Some years after, the academy board was regularly incorporated by a charter from the provincial government; their funds were largely augmented by contributions from England, as well as by donations of land from the Proprietaries and from the provincial assembly; and this academy subsequently expanded into the university of Pennsylvania.

We regard this latter item as a curious piece of history—showing how Whitefield and Franklin's impracticable free chapel, laid the corner-stone of Pennsylvania University: a consummation quite improbable when the house was built; but quite natural, in the tide of affairs.

DEATH OF DR. GRANGER.—Providence, Jan. 5.—The Rev. Dr. Granger, pastor of the First Baptist Church, died this morning.

WESTERN FEVER.

"Burleigh," the travelling correspondent of the Boston Journal, says:

In the car that brought me from Chicago to Dunkirk, were a man and his wife who were bound to Elmira, N. Y. His story was this: He had caught what he called the Western fever. He sold out his comfortable home in Elmira, and emigrated to Southern Illinois. He took with him his wife, his three children, his brother, and the sister of his wife. He had been absent from New York for four years. He had buried the brother and sister: he had borne to the grave two of his children; he had spent all of his living, and now had come back to the place of his early home, to gather up the remains of his little all, and then die.

The great mass of young men who come out to this region, come out to engage as clerks in some of the wholesale stores or similar establishments, and therefore many of them fail. But those who are willing to work, and bear the rough and tumble of this new world—bear the war of this new climate—eschew tobacco and bad rum—can make a fortune, if they can only wait to do so. But such a man can make a fortune at the East.

Exactly so. People, especially young men, talk and act, in this connection, as if money, wealth, was the only thing worth seeking or having. Take it all in all, and New England will give better return for labor, than any other region under the sun.

BOSTON MORALS.—The Grand Jury of the Municipal Court made their final report Saturday morning, and were discharged from further attendance. They have been in session 64 days, and in that time considered 426 cases, and examined 1,475 witnesses—finding 339 indictments, and in 87 cases no bills. They had no cases of breaches of the law for the suppression of the sale of intoxicating liquors; but they deem the majority of the more serious crimes brought under their investigation to have their origin in the unrestricted liberty with which intoxicating liquors are allowed to be sold to the community.

That is, in plain English, the public opinion in Boston calls for licensed or unlicensed drinking, in abundance: it opposes and breaks down the law which was made to suppress it. The consequence is abundance of serious crimes! What a blessed institution is the groggery: what a fine habit it is, to be a bibler or tippler, genteel or vulgar.

GREAT FALLS POST OFFICE.—The Great Falls Advertiser says:

We are happy to learn that the friends of the incoming administration in this place have expressed their desire to retain the services of our present popular Post Mistress.

This is as it should be, and will give general satisfaction to our citizens. Miss Russell, by the prompt and accurate discharge of all its duties, has proved herself to be eminently qualified for the office, and her removal would be universally regretted.

The Democratic party at Great Falls, passed the following preamble and resolutions:

Whereas, on the 21st day of February, 1855, Miss Harriet S. Russell was appointed by the President of the United States to the office of Postmaster for four years for the town of Somersworth, and since that time she has performed the duties of said office personally, in a systematic, faithful and efficient manner, and to the entire and perfect satisfaction of the Democratic party within the delivery of said office, therefore be it resolved by the Democratic party of Somersworth, that we will resist and remonstrate against any secret attempt to create a vacancy or obtain an appointment as Postmaster in this town by any person whatever.

Resolved, That when a change is made, it be made by an open fair expression of all the Democratic party in open meeting for that purpose assembled, which meeting shall be called by the Town Committee, and by posting up notices at least ten days before said meeting.

Resolved, That we will consider any attempt to violate these resolutions a breach of party faith and discipline.

Resolved, That a copy of these Resolutions and Preamble be signed and forwarded by the Chairman and Secretary of this meeting—to the President of the United States, and to the Postmaster General, to be placed on the files of the Department.

We are very much pleased with this movement. It is in the right direction.—The Democracy, i. e. the people, do really have something to say about the matter. They may memorialize the powers that be, and those that are about to be, and perhaps their voice will be heeded.—And while we hold this move of the Democratic party,—or less than half the people of Somersworth,—to be fit and proper,—we would carry out the principle, and let the whole people of that place, the real Democracy, say who shall be postmaster or postmistress! Why not?

MASSACHUSETTS STATE PRISON.—Up to Saturday evening matters at the prison remained quiet. There are now between twenty and thirty prisoners in close confinement for bad and suspicious behavior.—So says the Times; and adds:

The various rumors in reference to persons appointed to the Wardenship of the State Prison, are without any foundation. A new Warden will not be appointed until the Legislature meets.

DEADLY AND UNPROVOKED ASSAULT.—About 6 o'clock on Sunday evening, as Mr. John C. Boyson of Boston, accompanied by his brother-in-law, wife and daughter, were returning to Boston from Brighton in a double sleigh, a pung containing four men overtook and passed them. As the pung passed, one of the men struck one of Mr. Boyson's horses with his whip. Mr. Boyson drove up and asked an explanation, when one of the men struck at Mrs. Boyson with a knife, cutting through her dress. They then attacked Mr. Boyson and his brother-in-law, inflicting a severe beating on both, and stabbing Mr. Boyson in the thigh with a knife. At this moment a sleigh was heard approaching and the four ruffians drove rapidly away.

Mr. Boyson was taken to the Cattle Fair Hotel where his wounds were dressed by Dr. Gay. He was pronounced out of danger on Monday morning.

We suppose the assailants to be rowdies, heated with drink.

The Worcester Transcript says that on Friday evening, in West Boylston, Mass., a span of horses attached to a butcher's cart, ran away at a furious pace and overtook Mr. Rufus M. Lord of Oakdale, who was driving in a single wagon. Before he could get out of the way, he was run over, some of his bones were broken, and it is feared that he is fatally injured. The team dashed on, and ran over a Frenchman whose name is not known, and injured him so badly that no hope is entertained of his recovery.

SEDUCTION AND SUICIDE.—An unmarried woman, twenty years of age, named Ellen Brown, died in Boston, at the residence of her brother in Trumbull street, at the South End, last Friday, as is supposed from the effects of arsenic administered by her own hands. She resided in a family in Roxbury, and it is stated that she had been seduced under promise of marriage, and that, finding herself deceived and betrayed, she took her life in her own hands.

Augustus Silvy, a dry goods dealer of Bangor, has been brought to New York, charged with obtaining $1700 worth of goods from Messrs. Mills & Roy by false pretences. It is also alleged that he is a regular confidence man, having obtained $60,000 or $70,000 worth of goods in New York, and as much more in Boston. He pleads honest intentions.

☞ In New York City the sum of $1,036 has been raised for the widow and children of Jones the wrecker, who was drowned while attempting to relieve the Tasso and her crew, when she was wrecked at Barnegat the other day. Of this sum $1000 are to be used towards purchasing a farm for the family.

☞ The Journal of Commerce having accidentally published an item of news referring to the lawless banishment of booksellers from Mobile, was startled one fine morning last week with sundry letters from subscribers in that and other Southern cities, requesting a discontinuance of "that hypocritical journal."

A gang of disorderlies, attired in fantastical costume, paraded the streets of Baltimore on New Year's Eve, under the name of the Walker Rangers. The captain of the crew made a lunge at some person with a naked sword he carried, for which act he and several of his company were incarcerated.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

The greatest natural ornament to the "human form divine," is unquestionably a fine, luxuriant, healthy growth of hair. It has been so esteemed in all ages of the world, and among all nations, savage and civilized. Hence, the Indian brave regards the scalp of his enemy as his greatest trophy. For a similar reason, the fashionable belle often disguises the region of vanity, as well as her other phrenological organs with borrowed locks.

He who should discover a mode of preventing the hair from showing the inroads of envious Time by turning prematurely gray, a method by which it could be restored when falling off or turning white, and a way of promoting its continued and luxuriant growth, would be justly entitled to rank among the benefactors of the human race. Read the testimonials of the wonderful, not to say almost miraculous effects of "Professor Wood's Hair Restorative," and see if he has not accomplished all this. [Capital City Fact.

Can afford to be without Mustang Liniment in their house. The many accidents we are liable to, may render it necessary any moment, and nothing is capable of performing such a certain cure. (Extract.)—"In lifting the kettle from the fire it caught and scalded my hands and person severely—one hand almost to a crisp. The torture was unbearable. It was an awful slight. * * * The Mustang Liniment appeared to extract the pain almost immediately. It healed rapidly and left no scar of account. CHAS. FOSTER, 420 Broad street, Philadelphia." It is truly a wonderful article. It will cure any case of Swelling, Burns, Stiff Joints, Eruptions or Rheumatism. For Horses it should never be dispensed with. One Dollar's worth of Mustang has frequently saved a valuable horse. It cures Galls, Sprains, Ringbone, Spavin and Founders. Beware of imitations. Sold in all parts of the habitable Globe.

☞ Hiram Ower and Isaac Colomer, of Bremen, Maine, were taken up in Portland, on Saturday night, for stealing a barrel and a half of molasses out of a hogshead on a wharf. They were about to carry it off in the Sch. Marion of Bremen.

☞ A party of ladies and gentlemen, belonging to the Old South Parish, Newburyport, one evening last week, took possion of the Rev. Mr. Vermylie's residence, while that gentleman was absent to a wedding, and surprised him upon his return by a table covered with the edibles, which they had brought with them, and a silver salver containing seventy-five dollars in gold, which were presents for him. He recently declined an increase of salary, on account of large expenditures by the society for repairs on the meeting-house.

During the recent accident on the Cleveland and Toledo railroad, every seat was smashed at the first shock, and the stove was upset and knocked about among the passengers, who began a general rush to the doors of the car, when Mrs. Annie Senter, the Boston actress, perceiving the danger of such a movement, although nearly sinking from loss of blood by a deep cut in her forehead, had the presence of mind to exclaim, "Gentlemen, the danger is over. Don't be outdone in courage by the ladies!" The company kept their places till the cars stopped, and it is believed the coolness of the lady prevented more serious injuries to some of the passengers.

ILLINOIS LEGISLATURE.—Springfield, Ill., Jan. 5.—The Illinois Legislature met to day. The democrats of the House forcibly expelled Mr. Bridges, the republican clerk of the last House, while the roll was being called, and finally organized by the election of Samuel Holmes, (dem.) Speaker, and Charles Lile, (dem.) Clerk.

As conscientious journalists, having the interests of our readers at heart, we cannot omit to call attention to the advertisement of the celebrated "Burden's Pressed Boat, Ship, Brad and Countersunk Railroad Spikes," one of the most important of the wonderful manufactures of our age. Those eminent hardware dealers, Blodget, Brown & Co;, 80 and 82 Pearl St. Boston, offer them for sale. A.

LOCAL.

☞ The Concert by the Hutchinsons, on Monday evening, was attended by probably seven or eight hundred admirers of this old and popular troupe. We judged the receipts must be $100 or upwards, and the expenses say $30—which would net the Cornet Band $30 or $40 as their half of the proceeds. The Hutchinsons sing finely what they do sing; but it seemed to us they lacked force, as solo singers, (tho' Judson's burlesque opera was finely done) and in chorus; and that their performances throughout were pervaded by a wearisome sameness of execution, tone and harmony. The Bridge of Sighs was to us the most pleasing piece of the evening; and it is in such music as this that they excel.—Throughout the whole, we greatly missed Abby's sweet alto—in fact, we could hardly enjoy the concert without it.

The programme was plentifully sprinkled with songs for freedom—which were sung with a will, and found hearty response in the hearts of the audience.

On the whole, while we are always glad of an opportunity to hear so fine a concert as this; we don't think we enjoyed this entertainment so much as when the three (younger and handsomer) men and their sister sang here in Franklin Hall and the Cameneum, fifteen years ago.

And in this connection, we can but express the wonder we have ever since felt, that the original Harmoneons, who appeared here at the same time, and were beyond a doubt vastly better singers than the Hutchinsons; should have failed of success, and separated long ago, while this troupe sing almost the same old songs, in the same old way, to larger and more enthusiastic crowds, year after year. Success to them!

☞ The third annual Convention of the Rockingham County Musical Association, commenced at Hanover Street Chapel, in this city, on Tuesday. The trains on all the railroads were blockaded by snow, so that the morning session was merely a meeting.

But in the afternoon the attendance was much larger than at the opening of previous Conventions; and the heavy chorus of voices show a goodly number of singers, who can also do good service on a solo.

The evening session was fully attended, and the orchestral instruments (with the grand piano) added much to the interest of the entertainment—which was pronounced by many as better than a concert.

The Convention will meet this (Wednesday) morning, at the Chapel, at 10; in the afternoon at 2; in the evening at 7.

☞ The Thermometer on Tuesday morning, at sunrise, stood at Zero, on the Navy Yard. In this city, different instruments varied from 0 to 6 below. The wind sifted the snow upon the rail-road tracks, making obstructions which deluged the morning trains. Our morning train from Boston arrived at 11 1-2: the train from Portland at 1 1-2: the afternoon train from Boston at 3 1-2: the train from Portland at 4 1-2.

WM. S. TUCKERMAN, the embezzler of Eastern Railroad funds, has been found guilty—thanks to an honest jury that could see that the stealer of a quarter of a million dollars was as much a thief as the poor scamp who takes a loaf of bread or a handful of potatoes to save his children from starving. This is what we have been wanting to find out, whether a rascally act in a rich man, or a great man, or a stupendous villain, was just as rascally as in a beggar or a clown. Thank Heaven, the Huntington and Tuckerman trials show a sounder state of public judgment than formerly, and hereafter it is hoped that such culprits will be no more secure from the prison than common scoundrels.

If the great robbers are to run at large, the cells that hold meaner culprits should swing open their doors at once. It was not alone a "soulless corporation" that Tuckerman robbed, but the poor stockholders—old men and old women who had invested their little savings in that corporation, in hopes that the dividends would supply their wants; widows, whose sole dependence for bread was there; orphans, who had there invested their means of education and maintenance; and the hard-working people who had toiled day and night for all they possessed. When such persons cannot be protected, wealth loses half its value, and we withdraw from the rising generation indicements to an honest and upright life. The verdict rights the matter so far as the laws can remedy the wrong. A conscientious jury, who gave him every opportunity to vindicate himself, have pronounced that he embezzled $2,000; and was not guilty of the $5,000 charged; and the people will be satisfied. The sentence will not vary much, probably, between being guilty on one or both counts.—Newburyport Herald.

John Sayers Orr, known in many places, as the "Angel Gabriel," died in November last, at the Penal Settlement at Demarara. In the February previous he was tried for stirring up an insurrection in Demarara, convicted and sentenced to imprisonment at hard labor. He died of dysentery.

SHIP ANNIE SISE.—The Boston Advertiser gives the following account of the collision between the Annie Sise and sch Sam'l Rankin, as reported in the arrivals of 1st inst., it was stated that "the ship did not stop to ascertain damage." An inquiry has since been made into the circumstances, and the facts are ascertained to have been quite different from the published statement. In the absence of any report from Capt. Sise, who is regarded by those best acquainted with him as a true sailor, and a gentleman incapable of such an ungenerous action as that imputed to him, it is proper to make public the following circumstantial account of the disaster, drawn from the captain and mate of the disabled sch:—

The mate of the Sam'l Rankin states that on Sunday, 28th ult., between the hours of one and two o'clock P. M., saw a ship steering S.W. under all sail; the sch hoisted a signal, and when about a mile and a half distant the ship bore down and spoke her, and on ascertaining that she wanted supplies, the ship backed her main and mizen topsails. The sch being or getting under the lee of the ship, and being low in the water and the ship light, the wind was taken out of the sch's foresail, and she was unable to get out of the ship's way. The ship then drifted upon the sch, her jibboom entering between the sch's fore rigging and foremast. Her bow, when falling in the sea, struck the sch amidships, breaking her rail and bulwarks, and pressing in her planksheer. The jib guys and martingale jumper of the ship were carried away. She then backed her headyards, but on going astern her anchor caught the main rigging of the sch, and carried away main topmast and head of mainmast, and sprung the mast near the deck. The ship then cleared and filled away her yards, standing to the southward. The mate of the sch then thought she was leaving him altogether, and hoisted a signal of distress; saw a barque to the eastward and kept the sch away for her; being engaged on duty did not notice the ship for a short time, but on looking towards her saw she was standing for the the sch. Her jib was seen distinctly, and she continued on the same course, until the barque (the Maryland) backed her mainyard to relieve the sch; after which the ship put about, and stood southward again. The captain's statement does not vary essentially from that of the mate.—The captain further adds that he does not blame the captain of the ship for the damage done the sch.

SLAVE TROUBLES.—Louisville, Jan. 5.—The Memphis Appeal of Tuesday says that considerable excitement exists in St. Francis County, caused by rumors that the slaves would rise about Christmas. Several negroes were whipped until they confessed the plot.

A similar story was in circulation at Napoleonville, La.

A Committee appointed by the Mayor of Nashville to examine the charges of insurrection against certain negroes, report that there is no evidence against them, and recommend their discharge.

The Mississipi papers ridicule the report of a negro disturbance in Jackson, and say that it had not the shadow of a foundation.

The Boston Advertiser says:

We have read a private letter, however, from a young gentleman in that city, who wrote that he was sitting up at dead of night, expecting at any moment to see the house attacked, his sisters and nieces outraged, and his grey-headed father slain; he also thought that the insurrection would break out on Christmas

It is evident therefore that an insurrection was seriously apprehended, if it did not take place.

It is certain, however, that a terrible panic has run all over the slave states, showing up the peculiar institution to peculiar disadvantage.

THE GREAT DISCOVERY.

Many years ago, Doctor Burleigh Smart, of Kennebunk, Me., discovered that a simple article never before used as a medicine, was a never failing cure for coughs of every description, and an excellent blood purifier. By its use in his private practice, he acquired the reputation of being the best physician in New England, for all diseases of the lungs. After his death, Messrs. Shaw & Clark of Biddeford, Me., obtained a Copy Right from Government, for its exclusive manufacture, and now have it carefully prepared strictly according to the original recipe. There is no cough that it will not cure, unless the patient is past all human aid before commencing its use! It is called "Doctor Burleigh Smart's Cough Medicine," and is for sale by all apothecaries. nov7 DeTAh 6m

LOTTERIES.

The Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn Commissioners to superintend and certify that everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties a thousand miles off are as well protected as if they were present. Another fact the managers desire to call attention to, is, that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the sale is there made, in a State where Lotteries are legalized. They draw a Lottery on or about the 10th, 20th, and 30th of each month. All orders received are filled in the drawing next to take place after the communication comes to hand. The price of tickets is always $10—half, $5—quarter, $2.50. No tickets are forwarded unless the money is received with the order. The drawing is upon the principle of one number upon each ticket, and it is so simple that every one can understand it. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $50,000; every prize is drawn.—Write your address plain, and direct to

S. SWAN & CO., Atlanta, Georgia.

P. S.—The fairness of our Lotteries can be ascertained by inquiring of any respectable citizen of our state. Jan 3 1y

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.

DR. CHESSEMAN'S PILLS FOR FEMALES,

Prepared by an old Physician of 40 years experience.

THE combination of ingredients in these Pills, is the result of a long and extensive practice; they are mild in their operation, and certain to restoring nature to its proper channel. In every instance have the Pills proved successful. They are certain to open those obstructions to which females are liable, and bring nature into its proper channel, whereby health is restored, and the pale and deathly countenance changed to a healthy one. No female can enjoy good health unless she is regular; and whenever an obstruction takes place, whether from exposure, cold, or any other cause, the general health immediately begins to decline, and the want of such a remedy has been the cause of so many consumptions among young females. Headache, pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, loathing of food, and disturbed sleep, that most always arise from the interruption of nature; and whenever that is the case, the Pills will invariably remedy all these evils. In all cases of painful menstruation, or nervous and spinal affections in the back and limbs, lowness of spirits, hysterics, &c. Nor are they less efficacious in the cure of Leucorrhœa, commonly called the "Whites." These Pills should never be taken during pregnancy, as they would be sure to cause a miscarriage. Warranted purely Vegetable, and free from anything injurious to life or health. Full and explicit directions which should be read, accompany each box.

These Pills are put up in square, flat boxes.—Persons residing where there are no Agencies established, by enclosing One Dollar in a letter, prepaid, to Dr. C. Cheseman, Box No. 4,532, Post Office, New York City, can have them sent to their respective addresses by return of mail.

SWEETSER'S COMPOUND

Iceland Moss Candy,

an old established and effectual remedy for RECENT COUGHS, COLDS, INFLUENZA, BRONCHITIS, TICKLINGS and uneasy Sensations in the THROAT, ASTHMA, and AFFECTIONS of the PULMONARY ORGANS generally.

THOSE suffering under any Complaints of the Lungs will find this Candy a pleasant, convenient and efficacious remedy for relief.

The Healing and Curative powers of the Iceland Moss (Lichen Islandicus) have long been recognized by medical Practitioners—particularly in CONSUMPTIVE cases and affections of the Lungs, as it combines with these qualities both TONIC and NUTRITIOUS powers. Numerous cases are recorded in which cures have been effected by the use of ICELAND MOSS, alone.

Prepared in this form, it is rendered more pleasant and convenient, without being deprived of its medicinal virtues; while it wholly loses from the unpleasant flavor which attends its usual preparation.

Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions, and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for obtaining patents, not to be secured, the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The subscriber believes given above that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber, and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES claimed, he would respectfully add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, with his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, when required, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to secure a patent, is obviated, and great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Testimonials.

"During the time I acquitted the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few practitioners more in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the ablest, faithful, and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

HENRY L. ELLSWORTH.
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

Washington, August 17, 1853. During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the Office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

Having every facility for manufacturing and preparing the several articles named, the public may rely upon obtaining a pure article, and bear our name and label, "TREMONT MILLS, E. E. DYER & CO."

To give consumers some idea of our sales, we annex the following scale of prices, viz:

5 lb. Oolong " 1.25 | 8 lb. Java " 1.00
6 lb. Japan " 1.25 | 7 lb. Rio " 1.00

☞ The Spices are put up in 1 and ½ lb. tin cans, expressly for family use, and are warranted to be strictly a pure article, and only need a trial to establish them in your favor.

SPANISH COFFEE.—We would call the attention of customers and dealers to our Spanish Coffee, as an article which is highly esteemed, and gives the greatest satisfaction. It is prepared with particular care, and is a peculiar mixture in roasting, one pound of this coffee, it is believed, is equal to 1½ lb. of any other.

TARACUM, or Prepared Dandelion Root.—This article is prepared and roasted at our Mills, is retailed by Family Grocers generally in city and country, and bearing our trade mark, "Tremont Mills, Boston," may be relied upon as the GENUINE ARTICLE. The medical properties of Dandelion are well known, and held in high estimation by all who use it. This being a preparation of the root, with all its medicinal virtues retained, can be mixed with coffee or not, to suit your taste, and will be found cheap and economical as a family beverage, one pound of which being nearly equal to two pounds of coffee. It is prescribed by many eminent physicians to invalids, children and aged persons, as a nutritious beverage, and as a remedy for Dyspepsia, Bilious attacks &c.

☞ Be careful to observe that all our Coffees have our trade mark, "Chinaman grinding coffee."

☞ To Grocers and Dealers a liberal discount is made, enabling them to supply their customers at the same low rate.

MR. RICE'S POEM.

We present our readers with the following extracts from the very pleasant Poem delivered by George Edward Rice, Esq., of Boston, before the Mercantile Library Association on Friday evening last. Mr. Rice is not a professional Lyceum lecturer, but a lawyer in extensive practice, and who, as a means of recreation, occasionally appears before literary societies.

* * * *

To look on Human Nature's brighter side,
Through not a long life, life-long I have tried;
Each son of Adam, if but truly known,
Will be found better than his peers will own,—
And none is wholly vile, whate'er his course,
If still alive to feelings of remorse:
When thus by angels visited, his mood
Is sad, repentant, and his soul subdued,—
The prayer his Mother taught him at her knee,
Floats to his lips and struggles to be free:
Once more those gentle words salute his ear
She loved to whisper, and he loved to hear;
Though pride re-trains the sigh and checks the sob,
The voice will falter, and the heart will throb;
Once more he breathes the sentiments of youth—
Contempt for meanness—reverence for truth—
Belief in Man and Woman—love of right,
And scorn for all who keep not honor bright:
These gallant qualities that mark the boy,
As yet untainted with the world's alloy,
These better moments—would they, could they last,
How well the Future might redeem the Past!

* * * * *

For Man who has the will and power to see,
'Tis not an Age of Prose, but Poetry.
The race for gold admits of this defence—
That Adam's fall entailed a vast expense,
And we by daily labor must atone.
But think not that the Age loves gold alone,—
It loves and honors all that's truly Great.
The World just now is in its best Estate,
And ne'er, since light shone on it from above,
Possessed so much that's grand, and worthy love.
Are heroes wanted? The supply on hand
Is ever found to equal the demand.
Many, like Angels, walk the Earth unknown,
Until Occasion makes their virtue shown.
Are cries for succor trembling on the breeze?
Are brave men perishing in Arctic seas?
Are Heathen languishing for gospel light,
Demanding who can show them what is right?
Does Pestilence sweep o'er a distant land,—
Or Famine paralyze each heart and hand?
Is Liberty, beneath tyrannic sway
Crushed, and imprisoned from the light of day?
Then rise the Men of true heroic souls,
With sympathies unbounded by the Poles;
Those gallant spirits ne'er can be at rest,
Until they find and succor the distressed.
'Tis sweet to think that in this world of pain,
Suffering Humanity ne'er calls in vain.
We speak of Man, but Woman lends her aid
With more self-sacrifice and less parade;
To aught that sorrows she at once responds,
And her devotion knows no bounds or bonds;
When faint and dying, Man's proud heart will quail,
Kind heaven bestows some Florence Nightingale;
A name synonymous with all that's good,
Heroic and sublime in Womanhood.

* * * * *

My task is finished, and I put to rest
The Lyre I woke at your request;
For what "Man wants," I've given in my song
That is, "but little, nor that little long."

* * * * *

And now to you from whose smooth cheek the red
Rich bloom of Adolescence hath not fled;
Who, standing on the threshold of Man's life,
Behold with beating heart the noble strife,—
And although eager for the struggle, pause,
Doubting if you shall win the world's applause,
Let me assume the Teacher's garb, and say
To-morrow may be late, begin to day!
With lofty purpose, and an earnest Will,
Arm for the fight—there is no standing still;
He who advances not, retreats; then On!
The world is full of prizes to be won.
Strive for the laurel crown, the wreath of bay,—
They fall not to the loiterer by the way;
A true ambition wakes a generous fire,
Dream not, but Think, Act, Labor, and Aspire!

The dreamers may awake, to find too late
The golden time has past, and cry at Fate,
When their inactive souls are all to blame,
For time ink-spent, the sorrow and the shame;
And some, who see why life hath gone amiss,
May doubtless sing some plaintive song like this.

What lies in the shadowy Future, alas!
Never falls within a blind mortal's ken;
We cannot foresee what will come to pass,
But we know too surely what might have been;
The fulfilment of hopes that our sanguine youth
Thought simply awaited that we should be Men,
And could buckle our armor on for the Truth,
Are among all the things that might have been.

THE DOG THAT WOULDN'T EMIGRATE.—A short time since several families left Provincetown to locate in Eastern Virginia. They took along with them a large and noble dog, of the Newfoundland species. While on their passage to Boston, in a schooner, the dog broke loose, leaped into the sea, and started on his long and weary passage home. He was seen and passed by one of our packets, near night, about five miles from this town, heading for the Race Light, nobly breasting the rolling waves, often covered by the spray.

The next morning, early, and before the family had arisen, Mr. James Doyle, to whom the dog was much attached, hearing an unusual noise at his door, arose, and opened it, and was astonished to behold the noble fugitive. Mr. D. says when he opened the door the dog arose, placed his great paws upon his shoulders, and fairly cuddled him, giving such demonstrations of joy as he never believed any animal could exhibit.

In what part of the Bay he left his master, and the distance he must have swam, in a rough sea, is not known, but when seen he was five miles from land.

This is the fourth time an attempt has been made, to carry off this dog, and in every instance he has managed to leave in his passage to Boston, and return by swimming home. The noble animal should now be adopted by the town, have the "freedom of the city," and a pension for life.—Provincetown Banner.

EXPOSURE AND SUFFERING.—On Monday morning, a young woman, about 24 years of age, by the name of Mary Young, was found by Mr. Leonard, in his yard, No. 163 Salem street, Boston, partially covered with snow and nearly perished. She says that she came from Canada on Saturday, in search of her husband, and having no place to stop, laid down in the yard, where she was found. She was very thinly clad, but has an appearance of respectability.—She was provided for by the family of Mr. Leonard, and subsequently taken to the house of the City Crier. She says that her husband came to this city with a drove of horses.—Times.

Arnold's Vital Fluid

PURIFIES and strengthens the blood by eradicating, through a nice chemical action, the causes of impurities and humors. Hence its power to cure humors that mere medicine cannot cure. Hence its power of strengthening and vitalizing the blood. It furnishes to a certain extent, the element of which pure blood is composed. It eradicates and cleanses away the over clogs and thickens the blood.

ARNOLD'S VITAL FLUID

Renders the system strong and healthy, by freeing the blood and stomach from objectionable materials. It nerves and vivifies the system, by furnishing the elements which give vitality.

ARNOLD'S VITAL FLUID

Gives to the system an influence and effect similar to that produced by exercise in the free open air. It exhilarates by strengthening the blood to brighter and better action—doing its work by beginning at the beginning. It is pleasant to the taste, and becomes a favorite wherever known.

ARNOLD'S VITAL FLUID

Removes Biliousness in the most direct and easy manner, by neutralizing the cause. This is the principle of its action in removing illness generally. It neutralizes the cause, by freeing the blood from impediments to its proper fulfilment of its life-giving functions.

This principle of neutralizing the cause is why ARNOLD'S VITAL FLUID CURES HUMORS that mere medicine cannot sensibly affect, and why it cures other diseases

Resulting from Poisons in the Blood, that mere medicine palpably cannot alleviate. Humors are poisons in the blood, and it is by their chemical action in neutralizing those poisons that ARNOLD'S GLOBULES

are enabled to cure them so that they stay cured.

VITAL FLUID 50 cents per bottle; GLOBULES 25 cents per box.

THURSDAY, JANUARY 3, 1857.

A GOOD CASE.

The Boston Journal gives the following clear view of an interesting case in the Senate of the United States:

The Senate committee on the Judiciary have reported against the right of Mr. Harlan of Iowa, to a seat in the Senate. The committee stood, against Mr. Harlan, Messrs. Butler, Toucey and Geyer; for him, Messrs. Toombs and Pugh; absent, Mr. Bayard.

The case of Mr. Harlan is decidedly novel, and we give a summary of the facts, which may have escaped the memory of many of our readers. The election for United States Senators in the Iowa Legislature took place in January last. By a provision of the Constitution, that and other offices are filled by a joint convention of the two branches. The two branches went into joint convention on the 4th, for the purpose of electing Justices of the Supreme Court and United States Senator, and voted to elect Supreme Judges first, and the anti-Nebraska candidates for Chief and Associate Justices were chosen. Pending the election of second Associate Justice, the Convention adjourned to the next day, Saturday. It was found on Saturday morning that the anti-Nebraska candidate for Associate Justice would be elected on the first ballot, some four or five who had objected to him having withdrawn their objections. Thereupon the Senate (which was controlled by the Democrats) met at 9 o'clock and adjourned itself to Monday, the design being to prevent the meeting of the regular joint convention. At 10 o'clock however, pursuant to adjournment, the anti-Nebraska Senators came within the bar of the House, and a joint convention was declared, not without wrangling on the part of the Democrats of the House, who at length withdrew with three exceptions. The anti-Nebraska candidate for Associate Justice was then elected, and Hon. James Harlan was chosen United States Senator by a majority not only of the convention then in session, but of the joint convention all told—he receiving 52 votes, 50 being a majority of both Houses. His election was certified by the proper officers, and a commission was issued. On Monday a resolution was passed in the State Senate declaring the proceedings of the joint convention null and void, and refusing to allow them to be recorded in the journal of the Senate. A similar resolution was voted down in the House and the record duly made.

The question in this case, it is obvious, is whether a minority, after having voted to go into joint convention for a certain purpose, and that convention has been adjourned to a stated time, can, by adjourning the Senate, defeat the purpose of the majority. This question is for the Senate to decide, and fortunately its decision will not affect the representative from Iowa.—The Legislature of that State is now in session, and this time with a clear Republican majority in both branches. It will immediately return Mr. Harlan if his seat is declared vacant by the Senate.

TESTIMONY OF GOV. GEARY.—In one of his letters to the President, he says:

"Every package addressed to me through the mail, is broken and inspected before it reaches my hands. It is entirely unsafe to send information through the Post-Office, and more especially so to use that medium to forward anything of pecuniary value.—Postmasters are either ignorant of their duty and obligations, or being acquainted with these, act in violation of both. Indeed I have been credibly informed that infamous places persons not connected with the offices are permitted to enter and overhaul the mails previous to their distribution. This is a serious evil, upon which some prompt action is needed."

The testimony of Gov. Geary is certainly conclusive of the shameless disregard of law which marks the Federal officials of Missouri. What security for property or rights is there in this condition of things which we have from Gov. Geary himself?

We do not suppose any body will say the Post Masters of Missouri are abolitionists, nor that they suffer fanatics from the North to meddle with the mails. This little offence of robbing the mails, as detailed by Gov. Geary, clearly lies at the door of the amiable and patriotic Missourian Border Ruffians.

☞ It is stated that a party of "roughs" from Platte City, Mo., recently came down upon Parkville for the purpose of mobbing George S. Parks, Esq., formerly editor of the Luminary, which was destroyed by a mob two years since.—but being notified by the citizens that any attack upon Mr. Parks would be resented as swiftly as it was made, the invaders took counsel of their fears and incontinently dispersed.

A PASTORAL SURPRISE PARTY.

The members and friends of the Union Church, in Portland, who have worshipped in Union Hall during the building of the new church, being desirous of presenting to their pastor, Rev. Henry D. Moore, some testimonial of their affectionate regard, contrived a Surprise Donation Party, which came off at the pastor's residence on Wednesday afternoon and night, preceding Christmas day. We have heard of surprise calls, where the friends to be surprised, had dinner or supper awaiting the coming of those who were to surprise them. But in this instance the pastor and his family were totally ignorant of the whole affair, and indeed, did not begin to suspect it, until the tide of gifts had well surged up inundating cellar, larder, pantry and parlor. The children stood knee deep in the flood, and up to their very lips even, the waters of kindness flowed. At the back door, at the front door, at the cellar windows, above and below, inside and out, the family were literally beset, and were covered and filled.

Almost every sort of substantial gifts for consumption and use, in every department of the family want, came to the pastor and his family from these generous hearts and hands. In the midst of the excitement of the time, the pastor said to a member of the family—"This is intended for a Surprise Donation Party. I am not surprised at all. It is just what might have been expected: it is just like them. When they surprise me, they must do something different from this."

The Portland Advertiser, from which the above is taken, publishes the following Card from Mr. and Mrs. Moore:

To the Members and Friends of the Union Church:

Dear Friends,—Many persons have found fault with ministers and others, who have published "cards of thanks." They might as well find fault with a stream, because it flows from a fountain; and quarrel with it because it did not stay under the rock, but like a naughty little impertinence ran out laughing, and singing a little song, as if it were somebody. It is just as natural to say you are thankful, when you are really so, as it is for a stream to flow from a fountain, as for a robin to sing in spring time.

And now thanks to you all for your generous and hearty kindness. We shall have occasion to think of you and your kindness for a length of days. When we are warmed by the blazing fire, we will think and feel how brightly and warmly your gift burns. We shall eat of little and wear but little for a time, that you did not send us.

We are just as thankful as we would have been, if you had surprised us. For though we knew nothing of your comings and sendings, yet the kindness was so like you that we couldn't stare at each other at all. We only said quietly, and as a matter of course—"our friends are sending us a few things; when we are surprised, they will do something different from this."

And now kind friends we thank you, and may God bless you, and forever have you in His Holy keeping, is the prayer and earnest hope of,

Yours affectionately,
HENRY D. MOORE,
SARAH A. MOORE.

Portland, Dec. 30, 1856.

"ALMOST ELEVEN YEARS OLD."—A note signed "S. W." was read at the recent meeting of the American Board, at Newark, N. J., saying that one of the stockholders in the "Morning Star," in a Sabbath School in Pennsylvania would be one hundred and eleven years old on the 17th of November. She playfully calls herself almost eleven years old. The venerable woman is still healthy and vigorous.

BURNING AN INFANT.—The Zanesville (Ohio) Courier mentions the arrest of a man named Peter Ward, for putting the babe of Patrick White in the fire. The only reason given for the fiendish act lies in the fact that White, who it appears was brought up in the Catholic religion, had married a Protestant wife, and refused to have the child baptized in the Catholic faith, to which Ward was a warm adherent.

☞ A sad affair occurred recently at Cincinnati. The evidence before the coroner's jury was that Edward Bidden, a young man, an engraver, of good habits, and the supporter of his mother who was constantly drunk, in a fit of passion took her by the shoulders, and kicked her down stairs, by which she was so much injured that she died.

☞ Huntington has been assigned a place in the Cabinet department at Sing Sing. On Saturday morning his beard was shaven and his aristocratic dress was changed for the striped wardrobe of the prison. His labor consists of sawing and planing boards, which an exchange considers a shaving operation. His constitution is said to be much run down and his countenance looks careworn and haggard.

The Norfolk papers report the rumored loss of ship Prince de Joinville, of that port, with all on board.

TRUTH—AND FALSEHOOD.—In concluding an article on Disunion, the New York Tribune says:

As the case strikes us, the love of freedom, hatred of oppression and tenderness of conscience, which could alone impel the free States to seek a separation from the slave States, would more than suffice to abolish slavery, or reduce its power over the Union to insignificance. Before the Northern people can have been brought earnestly to say, "we prefer disunion with freedom to the Union with slavery," there will be no slavery to recede from. Our Worcester Conventionalists would seem, therefore, to be driving their wedge butt-end foremost.

A Massachusetts paper, printed without any name of editor, publisher or printer, in publishing the above extract, says:

We commend these extracts from a paper which but recently cried, "Fremont or Disunion," to the attention of the Worcester bedlamites, when they meet to "form a Northern confederacy of States."

And we commend, or rather condemn, this latter extract, as an utter, deliberate falsehood. The assertion is that the Tribune recently cried, Fremont or Disunion! No such cry was made by that paper, or any other that we saw during the late campaign. The assertion is not only untrue; but it is the opposite of the truth. Some politicians of slavery school said they would dissolve the Union, or recede from it, if Fremont was elected; and even Mr. Fillmore belittled himself by saying it ought to be so. We don't undertake to say what the motive can be for a falsehood so deliberate and so barefaced, as the one we have noticed—but a grosser falsehood we have rarely seen, if ever.

THE LADIES RACING.—Porter's Spirit states that "Di Vernon and Miss Gibraltar are to ride a race sometime in May, in the vicinity of New York; and that then their respective merit, as managers of the horse, is to be tested, first in a trotting contest of a mile, and subsequently in a three mile 'burst' on high-mettled racing horses, at top speed, like a shot out of a gun. In connection with this match, it is the intention of parties who have taken the matter in charge, to give a 'Ladies' Plate,' free for all ladies who come properly accredited, which will doubtless be the foundation of an annual contest."

THE BEST PLANING MACHINE IN THE WORLD.—Attention is called to the advertisement of Mr. James A. Woodbury, Boston, in to-day's paper, whose machine possesses all the good qualities of the celebrated Woodworth Machine, with certain improvements patented by him, which combined enables him to present to the public, the most perfect machine ever organized for planing, tonguing and grooving lumber.

Miss Jennie Rumsey, the popular editress of the Temperance Gem, has been married to Mr. Ezra Cooper of Waterford, Pa.—Exchange.

Did'nt like the first syllable of her maiden name, probably—and was desirous to give the gem a new setting.

Additional remark —Every fashionable young lady ought to marry a Cooper.—Post.

HARPERS' WEEKLY.—This new paper is just published. Its leading article is full of the stupidest kind of pro-slaveryism, and we are sorry to see that the paper follows the example of Harpers' Magazine, by stealing extensively from other periodicals, The capital imitation of De Quincy in the last number of Blackwood is transferred to this weekly without credit.—This is all wrong.—Boston Telegraph.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

The greatest natural ornament to the "human form divine," is unquestionably a fine, luxuriant, healthy growth of hair. It has been so esteemed in all ages of the world, and among all nations, savage and civilized. Hence, the Indian brave regards the scalp of his enemy as his greatest trophy. For a similar reason, the fashionable belle often disguises the region of vanity, as well as her other phrenological organs with borrowed locks.

He who should discover a mode of preventing the hair from growing the longest of those several times by turning prematurely gray, a method by which it could be restored when falling off or turning white, and a way of promoting its continued and luxuriant growth, would be justly entitled to rank among the benefactors of the human race. But the testimonials of the wonderful, not to say almost miraculous effects of "Professor Wood's Hair Restorative," and see if he has not accomplished all this. [Capital City Fact.

It was an awful sight. * * * The Mustang Liniment appeared to extract the pain almost immediately. It healed rapidly and left no scar of account. CHAS. FOSTER, 420 Broad street, Philadelphia." It is truly a wonderful article. It will cure any case of Swelling, Burns, Stiff Joints, Eruptions or Rheumatism. For Horses it should never be dispensed with. COURT OF COMMON PLEAS.

WEDNESDAY, Jan. 7.

The Brick Yard Case, in which $2 per M. on 1200 M. of Bricks, or $2400 in the whole—is depending—occupied the day.—Mr. Wells, for the defence, was arguing the case when the sun went down, and our reporter left.

☞ The "Brick" case still occupies the attention of the Court, now in session in this city. The following wretched attempt at an epigram was perpetrated yesterday; but as there is no statute punishing such offences, we presume the guilty party will escape indictment.

The Jury now, in making brick,
In this dry case fist learn the trade;
And if their heads are not too thick,
Will soon have known how bricks are made.

The lawyers' fees are waxing fat;
And who's in fault, will any say,
If some stray "brick" gets "in his hat,"
So oft one's called to "moist his clay."

☞ The Musical Convention continued through Wednesday, at Hanover Street Chapel—the exercises continually increasing in interest, and the attendance growing larger and larger at each session.

In the afternoon several of the clergymen of the city were present, and manifested much interest in the exercises, and their entire approval of the course of Prof. Baker.

In the evening a portion of the Concert programme for to-night was gone through with—by a large number of singers, forming a capital chorus, and plentifully sprinkled with solo performers,—the best in the city, and many fine vocalists from abroad.

The Convention meets at the Chapel at 10; at the Temple at 2; and in Concert at the latter place at 7.

THE CONCERT THIS EVENING, to be given by the Musical Convention, at the Temple, will be one of the most attractive entertainments of the season—and the Association having for its object the improvement of Music at home, should receive the patronage of all who feel an interest in such matters. The chorus singing will be fine; and the selection of glees, quartets, &c., cannot fail to please.

MUSQUITOES are very troublesome just now if we may believe the statements of the perambulators of our streets. One of our hands had his ears and nose quite red with their bites on Tuesday. There are however, vague rumors of a certain gentleman, yclept Jack Frost, as being the more immediate author of those peculiar tingling sensations so common now-a-days.

Not to be outdone by our contemporaries we have engaged an artist of the first water, who, after sitting for twelve hours in a room 14° below zero, had a slight glimpse of the venerable gentleman, which he has tranferred to paper. An outlay of all our available capital has enabled us to present the above copy of this masterpiece. It is beautiful not only in its tout ensemble, but also in its minutest detail. Observe the wistful expression depicted on the intelligent face of Towzer, the roguish mirth which gleams from out Jack's eyes as with his icy digits he seizes the nasal protuberance of the unfortunate artist, and then ponder over a work so worthy the pencil of Raphael and the graver of Albert Durer.

☞ In the window of John S. Harvey & Son's bookstore may be seen, for this day only, the wind instruments, twelve in number, of the Portsmouth Cornet Band. They are of German Silver, finely finished, and will well repay a look.

☞ Our paragraph about the weather, in Wednesday's Chronicle, broke off in the middle, leaving the arrivals of mails quite uncertain, as they have been for these two days.

Mr. George D. Prentice contradicts the rumor that he was about to remove to St. Louis, and says he will not leave the Louisville Journal until the breath leaves him.

Mr. Enoch Carleton, of Newcastle, Me., a man of intemperate habits, was found dead on Saturday morning last, in the wood shed of a noted rum shop in Damariscotta.

Five young men recently convicted of incendiarism in Portland, have been sentenced to the Penitentiary.

CONGRESS.

TUESDAY, Jan. 6.

The Senate chose Mr. Mason, president of the Senate pro tem. He had 30 votes: Foote 11, Weller 1, Clark 2.

The Senate then considered the case of Mr. Harlan, Senator from Iowa, (which is explained in an editorial of this day's Chronicle,) and debated it to the end of the sitting.

The House debated the president's message, Nebraska, slavery, three political parties, &c.

Mr. Davis (Amer.) said:—

Both the Republican and Democratic parties stand condemned for being disturbers of the public peace of the United States, and have no ground to maintain, as the people have not sanctioned any of their positions. There was but one party, small in number (Laughter) which could read them a lesson of patriotism, which would be well for them to consider. It was a tower of moral force and patriotic integrity, and could not be shaken.

Mr. Cadwallader said:—

The Democratic party had triumphed over the factions of the North, and had destroyed the Know Nothings of the South.

[So we are to understand that these factions are crushed out, and their ghosts are gone to no-where.]

AFFAIRS IN KANSAS.—New York Jan. 5. Mr. E. Hoogland of Kansas, was in this city yesterday on his way to Washington. It is understood that he represents the views and wishes of Gov. Geary, in regard to sundry legislative measures of importance to the welfare of the territory. Mr. H. states that, although it is not easy to exaggerate the outrages and disorders which have prevailed in Kansas until within a few months past, yet matters now are assuming a much more peaceful and promising aspect.

The Free State Legislature meets to-day, the other on Monday of next week.

MONTPELIER, Jan. 6, 8 P. M.—The Vermont State Capitol building is now on fire, and must inevitably be consumed. The capacious dome is enveloped in flames, and the fire is rapidly spreading to other parts of the building. This destructive fire is supposed to have been caused by the unsoldering or burning out of some of the heat conductors leading from the furnace to the Representatives' Hall.

☞ A dispatch of the 7th, says the building is destroyed, all but the granite walls.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—The administration has been officially advised that Mr. Villiers, brother of Lord Clarendon, and late Judge Advocate General, has been appointed British Minister to this country, and will shortly arrive here.

It is reported to-day that it is the intention of the friends of River and Harbor bills now before the House, as there are between forty and fifty of them, to incorporate them in one bill, and pass them all at once by a two-thirds vote.

The Naumkeag Cotton Factory, in Salem, has declared a semi-annual dividend of four per cent., amounting to $28,000. In addition to this, $22,000 have been added to the reserved profits. The reserved profits, as a working cash capital now on hand, amount to about $250,000.

One of our Southern exchanges says that a Mr. Townsend of Madison County, Alabama, died recently, aged 55 years, who was said to be the wealthiest planter in that county. His will directs about forty of his slaves to be manumitted and removed from the State, and provides that a large portion of his estate shall be distributed among them.

A man named James Walden, about 50 years of age, was found dead in an unoccupied barn, in Glocester, R. I., on Monday morning. He was seen in the barn, which is situated about three-fourths of a mile east of the village of Chepachet, on Saturday, and he stated that he had taken shelter in it from the storm. He was a man of intemperate habits.

It is stated that the small pox is prevailing to an alarming extent in Stowe, Vt., and all public gatherings are forbidden, and the schools are stopped.

HEALTH AND STRENGTH.

☞ DR. S. O. RICHARDSON'S SHERRY WINE BITTERS is the best Medicine ever used for Summer Complaints. It has been more liberally patronized than any other ever established in this country. It is the same Richardson's Bitters which has restored so many invalids to health throughout New England during the past thirty years.

N. B.—Beware of imitations called Sherry Wine Bitters. The genuine have a fac simile of my signature upon the outer envelope. For sale by Druggists everywhere, and at my office, No. 51 Hanover St., Boston. aug8 6m

THE GREAT DISCOVERY.

Many years ago, Doctor Burleigh Smart, of Kennebunk, Me., discovered that a simple article never before used as a medicine, was a never failing cure for coughs of every description, and an excellent blood purifier. By its use in his private practice, he acquired the reputation of being the best physician in New England, for all diseases of the lungs. After his death, Messrs. Shaw & Clark of Biddeford, Me., obtained a Copy Right from Government, for its exclusive manufacture, and now have it carefully prepared strictly according to the original recipe. There is no cough that it will not cure, unless the patient is past all human aid before commencing its use! It is called "Doctor Burleigh Smart's Lungs Medicine," and is for sale by all apothecaries. n27 TuTh3 6m

In calling the attention of the public to my list of Magazines and Newspapers; I would CAUTION all against subscribing for Magazines, Newspapers, or other works, to irresponsible and transient persons, or travelling agents; for in nine cases out of ten you will be swindled and cheated.

If you wish to take any Magazine or Newspaper, subscribe of some responsible firm in Town.—Hundreds of dollars are lost every year by subscribing for works of strangers and travelling agents, and by being induced to subscribe by the thousands of contrivances to cheat the public—such as Art Unions, Premiums, Cosmopolitan Art Associations, and various humbugs to gull the unwary. Keep clear of all these, and pay your money to those whom you know to be responsible.

The subscriber has been in the business four teen years, and will guarantee to furnish any publication as cheap as can be obtained.

LOTTERIES.

The Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn Commissioners to superintend and certify that everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties a thousand miles off are as well protected as if they were present. Another fact the managers desire to call attention to, is, that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the sale is there made, in a State where Lotteries are legalized. They draw a Lottery on or about the 10th, 20th, and 30th of each month. All orders received are filled in the drawing next to take place after the communication comes to hand. The price of tickets is always $10—half, $5—quarter, $2.50. No tickets are forwarded unless the money is received with the order. The drawing is upon the principle of one number upon each ticket, and it is so simple that every one can understand it. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $30,000; every prize is drawn.—Write your address plain, and direct to
S. SWAN & CO., Atlanta, Georgia.

P. S.—The fairness of our Lotteries can be ascertained by inquiring of any respectable citizen of our state. jan 3 1y

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.

DR. CREESEMAN'S PILLS FOR FEMALES,

Prepared by an old Physician of 40 years experience.

THE combination of ingredients in these Pills, is the result of a long and extensive practice; they are mild in their operation, and certain to restoring nature to its proper channel. In every instance have the Pills proved successful. They are certain to open those obstructions to which females are liable, and bring nature into its proper channel, thereby health is restored, and the pale and deathly countenance changed to a healthy one. No female can enjoy good health unless she is regular; and whenever an obstruction takes place, whether from exposure, cold, or any other cause, the general health immediately begins to decline, and the want of such a remedy has been the cause of so many consumptions among young females. Headache, pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, loathing of food, and disturbed sleep, that must always arise from the interruption of nature; and whenever that is the case, the Pills will invariably remedy all these evils. In all cases of painful menstruation, or nervous and spinal affections in the back and limbs, lowness of spirits, hysterics, &c. Nor are they less efficacious in the cure of Leucorrhœa, commonly called the "Whites." These Pills should never be taken during pregnancy, as they would be sure to cause a miscarriage. Warranted purely Vegetable, and free from anything injurious to life or health. Full and explicit directions which should be read, accompany each box.

These Pills are put up in square flat boxes.—Persons residing where there are no Agencies established, by enclosing One Dollar in a letter, prepaid, to Dr. C. C. Creesman, Box No. 4,581, Post Office, New York City, can have them sent to their respective addresses by return of mail.

WHOLESALE,—AND ALSO IN SMALL PACKAGES.

E. E. DYER & CO.

(Sign of the Chinaman grinding coffee.)

141 Washington St., Boston.

SUPPLY the best, finest and purest articles, at lowest Cash prices. Their Stock consists of Teas, Coffees, Chocolates, Allspice, Pepper, Mustard, Ginger, Cayenne Pepper, Vinegar, Cinnamon, Cloves, Cream Tartar, Tarraxacum, or Prepared Dandelion Root, & &c.

Having every facility for manufacturing and preparing the several articles named, they can rely upon having them pure and genuine, as they are put up carefully, and bear our name and label, "TREMONT MILLS, E. E. DYER & CO."

To give consumers some idea of our sales, we annex the following scale of prices, viz:

5 lb Souchong Tea,	1.00	5 lb. Mocha Coffee,	1.00
5 lb. Oolong "	1.25	5 lb. Java "	.90
5 lb Y. Hyson "	2.25	5 lb. Rio "	1.00

☞ The Spices are put up in ¼ and ½ lb. tin cases, expressly for family use, and are warranted to be strictly a pure article, and only need a trial to establish them in public favor.

SPANISH COFFEE.—We would call the attention of customers and dealers to our Spanish Coffee, as an article which we can recommend as giving great satisfaction. It is prepared with particular care, and by a peculiar process in roasting, one pound of this coffee, it is believed, is equal to ½ lb. of any other.

DANDELION COFFEE.—This article is carefully prepared at our Mills, and put up in packages having our trade mark, and may be relied upon as the best and most approved mixture of dandelion and coffee.

TARAXACUM, or Prepared Dandelion Root.—This article is prepared and roasted at our Mills, in retailed by Family Grocers generally. Mind the name, and country, and bearing our trade mark, "Chinaman grinding coffee," may be relied upon as the GENUINE ARTICLE. The proportion used is about one-half the quantity of coffee. The price is 20 cents per pound, and it is warranted to be the same as that which has been sold for fifty cents a pound by druggists.

The medical properties of Dandelion are well known, and held in high estimation by all who use it. This being a preparation of the root, with all its medicinal virtues retained, can be mixed with coffee or not, as best suits the taste, and will be found cheap and economical as a family beverage, one pound of which being nearly equal to two pounds of coffee. It is prescribed by many eminent physicians to invalids, children and aged persons, as a nutritious beverage, and as a remedy for Dyspepsia, Bilious affections &c.

☞ Be careful to observe that all our Coffees have our trade mark, "Chinaman grinding coffee."

☞ To Grocers and Dealers a liberal discount is made, enabling them to supply their customers at the same low rate.

☞ TO CASH PURCHASERS.—Our object being to secure large sales at small profits, we offer inducements which cannot be afforded by those who do business on the credit system, and we confidently invite an examination of the quality of our stock and our prices, as compared with those of any other house.

Employing Two Hundred Men,

Eighty Instruments per Week.

BETWEEN 18,000 AND 19,000

of these instruments have been finished and are now in use.

THE latest improvement in our Melodeons is the DIVIDED SWELL, secured to us by Letters Patent 22d May, 1855—by means of this Swell Solo Passages may be played with the full power of the instrument, while the Accompaniment is soft and subdued.—Recently we have introduced into our Melodeons a stop, called the Aeolina, which adds much to the power of the instrument, and is a great improvement, but as they prefer to make it a feature in their Instruments, it can only be obtained by purchasing one of their manufacture.

It is now eight years since we commenced the manufacture of this new celebrated Musical Instrument, during which time we have finished and sold nearly SEVEN THOUSAND Instruments, every testimonials to the excellence of our Instruments, from the most distinguished Professors of Music in different parts of the United States, have from time to time been received. Thus far we have said but little, and our advertisements were seldom seen for the reason that we could not supply the demand. We have lately erected the one of the largest and most perfect Manufacturing Establishments in the United States, and we now think that we can fill orders promptly. We there fore give one testimonial we have received.

NEW YORK, 15th Oct., 1855

"G. A. Prince & Co.: Gentlemen—The Double Reed Melodeon has arrived, and a most charming instrument it is. It has been played on by Messrs. Hodges, Wm. Mason, and a host of others, and they all pronounce it one of the most beautiful toned reed instruments they have ever heard. Very truly yours, JAMES P. HALL."

We are not aware that the above mentioned Melodeon is in any particular superior to those we are daily finishing, and we can assure those who are inclined to favor us with their orders that they will be furnished with an instrument equally as good. Our instruments are all finished in the most substantial and the workmanship of the very best quality. The styles and prices are—

Singer's Sewing Machines.

THESE celebrated machines are in practical and profitable use in all parts of the civilized world. In all the various trades, and in sewing every seam of fabric, either of cloth or leather, they have been fully tried and approved. Sewing machines of other manufacturers often fail to work, but SINGER'S MACHINES being strong, durable and complete in contrivance and workmanship. A perfect sewing machine kept employed affords a clear profit of $1000 a year; but a single imperfection is a cause of constant vexation and loss. The entire RELIABILITY of our machines is one great reason for their unparalleled popularity.

"NEVER OPERATE IMPERFECTLY,

MACHINES FOR FAMILY SEWING, of a trail and delicate construction, are recommended by other manufacturers. Such machines are made for the eye, not to perform substantial work. The truth is, family sewing machines ought to be stronger than any other, because there are less hands and less time when sold to manufacturers, and are used for a greater variety of work. The machines which have proved best for all other purposes must be best for family use, and they are Singer's. The speed of our machines has lately been doubled. No other can compare with them in quantity of work.

☞ Any machine of the latest improved style will be exchanged on liberal terms for old sewing machines of our own make, or for operative machines of other manufacturers. Local agents appointed to sell our machines.

N B.—All persons desiring full information about sewing machines can obtain it by applying for a copy of "A Singer's Gazette," a paper devoted entirely to the subject. It will be sent gratis. I. M. SINGER & CO.

REVERIES.

BY WILL THOUGHTLESS.

Who thinks at merry Christmas time
There may be sad hearts near,
From whom the jest and sparkling rhyme
But force the silent tear?

Who dreams that at the festive board,
Where all seem glad and gay,
There may be one whose inmost soul
Soars from the scene away,

Above the earth our Saviour trod
Home to its place of birth,
And sees before the throne of God
The saint it lost on earth?

Or who at twilight's happy hour
When day and noise depart,
When maidens own Love's holy power,
And heart speaks unto heart;

Who knows but he who sits apart
Watching the shadows glide,
Purchance is folding to his heart
The angel at his side?

And when at eve the dance and song
Make glad that happy band,
Who knows the voice that speaks to him
From out the spirit land!

December 25, 1856.

NAPOLEON.—In a recent lecture, Mr. Thackeray introduced a personal anecdote apropos of Napoleon. "When I first saw England, she was mourning for the young Princess Charlotte, the hope of the empire. I came from India as a child, and our ship touched at an island on the way home, where my black servant took me a walk over the rocks and hills till we had passed a garden where we saw a man walking.—'That is he,' said the black man—'that is Bonaparte; he eats three sheep every day, and all the children he can lay hands upon.' There were people in the British dominions besides that poor black, who had an equal terror and horror of the Corsican ogre." Some pale faces down South, tell the little darkies similar stories about the abolitionists.

At the recent term of the Court of Common Pleas in Hampshire County, Ms., one man, for being a common seller of intoxicating drinks, was sent to the House of Correction for three months; another was sent for twenty days; a third was fined, and in three other cases the liquor seized and ordered to be destroyed; in two cases, the indictments were abandoned by the Government, and in one other the jury were unable to agree.

☞ Miss Susan Howard of North Bridgewater, Mass., was tried on Thursday before Justice Isaac Hersey, on the charge of whipping one of her scholars, named Jesse Packard, two weeks ago, so severely that the marks of the blows remain to the present time. She was sentenced to pay a fine of three dollars and costs.

NEW YEAR'S CALLS—"HAVE YOU SEEN BRIDGET?"—A friend of ours called upon a fashionable family New Year's Day, and found a table loaded with all the delicacies in the eating line, but no liquors. Congratulating one of the women upon the change, she inquired of him, "Have you seen Bridget?" He replied in the negative, and was at once invited to walk down to the basement with several gentlemen who were going to wish that humble member a happy New Year. The first word that he heard upon entering her domain was addressed to a gentleman standing by the side of a table containing a good deal of glass ware; when Bridget asked him if he "would have it with hot water and a little lemon." From what we saw in the streets on the evening of New Year's Day, we are led to believe that a very large number of people did see Bridget in the course of their walks. Now this is a sort of "whipping the Devil round the stump" that was very extensively practiced upon the late festival, that we do not approve of. If women are disposed to make their visitors drunk, let them take the responsibility in their own persons, and not send the poor victims down stairs to "see Bridget."—N. Y. Tribune.

This is the genteel back stairs way to drunkenness and misery. Now let the reader look at the sober way to happiness, comfort, and a good old age. Here it is, in a paragraph from the New York Times, about the Beechers.

Rev. Henry Ward Beecher received during New Year's Day about eight hundred calls—each person entering his name in a book provided for the purpose, as is his custom on these occasions. The venerable Lyman Beecher, who is on a visit to his son, was present throughout most of the day, and enjoyed the occasion very much. He is in vigorous health, and was an object of great interest and veneration.

Lyman Beecher is an old apostle of temperance, whose practice in this regard agrees with his preaching. He is about fourscore years old.

Look on the two pictures. Which do you prefer?

New Year's Day is a good holiday—a part of the old Christmas Twelve—let it be a glad day—but it need not therefore be a drunken day; It surely ought not;—and misery must surely come in its train if it is.

Conductor Pitman, on the Bangor and Portland Railroad, last Saturday, provided an entertainment for the passengers, in the form of a wedding ceremonial. Having provided himself with a clergyman, he was duly married while the train was at full speed, to a lady named Fuller, of Bangor.

☞ George Rouse, a boy six years old, was killed in Bennington, Vt., the 19th. He had caught hold of a wagon, to jump on, but finding it impossible to keep pace with it, let go his hold, and was thrown with great force backward, his head striking upon a stone, breaking his neck.

The Washington Correspondent of the Traveller says:

"Mr. Lewis Worcester, who charged Gen. Wilson with advising slaves to cut their masters' throats, was ejected from the Washington House, by the proprietress, last Tuesday. It appears that public opinion is giving him his deserts."

He is probably a drunken, debauched scoundrel, of the Brooks and Herbert school.

Arnold's Vital Fluid

PURIFIES and strengthens the blood by eradicating, through a nice chemical action, the causes of impurities and humors. Hence its power to cure humors that mere medicine cannot cure. It imparts the power of strengthening and vitalizing the blood. It furnishes to a certain extent, the element of which pure blood is composed. It eradicates and cleanses away whatever clogs and thickens the blood.

ARNOLD'S VITAL FLUID

Renders the system strong and healthy, by trebling the blood and stomach from objectionable materials. It nerves and vivifies the system, by furnishing the elements which give vitality.

ARNOLD'S VITAL FLUID

Gives to the systemas influence and effect similar to that produced by exercise in the free open air. It exhilarates by strengthening the blood to brighter and better action—doing its work by beginning at the beginning. It is pleasant to the taste, and becomes a favorite wherever known.

ARNOLD'S VITAL FLUID

Removes Biliousness in the most direct and easy manner, by neutralizing the cause. This is the principle of its action in removing illness generally. It neutralizes the cause, by freeing the blood from impediments to its proper fulfilment of its life-giving functions

This principle of neutralizing the cause is why ARNOLD'S VITAL FLUID CURES HUMORS that mere medicine cannot sensibly affect, and why it cures other diseases

Resulting from Poisons in the Blood, that mere medicinal preparations cannot alleviate. Humors are poisons in the blood, and it is by their chemical action in neutralizing those poisons that ARNOLD'S GLOBULES

are enabled to cure them so that they stay cured.

VITAL FLUID 50 cents per bottle; GLOBULES 25 cents per box.

THE BOUNTY MUTINEERS.

Late English papers state that the descendants of the mutineers of the English ship Bounty, whose romantic history has excited a world-wide interest, have been removed from Pitcairn's Island, in consequence of the colony having outgrown the means of sustenance which the Island afforded. They were transferred to Norfolk Island, together with all their goods and chattels.

The history of this interesting colony, although known to a large portion of the reading community, may not be familiar to all. The ship Bounty, commanded by Captain Bligh, was dispatched by the British government to Tahiti, to convey young bread fruit trees to the West Indies. While a boat with the captain, officers and on the voyage the crew mutinied, set adrift a part of their number, and took the vessel to Pitcairn's Island, where they arrived in 1789, with nine Tahitian men and thirteen women, whom they took from their native shores. There were ten of the mutineers, and their fate was for a long time unknown. From them sprang the present thriving colony.

An English sailor named John Adams, was one of the mutineers; and he was the teacher, guide, and in some sense the great patriarch and ruler of the colony. Eight of the ten mutineers had but a short life after their settlement, and the colony was the better for their death. Adams and one other of the crew survived, made themselves useful, and were the means of rendering the colony civilized, comfortable and Christian.

When the first generation had sprung up, the ninth mutineer died; but Adams lived to a great age, saw the children's children, and told the story to them.

The English government never troubled the colonists, but showed them much favor. The original settlers were, we supposed, all dead; though the paper whence we take the account of the removal says, "there are only eight of the first generation left—two men and six women. The oldest man is about sixty-one or sixty-two, and the oldest woman between seventy and eighty.

From 1789 to 1857, is 68 years. So the old men must have been born on the island. And the old women (of whom the oldest is not quite 80, and therefore could not have been over 12 years of age in '89,) must have been very young when they were carried there, or have been born on the island.

Charles Christian is the grandson of the ringleader of the mutineers. The number of persons removed was 199—97 males and 102 females—one child having been born on the voyage, and named Denison, after the Governor-General of New South Wales. Pitcairn's Island is situated in lat. 25 4 S., long. 130 25 W., and is only about four and a half miles in circumference, one mile and a half being its greatest length, not more than one square mile being available for cultivation; yet it has been the isolated home of a happy and thriving settlement of nearly two hundred souls. Owing to the frugal and temperate habits of the people and the health of the climate, the population has outgrown its circumscribed limits.

Their new home — Norfolk Island—is situated in lat. 29 S. and long. 168 10 E., being distant from Sidney about twelve hundred miles. It is six miles in length and four in breadth, and contains about 14,000 acres. It is well watered, and there is a high hill in the centre called Mount Pitt. For many years it was the penal settlement for the vilest and most incorrigible transported criminals sent from England to Van Diemen's Land. But since the abolition of transportations to Tasmania, the convicts have been withdrawn from the island. The locality to which these settlers have thus voluntarily transferred themselves, is infinitely preferable to their former circumscribed home, both in dimensions, scenery and capabilities. It has been described as a little earthly paradise, and is capable of producing everything that can promote the well-being of a community. There are 2000 or 3000 acres of fine land now in cultivation, and as much more might be rendered fruitful. The Island is very healthy, and no epidemics are known there. The soil produces both tropical and European fruits, vegetables, and grain, besides spices, the sugar cane, cinnamon, coffee, the pepper vine, tobacco, &c.

There were left at Norfolk Island for the use of its new occupants, 2000 sheep, 450 head of cattle, and 20 horses, and provisions for twelve months, with everything requisite for the cultivation of the soil.—The buildings on the island are of the most substantial character, and are more than sufficient for the use of the Pitcairn settlers, who, in their former home, dwelt in rude, palm thatched houses. The fine scenery, superior accommodations, enlarged territory and increased field of operations for their industry, together with the ample provision made for their sustenance, must render their new home a very attractive spot for these people of simple habits.

HELD FOR TRIAL.—Two men, Briggs and Davis, who were arrested on suspicion of firing the building of J. G. Flagg, in Woburn, Mass., were examined on Monday. They admitted the charge, and on searching the house of Briggs, a rifle and six bottles of porter, stolen from the billiard saloon, were found. An empty porter bottle was also found in the coat pocket of Davis. Each of the parties were ordered to recognize in the sum of $5000 for firing the building, and $1000 for theft, to appear for trial at the February term of the Court of Common Pleas. In default they were committed to jail in East Cambridge.

MASSACHUSETTS LEGISLATURE was duly organized Wednesday,—the Senators electing Charles W. Upham of Salem, President, and Peter L. Cox of Lynn, Clerk; the Representatives choosing Charles A. Phelps of Boston, Speaker, and William Stowe of Springfield, Clerk of the House, almost unanimously. The two branches, together with the Executive, were escorted to the Old South by the Independent Cadets, to attend public worship. The annual sermon was preached by Rev. John Pike of Rowley.

MISSOURI.—The canvassing which has taken place in the Missouri Legislature shows conclusively that Col. Benton cannot be elected to the United States Senate. He will not be supported by all the Know Nothings, nor by all the Whigs. In the election of Speaker of the House, the Know Nothings and Bentonites united on the same candidates, but were defeated—the Democrats and a few Whigs electing to that office Mr. Harrison, a Whig, who had voted for Buchanan. It is thought the election of United States Senators will not take place for two or three weeks yet.—There are two to be chosen.

MAINE.—The Maine Legislature was organized by the election of J. H. Williams of Kennebec, as President of the Senate, and of Charles A. Spofford of Deer Isle, as Speaker of the House. The Republicans are in a large majority in both branches.

PENALTY OF HOSPITALITY TO MR. SUMNER. The following notice from the Blair County (Pa.) Whig is more interesting than at first sight appears:

Post Office Appointment.—John Troxel has been appointed Postmaster at Cresson, Pa., in place of Dr. R. M. S. Jackson.

Dr. Jackson, who is thus displaced, is the physician with whom Mr. Sumner stayed during the month of August, on the Alleghany Mountains. Thus early he is called to pay the penalty of his hospitality.

LOWELL POLICE.—The Lowell News gathers from the various monthly reports of the City Marshal, the following facts in regard to the police business of the past year. The whole number of arrests was 3022; of which 1455 were prosecuted and the balance discharged without prosecution. Of those prosecuted, 624 were for drunkenness; while of those discharged without prosecution, 875 were drunk or disorderly (a person is rarely disorderly without he is drunk)—showing that rum was the cause of one-half of the police business of the city. [The appropriation for the police department for the year was $12,000. Besides this, there was an unexpended balance on hand at the commencement of $2,409 25. Yet all of this proves insufficient, and $1500 is transferred to the department from the temporary loan of $10,000—making the whole actual cost of the department about $15,900.] A part of the remainder of the prosecutions for the year is as follows: Assaults 259; larceny, 216; vagrancy, 27; fornication, 49; adultery, 22; burglary, 19; violation of city ordinances, 90; disturbance of the peace, 16; violation of the liquor law, 26; fraud, 7; cheating by false pretences, 8; malicious mischief, 18; insanity, 11.

☞ Hon. Francis Howe has been removed from the office of Postmaster at Brookfield, and Alexander Bingham appointed in his place. Also Julius E. Tucker has been removed from the office at Charlton Depot, and Daniel S. Hall appointed in his place. Messrs. Howe and Tucker have been removed because they voted for Fremont. So says the Telegraph.

TEMPERANCE—AND FUNDS.

For the Chronicle and Phenix.

At a recent meeting of the State Temperance Committee, it was voted unanimously to make no more assessments on the Stock Fund, but to give up that method of raising money, and depend on immediate contributions to the cause. As we have no paper to support, we hope to make our expenses less, the present year, than heretofore; but still we cannot prosecute our work with vigor without money. It is to be hoped that the friends of the cause will not relax their efforts, now that so much has been done, and when we have means in our hands superior to what we have possessed at any other time in the history of the cause. We have a law that only needs enforcing to stop the public sale of liquor at once. In proof of this, we need only refer to those towns where the law has been vigorously enforced. J. W. RAY,

Sec. of State Temp. Com.

Manchester, Jan. 6, 1856.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

The greatest natural ornament to the "human form divine," is unquestionably a fine, luxuriant, healthy growth of hair. It has been so esteemed in all ages of the world, and among all nations, savage and civilized. Hence, the Indian brave regards the scalp of his enemy as his greatest trophy. For a similar reason, the fashionable belle often disguises the region of vanity, as well as her other phrenological organs with borrowed locks.

He who should discover a mode of preventing the hair from showing the inroads of envious Time by turning prematurely gray, is entitled to which it could be restored when falling off or turning white, and a way of promoting its continued and luxuriant growth, would be justly entitled to rank among the benefactors of the human race. Read the testimonials of the wonderful, not to say almost miraculous effects of "Professor Wood's Hair Restorative," and see if he has not accomplished all this. [Capital City Paper.

Can afford to be without Mustang Liniment in their house. The many accidents we are liable to, may render it necessary any moment, and nothing is capable of performing such a certain cure. (Extract.)—"In lifting the kettle from the fire it caught and scalded my hands and person severely—one hand almost to a crisp. The torture was unbearable. It was an awful sight. * * * The Mustang Liniment appeared to extract the pain almost immediately. It healed rapidly and left no scar of account. CHAS. FOSTER, 420 Broad street, Philadelphia." It is truly a wonderful article. It will cure any case of Swelling, Burns, Stiff Joints, Eruptions or Rheumatism. For Horses it should never be dispensed with. One Dollar's worth of Mustang has frequently saved a valuable horse. It cures Galls, Sprains, Ringbone, Spavin and Founders. Beware of imitations. Sold in all parts of the habitable Globe.

The parishioners of Rev. Zachariah Greene, Hempstead, L. I., a clergyman of the old school, having been born in the year 1760, are preparing a grand donation to relieve his few remaining years from all pecuniary care. Mr. Green's history runs back to the Revolution; he was one of the brave men who erected the fortifications on Dorchester Heights, was on guard the night of the conflagration, was active in the battle at White Plains, at Throgg's Neck and White Marsh, where a rifle ball in the shoulder disabled him from further service.

Father Chirirquy, who left lower Canada some time since and founded a prosperous French colony in Illinois, has been excommunicated by the Roman Bishop of Chicago. The question of church property, aggravated by differences of nationality, were causes of the rupture. C. was likely to become the leader of a powerful schism.

A carpenter lost his life in Saco, Me., on Saturday last, by falling through a scuttle thirty feet. He had previously worked in a powder mill, and just left it on account of the hazard to life.

Rev. Dr. Burroughs conducted the Christmas services for the forty-fifth time, in his church at Portsmouth, N. H., on Thursday, Nov. 25th.—Cong. Journal.

Please to say 47th time, on the 25th of December.

DEATHS IN DECEMBER.—The record of mortality in this city, during the last month, as furnished by Mr. Bell, city hearseman, is as follows:

Males nine—aged 4 mos., 8 mos., 17 mos., 5 years, 32, 42, 44, 45, 59.

Females eleven—aged 9 mos., 12 mos., 16 mos., 5 years, 17, 18, 39, 40, 46, 49, 74.

Total number of deaths during December twenty—a larger number than during any other month of the year.

CONGRESS.

WEDNESDAY, Jan. 7.

SENATE.—Mr. Weller reported a bill to increase the pay of officers in the army, and gave notice that he should call it up at an early day.

The consideration of the Iowa election case was resumed.

Mr. Bayard argued against the right of Mr. Harlan to a seat.

Mr. Foster replied.

Mr. Seward obtained the floor.

The President pro tem. submitted a letter from Mr. Hamlin, resigning his seat as Senator from Maine. Adjourned to Friday.

HOUSE.—A motion to print extra copies of the President's message Mr. Barclay of Pennsylvania said the only effect to the document would be, to increase, if that were possible, the contempt which now exists throughout the country against its author. The President was elected with unprecedented unanimity, and the most solemn pledges not to reopen the slavery question were given. The first leading measure of the administration was for the repeal of the time-honored compromise. Yes, gentlemen, disguise it as they may, that alone has been the cause of the great troubling of the waters. This unnecessary, reckless, and iniquitous measure, struck the Democratic party in the free states, with terror The people, basely betrayed, dare to remonstrate with the independence of freemen, and dared to denounce such usurpation of power. Its chief authors, aiders and abettors, were execrated wherever human rights were cherished or political honesty respected. The exe ration extended to the White House, and compelled its inmate to tremble like a convicted criminal. He was rejected by the Cincinnati Convention, and, like an old horse which has served its master, was turned out to grass. While the Convention thus repudiated him, by their acts they endorsed the measures of his administration—a singular effect of the cohesive power of public plunder.

Mr. Sandridge commenced his speech by reading the American party a lesson. He would point them to the affiliation of the Know Nothings and Republicans in the North to break down the Democrats. The half dozen Know Nothings who acted in this House with the South Americans have been slaughtered at home. He would point them to the ruined and bloody walks in Louisville, Baltimore, New Orleans, and other places, and to the general destruction of sympathy between man and his brother. In the two short years of its existence it had done more for the advancement of the holy Catholic religion, than the church, through its ministers, could have done in twenty years. He concluded by vindicating the rights of the South.

10,000 copies of the report of the Superintendent of the Coast Survey were ordered to be printed. Adjourned till Friday.

☞ Died at Wiscasset, Me., on the 5th inst., the Hon. Moses Carleton, having in October last reached the age of ninety years. He survived his wife, who was ninety-three at her death, only one short month. He was betrothed at seventeen, and married to her at twenty-one years of age, and they lived most happily and affectionately together, through many changes and afflictions of life, for sixty-nine years. Mr. Carleton was much known in the meridian of his life as one of the largest ship owners in New England. But his prosperity was crushed by the Embargo and the last war with Great Britain. He was one of the Councillors of Gov. Gerry. In his adversity he became a farmer, and worked most industriously with his own hands, even to the last of his protracted life.

FAMILY NEWSPAPER

IN

NEW-ENGLAND.

Only FORTY CENTS a Year for a First Class Weekly paper. Astonishing rates for Clubs.

The Dollar Weekly Mirror,

Published at Manchester, N. H., every Saturday, payment to be made invariably in Advance.

☞ Single Copies only One Dollar. ☜

ONE Year ago the Mirror Establishment was consumed by fire, and the subscription List of the Dollar Weekly lost. Since then the proprietor has been so much engaged on the Daily Mirror and his Mammoth Job Printing Establishment, to devote his attention to the circulation of the Dollar Weekly Mirror. He has now made up his mind to give the Dollar Weekly Mirror a larger circulation than any other Newspaper in New-Hampshire, cost what it will. He is already at it and thinks the Paper deserves it. The Daily Mirror has the larger circulation in the City of Manchester each week, than the other Daily and Weekly Weekly Papers published there, combined. The Weekly contains what is in the Daily, and has, of course, exactly the same elements of success as the Daily, and the success of that is unequalled by any inland Daily in New-England.

The Mirror is Neutral in Politics, but contains just the amount of reliable information upon the subject that every honest man wants to see, and no more. It is a WIDE-AWAKE, LIVE PAPER, brimful of News, City Locals pithy and pointed, in such abundance that its readers a hundred miles off know what is going on, from day to day, in Manchester, better than a citizen who does not take the Mirror. Reports of all Accidents Strange Phenomena, Criminal Courts, prominent Meetings and Conventions, in which our readers would be interested, and the thousand-and-one items of Chit-Chat, Rumors and Personalities that every man, woman and child wishes to know about. Its Editorials will be free spoken and decided upon all topics of general interest, Schools, Temperance, Railroads, Hours of Labor, and Agriculture. To one interested in Horse Flesh it is of great value, keeping its readers posted on the Breed, Point, Speed, Trotting or Running, of all the Chief Horses; descriptions from time to time, of all the Breeds in this Country and Europe, and their performances at Fairs and Races. The lovers of the Horse, Dog, Gun, Fishing Rod will here find a 'Medium.' It is emphatically a News Paper for the Million, and one with which the million only need be acquainted and then they will always take it. It costs us out the Paper and Press Work, and we are determined that it shall be read by nearly every Family in New-Hampshire, and consequently offer the following

Will our friends all over the State interest themselves for us in getting up Clubs, and draw on us for an equivalent. Schools, Factories, Fire and Military Companies, and Villages can easily raise a Club of Fifty, if an energetic man will exert himself to that did half a day.

NOW IS JUST THE TIME TO DO IT.

THE GREAT DISCOVERY.

Many years ago, Doctor Jurleigh Smart, of Kennebunk, Me., discovered that a simple article never before used as a medicine, was a never failing cure for coughs of every description, and an excellent blood purifier. By its use in his private practice, he acquired the reputation of being the best physician in New England, for all diseases of the lungs. After his death, Messrs. Shaw & Clark of Biddeford, Me., obtained a Copy Right from Government, for its exclusive manufacture, and now have it carefully prepared strictly according to the original recipe. There is no cough that it will not cure, unless the patient is past all human aid before commencing its use! It is called "Doctor Jurleigh Smart's Cough Medicine," and is for sale by all apothecaries. on27 TuTh&Sm

In calling the attention of the public to my list of Magazines and Newspapers; I would CAUTION all against subscribing for Magazines, Newspapers, or other works, to irresponsible and transient persons, or travelling agents; for in nine cases out of ten you will be swindled and cheated.

If you wish to take any Magazine or Newspaper, subscribe of some responsible firm in Town.—Hundreds of dollars are lost every year by subscribing for works of strangers and travelling agents, and by being induced to subscribe by one thousands of contrivances to cheat the public—such as Art Unions, Premiums, Cosmopolitan Art Associations, and various humbugs to gull the unwary. Keep clear of all those, and pay your money to those whom you know to be responsible.

The subscriber has been in the business fourteen years, and will guarantee to furnish any publication as cheap as can be obtained.

LOTTERIES.

The Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn Commissioners to superintend and certify that everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties a thousand miles off are as well protected as if they were present. Another fact the managers desire to call attention to, is, that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, in the sale is there made, in a State where Lotteries are legalized. They draw a Lottery on or about the 10th, 20th, and 30th of each month. All orders received are filled in the drawing next to take place after the communication comes to hand. The price of tickets is always $10—half, $5—quarter, $2.50. No tickets are forwarded unless the money is received with the order. The drawing is upon the principle of one number upon each ticket, and it is so simple that every one can understand it. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $10,000; every prize is drawn—Write your address plain, and direct to

S. SWAN & CO., Atlanta, Georgia.

P. S.—The fairness of our Lotteries can be ascertained by inquiring of any respectable citizen of our state. Jan 3 1y

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.

DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS FOR FEMALES,

Prepared by an old Physician of 40 years experience

THE combination of ingredients in these Pills, is the result of a long and extensive practice; they are mild in their operation, and certain to restoring nature to its proper channel. In every instance have the Pills proved successful. They are certain to open those obstructions to which females are liable, and bring nature into its proper channel, whereby health is restored, and the pale and deathly countenance changed to a healthy one. No female can enjoy good health unless she is regular; and whenever an obstruction takes place, whether from exposure, cold, or any other cause, the general health immediately begins to decline, and the want of such a remedy has been the cause of so many consumptions among young females. Headache, pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, loathing of food, and disturbed sleep, that most always arise from the interruption of nature; and whenever that is the case, the Pills will invariably remedy all these evils. In all cases of painful menstruation, or nervous and spinal affections in the back and limbs, lowness of spirits, hysterics, &c. Nor are they less efficacious in the cure of Leucorrhea, commonly called the "Whites." These Pills should never be taken during pregnancy, as they would be sure to cause a miscarriage. Warranted purely Vegetable, and free from anything injurious to life or health. Full and explicit directions which should be read, accompany each box.

These Pills are put up in square, flat boxes.—Persons residing where there are no Agencies established, by enclosing One Dollar in a letter, prepaid, to DR. C. L. CHEESEMAN, Box No. 4,681, Post Office, New York City, can have them sent to their respective addresses by return of mail.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)

No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston,

AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions; and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for obtaining Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials herewith given, prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANCED SKILL AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

August 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. THOS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

E. E. DYER & CO.

(Sign of the Chinaman grinding coffee.)

141 Washington St., Boston,

SUPPLY the best, finest and purest articles, at lowest Cash prices. Their Stock consists of Teas, Coffees, Chocolates, Allspice, Pepper, Mustard, Ginger, Cayenne Pepper, Nutmegs, Cinnamon, Cloves, Cream Tartar, Saleratus, or Prepared Dandelion Root, &c., &c.

Having every facility for manufacturing and preparing the several articles named, the public may rely upon having them pure and genuine, as they are put up carefully, bearing our name and label, "TREMONT MILLS, E. E. DYER & CO."

To give consumers some idea of our sales, we answer the following scale of prices, viz:

5 lb. Souchong Tea,	1.50	5 lb. Mocha Coffee,	1.00
5 lb. Oolong "	1.75	5 lb. Java "	90
5 lb. Y. Hyson "	2.25	5 lb. Java "	1.00

☞ The Spices are put up in ¼ and ½ lb. tin cans, expressly for families, and are warranted to be strictly a pure article, and only need a trial to establish them in public favor.

SPANISH COFFEE.—We would call the attention of customers and dealers to our Spanish Coffee, as an article which is highly esteemed, and gives the greatest satisfaction. It is prepared with particular care, and by a peculiar process of roasting, one pound of this coffee, it is believed, is equal to 1½ lb. of any other.

DANDELION COFFEE.—This article is carefully prepared at our Mills, and put up in packages having our trade mark upon them, and may be relied upon as the best and most approved mixture of dandelion and coffee.

TARAXACUM, or Prepared Dandelion Root.—This article is prepared and roasted at our Mills, is retailed by Family Grocers generally in city and country, and bearing our trade mark, "Chinaman grinding coffee," may be relied upon as a genuine article. The proportion used is about one-half the quantity of coffee. The price is 20 cents per pound, and it is warranted to be the same as that which has been sold for fifty cents a pound by Druggists.

The medical properties of Dandelion are well known, and held in high estimation by all, who use it. This being a preparation of the root, with all its medicinal virtues retained, can be mixed with coffee or not, as best suits the taste, and will be found cheap and economical as a family beverage, one pound of which being nearly equal to two pounds of coffee. It is prescribed by many eminent physicians for invalids, children and aged persons, as a nutritious beverage, and as a remedy for Dyspepsia, Bilious affections &c.

☞ Be careful to observe that all our Coffees have our trade mark, "Chinaman grinding coffee."

☞ To Grocers and Dealers a liberal discount is made, enabling them to supply their customers at the same low rate.

☞ TO CASH PURCHASERS.—Our object being to secure large sales at small profits, we offer inducements which cannot be afforded by those who do business on the credit system; and we confidently invite an examination of the quality of our stock and our prices, as compared with those of any other house.

Prince & Co.'s
Improved Melodeons.

THE OLDEST ESTABLISHMENT IN THE U.S.

Employing Two Hundred Men, and finishing

Eighty Instruments per Week.

BETWEEN 18,000 AND 19,000 of these instruments have been finished and are now in use.

THE latest improvement in our Melodeons is the DIVIDED SWELL, secured to us by Letters Patent 23d May, 1855—By means of this Swell Solo Passages may be played the tone of the Instrument, while the Accompaniment is soft and subdued—Hereafter, all Melodeons made by us, will be furnished with this attachment without extra charge.

Extract from the Commercial Advertiser, July 27, '55.

"Messrs. Prince & Co. could realize a handsome fortune by disposing of rights to other manufacturers to use their new improvement; but as they prefer to make it a feature in their instruments it can only be obtained by purchasing one of their manufacture."

In the last eight years since we commenced the manufacture of Melodeons, we have received in testiment, during which time we have finished and sold nearly NINETEEN THOUSAND. Voluntary testimonials to the excellence of our instruments, from the most distinguished Professors of Music in different parts of the United States, have from time to time been received. Thus far we have said but little, and our advertisements were seldom seen for the reason that we could not supply the demand. We have lately erected one of the largest and most perfect Manufacturing Establishments in the United States, and we now think that we can fill orders promptly. We therefore give one testimonial we have received.

"G. A. Prince & Co.: Gentlemen—The Double Reed Melodeon has arrived, and a most charming instrument it is. It has been played on by Wallace, Dodworth, Wm. Mason, and a lot of others, and they all pronounce it one of the most beautiful toned reed instruments they have ever touched. Very really. JAMES F. HALL."

We are not aware that the above mentioned Melodeons have any particular superiority, those we are daily finishing, and we can assure those who are inclined to favor us with their orders, that they will be furnished with an instrument equally as good. Our Instruments are all finished in Rosewood Cases, and the workmanship is of the very best quality. The styles and prices are—

Singer's Sewing Machines.

THESE celebrated machines are in practical and profitable use in all parts of the civilized world. In all the various trades, and in sewing every sort of fabric, either of cloth or leather, they have been fully tried and approved. Sewing machines of other manufacturers often fail to work, but SINGER'S MACHINES being strong, durable and simple in their contrivance and management. A perfect sewing machine kept employed affords a clear profit of $1000 a year; but an imperfect one is a centre of constant vexation and loss. The great reliability of our machines is one great reason for their unparalleled popularity.

ALWAYS OPERATE PERFECTLY,

MACHINES FOR FAMILY SEWING, of a light and delicate construction, are recommended by other manufacturers. Such machines are made to catch the eye, not to perform work. It is manifest on the face, that family sewing machines ought to be stronger than any other, because they go into less skilful hands than when sold to manufacturers, and are used for a greater variety of purposes. The machines which have proved best for all other purposes must be best for family use, and they are Singer's. The speed of our machines has never been doubled. No other can compare with them in quantity of work.

☞ New machine of the latest improved style will be exchanged on liberal terms for old sewing machines of our own make, or for operative machines of other manufacturers. Local agents wanted to sell our machines.

N. B. All persons desiring full information about sewing machines, can obtain it by applying for a copy of "I. M. Singer & Co.'s Gazette," a paper devoted entirely to the subject. It will be sent gratis.

ELIHU BURRITT'S PLAN,

Elihu Burritt's has written, and A. Williams & Co. of Boston have for sale, a pamphlet entitled:—A Plan of Brotherly Copartnership of the North and South, for the Peaceful Extinction of Slavery: by Elihu Burritt.

His plan may be gathered from the following extracts:

There is but one way by which the whole nation can take upon its shoulders the total extinction of slavery. That is, by compensating the slave holders, out of the public treasury or the public domain, for the act of manumission.

Let us face the cost of this vast pecuniary transaction at the outset. Would the undertaking devolve a burden upon the nation which would exceed its financial ability, and prove onerous to its population?—Taking all the slaves in the Union, young and old, sick and disabled, $250 per head must be admitted as an equitable average price. Three millions and a half, at this valuation, would amount to $875,000,000; a much smaller sum than England and France expended in the recent war with Russia. Even suppose, what could hardly be possible, that all the Southern States would accept this pecuniary consideration, and emancipate their slaves simultaneously and at once, the annual interest of the whole amount would be $52,500,000 at 6 per cent. This interest would not be half the sum appropriated every year by Great Britain to her army and navy in time of peace. If the population and wealth of the nation continue to increase at the ratio of the last ten years, its ordinary revenue must reach $100,000,000 in 1860, and advance by several millions annually after that date. Thus, if emancipation took effect in 1860, the natural income of the nation would yield about $50,000,000 for the current expenses of the Government, besides the interest of the debt contracted for freeing the country from slavery. With due economy, the people would be burdened with no more taxation than at the present moment.

The Free States ought to be moved by a sense of high moral obligation, as well as considerations of enlightened expediency, not only to accept, but to offer this mode of exterminating that perilous evil which is slowly eating through the life-strings of the Union. It must be confessed that the North participated in the inhuman traffic that planted slavery in the Southern States with all the unscrupulous greed of gain that marks the chattelization of human beings. After the importation of slaves from Africa was suppressed, a vast majority of the people of the Free States, up to 1840, resisted all active opposition to Slavery with more persecuting zeal than the landowners of England manifested against the movement for the abolition of the corn-laws. Pulpit, Press and Platform, from Maine to Missouri, seemed almost unanimous in the determination to silence all agitation of the subject. The few men and women who had the nerve of truth and righteousness to denounce the system as a sin and curse, were branded with obloquy, and regarded as outlaws or fanatics, equally dangerous to the peace of the Christian church and the safety of the nation.—Hardly twenty years have elapsed, since they were mobbed under the windows of Faneuil Hall. Within the shadow of Bunker Hill, at its ever-tide length, they were hunted like felons, and worse than felons, by their own fellow-citizens.

By popular sentiment, commercial partnership, religious communion, and legislative action, the Free States have lived in guilty complicity with the system of slavery from the foundation of the Republic. It is far too late for them to cleanse their garments of the stains of that guilt by the flames and fumigation of indignant emotion. Tears of repentance can only do the work, followed by acts proving it to be sincere and honest. It is in vain for them to plead that the seductions of the slave power were too strong for their love of truth and righteousness; to charge upon the tempter their own lack of virtue. The mother of our race ventured to present this plea in extenuation of her guilt, and to saddle her sin upon the serpent. But the God of justice did not accept it; nor will He in the case of the Free States against the South. Before His holy eyes, before all the civilized communities of mankind around us, their long and aggravated participation in slavery has nationalized it; has drawn it to the bosom of the whole Union as with a cart rope. In view of this vital complicity, the system has been sectionalized, and allowed to cast as dark a shadow on the highest hill top of Vermont as upon the lowest rice swamp of Carolina. Before God and man, the North deserves to be fined heavily for its dereliction of duty to freedom. It deserves it richly, as an act of penal justice to humanity. It should be made to pay its share of the cost of extinguishing slavery, whatever pecuniary expense it may involve.

Motives of enlightened patriotism, as well as of justice and necessity, should unite all sections of the Republic in the annihilation of its only enemy, which endangers its existence, destroys its unity, and paralyzes its influence upon the rest of the world. All the powers of Europe arrayed in arms against the American Union could not subject it to the peril in which it lives by fostering in its heart the everlasting antagonism and weakness of slavery.

Great Discovery at Niagara Falls.—A fine harbor of some two hundred and fifty acres has been discovered immediately above the rapids and below the old Schlosser bar. As much more can be dredged out at a small expense, giving a depth of ten to fourteen feet of water. Heretofore, vessels could only come down, on the American side, to the old store house, some two miles above the Falls. A pier is to be run out above the Goat Island bar for about half a mile into the river, and the upper bar cut so that vessels of twelve feet draft can go through and down to the mouth of the great canal. This discovery has opened a geological wonder to the people in western New York and it will prove a great commercial blessing to that community.—It is expected that navigation will be opened by the first of July for all class vessels.—Boston Cou.

Southern Democracy.—The following remark occurs in a speech delivered by Wm. B. Gaulden, of Georgia, in a recent Southern Convention:

"Away with this cant—I for one am willing to take this world as the Almighty has made it, with his decrees and ordinances; and if there be one decree which stands out in bolder relief than another on the book of nature, it is that one part of the human race must be the slave of the other and that all men are not born free and equal, Thomas Jefferson to the contrary notwithstanding.

Arnold's Vital Fluid

PURIFIES and strengthens the blood by eradicating, through a nice chemical action, the causes of impurities and humors. Hence its power to cure humors that mere medicine cannot cure. Hence its power of strengthening and vitalizing the blood. It turns to a certain extent, the element of which pure blood is composed. It eradicates and cleanses away whatever clogs and thickens the blood.

ARNOLD'S VITAL FLUID

Renders the system strong and healthy, by freeing the blood and stomach from objectionable materials. It nerves and vivifies the system, by furnishing the elements which give vitality.

ARNOLD'S VITAL FLUID

Gives to the system an influence and effect similar to that produced by exercise in the free open air. It exhilarates by strengthening the blood to brighter and better action—doing its work by beginning at the beginning. It is pleasant to the taste, and becomes a favorite whenever known.

ARNOLD'S VITAL FLUID

Removes Biliousness in the most direct and easy manner, by neutralizing the cause. This is the principle of its action in removing illness generally. It neutralizes the cause, by freeing the blood from impediments to its proper fulfilment of its life-giving functions.

This principle of neutralizing the cause is why ARNOLD'S VITAL FLUID CURES HUMORS that mere medicine cannot sensibly affect, and why it cures other diseases

Resulting from Poisons in the Blood, that mere medicinal preparations cannot alleviate. Humors are poisons in the blood, and it is by their chemical action in neutralizing those poisons that ARNOLD'S GLOBULES

are enabled to cure them so that they stay cured.

Vital Fluid 50 cents per bottle; Globules 25 cents per box.

The people of this section of the State will learn with equal surprise and regret, that the nomination of Mr. Goodwin for Governor has been declinated. His nomination was, sometime since, substantially made by public opinion. No better evidence of the will of the people need be adduced than the pains taken to defeat it. What is to be the effect of this proceeding must be left for the future to develop. —Journal.

WHAT IS THE USE?—From the latest accounts the probability almost amounts to certainty, that a new British expedition is to be sent in search of the remains of Franklin's party. There is no hope of finding the unfortunate explorers, although there is a chance that papers and memoranda remain, which may yet be recovered, or at least some trace of personal records. The latest accumulations of knowledge gathered on the spot, which would decay and be scattered in time, may now be found; and this possibility has stimulated the spirit of enterprise to another effort. But the question arises, of what use will the discovery of any such records be to the cause of science or humanity? Who that reads the dreadful exposure and sufferings of the party under Dr. Kane—the probable sacrifice of his own valuable life resulting from that exposure—and who that contemplates the anxiety of the relatives and friends of those who must for so long a time be absent in any such dangerous adventure, will regard the expedition as in any way desirable? It is time to abandon the idea of searching for Franklin or any remains of his expedition. The idea of discovering a northwest passage is also of too little value to warrant the search. It could never be brought into a practical thoroughfare, or made of use to the world.—Portsmouth Journal.

NEW YORK.—Indicrect Doings.—Gov. Clark has gone back to private life, and New York is now under a King. Gov. Clark signalized his retirement by a wholesale and indiscriminate pardon—thieves, burglars and highwaymen have been let loose on us, without a show of reason. The Times, edited by Ex Lieu. Gov. Raymond, who is the head of the Committee on Pardons, thus speaks of this act of the late Executive:—

"Governor Clark has just signalized his retiracy from office by letting out the State Prison a very large batch of burglars, the majority of whom will, doubtless, set immediately at work picking locks, breaking into stores and dwellings, and cutting throats. When the Ex-Governor shall see a report of any of these burglar protegés of his being arrested for robbery, or murder, perhaps he may be satisfied he has been unduly and unwisely lenient.

What the motives of the Governor were, for this extraordinary exercise of clemency, we do not know. Let them have been what they may, such a wholesale jail-delivery, we apprehend, will have the most injurious effects, by holding out the promise to thieves and ruffians, that, though they may be so unfortunate as to be sent to prison, some tender hearted Governor will be indueed to grant them a pardon, and put them in a way of returning to their villanious practices. One of the burglers arrested a few weeks since, for breaking into a store in Beaver street, had been recently pardoned out of the State Prison by Gov. Clark."

HON. JOHN P. HALE.—A correspondent of the Philadelphia Inquirer, in a series of sketches of distinguished men at Washington, gives the following:

"The gentleman in the East room, so surrounded by ladies, is Mr. Hale, the distinguished Senator from New-Hampshire. This gentlemen seems quite unconscious that he is at all amusing, and looks the picture of the profoundest melancholy, while every one within hearing are holding their sides, and be has a dry, solemn way of reproducing the preposterous things he has heard or witnessed, which is irresistible. He embellishes very little, but he brings out the ridiculous points to admiration, and in the most artless way in the world. In the Senate he dashes out his peculiar opinions like fire-brands, little caring where they alight.—The head of the nation as likely to be attacked as the humblest individual, and yet this hilarious temperament has no insensibility, for a kinder heart never beat."

NEW POSTAGE LAW.—The following regulations are made by the Postmaster General, in order to carry out the provisions of the act just passed, requiring prepayment of postage on all transient printed matter, viz:—

1. Books, not weighing over four pounds, may be sent in the mail prepaid by postage stamps, at one cent an ounce any distance in the United States under three thousands miles, and at two cents an ounce over three thousand, provided they are put up without a cover or a wrapper, or in a cover or wrapper open at the ends or sides, so that their character may be determined without removing the wrapper.

2. Unsealed circulars, advertisements, business cards, transient newspapers, and every other article of transient printed matter, except books, not weighing over three ounces, sent in the mail to any part of the United States, are chargeable with one cent postage each, to be prepaid by postage stamps. Where more than one circular is printed on a sheet, or one circular and letter, each must be charged with a single rate.

Morning Chronicle.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 10, 1857.

THE CURSE OF THE SOUTH.

We have so often adverted to the stupid inactiveness of the Southern people, says the Portsmouth, Va., Transcript, in the hope that they would be induced to reflect on their downward course and exert the means they have within their section for the purpose of regaining their position of wealth and independence, that we have almost despaired of effecting any good in this direction. We cordially endorse, however, says the Transcript, the views of the New Orleans Creole, as expressed in the article annexed:

The curse of New Orleans, nay of the whole South has been, and still continues to be, the neglect of home enterprise and home industry, while that abroad has been liberally supported. The stranger is surprised as he passes through a Southern city at the lack of manufacturing and mechanical industry. He recognizes the products of the skill of New England and the Northern States—in our hotels, on our steamboats, on the tables of dining halls, in the parlors and in the kitchens of private families while every article of dress with which the crowds in our streets are clothed shows a similar origin.

The southern gentleman cultivates his cotton or sugar with agricultural implements made in the workshops of the North and sends his crop to market in hogsheads or bales manufactured abroad. His carriage is of northern build, his horses of northern birth—their harness comes from Pennsylvania or New Jersey, and often their food from the valley of the Wabash. He himself is surrounded in his beautiful home with furniture from the looms and shops of New Hampshire and Massachusetts; he eats from ware manufactured in Connecticut, uses Northern knives, forks and even tooth-picks; is clothed from the sole of his foot to the crown of his head, with Eastern fabrics; and, when he dies, a New England shroud envelopes his inanimate form and a New England coffin preserves his lifeless remains. Is there any marvel that such a thing as southern commercial independence has hitherto proved visionary?

The above views are those of the two southern papers named, as they present themselves. It does not appear, however, that these wise papers or their editors have hit upon the true reasons why "home enterprise and home industry" are neglected at the South. It is simply this: slavery is fatal to both; because it connects labor with dishonor and bondage. The South is dependent, say these papers, with one breath. The free laborer of the North, whom they call a white slave, envies the black slave of the South, say they in another.

BUNDLE OF CONTRADICTIONS.

The Eastern Argus publishes extracts of a letter from "Hon. John Hodgdon," who writes from Dubuque, and does not pretend to have been in Kansas, but has seen somebody who has been there.

"A young Kentuckian, a friend of mine, went down to Kansas with $20,000, and brought it all back. The squatters take all their claims at Government price. Outsiders must buy of them. Claims to 160 acre lots, at from twenty to twenty-five miles from Leavenworth, were selling for from $600 to $800 each. My friend went to Lecompton, Topeka and Lawrence. He saw Gov. Geary and liked him much. He admires the country, and is sure it will be a free State. He saw a settlement from Kentucky there. They act and vote with the pro-slavery party, but are all in favor of making Kansas a free State. Actual settlers from the South and North, agree on this point.

"All the trouble in Kansas has been brought upon that devoted territory by the officious intermeddling of northern abolitionists. You may rely upon the fact that it will not be a slave State."

It is merely not our business to unsnarl this tangle of contradictions, in which the writer says that certain men act and vote for slavery,—and yet are in favor of freedom,—and that all actual settlers do so!

The meddling abolitionists of the North, so far as we know or have seen, only meddled to make the State free! and free it will be, says this same writer. If so, they have meddled in vain—for the slavery propagandists tried hard enough to enslave it. And we are by no means sure that they will not be successful yet.

JEWS.—The city of New York alone has twenty synagogues and thirty thousand Jews; about one twentieth part of the population being such. There are synagogues in all the chief cities of the seaboard; two in Boston, five in Philadelphia, five in Baltimore, three in New Orleans, two in Charlestown, and four in Cincinnati.

"It is a fact," says the Bombay Gazette, "that the entire population of Hindoostan does not average sixpence a year for clothing."

DEATH OF AN OFFICER.—Major Dutton, commandant at Fort Mifflin, died at Philadelphia on Monday.

A CHURCH FOR LADIES ALONE.—There is a Presbyterian church in Northampton county, Va., composed entirely of ladies. They are 22 in number. There is not a single male member among them, and of course, as they can have no eldership, they are not not properly an organized church; but these ladies, hoping almost against hope, have persevered in their sisterhood, and they have actually increased in numbers more than many churches with a settled pastor, and the regular ministrations of the sanctuary. The church is called the "Holmes Church," after the late Dr. Holmes of Philadelphia, who was a liberal contributor towards its erection.

Not a church for ladies alone but of ladies, it should read. So it may not be organized, but it, (the women, not the house,) is not the less real and true. Where two or three meet in the name of Jesus, there is he as he said:—and in Christ Jesus there is neither male nor female, so says an apostle, who is commonly supposed to have some true notions on the subject.

The N. Y. Observer says, that Mr. Spinner, a Representative in Congress from New York, nominated Rev. Mrs. Antoinette Blackwell, formerly Mrs. Antoinette Brown, for Chaplain of the House, and that he said she was "a regularly ordained minister of the Presbyterian church." The Observer denies, and probably with good reason, that she is an ordained minister (ministress) of the Presbyterian church.—No Presbytery would ordain a woman.

The Congregational Journal says:

"We have often seen it stated, that she is pastor (pastrix) of a Congregational church, but we hope for the sake of all decency and order it is not true."

She was the pastrix of a Congregational church—preacherix of a large congregation,—and lecturcix all over the country.

☞ The Anti-Slavery Bazaar, which has recurred regularly for many years, closed yesterday in Boston; it does considerable each year towards supplying the Garrisonian champions with "the sinews of war," it being so-excellent that its enemies can't help patronizing it.

☞ A man named William Dow, residing on the corner of West Centre and Southac streets, Boston, committed suicide by taking laudanum, Wednesday morning. No cause is assigned for the commitment of the act, except that the man has been very intemperate.

☞ The North American Review for January, 1857. No. 174, is before us, from the editor. We have read Robin Hood, i. e. a Review of the Ballad, and a view of the hero, with great gusto—and shall read the Ballad itself with a new interest, for this honorable mention in the North American.

☞ A special dispatch to the Boston Journal, dated Nashua, Jan. 9, says that a fire was discovered, about 7 A. WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

"The greatest natural ornament to the "human form divine," is unquestionably a fine, luxuriant, healthy growth of hair. It has been so esteemed in all ages of the world, and among all nations, savage and civilized. Hence, the Indian brave regards the scalp of his enemy as his greatest trophy. For a similar reason, the fashionable belle often disguises the region of vanity, as well as her other phrenological organs with borrowed locks.

He who should discover a mode of preventing the hair from growing, would immortalize himself. Time by turning prematurely gray, a method by which it could be restored when falling off or turning white, and a way of promoting its continued and luxuriant growth, would be justly entitled to rank among the benefactors of the human race. Read the testimonials of the wonderful, not to say almost miraculous effects of "Professor Wood's Hair Restorative," and see if he has not accomplished all this. [Capital City Fact.

Can afford to be without Mustang Liniment in their house. The many accidents we are liable to, may render it necessary any moment, and nothing is capable of performing such a certain cure. (Extract.)—"In lifting the kettle from the fire it caught and scalded my hands and person severely—one hand almost to a crisp. The torture was unbearable. It was an awful sight. * * * The Mustang Liniment appeared to extract the pain almost immediately. It healed rapidly and left no scar of account. CHAS. FOSTER, 420 Broad street, Philadelphia." It is truly a wonderful article. It will cure any case of Swelling, Burns, Stiff Joints, Eruptions or Rheumatism. For Horses it should never be dispensed with. One Dollar's worth of Mustang has frequently saved a valuable horse. It cures Galls, Sprains, Ringbone, Spavin and Founders. Beware of imitations. Sold in all parts of the habitable Globe.

COURT OF COMMON PLEAS.

FRIDAY, Jan. 9.

The Brick Yard Case, No. 104, Brummell vs. Peaslee & Bryant, was closed by a verdict for the plaintiff.—The sum in dispute was $2400, of which the plff. acknowledged $1300 received. The jury found a verdict for $1100, with interest,—a total of over $1200.

BOARD OF ALDERMEN.—Thursday eve'g, Jan. 8.—The applicants for Jefferson Hall, for Mr. Rafferty's lecture, had leave to withdraw.

Mr. Marden's petition for license for a billiard room, was laid on the table.

☞ The Musical Convention closed with their Concert on Thursday evening—which passed off well. This has been the most beneficial session the Association has had, and was attended by the best chorus of singers. Every singer in the city and county, as well as every teacher, could derive much benefit from Prof. Baker's instruction. We shall report the new board of officers elected, and the other business transacted, next week.

SUNDAY EVENING LECTURES.—Rev. Dr. Haven, of Boston, will deliver a lecture before the P. Y. M. C. Association, at the Temple, next Sunday evening. See advertisement. Dr. Haven's recent lecture before the Boston Association was spoken well of by the Boston papers.

HOUSE HAULING.—The old Meloon House (which was lately sold to make room for the new School Room) left its old location in Court street, formerly Pitt street, and passed by our office on Friday noon, drawn by 23 yoke of oxen, and engineered by John Shannon, Esq. The whole concern turned on the Square very handsomely, and the last we saw of the procession, it was heading westward, under good way.

LYCEUMS.—We do not now refer to any such old fogy institutions as the Mechanics' or even the Mercantile Course—but the Boys' Lyceums we have a word or two to say about.

The Young Americans' Course opened on Wednesday evening last, at Washington Hall—when, the Gazette says, "Wm. H. Hackett, Esq., delivered a fine Lecture on general literature." We were too much engaged with music, to attend, but are told they had a good audience.

Wm. G. Nowell, who was to have read from the poets on this opening occasion, but was prevented, was announced to appear on Wednesday evening the 21st inst.

And, still later, we hear of a fourth Course of Lectures, to be given by the "Granite State Club," which is also composed of very young men. More anon on this subject, perhaps.

☞ Rev. Thomas Whittemore is expected to preach at the Universalist Church in this city next Sunday.

THALBERG, the renowned pianist, gave a Concert in Salem last Friday evening, at a dollar a ticket. Why can't we have him at Portsmouth, as well as Ole Bull, Madame Sontag, and other great musical artists who have favored us with visits?—N. H. Gazette.

We wonder if, in the Journal's opinion, he would "half fill the Temple, at ninepence a ticket?" Satler is at least only second to Thalberg—and yet he has not (in the Journal's esteem) celebrity enough to draw out a ninepenny audience.

And we should like to be informed, wherein the attendants on Thalberg's entertainments, at $1 a ticket, are any the less "dupes," than those who hear playing about as good, with singing to match,—and have besides a chance to carry home a piano, melodeon, or other "desirable gift," for a similar sum?

☞ "Old Boreas" has almost entirely discontinued his practice of stealing our (subscribers') papers, since "Jim's" exposure of his thefts.

GAMBLING.—The Journal of last evening publishes, under the above head, the following old, expressive and truthful couplet:

No rogue e'er felt the halter draw,
With good opinion of the law.

Now as this is doubtless a hit at somebody, we wish to inquire if it has anything to do with the man who bought the ticket in the Printers' Lottery; or if the opinion expressed in the Journal of last week, that the City Marshal should have arrested certain drawers of lotteries, also applies to the individual who, being an Alderman, aided in the drawing of one of the typographical "schemes" referred to.

We are not acquainted with the "rogue" alluded to in the couplet, (though perhaps the editor of the Journal is,); but, although we have not heard of anybody's drawing "the halter," we do know of several who have drawn more acceptable articles, including a couple of strings of fine sleigh bells.

FROM EUROPE.

The steamship North American, of the Canadian line, arrived at Portland yesterday afternoon, bringing intelligence to the 24th ult., four days' later than by previous advices.

The most important intelligence is the fact that diplomatic relations between Prussia and Switzerland have been broken off, and both sides are making vigorous and earnest preparations for war.

The war between Great Britain and Persia is unpopular both in the former country, and generally upon the continent.

The officers of the Resolute have been shown many attentions; on Christmas day they were to dine with Lady Franklin.

Cotton had advanced 1-4 per cent.

Breadstuffs unchanged and not over active.

GREAT BRITAIN.—The war with Persia is not at present popular. The London Times, (usually government,) and the London Press, (Derby's organ,) both denounce it. Many English, and several French papers, think it will cause another war between Russia and Britain alone.

On the 20th, Capt. Hartstein, Lionts. Wells, Stone, Hunter, Davidson, Dr. Macoun, and others, of the Resolute, were entertained at the Admiralty House, by Admiral Seymour, Commander-in-Chief. Mr. Crosby, U. S. Consul, and Chevalier Pappalardi, Vice Consul at Portsmouth, were also guests, with a circle of naval officers. The American officers were afterwards presented to Lady Seymour and family. In the afternoon, the Agents to Lloyds, at Portsmouth, delivered a telegraphic message to Capt. Hartstein, from the Ship-Owner's Society of Liverpool, requesting permission to send a deputation from that society, to present an address.—A reply was returned that the deputation would be received on Tuesday next, on board the Resolute.

On Sunday, the Resolute was visited by some of the officers who went out in her and other ships on the Arctic Search, among whom were Capt. Pullen, Capt Richards and Lieut. Pym. On Tuesday, 23d, a banquet was given to the American officers by the City of Plymouth, being the only dinner they could attend.

The run on the National Bank of Ireland has subsided.

Baron Rocheau, a passenger by the Persia, was arrested at Liverpool for not paying his passage.

There is a decided difference of opinion on the Liverpool 'Change, respecting the amount of the cotton crop. Buyers say there is a large one, while holders maintain a contrary opinion—Stuart's circular estimating 3,300,000 bales, was posted per Persia in the Exchange, but speedily disappeared, supposed to have been abstracted by a holder.

It was reported on 'Change that government was arming all the gunboats for active service, probably for the East.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Serious apprehensions are entertained here that the new British Treaty may be defeated.

A strong opposition to it is springing up among the Southern Senators. The main objections are that it recognizes and establishes territorial rights of a European nation on this continent, that in so far as it nullifies the Monroe doctrine; and finally, that it limits the natural expansibility of our country.

WASHINGTON, JAN. 8.—The testimony before the Committee on Territories shows that there are not a thousand persons in the Gadsden purchase, (Arizonia,) nor enough who can read and write to organize a Legislature.

Treasury warrants to the amount of $1,090,000 were issued yesterday.

☞ On Friday, Rev. Daniel Foster, of Boston, was elected Chaplain of the House of Representatives of Massachusetts.

☞ On Friday, Jan. 9, in Boston, Mass., Charles Sumner was re-elected United States Senator from that State, on the part of the House.—He will doubless be elected, next Tuesday, by the Senate.

MESSAGE OF THE GOVERNOR OF MAINE.—Augusta, Me., Jan. 8.—Gov. Hamlin took the oath of office to-day at 12 o'clock, and delivered his message. He refers to the Presidential election, and states at length the issues involved therein. He declares that the true question was, substantially, whether the advancement of human freedom should continue to be a fundamental principle and a pre-eminent object of our National government, within the line marked out by the constitution, or, whether its powers should be perverted to the extension of slavery. He then rehearses the policy of our fathers, looking to prohibition of slavery in the territories, and briefly states the objects of the Compromise of 1820. He di avows for the Republicans, any design of interfering with slavery in the States, but says they will oppose, in every legal way, its extension over the territories. He speaks of the sufferings of our fellow-citizens in Kansas, and urges upon the Legislature the expediency of contributing to their aid, should the present state of things continue. He considers an implied pledge to have been given, in the late elections, that the present liquor law should not be disturbed at this session, and recommends the ultimate submission of the matter to the people.

In calling the attention of the public to my list of Magazines and Newspapers; I would CAUTION all against subscribing for Magazines, Newspapers, or other works, to irresponsible and transient persons, or travelling agents; for in nine cases out of ten you will be swindled and cheated.

If you wish to take any Magazine or Newspaper, subscribe of some responsible firm in Town.—Hundreds of dollars are lost every year by subscribing for works of strangers and travelling agents, and by being induced to subscribe by the thousands of contrivances to cheat the public—such as Art Unions, Premiums, Cosmopolitan Art Associations, and various humbugs to gull the unwary. Keep clear of all these, and pay your money to those whom you know to be responsible.

LOTTERIES.
The Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn Commissioners to superintend and certify that everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties a thousand miles off are as well protected as if they were present. Another fact the managers desire to call attention to, is, that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the sale is there made, in a State where Lotteries are legalized. They draw a Lottery on or about the 10th, 20th, and 30th of each month. All orders received are filled in the drawing next to take place after the communication comes to hand. The price of tickets is always $10—half, $5—quarter, $2.50. No tickets are forwarded unless the money is received with the order. The drawing is upon the principle of one number upon each ticket, and it is so simple that every one can understand it. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $50 to $9,000; every prize is drawn.—Write your address plain, and direct to
S. SWAN & CO., Atlanta, Georgia.
P. S.—The fairness of our Lotteries can be ascertained by inquiring of any respectable citizen of our state. Jan 3 1y

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.
DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS FOR FEMALES,
Prepared by an old Physician of 40 years experience.
THE combination of ingredients in these Pills, is the result of a long and extensive practice; they are mild in their operation, and certain to restoring nature to its proper channel. In every instance have the Pills proved successful. They are certain to open those obstructions to which females are liable, and bring nature into its proper channel, whereby health is restored, and the pale and deathly countenance changed to a healthy one. No female can enjoy good health unless she is regular; and whenever an obstruction takes place, whether from exposure, cold, or any other cause, the general health immediately begins to decline, and the want of such a remedy has been the cause of so many consumptions among young females. Headache, pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, loathing of food, and disturbed sleep, that most always arise from the interruption of nature; and whenever that is the case, the Pills will invariably remedy all these evils. In all cases of painful menstruation, or nervous and spinal affections in the back and limbs, lowness of spirits, hysterics, &c. Nor are they less efficacious in the cure of Leucorrhœa, commonly called the "Whites." These Pills should never be taken during pregnancy, as they would be sure to cause a premature miscarriage. Warranted purely Vegetable, and free from anything injurious to life or health. Full and explicit directions which should be read, accompany each box.
These Pills are put up in square, flat boxes.—Persons residing where there are no Agencies established, by enclosing One Dollar in a letter, prepaid, to Dr. C. L. Cheeseman, Box No. 4,531, Post Office, New York City, can have them sent to their respective addresses by return of mail.

A replevin was served on the defendant, and he gave a bond that the negro boy should be forthcoming when required by the Court, but (before the Court decided to whom he belonged) the negro ran away. The Court found that he escaped without fault or connivance of the defendant, and the next question is must he pay for him? He is valued at $800.

AYER'S Cathartic Pills,

(SUGAR COATED,)

ARE MADE TO

CLEANSE THE BLOOD AND CURE THE SIDE

Invalids, Fathers, Mothers, Physicians, Philanthropists, read their Effects, and judge of their Virtues.

Headache, Sick Headache, Foul Stomach,

DR. J. C. AYER. Sir: I have been repeatedly cured of the worst headache my body can have by a dose or two of your Pills. Nothing else relieves me so promptly, which they do not at once. If they will cure others as they do me, the fact is worth knowing.

Yours, with great respect, ED. W. PREBLE,
Clerk of Steamer Clarion.

Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints.

PRESIDENT'S OFFICE THE INTERIOR,
WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb., 1856.

SIR: I have used your Pills in my general and hospital practice ever since you made them, and cannot believe they are the best cathartic we employ. Their regulating action on the liver is quick and decided, consequently they are valuable remedy in Dysentery and Bilious Colic. Indeed, I have seldom found a case of bilious fever so obstinate that it did not readily yield to them.

Profoundly yours, M. M. PAGE, M. D.,
Physician of the Marine Hospital.

Dysentery, Relax, and Worms.

POST OFFICE, HAVELOCK, LIV. CO., MICH., Nov. 16, 1855.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the perfection of medicine. They have given me more good than I can tell you. One box had been due me when I called on my medical friend for more. I would not take it for a great deal, but cut it up into doses. Wind off to be divided of great expense, but cut so better. She then commenced taking your Pills, which soon cured her by expelling great quantities of worms (dead) from her body. They afterwards cured her and our two children of bloody dysentery. One of our neighbors had it bad, and I gave him a box of your Pills, which cured him. Many others around us (and from five to twenty miles) praise Pills, and look upon them without being cured literally even them. I believe, as yours, which is actually good and honest, will be gifted here.

GEO. J. GRIFFIN, Postmaster.

Indigestion and Impurity of the Blood.

From Rev. J. C. Hines, Pastor of Advent Church, Boston.

DR. AYER: I have used your Pills with extraordinary success in my family and among the people of my charge in distress. To regulate the organs of digestion and purify the blood they are the very best remedy I have ever known, and I can cordially recommend them to my fellow-citizens.

Yours, J. V. HINES.

WILLIAMS, WYOMING CO., N. Y., Oct. 24, 1855.

DEAR SIR: I have taken your Cathartic Pills in my family, and find them an excellent medicine to cleanse the system and purify the circulation of the blood.

JOHN G. MEACHAM, M. D.

Erysipelas, Scrofula, King's Evil, Tetter, Tumors, and Salt Rheum.

From a Prominent Merchant of Philadelphia, Feb. 4, 1856.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the antidote of all that is great in medicine. They have cured my little daughter of ulcerous sores upon her hands and feet that had proved obstinate for years. I have given them to my family for all they are afflicted with tolerably and plaster on her skin and in her hair. After everything else failed, she also tried your Pills, and they have cured her. I know of many cures by them.

Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and Gout.

From the Rev. Dr. Sprague of the Presbyterian Church.

ALBANY, NEW YORK, SEPTEMBER 4th, 1854.

HONORED SIR: I should be ungrateful for the relief your skill has afforded me if I did not inform you and make it public. A severe attack of Gout, which for a long time held me in its grasp, and which I had reason to fear would prove chronic, yielded to your medicine. I also found relief against its inflammatory Dr. Hackenzie, I also found Pills, their effects were slow, but sure. By persevering in the use of them I now enjoy entire health.

SENATE CHAMBER, ALBANY, N.Y., 5 Dec., 1854.

DR. AYER: I have been entirely cured by your Pills of Rheumatic Gout—a painful disease that had afflicted me for years. I am yours, with gratitude, J. W. TAYLOR.

For Dropsy, Plethora, or Kindred Complaints, requiring an active purge, they are an excellent remedy.

For Costiveness or Constipation, and as a Dinner Pill, they are agreeable and effectual.

Fits, Suppression, Paralysis, Inflammation, and even Deafness and Partial Blindness, have been cured by the alterative action of these Pills.

Most of the pills in market contain Mercury, which, although it may cure, leaves the system worse than before, in a public pill, from the dreadful consequences that frequently follow to immediate use. These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

and for the relief of consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease.

We need not here show the public of such of our Throughout the Union, that CHERRY PECTORAL is the American Balsam, its wonderful cures of pulmonary complaints have made it already known. Nay, few are the families in any civilized country in this continent without some prominent exemplification of its efficacy; and there are communities any where which have not among them some living trophy of its victory over the subtle and dangerous diseases of the throat and lungs. Where the most powerful antidote yet known to man for the fatal debilitating diseases of the pulmonary organs, it is also the pleasantest and safest remedy there is for children to take, and young persons. Parents should have it in store against the insidious enemy that creeps upon them unprepared. We have abundant testimony of its efficacy in croup, and we believe it to be the most certain remedy for whooping cough. Its extraordinary virtues it prevents that these it cures. Prize it by you, and cure your colds while they are curable, for by neglecting them multitudes become the victims of the consumption, which, fastened on the vitals, cuts your life short. All know the dreadful fatality of lung diseases, and all know that the virtues of CHERRY PECTORAL have proved to assure them it is still in its power. We have, as yet, no cure, but it is greatly in the power of the most perfect remedy, and the best we can give our patients. It will not furnish to their lungs.

Prince & Co's Improved Melodeons.

THE OLDEST ESTABLISHMENT IN THE U.S.

Employing Two Hundred Men, and finishing

Eighty Instruments per Week.

BETWEEN 18,000 AND 19,000 of these instruments have been finished and are now in use.

THE latest improvement in our Melodeons is the DIVIDED SWELL, secured to us by Letters Patent 22d May, 1855.—By means of this Swell Solo Pressure may be played with the full power of the instrument, while the Accompaniment is soft and subdued.—Heretofore, melodeons made to order, will be furnished with this attachment without extra charge.

Extract from the Commercial Advertiser, July 27, '55.

"Messrs. Prince & Co. could realize a handsome fortune by disposing of rights to other manufacturers to use their improvements; but they prefer to make it a feature in their Instruments, it can only be obtained by purchasing one of their manufactory." Price $250.

It is now eight years since we commenced the manufacture of the new celebrated Musical Instrument, during which time we have finished and sold nearly TWO THOUSAND PIANOS. Voluntary testimonials to the excellence of our instruments, from the most distinguished Professors of Music in different parts of the United States, have from time to time been received. Thus far we have sold but little, and our advertisements were seldom seen for the reason that we could not supply the demand. We have lately erected one of the largest and most perfect Manufacturing Establishments in the United States, and we now think that we can fill orders promptly. We therefore give one testimonial we have received.

New York, 16th Oct., 1855.

"G. A. Prince & Co.: Gentlemen—the Double Reed Melodeon has arrived, and a most charming instrument it is. It has been played on by Willlace, Dodt, Hodges, Wm. Mason, and a host of others, and they all pronounce it one of the most beautiful toned reed instruments they have ever touched. Very truly, ALEXS. W. RAVN."

We are not aware that the above mentioned Melodeon is in any particular superior to those we are daily finishing, and we can assure those who are about to favor us with their orders, that they will be furnished with an instrument equally as good. Our Instruments are all finished in the manner and the workmanship is of the very best quality. The styles and prices are—

Four octave Melodeon, from C to C $45
Four and a half octave, C to F 70

Singer's Sewing Machines.

THESE celebrated machines are in practical and profitable use in all parts of the civilized world. In family use they are found to sew every sort of fabric, either of cloth or leather, they have been fully tried and approved. Sewing machines of other manufacturers often fail to work, but these never fail to work.

ALWAYS OPERATE PERFECTLY,

being strong, durable and complete in contrivance and workmanship. A perfect sewing machine that will last a lifetime, instead of a few months or a year; but an imperfect one is a cause of constant vexation and loss. The entire satisfaction of our machines is one great reason for their unparalleled popularity.

MACHINES FOR FAMILY SEWING,

of a full and delicate construction, are recommended by other manufacturers. Such machines are made to catch the eye, not to perform substantial work. The truth is, family sewing machines are the strongest and most durable, because they go into less skillful hands than when sold to manufacturers, and are used for a greater variety of work. The machines which have proved best for all other purposes must be best for family use, and they are Singer's. The great of our machines has lately been doubled. No other can compare with them in quantity of work.

☞ New machine of the latest improved style will be exchanged on liberal terms for old sewing machines of our own make, or for operative machines of other manufacturers. Local Agents wanted to sell our machines.

N. B.—All persons desiring full information about sewing machines, can obtain it by applying for a copy of "I. M. Singer & Co.'s Gazette," a paper devoted entirely to the subject. It will be sent gratis. I. M. SINGER & CO.,

'Have you any thick little boy's outside overcoats?' said Mrs. Partington, as she entered the 'Rotundity' at Oak Hall, as she called it. The young man in attendance smilingly asked her how thick the little boy was. She looked at him a moment, and seeing he didn't know any better, she explained that it was a thick coat she wanted for Ike.—'Would you like a Raglan?' said he, taking up a coat thus denominated. 'Raglan!' replied she, with a tone of astonishment, 'no, I want a new one; this is rag enough without any more,' pointing to the garment worn by the boy, that showed sundry fringes that were no ornaments. He explained that it was a name of a garment of the description that she wanted, and uttering a very extended 'O!' she proceeded to negociate. Ike was delighted with the spacious pockets, and when he got home the old lady took out of them four apples, a pint of peanuts, a pocket comb, a 'House that Jack built' handkerchief, a top string, six buttons, a dozen matches, four pieces of slate pencil, a bit of beeswax, and two cents.—Boston Sat. Eve. Gaz.

THE GIRL IN RED; OR THE SERANADE THAT MISSED FIRE.—Cassius M. Clay tells the following: During the late political canvass, Burlingame and himself occupied adjoining rooms at the Bates House, Indianapolis. "At a late hour, one evening," says he, 'I was in B.'s room, and both of us were somewhat elated with the popular enthusiasm. We were, as old soldiers are wont to do, fighting our battles over again, when a fine band right opposite to my room poured o'er the sea of night, floods of soul-stirring music. 'Clay, you are honored,' said, B., 'go and acknowledge the compliment.' With due diffidence I excused myself; when, as I had anticipated the band broke forth in strains of heroic melody in front of the room occupied by B. 'I have you now,' said I, 'now give 'em a sentiment.' 'No; you,' said B. 'Well,' said I, 'both together;' so looking arms, with an air of intense dignity, we walked out upon the balcony, and in a faltering voice, I commenced: 'Indiana, Massachusetts and Kentucky—triple sisters—may they ever be true to the family union!' The leader of the band, after a pause, with a thick tongue inquired, 'Who are you?' 'Clay and Burlingame,' said I. 'The——you are,' said he in reply; and then in an undertone addressed to his followers, he concluded: 'Boys, it's not the Girl in Red.'"—Cincinnati Commercial.

A NEW RACE COURSE CONTEMPLATED IN MASSACHUSETTS.—We learn from the Chelsea Telegraph that there is in embryo a new company, to be called the Chelsea Horse Exhibition Company, capital $70,000, to be invested in 100 acres of land, located near or in Saugus. The land is to be the site of a spacious hotel, and a race course, for the exhibition and trial of speed of horses. The names of three prominent citizens have been mentioned as trustees; the enterprise is in good hands, and will not be permitted to deteriorate into an arena for gambling.—N. Y. Spirit of the Times.

THE ARCTIC SHIP RESOLUTE.—The arrival of this ship on the English coast was the occasion of a spontaneous and heartfelt demonstration of good will toward the American people. The municipal authorities of Portsmouth, says the Liverpool Mercury, "lost not a moment in inviting the American officers to a banquet, which is only postponed until the formal duties of their mission shall have been accomplished; and we have no fear that either in the metropolis or elsewhere, they will have to complain of the coldness of English hospitality. It is unfortunately out of the question to expect Commander Harstein or his comrades to accept any of our old world titles or decorations; but every imaginable courtesy which can be agreeable to the feelings of Republicans, ought to be rendered to these representatives of a friendly and kindred nation. We cannot feast them too heartily or too splendidly, and we hope by the time our gallant visitors leave our shores, they will have recieved abundant proof that we Britishers know how to prize the friendship and reciprocate the politeness of our transatlantic cousins."

An enthusiastic member of the Legislature suggests, as a means of demonstrating our reciprocal feelings, that the name of the ship should be changed from Resolute to that of Anglo American.

If the presentation of this vessel, and the interchange of courtesies to which it will necessarily lead, does anything towards bringing the two nations to a peaceful and permanent understanding, it will prove to be a better diplomatist than the inconstant statesmen who have for the last few years been tampering with their country.—Boston Chronicle.

FATHER MATHEW'S FUNERAL.—The funeral of the Rev. Father Mathew, "the apostle of temperance," took place in Cork, on the 12th ult., and was, perhaps, the most remarkable one ever witnessed in that city. The cortege was more than three miles long and took an hour and a half to pass any particular point. It was attended by the corporation and city officers, in mourning, by several dignitaries and clergymen of the Established Church, as well as a vast number of the R man Catholic clergy, with their bishop at their head, and all the Roman Catholic and a great many of the Protestant gentry of the surrounding country. It was estimated that not fewer than 50,000 people were assembled in and around the cemetery on the occasion; and the deepest sympathy was expressed by the greater number of those present, many of them shedding tears.—The Roman Catholic Bishop and seventy priests officiated at the obsequies in the Catholic Church of the Holy Trinity.

CUSTOM HOUSES.—There were 152 Custom houses, some of very modest patterns and others of extravagant character, building in the United States last year, and nearly ten millions of government money was appropriated for that purpose. The Commissioner asks for a million and a half more to meet the expenditures of 1856. The most magnificent of these structures is being erected at New Orleans, that will cost several millions before its completion. It has a foundation, however, that has been gradually giving way since 1851. It has settled 17 inches. May the time come when Custom Houses shall be turned into hospitals for other subjects than decayed politicians—when these Bastiles shall no longer frown upon the commerce and brotherly communication of the world.—Newburyport Herald.

NORTH AND SOUTH.—Senator Clay of Alabama has a bill which he is about to introduce into Congress to repeal bounties on catching codfish. They catch fish north, and catch negroes south; if there was a bounty on negro catchers he would probably support it. The north are as anxious to abolish the duty on sugar, as the south are to abolish fishing duties.—Newburyport Herald.

TEMPERANCE MOVEMENT IN PORTLAND.—If there was ever a time for temperance men to work, says the Enquirer, that time is now. The great increase of intemperance, and all of its consequent sufferings, crimes and misdemeanors, calls loudly upon the temperance people everywhere, to be up and doing.

In Portland, weekly temperance meetings are held, which are addressed by the clergymen and others. And from these meetings will doubtless arise many good results; and though these results may not be immediately perceptible, they will be felt in the steady growth of temperance sentiment, and temperance action.

Would it not be well for our friends in other places to get up meetings, and organize their forces, to war upon the rum demon, and to utter the warning voice to those who are in danger of falling into his snares.

Much, very much, may be done by temperance meetings, the voice of the living speaker, and the gathering of earnest men and women in behalf and in aid of so good a cause. The pledge, too, should not be laid aside. Many may yet be redeemed by its power. And to these meetings some person far on the road to the drunkard's grave, or some one just beginning to sip the cup; or peradventure, some young man who only occasionally takes the social glass, and has no idea of becoming a drunkard, any more than the millions who now fill drunkard's graves, once thought they should; and these may hear the word in season.

A young man said to us within a few days, that the address of Dr. Dwight at the Second Church the other night, made him think as he never thought before. This young man—he would not like to have us give his name—sometimes, he tells us, indulges in the social glass.

Who can know how many that single speech of Dr. Dwight shall influence?—From what we hear of it—we were not able to be present—we should like to see it published and scattered broadcast through the State.

We hope our friends in all the towns will get up temperance meetings. Don't wait for some lecturer from abroad; but call out your own men, your clergymen, your doctors, your lawyers—if you have any who will go for temperance—and do what you can for the good cause.

CONGRESS.

FRIDAY, Jan. 9.

In the Senate, a bill was introduced, to provide for the rights of Government in the use of the Atlantic submarine telegraph. The contested election of Mr. Harlan, Senator from Iowa, was discussed, but no action was taken. A resolution was adopted, of enquiry into the interference of the Government of Venezuela with American citizens occupying the island of Aves, in the Caribbean Sea.

The House passed twenty-one private bills, and was upon the point of adjourning, when at the request of Mr. Kelsey of N. Y., an editorial of the New York Times, of Tuesday, Jan. 6, was read, in which members and lobby agents were charged with gross corruption. Mr. Kelsey, after commenting upon the charge, offered a resolution to appoint a committee to investigate the charge. The truth of the article in the Times was corroborated in a measure by Mr. Paine of N. C., who declared that a member of the House had offered him $1500 for his vote for the Minnesota land bill. The resolution was adopted.

THE CHINESE SUGAR CANE.—This article, introduced into this country within the past year or two, is already attracting great attention in this neighborhood, from the success that has attended its culture in the northern States. It bids fair to supply to the North a source of profit unrivalled by the sugar growing regions of the South. The people are anxious to know about it, and to meet this want, Messrs. John P. Jewett & Co., Boston, have published in a convenient form—price 25 cents—a book containing its history, mode of culture, manufacture of the sugar, &c., by James F. C. Hyde, of Newton, Mass., which we commend to all our agricultural friends.

And speaking about that, our editorial brother Boylston, of the Amherst Cabinet, who has himself tested the practicability of its culture—is disposing of the seed to those who wish to try the experiment.

On Christmas Day a new and beautiful marble pulpit was found in the first Baptist Church, Bangor, (Rev. Mr. Caldwell's) standing in the place of the former desk.

Gen. Wool will soon be recalled from the command of the Pacific division at his own request.

☞ The Nashua Telegraph gives the names of the persons who were burnt to death in the lobby of the City Hall on Friday morning.—They were William Saunders, an American, and two Irish boys, sixteen or eighteen years of age, named John Sullivan and John Hudine. There was no fire in the apartments with in their reach, and the fire must have been set by themselves, whether by accident or design cannot be known. An alarm was given and the fire extinguished, without much damage, but the men were all burnt to a crisp.—The poor fellows were committed for drunkenness; and probably in their drunken imbecility, set the building on fire by matches, which such fellows usually carry to light their pipes.

Thursday forenoon, says the Salem Gazette, a man named John McCarthy, apparently about 37 years of age, was found dead at his residence near the old rubber factory in South Salem. He was seen at the house at nine o'clock, in a state of beastly intoxication, by two men, who, upon entering two hours later, found him dead. His death was doubtless occasioned by exposure and intemperance. Liquor was probably sold at the house where the death occurred, as the wife of the victim had been recently committed for this offence.

☞ A boiler in the lumbering establishment of Ellsworth, Pomeroy & Co., at Minneapolis, Minnesota, collapsed on the 18th ult., and killed the engineer, Charles A. Hayes of Northampton, Mass. Mr. Hayes was one of the machinists who built the engine.

A new brick building in Nashville, Tennessee, which had cost its proprietors $20,000, recently fell in with a tremendous crash, crushing a young man, named Cooper, who was painting the wood work, and seriously injuring another.

A man in Berlin, Prussia, who was laboring under pecuniary difficulties, cut up his wife and two children with a hatchet, and then cut his own throat. The next day a lottery ticket which he held, turned up a prize of fifty thousand francs.

☞ Capt. Daniel Noyes of Pelatow, while cutting ice out of a mill-dam, on the 29th ult., fell over the dam and was drowned.

The Newburyport Herald gives currency to the rumor that the Essex Bar are about to expel three of their members for malpractice and mal-habits.

A DOUBTFUL PATRIOT.—It will be remembered that Col. Titus was quite a hero during the late disturbances in Kansas. He was overflowing with love for the South and fought her battles with reckless gallantry. We presume, however, that his zeal in behalf of the rights and interests of the slaveholders was born of a — consideration in the shape of lands or money. For it is stated by the Kansas correspondent of the Missouri Democrat, that Col. Titus, while in Kansas City, on his way to Nicaragua, drank to Kansas 'a free State!' So much for the sincerity and patriotism of this Southern hero.

We would advise Gen. William Walker to keep a vigilant eye on the renowned Colonel Titus, and be sure to put him in no position of power or influence, or else General William Walker may wake up one of these fine mornings and find himself and all Nicaragua in the hands of the Philistines. Col. Titus—the patriot and warrior of easy virtue—would no doubt sell friend or country any day for thirty pieces of silver. Wonder how many more patriots of the Titus school are left in Kansas?—Richmond (Va.) Whig.

At a distribution of prizes in a German village, a little girl seven years old, whose parents had just been turned out of their lodgings, because they had failed to pay their rent, was asked by the rector—"Have you studied sacred history, my child?" "Yes sir." "Do you know the history of the creation?" "I know that god made all." "Why were Adam and Eve turned out of Paradise?" The child hesitated a moment, and then fixing her eye on the examiner, replied, "Probably they were turned out because they could not pay their rent."

A COLLEGE IN KANSAS.—A meeting has been held at Lawrence, Kansas Territory, to memorialize Congress to grant a tract of land for the establishment of a college in the Territory.

The following gentlemen were appointed a committee to memorialize Congress:

Messrs. Arny, Robinson, Branscomb, Hunt, Fowler, and Brown.

It was stated that Gov. Geary would write a letter to accompany the memorial.

The following gentlemen were nominated and elected trustees of the college:

Messrs. Bacon of Connecticut, Amos Lawrence of Boston, and Mr. Arny of Illinois. In the Territory—Governor Geary, Charles Robinson, W. Z. Roberts, the Rev. Mr. Nute, and the Rev. Mr. Lum, Messrs. Parrot of Leavenworth, Goodenow of Manhattan, Thornton of Topeka, Pomeroy of Osawatomie, and Wakefield of Bloomington.

KANSAS.—Leavenworth City, Dec. 25, 1856.—Whatever the pro slavery men may be elsewhere, they are not despondent of their cause here. They regard the question of slavery in Kansas as so nearly fixed, that Free Soilism, even in the abstract, is nothing short of rebellion. They have just elected delegates to attend the pro slavery Convention at Lecompton on the second Monday of next month. I think they do not relish the dismissal of Lecompte and the other changes made about this time.—True, the admission of Whitfield is more than enough to counterbalance these. Nobody liked Lecompte, viewed as a Judge or otherwise; but then he was too useful an auxiliary to lose. A less warlike policy is advocated here by the more sensible of the pro slavery men, on the ground that everything has been done, which could be done, and such policy would be the safest. That such a course will be followed is by no means sure.

I am inclined to the opinion, from what I see, that the thinking leaders of the pro slavery party have come to the conclusion that their way is clear to get Kansas admitted as a slave State, but that there is danger of its being shortly after turned into a free one. They well know that they are largely in the minority in the Territory.—Hitherto they have not cared for this, since, according to their peculiar mode of procedure, this was a matter of no consequence; but such a mode of managing won't do forever. There is a strong desire to fraternize and assimilate with the more cool and conservative of the Free State men; for conservative men are generally timid, and if Kansas was made a slave State, could, by mild discipline, be kept in bonds. The old bugbear of "Abolitionism," which keeps the poor white people in terrorem in the old slave States, would hardly do here. The people are used to it; besides, it has grown respectable.

The unity and position of the free State party are what is sought to be destroyed. So long as these remain there is a power too formidable and antagonistic for slavery to flourish on the soil of Kansas. By breaking down the dividing lines, and destroying the unity, they may gain many of the selfish and weak in faith, and intimidate others. But a free State party as a party, why, it is dangerous; it is fanatical, it is wild; "it keeps the territory from being thoroughly quieted," according to the language of official bulletins; and so it does; for so long as there is a free State organization, there is something that will and can be formidable to the usurpations and crimes that have defrauded the settlers of Kansas.—New York Tribune.

TOPEKA, Kansas, Dec. 29.—Gov. Robinson resigns to-day, and will leave immediately for Washington, where he will spend the winter laboring to free Kansas. Lieut. Gov. Roberts succeeds him.

The free State Legislature will certainly meet, though one third of the members are in the States, and dare not return.

Gov. Geary desires Congress to remand the free State Constitution back to the people for another vote.

Ephraim Banter, the first tried convict who was at the first days' fight at Hickory Point, has been reprieved by the Governor.

DR. CUMMING OF LONDON.—The following incident in the early history of the Rev. Dr. Cumming as a London preacher, is given by a gentleman familiar with the facts:

Soon after Mr. C. was licensed to preach by the Church of Scotland, he came to London in search of a place to settle—as destitute and insignificant as could be imagined. He had a letter of introduction to a countryman of his own, a baker, living in a plain way, and of small means. After presenting his credentials, he asked him to do what he could for him. "We have a small church," said his friend, "but not a 'baubee' to pay a minister; but as you are anxious to be employed stay a month with us; and I will board you." The young preacher consented, and at the end of the time found himself well liked, but with no salary at present, or in prospect. He was then, no doubt, as he has since proved himself to be, somewhat of a seer in discovering the "signs of the times." "Give me," said he, "the pew rents, and I will be satisfied with them." "The pew rents," exclaimed his new friend, "why they will not find salt for the porridge, man." "I take them," said he.—The bargain remains till this day, and the Doctor's stipend is £6000, ($30,000.)—American Presbyterian.

STILL AT THE TABLE.—The Hon. Mr. Keitt, of the chivalric State of South Carolina, presented a petition from the Legislature thereof, praying for the improvement of a harbor, and the defense thereof by a fort. We are glad to see this. A child who has a lively sense of the paternal bread and butter, has no idea of running away. South Carolina always had this evidence of good sense. It cried, bawled, and threatened, but always came home to supper.—Cincinnati Gazette.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

The greatest natural ornament to the human form divine, is unquestionably a fine luxuriant, healthy growth of hair. It has been so esteemed in all ages of the world, and among all nations, savage and civilized. Hence, the Indian brave regards the scalp of his enemy as his greatest trophy. For a similar reason, the fashionable belle often disguises the region of nature, as well as her other phrenological organs with borrowed locks.

He who should discover a mode of preventing the hair from showing the inroads of curious Time by turning prematurely gray, a method by which it could be restored when falling off or turning white, and a way of promoting its continued and luxuriant growth, would be justly entitled to rank among the benefactors of the human race. Read the testimonials of the wonderful, not to say almost miraculous effects of "Professor Wood's Hair Restorative," and see if he has not accomplished all this. (Capital City Fact

The editor of the Nashua Telegraph has a Hawkes printing press, and works on it himself; and he says the fly-wheel casts, by gas light, a revolving shadow, which is palpably wearing out the floor! Brother Beard, may your shadow never be less.—Boston Herald.

Thank you. But our shadow's wearing away some, though. We believe we didn't say exactly that, however.

The Boston Post also says that we said that that shadow was wearing out the floor. We didn't says "no such a thing." We only said that people not familiar with the operation of these things would be astonished to see it. We still are of the same opinion.—Nashua Telegraph.

LOCAL.

PORTSMOUTH NAVY YARD.—We learn the works in the Civil Engineer's Department have been suspended during the severe weather. The past season, an unusual amount of labor has been performed, and all the authorized objects are in a state of forwardness. The foundation for the Ordnance Store House and Armory is nearly all laid.—The site for the Shell House for loaded shells (which required the removal of some 700 cubic yards of ledge) has been graded,—the Avenue in rear of Lumber Sheds, 13 by 27 feet, has been completed, the Bank Wall finished; in the deep Basin for the Balance Dock, which required the removal of a large amount of ledge at a depth of 30 feet at common tides, has been nearly all excavated. This has required the constant use of the Diving Bell for several months, and blasting by Galvanic Battery. This has been performed with complete success and without the slightest accident, under superintendence of B. F. Chandler, Esq., Civil Engineer.

The permanent foundation for launching ways at Ship House, will be ready for use early in the spring. Over these ship Franklin, of immense dimensions, now on the stocks, is to be launched; and to guard against accident, the foundations have been laid in the most substantial manner and with great care.

The next season is expected to be one of still greater activity; and that as much as possible may be accomplished, the work will be resumed at as early a day as practicable.

R. C. M. ASSOCIATION.—At the annual meeting of the Rockingham County Musical Association held in this city last week, Messrs. Parry, Preston, A. A. Fernald, Geo. Hatch and C. W. Martin, were appointed a Committee to nominate officers for the ensuing year,—and agreeably to their report, the following gentlemen were elected:

President.—John Christie, Portsmouth.
Vice President.—Amos Pearson, Portsmouth.
Secretary and Treasurer.—Frank W. Miller, Ports.

Executive Committee.
Wingate N. Illsley, Albert W. Parsons, Albert A. Fernald, } Portsmouth,
John F. Gordon, J. Henry Folsom, J. S. Robinson, } Exeter,
Eben'r Joy, New Market,
A. E. Poor, Raymond,
Joshua P. Drake, North Hampton,
S. D. Bassett, Salmon Falls,
Albion Parsons, Rye.

It being generally deemed advisable to change the time of the Annual Meeting, from January to some less inclement season of the year,—agreeably to the Constitution, it was voted that notice be given in the call for the next meeting, of the intention of making such alteration.

The Board of Directors were requested to call a Convention in October next, at such place as they may deem advisable. Gentlemen present from Exeter, New Market, and other towns, are desirous of enjoying the benefits of a session, in their respective places of residence; and it is more than probably the next meeting will be held at one of the above mentioned towns.

We have no especial reports or remarks to make of the Convention. The utility of such a school is established beyond a doubt; and the attendance of those of our citizens who do most to promote musical interests among us, proves that they have become popular here.

Prof. Baker is a thorough gentleman as well as a finished scholar in music, and a most efficient, devoted and earnest instructor; and every reader, singer, speaker, and in fact, every breather, could gain valuable hints and ideas from his extended research, study and experience.

Mr. Pearson, to whom is due the credit of getting up the first Convention here, and of establishing the Musical Association, won golden opinions from all who attended the Convention, by the accuracy, skill and taste evinced in his accompaniments. Although somewhat out of the practice of such music as was brought out here,—as any teacher with a full list of pupils must as most necessarily be—yet the tramp chorus and similar broken and intricate pieces, he readily performed on the piano with the best effect, and the arduous duties of accompanist throughout the Convention, he fulfilled in a manner not often equalled about here.

The singers in this region are learning the pleasures and benefits to be enjoyed at these Conventions; and the Rockingham County Musical Association must flourish.

COURT OF COMMON PLEAS.
SATURDAY, Jan. 10.

The verdict for Brummell vs. Peasley and Bryant, was $1273.88.

The case Gordon vs. Merrill, was closed by a verdict for the piff.

The case Collins vs. Smith is now on trial.

Court adj. to Monday at 11 o'clock.

☞ The regular Temperance Meeting will be held this evening at half past 7, in the Temple. — Addresses expected from ministers.

FAST SHIPS.—In October last a trial of speed was made between seven fast sailing vessels, on the passage from San Francisco to Honolulu, which resulted in favor of the ship Sea Serpent, Capt. Whitmore. She made the run in 14 days. The Sea Serpent was built in this city, by Geo. Raynes, Esq., in 1850.

WELLFLEET, Jan. 9.—[By the Cape Cod Telegraph Line.]—Billingsgate Point Light House was undermined on the 8th by the tide, and so badly injured as to be unsafe. The keeper and his family were obliged to leave in a boat, and take refuge upon an island near by, where they found shelter in a fish house, and where they still remain without assistance.

PROVIDENCE, Jan. 9.—Rhode Island Senator.—The two Houses of the General Assembly met in grand committee this morning, for the election of a Senator in Congress. James F. Simmons was elected.

A MEMORIAL OF JOE SMITH.—There fell under our eye, the other day, a three-dollar note of the Kirtland (Ohio) manufactory of false tokens. It was dated twenty years ago, and bears the signature of Joe Smith, and the worshipful Sydney Rigdon, two of the arch Mormons, one of whom is defunct; the other, we believe, still flourishing. We pronounced it a curiosity, but the holder did not so highly value it. Verily, in this case, "the evil a man did lives after him," for the three dollar sham was recently paid by some one in the good city of Penn, to a woman who earns her bread with her needle. If anybody's conscience is pricked, we will gladly be the channel of righting the wrong. The note would form a good "accompanying document" for the Utah petition for admission as a State, when that subject comes before Congress.—Phil. North American.

A young lady in Albany having been insulted a few nights since, by a man who proposed to meet her on Monday evening at the reservoir in Eagle street, her brother dressed himself in her attire, met the rascal and cowhided him in petticoats.

DREAMS.

BY THOMAS F. MOSES.

In the deep shade of night's lone hour,
When hushed is all the world below,
Mysterious dreams assert their power,
To cheer the breast, or bring it woe.

Each night I seek my lone repose
They haunt the chambers of my brain—
And oft some secret they disclose,
To give my else calm bosom pain.

They call down spirits from above,
That sweep their harps with plaintive tone;
My heart responsive swells with love,
And still my spirit feels alone.

Yet 'tis joy to greet the smile,
And kiss the brow and press the hand
Of those that know not care or guile—
The dwellers of the "spirit-land."?

Fond dreams! ye bear me swiftly o'er
The deep blue sea I roam'd in youth,
And guide my bark safe to the shore,
Where still are throbbing hearts of truth:

Ye guide me to the summer bowers,
Where oft in boyhood's day I've strayed;
O'er fields all sparkling with bright flowers,
And rest me in the rural shade.

Sad dreams! ye lead me to the spot,
Where loved ones deep and silent lie;
I call, but oh! they answer not,
And then my bosom heaves a sigh.

Bright dreams! ye show me far-off land,
Where glorious scenes break on my view;
I walk on Jordan's golden sand,
And think I've bid the world adieu.

False dreams! ye fill my heart with joy,
Too gushing for the night's repose;
I wake to know there is alloy
In every pleasure earth bestows.

When such admirable and cheap Spikes as the celebrated Burden's Pressed Boat, Ship, Brad and Countersunk Railroad Spikes, are offered at such low rates as by Blodget, Brown & Co., the well known hardware dealers, of 80 & 82 Pearl St., Boston, there can be no excuse for those ship builders who use a poor article. The advertisement, in our columns, tells a story which should be heeded.

THE GREAT DISCOVERY.

Many years ago, Doctor Burleigh Smart of Kennebunk, Me., discovered that a simple article never before used as a medicine, was a never failing cure for a single of every description, and an excellent blood purifier. Upon use in his private practice, he acquired the reputation of being the best physician in New England, for all diseases of the lungs. After his death, Messrs. Shaw & Clark of Biddeford, Me., obtained a Copy Right from Government, for its exclusive manufacture, and now have successfully prepared strictly according to the original recipe. There is no chance that it will not cure, unless the patient is past all human aid before commencing its use! It is call'd "Doctor Burleigh Smart's Cough Medicine," and is for sale by all apothecaries. e9 7 Tu Th & 6m

If you wish to take any Magazine or Newspaper, subscribe of some responsible firm in Town.—Hundreds of dollars are lost every year by subscribing for works of strangers and travelling agents, and by being induced to subscribe by the thousands of contrivances to cheat the public—such as Art Unions, Premiums, Cosmopolitan Art Associations, and various humbugs to gull the unwary. Keep clear of all these, and pay your money to those whom you know to be responsible.

The subscriber has been in the business fourteen years, and will guarantee to furnish any publication as cheap as can be obtained.

BURDEN'S
Pressed Boat, Ship, Brad & Countersunk Railroad Spikes
ARE well known in the United States, and are conspicuous for their regularity and finish, their unvarying uniformity of size, and for the excellent quality of iron from which they are made, to which may be attributed their rare strength. LOTTERIES.

The Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn Commissioners to supervise them, and certify that everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties a thousand miles off are as well protected as if they were present. Another fact the managers desire to call attention to, is, that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the sale is there made, in a State where Lotteries are legalized. They draw a Lottery on or about the 10th, 20th, and 30th of each month. All orders received are filled in the drawing next to take place after the communication comes to hand. The price of tickets is always $10—half, $5—quarter, $2.50. No tickets are forwarded unless the money is received with the order. The drawing is upon the principle of one number upon each ticket, and it is so simple that every one can understand it. There is no combination of numbers to puzzle the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $30,000; every prize is drawn.—Write your address plain, and direct to
S. SWAN & CO., Atlanta, Georgia.

P. S.—The fairness of our Lotteries can be ascertained by inquiring of any respectable citizen of our state. Jan 3 1y

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.

DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS FOR FEMALES,
Prepared by an old Physician of 40 years experience.

THE combination of ingredients in these Pills, is the result of a long and extensive practice; they are mild in their operation, and certain to restore nature to its proper channel. In every instance have the Pills proved successful. They are certain to open those obstructions to which females are liable, and bring nature into its proper channel, thereby health is restored, and the pale and deathly countenance changed to a healthy one. No female can enjoy good health unless she is regular; and whenever an obstruction takes place, whether from exposure, cold, or any other cause, the general health immediately begins to decline, and the want of such a remedy has been the cause of so many consumptions among young females. Headache, pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, loathing of food, and disturbed sleep, that most always arise from the interruption of nature; and whenever that is the case, the Pills will invariably remedy all these evils. In all cases of painful menstruation, or nervous and spinal affections in the back and limbs, lowness of spirits, hysterics, &c. Nor are they less efficacious in the cure of Leucorrhœa, commonly called the "Whites." These Pills should never be taken during pregnancy, as they would be sure to cause a miscarriage. Warranted purely Vegetable, and free from anything injurious to life or health. Full and explicit directions which should be read, accompany each box.

These Pills are put up in square, flat boxes.—Persons residing where there are no Agencies established, by enclosing One Dollar in a letter, prepaid, to DR. C. L. CHEESEMAN, Box No. 4,581, Post Office, New York City, can have them sent to their respective addresses by return of mail.

A SINGULAR PROCLAMATION.—A Mr. Wm. Smith was recently elected Sheriff of Madison county, Ohio, and upon entering on the duties of his office, made the following speech at the opening of the court.

"Hear Ye. The Hon. Court of Common Pleas within and for the County of Madison and state of Ohio is now in session, and ready to transact such business as may regularly come before it, where the guilty sometimes go unpunished and the innocent unnecessarily suffer, where the honorable Judge stands abashed at the depravity and stupidity of mankind, and where the lawyers cause a perfect and disastrous wreck of your pocket-book, and the Sheriff ready stands with an unrelenting heart to take your goods, your chattels, and all your clothes, and if in the intervals of Courts, there should be any property fall into your hands by any deceased relatives, we again stand ready to put you through."

A few years ago, a man named Macarthy went to a ball at Clavluck, on the Hudson, and was murdered in a row. The affair passed by and was forgotten, till a few days ago, a young man named Cummings, in a fit of intoxication, revealed his guilty knowledge of the murder. Three other persons were implicated by his drunken revelations. The parties were lodged in jail to wait investigation.

AYER'S Cathartic Pills,

(SUGAR COATED,)

SEE SIGN TO

CLEANSE THE BLOOD AND CURE THE SICK

Invalids, Fathers, Mothers, Physicians, Philanthropists, read their Effects, and judge of their Virtues.

FOR THE CURE OF

Headache, Sick Headache, Foul Stomach.

PITTSBURG, PA., May 1, 1855.

DR. J. C. AYER. Sir: I have been repeatedly cured of the worst headache many times by one dose of your Pills, or two of your Pills. It seems to arise from a foul stomach, which they cleanse at once. If they will cure others as they do me, the fact is worth knowing.

Yours with great respect, ED. W. PREBLE, Clerk of Steamer Clarion.

Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR, WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb., 1856.

SIR: I have used your Pills in my general and hospital practice ever since you made them, and cannot hesitate to say they are the best cathartic we employ. Their regulating power is quick and decided, and we can confidently say they are an invaluable remedy for derangements of that organ. Indeed, I have seldom found a case of bilious disease to continue that it did not readily yield to them.

Fraternally yours, DR. CONSTIN BALL, M. D., Physician of the Marine Hospital.

Dysentery, Relax, and Worms.

POST OFFICE, HARTLAND, LIV. CO., MICH., Nov. 16, 1854.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the perfection of medicine. They have done my wife more good than I can well know. She had been sick and pining away for months. Went off to be doctored at great expense, but got no better. She then commenced taking your Pills, which soon cured her, by expelling large quantities of worms (dead) from her body. They afterwards cured her and our two children of bloody dysentery. One of our neighbors had it too, and my wife cured him with two doses of your Pills, while others around us paid from five to twenty dollars doctors' bills, and lost much time, without being cured entirely even then. Such a medicine as your Pills, which is actually good and honest, will be prized here.

GEO. J. GRIFFIN, Postmaster.

Indigestion and Impurity of the Blood.

From Rev. J. V. Himes, Pastor of Advent Church, Boston.

DR. AYER: I have used your Pills with extraordinary success in my family and among those I am called to visit in distress. To regulate the organs of digestion and purify the blood there are the best medicines I know, or ever known, and I can confidently recommend them to my friends. Yours, J. V. HIMES.

WARREN, WYOMING CO., N. Y., Oct. 24, 1855.

DEAR SIR: I am using your Cathartic Pills in my practice, and find them an excellent purgative to cleanse the system and purify the fountains of the blood.

JOHN G. MEACHAM, M. D.

Erysipelas, Scrofula, King's Evil, Tetter, Tumors, and Salt Rheum.

From a Prominent Merchant of St. Louis, Feb. 4, 1856.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the paragon of all that is great in medicine. They have cured my little daughter of ulcerous tumors upon her neck and ears, that had proved incurable for years. Her mother has been long grievously afflicted with blotches and pimples on her skin and in her hair. After our child was cured, she tried your Pills, and they have cured her. SAM. A. MORRIDGE.

Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and Gout.

From the Rev. Dr. Hawkes, of the Methodist Episc. Church.

PULASKI HOUSE, SAVANNAH, GA., Jan. 6, 1856.

HONORED SIR: I should be ungrateful for the relief your skill has afforded me if I did not apprise you of the case to you. A cold settled in my limbs and brought on excruciating neuralgic pains, which ended in chronic rheumatism. Notwithstanding I had the best of physicians, the disease grew worse and worse, until, by the advice of your excellent agent in Baltimore, Dr. Mackenzie, I tried your Pills. Their effects were slow, but sure. By persevering in the use of them I am now entirely cured.

SENATE CHAMBER, BATON ROUGE, LA., 5 Dec., 1855.

DR. AYER: I have been entirely cured by your Pills of Rheumatic Gout—a painful disease which afflicted me for years. VINCENT SLIDELL.

For Dropsy, Plethora, or kindred Complaints, requiring an active purge, they are an excellent remedy.

For Costiveness or Constipation, and as a Dinner Pill, they are convenient and pleasant.

Fits, Suppression, Paralysis, Inflammation, and even Deafness, and Partial Blindness, have been cured by the alterative action of these Pills.

Most of the pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skilful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the dreadful consequences that frequently follow its improper use. These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

and for the relief of consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease.

We need not speak to the public of its virtues. Throughout every town, and almost every hamlet of the American States, its wonderful cures of pulmonary complaints have made it already known. Nay, few are the families in any civilized country where it is unknown without some personal experience of its effects; and fewer yet the communities any where which have not among them some living trophy of its victory over that terrible and dangerous disease of the throat and lungs. While it is the most powerful antidote yet known to man for the formidable and dangerous diseases of the pulmonary organs, it is also the pleasantest and safest remedy that can be employed for infants and young persons. Parents should have it in store against the insidious enemy that creeps upon them unprepared. We do not hesitate to believe the CHERRY PECTORAL saves more lives by the consumptions it prevents than those it cures. Keep it by you, and cure your colds while they are curable, nor suffer them until no human skill can master the incurred lodgment that, fastened on the vitals, sets your life-gauge All know the deceitful fatality of lung disorders, and they know too the virtues of this remedy, we need not dwell upon them to assure them it is still made the best it can be. We spare no cost, no care, nor skill in the process if that secure perfection, and we can afford those who rely on it the best agent which our skill can furnish for their use.

Improved Melodeons.

THE OLDEST ESTABLISHMENT IN THE U.S.

Employing Two Hundred Men, and finishing

Eighty Instruments per Week.

BETWEEN 18,000 AND 19,000 of these Instruments have been finished and are now in use.

THE latest improvement in our Melodeons is the DIVIDED SWELL, secured to us by Letters Patent 22d May, 1855.—By means of this Swell Solo Passages may be played with the full power of the Instrument, while the Accompaniment is soft and subdued.—Hereafter, all Melodeons made by us, will be furnished with this attachment without extra charge.

Extract from the Commercial Advertiser, July 27, '55.

"Messrs. Prince & Co. could realize a handsome fortune by disposing of rights to other manufacturers to use their new improvement; but as they prefer to make it a feature in their instruments, it can only be obtained by purchasing one of their manufacture."

It is now eight years since we commenced the manufacture of this new celebrated Musical Instrument, during which time we have finished and sold nearly NINETEEN THOUSAND. Voluntary testimonials to the excellence of our Instruments, from most distinguished Professors of Music in different parts of the United States, have from time to time been received. Thus far we have said but little, and our advertisements were seldom seen for the reason that we could not supply the demand. We have lately erected one of the largest and most perfect Manufacturing Establishments in the United States, and we now think that we can fill orders promptly. We therefore give one testimonial we have received.

NEW YORK, 15th Oct., 1856.

"G. A. Prince & Co.: Gentlemen—The Double Reed Melodeon has arrived, and a most charming instrument it is. It has been played on by Wallace, Dost, Hodges, Wm. Mason, and a host of others, and they all pronounce it one of the most beautiful toned reed instruments they have ever touched. Very truly, JAMES F. HALL."

We are not aware that the above mentioned Melodeons are in any particular superior, but we are daily finishing, and we can assure those who are inclined to favor us with their orders, that they will be furnished with an instrument equally as good as any that have been finished in Rosewood Cases, and the workmanship is of the very best quality. The styles and prices are—

Singer's Sewing Machines.

THESE celebrated machines are in practical and profitable use in all parts of the civilized world. In all the various trades, and in sewing every sort of fabric, either of cloth or leather, they have been fully tried and approved. Sewing machines of other manufacturers often fail to work, but SINGER'S MACHINES being simple in their construction, ingenuity in contrivance and workmanship. A perfect sewing machine kept employed affords a clear profit of $1000 a year; but an imperfect one is a cause of constant vexation and loss. The entire reliability of our machines is one great reason for their unparalleled popularity.

ALWAYS OPERATE PERFECTLY,

MACHINES FOR FAMILY SEWING, of a frail and delicate construction, are recommended by other manufacturers. Such machines are made to catch the eye, and to perform a substantial work. The truth is, family sewing machines ought to be stronger than any other, because they go into less skillful hands than when sold to manufacturers, and are used for a greater variety of work. The machines which have proved best for all other purposes must be best for family use, and for light work. The sales of our machines has lately been doubled. No other can compare with them in quantity of work.

☞ New machines of the latest improved style will be exchanged on liberal terms for old sewing machines of our own make, or for operative machines of other manufacturers. Local agents wanted to sell our machines.

N B.—All persons desiring full information about sewing machines, can obtain it by applying for a copy of "A Singer & Co's Gazette," a paper devoted entirely to the subject. It will be sent gratis. I. M. SINGER & CO.,

FROM PUNCH'S ALMANAC.

Consolation for Russia.—It is a popular delusion that hot countries are the most fruitful. On the contrary, when you are travelling towards the pole, a mere glance at the head-dresses of the people will convince you that you are more and more getting into fur-life countries.

Propriety in Dress.—Short dresses have been objected to by the prudish; but though the clothes of ladies are now more than long enough, they admit of the very greatest latitude. N. B.—The discovery of the latitude has succeeded that of the longitude.

Philosophy for the Turf.—He who lays wagers, lays golden eggs. The goose did so: and you know the consequence.

Taxidermy for Parents.—If you want to preserve your children, do not stuff them.

Singular Delusion.—A popular preacher received so many pairs of slippers from the female part of his congregation, that he got to fancy himself a centipede.

Obliged to cut his Stick.—When a man draws upon the bank of nature, he first sends in the woodmen with their bills.

Domestic Moral.—Those mammas must regard their daughters as mere dirt, who are desirous of getting them off their hands.

The Hands.—It is quite an error to suppose that filbert nails are more liable to crack than others.

Freemasonry among Animals.—Cats may be said to constitute a lodge when a certain number of them are all tiled.

Libya, summoned from the Court of Chancery for having used short weight, pleads that the waits in Chancery were never before complained of.

The Chaussure.—For those who walk late at night, cork soles are preferable to footpads.

Comment on Aristotle.—A bad dog is like an illogical inference; because he don't follow.

Difficulties on Hand.—The convict question may not be more peculiarly urgent during the prevalence of cold easterly winds; nevertheless we are then especially troubled with bad chaps, and sometimes find it a hard matter to get rid of them.

Quite Natural.—Naturalists, when they write, are in the habit of recording such wonderful things, that one would imagine they labored under the idea that, instead of a Natural History, they were writing a History for Naturals!

Conversational Delicacy.—Never mention Michaelmas Day to a goose.

Poetry of Nature.—When mist falls upon the earth, and freezes, it forms rime.

Legal Education.—To eat a certain number of terms is sufficient qualification for a barrister. To pass any examination, what do you want but cramming?

Happiness in the Sick Room.—Objection has been made to the statement that such an one enjoys bad health. The fault lies, not in the phrase, but in its application. There is a class of men who live in the constant enjoyment of bad health: they are not, however, the patients, but the doctors.

PLAGIARISM.—Some of our unsophisticated country friends complain of a class of public lecturers, who—unlike a popular city divine, who frankly says, "I lecture for F. A. M. E.,—that is fifty and my expenses,"—are accustomed to turn up their nasal protuberances at the idea of being paid for their services, and yet feel abominably ill used if they are not paid, and pretty roundly too. A recent dialogue between an illustrious Ex-Senator and the chairman of a lecture committee will illustrate the matter more clearly:

Chairman—Col. B., what shall we pay you for your lecture last evening?

Lecturer—Sir, I don't lecture for pay. I have a far different motive.

Chairman—Certainly; we fully understand that. But we cannot consent that you should come to us at your own cost. For what sum shall I fill up a check for your expenses?

Lecturer—You may make it two hundred dollars. But I wish it distinctly understood that I don't lecture for money.

The general reader will be struck with the close resemblance—almost amounting to a plagiarism—between the above and a familiar colloquy in the "Pickwick Papers," which for the benefit of the few who have not read "Pickwick," we subjoin:

"Wot's your usual tap, sir?" inquired Sam.

"Oh, my dear young friend," replied Mr. Stiggins, "all taps is vanities."

"Too true, too true, indeed," said Mrs. Weller, murmuring a groan, and shaking her head assentingly.

"Yell," said Sam, "I dessay they may be sir, but vich is your pertickler wanity? Vich wanity do you like the flavor on best, sir?"

"Oh, my dear young friend," replied Mr. Stiggins, "I despise them all. If," said Mr. Stiggins, "it there is any one of them less odious than another, it is the liquor called rum,—warm, my dear young friend, with three lumps of sugar to the tumbler,"

UNCLE TOBY AT A DISCOUNT.—A lady, whose kindness to animals amounts almost to a mania, was one day sadly annoyed by a blue-bottle fly. Calling her maid, she bade her catch the fly, and without hurting it, put it out of the window. Seeing the girl hesitate to raise the sash, she inquired the cause.

"Why, it rains so very hard,' answered the mischievous creature.

"True," replied the mistress, "put the poor thing in the other room."—Sat. Eve. Gaz.

"OLD BROWN."—Capt. John Brown, Senior, the terror of the Border Ruffians, the hero of Black Jack, Osawatomie and other battles between the people and the ruffianly invaders of Kansas, is at present in Boston. The captain is a fair, slim, eagle-faced old man—fifty-four years of age—but still full of energy, hope and zeal for the cause he has served so efficiently. He is stopping at the United States Hotel. He lost everything he possessed in Kansas—lost it in saving the property of others by driving out the southern highwaymen.

Mr. Higginson styled him the Ethan Allen of Kansas; and the eulogistic name was not exaggerated praise. His exploits in Kansas rival the most brilliant exploits of our revolutionary heroes. At Black Jack, with nine men, he captured twenty-three; at Osawatomie, with thirteen men, he killed thirty-two Border Ruffians and wounded forty-five. His career in Kansas, when it is written, will appear rather the creation of imagination than sober fact.—Telegraph.

THE LIBERATOR commences its 27th volume, with new type. Mr. Garrison says that the number of its subscribers is no greater than it was twenty years ago; its receipts during the last year have diminished, and its number of subscribers reduced. He also says what we suspect few other men can say, "We have never yet published, nor omitted to publish, a single article, paragraph, sentence or word, with reference to its effect on our subscription list." The Liberator ought to be sustained handsomely. It is the pioneer anti-slavery newspaper and very independent. We sometimes have occasion to find fault with its treatment of men who are quite as thorough in anti-slavery doctrine and practice as its own favorites, but the right to speak out boldly is quite as sacred as the right to find fault with bold speaking. No permanent disagreement ought to, or can, occur between men who are seeking the same general end, the freedom of the human race from slavery.—Boston Chron.

POLITICAL LETTER.

SALT RIVER CITY, Jan. 5, 1857.

Uncle Toby:—With your permission, I will attempt to give an imperfect description of this place, and its present inhabitants; for imperfect it must be. My present location is at "Salt River" City, situated at the head waters of the far-famed river of that name. I have now been here about two months, and as I intend remaining about four years, I have felt considerably interested to ascertain what kind of a country I am to reside in, and what sort of people I am to dwell with. I am most agreeably surprised in respect to the character of both; for I had been led to infer, from what had been told me, by former visitors to these regions, that it was a barren, rocky, cloudy, misty, rainy, cold, snowy, inhospitable country; furnishing nothing that could please the eye, gratify the senses, or in any way contribute to the comfort and happiness of man.

I expected also, to find the people a cold, calculating, peevish, querulous, ungenerous, selfish, narrow minded, deformed, homely, old, uninviting class. But these are erroneous notions; and I hope, if any of your readers entertain them, they will dispossess themselves of them at once.

The country is delightful. The climate is truly fine and salubrious. Violent storms are unknown, which, by the way, is not true of the country down river. We have a line of telegraph connecting us with "the land of our birth," and keep "posted up" —and we occasionally hear of tempests at Wheatland, Washington, and various other parts of the country.

The country here is beautifully diversified by hill and dale, and mountain scenery, while prairies extending as far as the eye can reach, are seen, with noble herds of buffalo scampering over them, before the headlong charge of the hunter. Mustang colts are also numerous, and it has been said that "wooly horses" have been seen in the mountain districts. There are numerous lakes, which furnish both luxuries for the table and sport for the devotees of Diana. Game of every kind, except "Buck," is plenty in the noble forests, with which the country abounds. "Brooks" are not very numerous, but we have some fine "Rivers" winding their way onwards in resistless majesty.

But I must leave this description of the country, imperfectly depicted, and give you some idea of the people. There was one circumstance which struck me as somewhat singular, viz., that there were very few old men here. They are mostly middle aged and young; and it really seems to me that they must be rather an old set down river since these left. These here are a fine looking, jolly class, as ever I met with;—none of your long faced, melancholy, blue looking fellows, I assure you. They are not at all cast down, or disheartened, by being sent into temporary exile; for from it; for all with whom I have conversed do not intend remaining here longer than four years. They calculate to go down river again in 1860, and I believe this is the sentiment of all who are here.

We have got the most intrepid captain that ever sailed up this river. He is used to these places with "Salt" prefixed; he once went to Salt Lake, and contributed greatly to scientific knowledge by his visit there. He will pilot us down river in 1860 in a most gallant manner, as he always does every thing he undertakes. His name is John Charles Fremont. He has also a noble chief mate, whose name is William Lewis Dayton. Perhaps you have heard of them; but if you have not, you probably will in the course of the next four years. I was expecting to find a large community of "Quakers" here, but was disappointed—I presume they must have got lost in the fog, on their way up. I think I never heard of a country where the proportion of ladies was so great as here. I think the country down river must be nearly destitute of ladies; indeed, we hear that it is extremely doubtful if "Old Buck" can get one of the fair sex to grace that "White House" into which he is going to move on the fourth of next March. Poor old fellow; I most sincerely pity him, and earnestly hope he will not be obliged to keep "bachelor's hall." It appears to me that those old fellows down there must lead a forlorn, lonesome life, deprived as they are of the smiles and sympathies of the ladies. I do not wonder that they preferred to come up here, for they always will, if possible, go with the young men, and it is perfectly right they should. They most solemnly declare, however, that they will go down river again with us in 1860, so when the poor fellows down there come up at that time, they will still be deprived of their very agreeable company.

I must not omit telling you that Jessie is here with her gallant husband. She has never before accompanied him on his expeditions, but as he was to be absent so long on this one, (four years,) and as she felt so deep an interest in its successful return, no argument nor persuasion could turn her from her purpose of accompanying it.—She is a very accomplished lady, and commands the respect and admiration of all.

I had almost forgot to tell you that Fillmore is here. He feels bad, poor fellow; for he knows he can never go down river again. He does not expect to get anything more, not even a barrel of apples from his old friend, Major Ben Perley Poore.

Yours, SALUS.

NEW GROUND.

A paper in Concord, N. H., which has all along opposed the "Act for the Suppression of Intemperance," now says:

But now, when rum almost literally runs down the streets of our villages, when the law is everywhere disregarded, and when consequently intemperance prevails to a greater extent than ever before—in this state of things, we hear of no "Temperance meetings," no lecturers on this subject are abroad, no sermons are heard from our pulpits upon it.

In these few lines, there are several statements, some of them important, if true. Let us examine them, both as to their meaning and as to their truth.

The first statement means that drunkenness is fearfully prevalent in our villages: and that it so prevails in consequence of abundant rumselling. This is true; no one will deny it.

The next statement, interwoven with the first, is, that this prevalence of drunkenness is consequent upon a disregard of the law! ergo, if the law were regarded or enforced, there would be less of it, or none at all! This would do very well for a lawman to say: but it comes with a droll grace from an opponent of the law.

A third statement is, that the law is everywhere disregarded. This is not true. $2500 fines paid in Strafford Co.—and a verdict or two of Guilty, in Rockingham—show that somebody moves. That it is frequently violated in villages, and dreadfully in the cities, is very true; and in these spots, is the great increase and prevalence of drunkenness.

A fourth statement is that intemperance prevails to a greater extent than ever before. This is utterly untrue. The drunkenness of to-day, fearfully great as it is, is a small thing compared with the drunkenness of 40 years ago.

Lastly, the editor states, that he hears of no temperance meetings, no lecturers,—no sermons are heard from our pulpits, upon it, &c.

What kind of a church that editor owns or upholds, we cannot say—but all pulpits are not dumb on this subject,—nor are temperance meetings so very rare, though he may not hear of them.

Friends of temperance, ministers especially, may take a few valuable hints from these extracts. They can preach on temperance now, taking a text from Proverbs, and their sermon from the story of the three drunkards burnt to death in Nashua, with the almost destruction of the town-house by their means! If Nashua chooses to disregard the laws, she can make a burnt offering of her drunkards, an altar of her town-house, and throw in a few widows and orphans for fuel. Any other town can do the same.

PRINTER'S FESTIVAL—FRANKLIN'S BIRTHDAY.—The Printers of Manchester wish to unite with their fellow craftsmen throughout the State in celebrating the approaching anniversary of the Birthday of Benjamin Franklin, by a social and festive gathering. To this end they cordially invite all to meet them and participate in a Supper to be given at the City Hotel, in Manchester, Saturday evening, Jan. 17, 1857.—They extend this invitation to each and every member of the craft in New Hampshire.

The Manchester people know how to do up these things—and will surely not fail of a grand time, worthy the event they celebrate.

Wilson G. Baker was convicted, a year or so ago at St. Louis, of maiming the German doctor, Hoffman, a gay gentleman who pursued Baker's wife. Baker was sentenced to the penitentiary for five years, but the case was appealed to the supreme court, which has just affirmed the decision of the St. Louis court; and the sheriff was taking Baker to the prison at Jefferson on Saturday, when he passed Mrs. Baker on the road returning from the governor with a pardon for the prisoner.

Capt. Manning, a retired naval officer, residing in Charlestown, Virginia, fell into the fire and was burnt to death, last week.

TO MY SOUL.

BY ALBERT LAIGHTON.

Guest from a holier world,
O tell me where the peaceful vallies lie!
Dove in the ark of life, when thou shalt fly,
Where will thy wings be furled?

Where is thy native nest?
Where the green pastures that the blessed roam?
Impatient dweller in thy clay built home,
Where is the heavenly rest?

On some immortal shore—
Some realm away from earth and time, I know;
A land of bloom, where living waters flow,
And grief comes nevermore.

Faith turns my eyes above;
Day fills with floods of light the boundless skies;
Night watches calmly with her starry eyes
All tremulous with love.

And as entranced I gaze,
Sweet music floats to me from distant lyres;
I see a temple, round whose golden spires
Unearthly glory plays!

Within those azure deeps
I fix thy home—a mansion kept for thee
Within the Father's house, whose noiseless key Kind Death, the warder, keeps.

—[Home Journal.

OUR SISTER.

The following beautiful lines are from a late number of the Louisville Journal. It is seldom the pen traces words so touching and sweet:

She hath caught the fair splendor,
She hath heard the low, tender,
Melodious warble at Heaven's high gate.
And she says—"I am weary!
The night time is dreary—
Dear Saviour, that lov'st me, I know thou dost wait
By the River of Life, at the beautiful gate!"

Her babe on her bosom,
(O, little pale blossom!)
We folded her hands in a solemn repose!
Then fell we a-weeping
For her visionless sleeping,
As the long, heavy night watches drew to a close;
And we left her with death, in lovely repose.

EMMA ALICE BROWN.

A NEW BOOK BY MRS. HENTZ.—Mr. F. B. Peterson of Philadelphia, has in press, and to be published on Saturday, January 31st, a new book, entitled Love After Marriage; and thirteen other choice Nouvellettes of the Heart, by Mrs. Caroline Lee Hentz, author of "Linda," "Rena," "Planter's Northern Bride," "Marcus Warland," "Robert Graham," etc., etc. Complete in one large duodecimo volume, neatly bound in Cloth, for One Dollar and Twenty-five cents; or in two volumes, paper cover, for One Dollar.

Mrs. Hentz was one of our most successful writers. Indeed there is not a woman in America, whose tales have been more steadily and uniformly popular. All her works are written with much power, and a classic beauty of diction and grace of style which cannot fail to give them all a high place in the literature of our land. Her characters have a fascinating originality, marked peculiarities, and an air of truth about them. They are real life, and throughout the exciting interest of her stories, retain this truth to life character—making one ready to exclaim "I have seen just such persons" They are full of sweet scenes of domestic love, purity and joy, which win the heart of the reader.

Copies of either edition of the work will be sent to any part of the United States, free of postage, on remitting the price of the edition they may wish, to the publisher in a letter.

LIQUOR SELLING.—The Amesbury Villager says that Andrew Casey, of that village, was tried on Saturday last, for selling spirituous and intoxicating liquors. He was convicted and sentenced to pay a fine of ten dollars and costs, be imprisoned twenty days in the House of Correction, and give bonds in the sum of one thousand dollars to keep the peace one year; from which sentence he appealed.

LAW.—In Newburyport, on Friday night two persons were complained of for a violation of the law concerning the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors, and convicted; and on Saturday last, another, a female merchant, was brought up. She pleaded guilty, was fined $10 and costs, amounting to $25 00, was sentenced to the House of Correction for twenty days, and ordered to recognize in the sum of $1000 not to violate the law for one year.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

The greatest natural ornament to the "human form divine," is unquestionably a fine, luxuriant, healthy growth of hair. It has been so esteemed in all ages of the world, and among all nations, savage and civilized. Hence, the Indian braves regards the scalp of his enemy as his greatest trophy. For a similar reason, the fashionable belle often disguises the region of vanity, as well as her other phrenological organs with borrowed locks.

He who should discover a mode of preventing the hair from showing the inroads of envious Time by turning prematurely gray, a method by which it could be restored when falling off or turning white, and a way of promoting its continued and luxuriant growth, would be justly entitled to rank among the benefactors of the human race. Read the testimonials of the wonderful, not to say almost miraculous effects of "Professor Wood's Hair Restorative," and see if he has not accomplished all this. P. Y. M. C. ASSOCIATION.—The lecture before this association on Sunday evening, was very well attended. It was by Rev. Dr. E. O. Haven, of Boston, on Truth; which subject he handled in a manner quite interesting to his hearers. The singing was very fine, performed by a select choir of 9 male and 6 female voices, under the guidance of Mr. Pearson.

☞ It will be seen that Rev. Mr. Ambler, the eloquent and popular lecturer on Spiritualism, is to lecture at Academy Hall this evening. It may be well to "examine and then" make up your mind on this matter—and now is a first rate opportunity for so doing.

AULD LANG SYNE.—The Old Folks Choir had a fine rehearsal on Sunday evening last—and sung several new pieces they had not tried before.

It is designed to give a Concert here on Sunday Evening, Jan. 25th, which will excel all the previous entertainments of the sort we have had. Also to give a similar concert in Dover, immediately after, in which the old singers of that and the neighboring towns will join.

The next rehearsal is appointed for Sunday evening, Jan. 18th, at 7 o'clock precisely, at Exhange Hall; when all interested are invited to be present.

☞ The funeral services of Dea. Thomas Moses were attended in the Advent Chapel on Monday P. M. The services, by Rev. Messrs. Burnham and Hoyt, were appropriate, and the House was full. A large procession, on foot, followed his remains to the grave.

"WHERE ENVY IS, THERE IS CONFUSION." How true, how apt is this saying, especially is it applicable to the art article of our contemporary, who last week attempted to out-vie the inimitable production of our artist. The editor of that sheet, in a cold-blooded and malignant article, has the audacity to assume that art can be so trammeled as to bring itself down to illustrating a particular subject! Preposterous idea! As well might we imagine Homer writing advertisements for the old-clo' pedlers of Chatham street; Cicero entreating the gaping multitude to buy this nice dress pattern, "warranted all wool;" or Milton exhorting the public to improve its understanding only at Carr's. That Genius may not be bitted, the example of Pegasus is sufficient evidence. True Art comes only by inspiration.

Our artist was highly indignant at the sneer at his engraving, and from a snug corner took a sketch of the artistic critic, which we herewith present to the admiring gaze of the public.

We have heard of persons who could "see through a grind-stone," but have never seen one, though as our rival presents the picture of one, who, he says "it is hinted, is endeavoring to discern the location of the piano and other principal prizes," we suppose there must be such.

If the envious editor could condescend to allow our last to be "an interesting effort, as indicating the undeveloped genius of our engraver," what does he say to the elaboration of the first idea which rose to the top of his imagination, on reading that abusive article, and which we produce above?

His story about the 'monopoly' is all a humbug—as the artist (M. Gringibbomanwanamaccoloileysab) is at present engaged in producing an original historical picture, illustrative of the spiritual excitement, destined for us, and which we hope to be able to lay before our readers at an early day. That he endeavored to tamper with the artist is true, but he with scorn repulsed the base attempt made to induce him to act the traitor.

NEW YORK, JAN. 12.—The Herald says that the Costa Rican government has purchased of Commodore Vanderbilt the steamship Falcon, and is now fitting her out at this port on an expedition against Walker.

CONGRESS.

SATURDAY, Jan. 10.

HOUSE.—The speaker announced that the select committee to investigate the alleged corruptions will consist of Messrs. Kelsey, Orr, Davis of Maryland, Ritchie and Warner.

Mr. Grow said that he had had for two or three weeks a petition signed by fifteen hundred of the voters of Kansas, remonstrating against the right of Mr. Whitfield to a seat as the delegate from that territory. He had been informed that a large number similar to this were on their way. He asked to have read the petition of Gov. Reeder, setting forth reasons for contesting Mr. Whitfield's seat.

Objection was made, and the papers were returned to the Committee on Elections.

Gov. Reeder in his petition denies the right of Mr. Whitfield to the seat, and claims it for himself—setting forth reasons for this assertion. He says he and Whitfield were candidates at two separate elections, when he (Reeder) received more than double the number of legal votes cast for Whitfield. Upon a full investigation of all the facts, the House rejected Whitfield, but refused to admit Reeder. The reasons for this are set forth in the report of the Kansas Invest gating Committee.

Mr. Washburn of Illinois asked, but did not obtain, leave to present and have read the petition of a large number of citizens of Iowa, charging fraud upon the Dubuque and Pacific Railroad Co., in refusing to build that road as provided by the act of Congress granting lands for that purpose.

The bill authorising payment of the schooner Garnet of Massachusetts, of the amount of fishing bounties they would have been entitled to receive had the voyage been completed, gave rise to a long debate involving the propriety of such bounties, when the bill passed by a vote of 80 against 70. Adjourned.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—Bribery Charges.—The proceedings in the House on Friday have caused intense excitement among Congressmen and outsiders, and to-day has been a very busy one. Cliques of members and others have been collected about the hotels, engaged in earnest conversation about the matter, and canvassing for action hereafter.

Later from Kansas.—In addition to the information communicated in Friday's despatch, relative to the contemplated illegal occupation of certain Shawnee Indian lands, by large organised bands of whites, it is believed that, before now, the executive of Kansas has, in response to his suggestive representations to the administration, been invested with full authority in the premises, even to the employment of the military, should fair warning to the intruders prove unavailing. The reservation is easy of access from Missouri, and gentlemen from Kansas, now here, say the rendezvous of the immigrants will be at Westport.

WASHINGTON, JAN. 9.—In the Senate today Judge Douglas presented a petition, numerously signed, praying for a State Government in Minnesota. Mr. Douglas will, in a few days, report a bill authorizing a State Government, and fixing the boundary as provided in Mr. Rice's bill.

The member whom Mr. C. Paine charges as attempting to bribe him in the matter of the Minnesota land bill is from New York State. He alleges, as an excuse, that Mr. Paine misunderstood him.

FROM EUROPE—3 DAYS LATER.

ARRIVAL OF THE ASIA.

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—The Asia arrived at her dock at 10 o'clock. She left Liverpool at 9 o'clock morning of 27th; brings 80 passengers, and upwards of $100,000 in specie.

The Arago touched at Southampton the evening of the 26th.

The approaching Conference at Paris, the difficulty between Prussia and Switzerland, and the affair of Persia and Britain continue to be the main features of interest.

The English papers contain reports of the Portsmouth banquet to the officers of the Resolute.

Hugh Miller, the geologist, was found shot dead in his house; supposed accidental.

Cotton advanced a farthing; breadstuffs unchanged;—trade generally light, during Christmas holidays.

☞ Peterson's Ladies' National Magazine for February, is rec'd. from the publisher, and for sale by J. P. Morse. The frontispiece is "Strictly Confidential"—and both the ladies in the picture are greatly interested in the letter.

☞ Dix & Edwards of New York have published, and Joseph H. Foster of this city has for sale, The Wreck of the Golden Mary, a Christmas Story from Dickens's Household Words.

If you wish to take any Magazine or Newspaper, subscribe of some responsible firm in Town.—Hundreds of dollars are lost every year by subscribing for works of strangers and travelling agents, and by being induced to subscribe by the thousands of contrivances to cheat the public—such as Art Unions, Premiums, Cosmopolitan Art Associations, and various humbugs to gull the unwary. Keep clear of all them, and pay your money to those whom you know to be responsible.

LOTTERIES.

The Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn Commissioners to superintend and certify that everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties a thousand miles off are as well protected as if they were present. Another fact the managers desire to call attention to, is, that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the sale is there made, in a State where Lotteries are legalized. They draw a Lottery on or about the 10th, 20th, and 30th of each month. All orders received are filled in the drawing next to take place after the communication comes to hand. The price of tickets is always $10—half, $5—quarter, $2.50. Tickets are forwarded unless the money is received with the order. The drawing is upon the principle of one number upon each ticket, and it is so simple that every one can understand it. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $3 000; every prize is drawn.—Write your address plain, and direct to

S. SWAN & CO., Atlanta, Georgia.

P. S.—The fairness of our Lotteries can be ascertained by inquiring of any respectable citizen of our state. Jan 8 1y

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.

DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS FOR FEMALES,

Prepared by an old Physician of 40 years experience

THE combination of ingredients in these Pills, is the result of a long and extensive practice; they are mild in their operation, and certain to restoring nature to its proper channel. In every instance have the Pills proved successful. They are certain to remove those obstructions to which females are liable, and bring nature into its proper channel, whereby health is restored, and the pale and deathly countenance changed to a healthy one. No female need fear to enjoy good health unless she is regular: and whenever an obstruction takes place, whether from exposure, cold, or any other cause, the general health immediately begins to decline, and the want of such a remedy has been the cause of so many consumptions among young females. Headache, pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, loathing of food, and disturbed sleep, that must always arise from the interruption of nature; and whenever that is the case, the Pills will invariably remedy all these evils. In all cases of painful menstruation, or nervous and spinal affections in the back and limbs, lowness of spirits, hysterics, &c. Nor are they less efficacious in the cure of Leucorrhœa, commonly called the "Whites." These Pills should never be taken during pregnancy, as they would be sure to cause a miscarriage. Warranted purely Vegetable, and free from anything injurious to life or health. Full and explicit directions which should be read, accompany each box.

These Pills are put up in square flat boxes.—Persons residing where there are no Agencies established, by enclosing One Dollar in a letter, prepaid, to Dr. C. L. CHEESEMAN, Box No. 4,531, Post Office, New York city, can have them sent to their respective addresses by return of mail.

A DIRTY SHILLING.—Bishop Meade, in the Southern Churchman, gives an account of many of the old families of Virginia.—Among them he mentions a man named Watkins, of whom the celebrated John Randolph, of Roanoke, left a manuscript notice. A part of the notice is in these words: "Without shining abilities, or the advantage of an education, by plain, straightforward industry, under the guidance of old-fashioned honesty, and practical good sense, he accumulated an ample fortune, in which, it is firmly believed there was not one dirty shilling." This is very homely Saxon language, but full of pith and point. In Randolph's mind there must have been running same faint reminiscence of the Apostle's phrase "filthy lucre," used more than once in his epistles. Either term has wide application in these days, when the race for riches seems to absorb all hearts, and few men care for the soil upon their shillings, provided only they have enough of them. Yet the wisest of men says that a good name is better than thousands of gold and silver; whereas a few dirty shillings, a few unjust gains, a few sharp practices, will put a leprous taint upon the accumulation of a life-time. It is worth while for any man, before he makes a new addition to his heap, to examine the color of his coin, and keep out the filthy lucre, the dirty shillings.—Christian Intelligencer.

AYER'S Cathartic Pills,

(SUGAR COATED,)

ARE MADE TO

CLEANSE THE BLOOD AND CURE THE SICK

Invalids, Fathers, Mothers, Physicians, Philanthropists, read their Effects, and judge of their Virtues.

FOR THE CURE OF

Headache, Sick Headache, Foul Stomach.

PITTSBURG, PA., May 1, 1855.

DR. J. C. AYER. Sir: I have been repeatedly cured of the worst headache any body can have by a dose or two of your Pills. It seems to arise from a foul stomach, which they cleanse at once. If they will cure others as they do me, the fact is worth knowing.

Yours with great respect, ED. W. PREBLE, Clerk of Steamer Clarion.

Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR, WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb., 1856.

SIR: I have used your Pills in my general and hospital practice ever since you made them, and cannot believe any thing of the kind cathartic equals them. Their regulating action on the liver is quick and decided, consequently they are an admirable remedy for derangements of that organ. Indeed, I have seldom found a case of bilious disease so obstinate that it did not readily yield to them.

Fraternally yours, ALONZO BALL, M. D., Physician of the Marine Hospital.

Dyscentery, Relax, and Worms.

POST OFFICE, HAZELHURST, LYF. CO., MISS., Nov. 14, 1855.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the perfection of medicine. They have done my wife more good than I can tell you. She had been sick and pining away for months. Went off to be doctored at great expense, but got no better. She then commenced taking your Pills, which soon cured her, by expelling large quantities of worms (dead) from her body. Shortly afterwards she was taken down two children of bloody dysentery. One of our neighbors had it bad, and my wife cured him with two doses of your Pills, while others around us paid from five to twenty dollars doctor's bills, and lost much time, without being cured entirely even then. Such a medicine as yours, which is actually good and honest, will be prized here.

GEO. J. GRIFFIN, Postmaster.

Indigestion and Impurity of the Blood.

From Rev. J. V. Himes, Pastor of Advent Church, Boston.

DR. AYER: I have used your Pills with extraordinary success in my family and among those I am called to visit in distress. To regulate the organs of disease and purify the blood they are the very best remedy I have ever known, and I can confidently recommend them to my friends.

Yours, J. V. HIMES.

WARSAW, WYOMING CO., N. Y., Oct. 24, 1855.

DEAR SIR: I am using your Cathartic Pills in my practice, and find them an excellent purgative to cleanse the system and purify the fountain of life.

Erysipelas, Scrofula, King's Evil, Tetter, Tumors, and Salt Rheum.

From a Recording Merchant of St. Louis, Feb. 4, 1856.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the paragon of all that is great in medicine. They have cured my little daughter of ulcerous sores upon her hands and feet that had proved incurable for years. Her mother has been long grievously afflicted with blotches and eruptions on her face, and her hair. After our child was cured, she also tried your Pills, and they have cured her. ASA MORDRIDGE

Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and Gout.

From the Rev. Dr. Hawkins, of the Methodist Episc. Church.

POTLAND HOUSE, SAVANNAH, GA., Jan. 4, 1856.

HONORED SIR: I should be ungrateful for the relief your skill has brought me if I did not report my case to you. A cold settled in my limbs and brought on excruciating neuralgia, which defied the skill of physicians. Nevertheless, I had the best of physicians, the disease grew worse and worse, until, by the advice of your excellent agent in Baltimore, Mr. Brown, I used your Pills. Their effects were slow, but sure. By persevering in the use of them I am now entirely well.

SERGT CHARMER, RATON RANGE, LA., 3 Dec., 1855.

DR. AYER: I have been entirely cured by your Pills of Rheumatic Gout—a painful disease that had afflicted me for years. VINCENT SLIDELL.

For Dropsy, Plethora, or kindred Complaints, requiring an active purge, they are an excellent remedy.

For Costiveness or Constipation, and as a Dinner Pill, they are agreeable and effectual.

Fits, Suppression, Paralysis, Inflammation, and even Deafness, and Partial Blindness, have been cured by the alterative action of these Pills.

Most of the pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skillful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the uncertainty attending its frequently follow its incautious use. These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

and for the relief of consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease.

We need not speak to the public of its virtues. Throughout every town, and almost every hamlet of the American States, its wonderful cures of pulmonary complaints have made it already known. Nay, few are the families in any civilized country on this continent without some personal experience of its effects; and every portion of communities say where which have not among them some living trophy of its victory over the subtle and dangerous disease of the throat and lungs. While it is the most powerful antidote yet known to man for the formidable and dangerous disease of the pulmonary organs, it is also the pleasantest and safest remedy that can be employed for infants and young persons. Parents should have it in store against the insidious enemy that creeps upon them unprepared. We have abundant proofs to believe the CHERRY PECTORAL will cure the early stages of Consumption if prevents than those of cures. Keep it by you, and cure your colds while they are curable, nor wait not them until no human skill can master the inexorable cankor that, fastened on the lungs, will not let go its prey. All know the dreadful fatality of lung disorders, and yet they know too the virtues of this remedy, we need not dwell upon them to assure them it is still made the best in our ability. We spare no cost, no care, no toil to produce it the most perfect possible, and then afford those who require it the best agent which our skill can furnish for their cure.

Eighty Instruments per Week.

BETWEEN 18,000 AND 19,000

of these instruments have been finished and are now in use.

THE latest improvement in our Melodeons is the DIVIDED SWELL, secured to us by Letters Patent 22d May, 1855.—By means of this Swell Solo Passages may be played with the full power of the instrument, while the accompaniment is softly produced.—Heretofore all Melodeons made by us, will be furnished with this attachment without extra charge.

Extract from the Commercial Advertiser, July 27, 1855

"Messrs Prince & Co could realize a handsome fortune by disposing of rights to other manufacturers to use their new improvement; but as they prefer to make it a feature in their Instruments it can only be obtained by purchasing one of their manufacture."

It is now eight years since we commenced the manufacture of this new celebrated Musical Instrument, during which time we have finished and sold nearly NINETEEN THOUSAND. Voluntary testimonials to the excellence of our Instruments, from the most distinguished Professors of Music in different parts of the United States, have from time to time been received. Thus far we have said but little, and our advertisements were solely confined to a few months, and not simply the demand. We have lately erected one of the largest and most perfect Manufacturing Establishments in the United States, and we now think that we can fill orders promptly. We therefore give one testimonial we have received.

NEW YORK, 15th Oct., 1855

"G. A. Prince & Co.: Gentlemen—The Double Reed Melodeon purchased of you some time since, the Instrument it is It has been played on by Wallace, Dodd, Hodges, Wm Mason, and a host of others, and they all pronounce it one of the most beautiful sweet toned instruments they have ever touched. Very resp'ly. JAMES F. HALL."

We are not aware that the above mentioned Melodeon is in any particular superior to those we are daily manufacturing, and we would request those who are inclined to favor us with their orders, that they will be furnished with an instrument equal to the best, we have ever finished, such as in Rosewood Cases, and the workmanship is of the very best quality. The styles and prices are—

Singer's Sewing Machines.

THESE celebrated machines are in practical use and possession of almost all parts of the civilized world. In all the various trades, and in sewing every sort of fabric, either of cloth or leather, they have been fully tried and approved. Sewing machines of other manufacturers often fail to work, but SINGER'S MACHINES being strong, durable and complete in contrivance and workmanship. In purchasing sewing machine kept employed affords a clear profit of $1000 a year; but an imperfect one is a cause of constant vexation and loss. The well established fame of our machines is one great reason for their unparalleled popularity.

ALWAYS OPERATE PERFECTLY,

MACHINES FOR FAMILY SEWING, of a simple and private construction, are recommended by other manufacturers. Such machines are made to catch the eye, not to perform substantial work. The truth is, family sewing machines ought to be stronger than any other, because they go into less skilful hands than when sold to manufacturers, and are used for a greater variety of work. The machines which have proved best for all other purposes must be best for family use, and they are Singer's. The speed of our machines has lately been doubled. No other can compare with them in quantity of work.

☞ New machine of the latest improved style will be exchanged on liberal terms for old sewing machines of our own make, or for operative machines of other manufacturers. Local agents wanted to sell our machines.

N. B.—All persons desiring full information about sewing machines, can obtain it by applying for a copy of "I. M. Singer & Co.'s Gazette," a paper devoted entirely to this subject. Sent free and gratis I M SINGER & CO.

IKE PARTINGTON'S COMPOSITION.

"THE HORSE."—The horse is a quadruped with four legs—two behind and two before. He has a tail which grows to the hind part of his body, that nature has furnished with which to drive the flies away. His head is situated on the other end opposite to his tail, and is used principally to fasten a bridle to him by, and to put into a basket to eat oats with. Horses are very useful animals, and people couldn't very well get along without them—specially truckmen and omnibus drivers, who don't seem to be half grateful enough because they've got 'em. They are very convenient animals in the country, in vacation time, when the boys stick pins into them, a species of cruelty that I won't encourage.—Horses are generally covered with red hair, though some are white, and others are gray and black.

Nobody ever saw a blue horse, which is considered very strange by eminent naturalists. The horse is a quite intelligent animal, and can sleep standing up, which is a very convenient gift, especially where there is a crowd, and it is difficult to hay. There is a great variety of horses—last horses—clothes horses—horse mackerel—saw horse and horse flies—horse chestnut and horse radish. The clothes horse is a very quiet animal to have around the house, and is never known to kick, though very apt to make a row when it gets capsized. The same may be said of the saw horse, which will stand without tying. The horse fly is a vicious beast, and very annoying in the summer time, when a fellow is swimming.

Horse mackerel I don't know anything about, only that they swim in the water, and are a species of fish. Horse-chesnuts are prime to pelt Mickies with, and horse radish is a mighty smart horse, but bad to have standing around where there's children. The horse is found in all countries, principally in livery stables, where they can be hired by the mile, and are considered by them as can get money, a great luxury, especially in the sleighing season. In South America they grow wild, and the Indians catch them with nooses, that they throw over the horses' heads, which must be thought by the horses a great noosance. —Boston Post.

Some of the journals are lecturing Mr. Moses Grinnell, for his extravagance, &c., in giving a party at his house in the Fifth Avenue, the other evening, which is said to have cost some thousands of dollars—but they have omitted to mention the fact that on the same evening, his partner, Mr. Minturn, was at the evening service of the Church of the Holy Communion, and deposited fifteen hundred dollars in the plate, in aid of the Foreign and Domestic Missions.—Philadelphia Ledger.

"Won't you take my word, sir, when I tell you I will call and liquidate your demand on Saturday morning next?" said a delinquent debtor to a dunning creditor, with whom he had sharp words. "No, sir," replied the other, "I had rather you would keep your word."

LATEST FROM THE VINEYARD.—Edward Munroe, Esq., of the New York Express, arrived in this city, last evening, from Holmes' Hole by way of Wood's Hole. He went from Holmes' Hole to Wood's in a schooner, on Wednesday, and from the latter place in a sleigh to the line of the railroad. There were between thirty and forty vessels frozen in at Holmes' Hole, and Vineyard Sound was completely frozen over. From Wood's Hole no water could be seen in the harbor or sound, and nothing presented itself to the view seaward but a wide spread sheet of ice. Nantucket as yet remains icebound.—New Bedford Standard, 10th.

THE EFFECTS OF FRIGHT.—We are informed that about two years ago, Mr. James Thomas of Gloucester, with his wife was on a visit to West Gloucester. When about to leave for home, they missed the train of cars, and started to walk home. The nearest way was across the railroad bridge, a quarter of a mile long, over the Canal River. The bridge was not planked, and is about fifty feet above the water. So great was the effect of the excitement caused by this dangerous feat, that Mrs. Thomas, who was in good health previously, has been in poor health ever since, and during the time that has intervened has not spoken a word. This case has attracted the attention of the medical profession of that town.—Herald.

DANGER FROM COMETS.—Mr. Babinet, a great living French astronomer, says "the idea of a collision of a comet and our earth, detrimental to the earth has been, recently admitted in the work of an author of reputation. I protest emphatically against any idea of a mechanical collision with a comet, which shall be perceptible. I am able now to demonstrate that the collision of a swallow, which, disgusted with life, is bent on suicide, and dashes at full speed against a railway train, of a hundred cars, moved by ten locomotives, would be a thousand times more dangerous to the said railway train than would be to the earth the simultaneous colision of all the comets registered in astronomical calculations.—What is a comet? It is a visible nothing."

At the country seat of Hon. Charles J. Faulkner, of Virginia, a brilliant party was recently held on the occasion of the marriage of his daughter with the Hon. John P. Champbell of Kentucky. Among those who honored the ceremony with their presence, where the celebrated Hon. Lawrence M. Keitt of South Carolina, the eminent Hon. John M. Thompson of Kentucky, the distinguished Hon. Thomas Raffin of North Carolina, Hon. Zedekiah Kidwell of Virginia, and other great men "of whom the world is not worthy." It was emphatically a reunion of the "first families. —Boston Telegraph.

How much easier it is to preach than to practice. The day after Mr. Gloss discharged his clerk for stealing, he sold a hogshead of colored alcohol for French brandy. Mr. Gloss is down on all immorality.

A ladies hairdresser in New York informs his patrons that, owing to his present style of dressing ladies' hair, the charge will be two dollars each time, during the season, after the first of January, 1857. Bridges, in the fashion of Louis XIV, XV, &c., as heretofore, five dollars.

WEALTH.

The idea of wealth seems to be inherent in the human constitution. To acquire, possess, accumulate, enjoy, are some of the most active and powerful springs of action.

There is associated also, with these acquirements and possessions, a feeling of perpetuity; which is proved by the fact that our whole nature seems to undergo a severe shock, when we have been defrauded of what we fondly termed our own.

How much conversation and effort is bestowed on this subject? How much we hear said about the wealth of such and such a nation or individual; and so little do we suspect any self deception in these matters, that we may fail to perceive that there is a gross misapplication of terms, and that what we call wealth should be classed by another name.

I might define wealth, as those gains and possessions which we never can lose.

But the term is most generally applied to perishable objects and materials. For instance, in the late discussions on the subject of Gambling, Lotteries, &c., the idea was elicited that the man who made a pair of shoes had created wealth. Is this so? Is it true that a real permanent value is thereby established? Let us examine this by a proposition like the following, viz.:—If A. B., by making said pair of shoes, creates wealth of the value of one dollar or more, what does C. D., who wears them out, or destroys them, create? Does he not create the opposite, i. e. poverty, so that we have as the result of this problem, a cypher. A box of shoes is of about as much value as a snow drift. The heat of the sun consumes the latter; want consumes the former.

I hold that the same principles may be applied to every form and sort of perishable material, from the live stock of the farmer to the bank stock of the merchant; and that none of these things are strictly and properly wealth; but they should be classed as facilities for the production and diffusion of common necessaries and comforts. According to the amount acquired, so is the ability of reproduction and extension; and herein is abundant motive for all necessary activity, industry, and frugality.

What room then is there for the idea of wealth? I answer abundant room, and I hold that the only true wealth consists in purposes and traits of character, knowledge, correct sentiments, &c. To illustrate this, I allude again to the maker of shoes. He failed to create wealth by the mere manufactured article,—but he did not fail of real wealth, inasmuch as his industrious faculties had been exercised, also his benevolence, in that his ability to make the shoes is made to minister to him who needs them for wear.

Would it be saying too much, to assert that most, if not all, of the vast evils which affect the world, result from the misapprehension or perversion of those wonderful faculties which lead us to acquire, appropriate and enjoy? Are not these faculties too much employed in piling up materials to rot, which might be diffused for the comfort and good of others, and for our own "permanent wealth?"

If the acquisition of knowledge, virtue, &c., were made the great leading aim of the body of mankind, where would be intemperance, gambling, excessive speculation, robbery, theft, murder, and the like?

With these arguments as a basis, I think we can also draw the line between legitimate traffic and the various schemes which are resorted to to dam up resources, and divert them from channels of beneficence.—To test the character of these schemes, we may ask, are they productive? are they beneficially diffusive? are they promotive of the growth of right principles? At what rate should we measure the stock jobbery and money changing of State and Wall streets, in comparison with the untold wealth created by the late dinner to the 1400 poor children in Faneuil Hall?

P. Q.

B. B. Mussey, Esq., one of the old standard publishers of Boston, died in that city January 12. Mr. Mussey, in his business earned an honored and lasting reputation. In all the other walks of life he was an ornament to the circle in which he moved, and his death is both a public and private calamity.

☞ An engineer in the employ of a ferry boat company in New York, was instantly killed on Saturday by having his head caught in the gallows frame and crushed, causing instant death. He had been in the employ of the company many years.

NEW YORK STATE.

At the late special meeting of the New York State Temperance Society, the following Resolution was proposed, among others.

4. Resolved, That the New York State Temperance Society declares anew its purpose to ally itself with no one political party, or to array itself against any other, but to labor to imbue all parties and all men with the principles of Total Abstinence and Prohibition; so as to persuade the drinkers in every party from drinking, and to prohibit the sellers in every party from selling. And to this end we cordially solicit the co-operation of every clergyman, every editor, and every good citizen, of all religious denominations and all political parties.

In the debate,—Rev. Dr. Marsh opposed the fourth Resolution. He said we might pass the Resolution, this Society "will ally itself with no political party;" but if it was a State Convention he would oppose it. We must ally ourselves with a party. If one party adopted our principle, he would go for such an alliance with all his might. This Resolution was useless. He opposed it.

Rev. E. W. Jackson, of Maine, would like if the Society would permit, to say a word on that fourth Resolution. He liked it. He dissented entirely from the views of Rev. Dr. Marsh. The experience of every State, with which he was acquainted, testified to its wisdom. He urged the passage of the Resolution, declaring the absolute independence, under all circumstances, of the Temperance movement, above and over all parties whatever.

He could tell them of a plot, formed at Washington, by leading politicians, to crush out the Temperance reform. Some of our former friends were a party to it.—He spoke of the disastrous course of a leading paper in New York, which used to advocate prohibition, but has opposed it since it became the organ of a new party. It made the heart of many a good man bleed.

As soon as a man becomes a party leader he will betray you. You cannot trust to politicians. They are all alike. From his experience, he would, if he might presume to advise, counsel this Society to pass that fourth Resolution, if no other.

The motion was then taken, and it passed without more than one, if any, dissentient voice.

Senator Brown, of Mississippi, has politely sent us his speech on the Slavery Question, which we have read with close attention. In the last paragraph, the Senator says:—

We mean, Mr. President, to settle this slavery question on a firm and lasting, because on a just, liberal, and constitutional basis. We mean to stop agitation; we mean to give repose to the South, and quiet to the whole country; we mean to rout the Abolitionists and bury Black Republicanism so low that the sound of Gabriel's trumpet will not reach it on the day of judgment! This is our hope; this our prayer; this our confident expectation; but if we shall be deceived in this—if it shall please God to prosper our enemies—if there shall be no settlement—if agitation is kept up—if the South can have no peace—if our enemies have the power, and are resolved to use it in breaking up the Union, and trampling the Constitution under foot—then we will turn to the Senator from New York, the great chieftain of his party, and the author of all our woes, and we will say to him and his infatuated allies, as Abram said to Lot: "Let there be no strife, I pray thee, between me and thee, and between my herdsmen and thy herdsmen, for we are brethren. Is not the whole land before thee? Separate thyself, I pray thee, from me: if thou wilt take the left hand, then I will go to the right; or if thou depart to the right hand, then I will go to the left." If this appeal shall fail to reach the heart of the Senator and his allies, there will be but one alternative left us, and that an appeal to the god of battles.—May Heaven, in its mercy, avert such a calamity!

That is, if we can't destroy all anti-slavery action and speech—we will secede from the Union,—or fight.

We don't believe a word of it;—though doubtless the man thinks so. He may rout abolitionists, and black or white republicans,—and overturn even so many political parties. But freedom and humanity are sentiments and principles,—and therefore he cannot destroy them.

The Senate, and the Union, and the sovereign States, are great powers, no doubt, —but "there be higher than they,"—and to those the oppressed may look—in these the Christian and the friend of Man will trust,—willing to leave the event of revolution, secession or reformation, without fear. Senator Brown tells us the Anti-Slavery feeling has increased in the United States. Even so:—and it is increasing and will increase. When strong enough, it will prevail—that's all.

Anti-Slavery Bazaar.—We learn from the Boston Liberator that the Bazaar has this year been more productive than ever, the receipts being more than $5000.

Arrest of Ruffians.—It will be remembered by our readers that, on Sunday evening, the 4th inst., as Mr. John C. Boyson of Boston, was riding in a sleigh along the Brighton road, together with his wife, daughter, and brother-in-law, the party were assaulted by a gang of four ruffians who attacked Mr. Boyson with a knife, inflicting a severe wound, and likewise assaulted his wife and other of his companions. Monday afternoon, Capt. Eaton, acting upon the information which he had received concerning the actors in the outrage, arrested three men named Patrick Dunn, Thomas Brannon and Thomas Wilson as the perpetrators of the assault. They admit that they had a fight with some travelers on the road, on the night in question, but deny having used any knives. The other one of their party is now at large but probably will shortly be arrested.

☞ Hunt's Merchants' Magazine for January, 1857, commences a new volume, viz. vol. 36, and contains:—Commerce; Montreal: its Trade and Commerce; Removal of Yellow Fever Quarantine to Sandy Hook; "The Almighty Dollar," or Money as a Motive of Action; High Price of Capital and Labor; The Law Merchant.

☞ A New York correspondent of the Boston Journal says, "The present rage of fashions is the high glazed top boots, worn outside of the pantaloons—and drinking lager beer from silver mugs at the hotels.—It is now almost as common as water. The silversmiths make a good thing of it, for silver mugs are in great demand. Our new Governor touches the Liquor Law tenderly in his message, though he has a Legislature pledged to the Maine Law."

☞ The Buffalo Commercial has heard a good thing recently said by Mr. Buchanan in reply to a distinguished politician who had assured the President elect that he wished for no office himself, and had no friend whom he desired to press for a place in the Cabinet. "But, sir," he continued, "I am not sure that I may not wish to keep some man out of it." Mr. Buchanan replied, "It is easier to keep a man out than to get him in."

Peculiar Theft Detected.—The Boot Manufacturers of Hopkinton, Mass., have been very much excited by finding that their workmen have been retaining small lots of stock from time to time, and selling them to certain Jew pedlars and others at a small part of their value. The plan seems to have been to purchase in one town and sell in another, thereby preventing detection.

A man going to the Cordaville depot, Wednesday last, with two or three bags of these purloined pieces, had the fortune to break open one of them. The leather falling out, attracted the attention of the manufacturers about taking the cars, who began to inquire into the matter. The person having the bags said he purchased them of some of the workmen; and being taken back to Hopkinton pointed them out.

The workmen owned up that they had sold the stock. This new branch of the trade seems to have been quite extensive, and a number of men, hitherto respectable, are implicated. The man had stock from Natick, also, and we think the Manufacturers throughout the Boot and Shoe towns will find it for their interest to look after these pedlars.—Boston Chron.

Theft and Matrimony.—A case occurred in one of our Justice's Courts the other day, which had quite a romantic denouement. A young lady residing at some distance from this village, was arraigned on a charge of stealing money. A young man who accompanied her into court, inquired of the Justice if there was no way of averting the prosecution. On receiving the answer that the Justice had no discretion in the matter, but that if the money was returned and the costs paid, amounting in all to about $18, the complainant might possibly not appear against the prisoner.

A consultation was held between the young man and girl, which resulted in the payment of the money by the former.—Another consultation between the two parties now took place, after which the young man whispered something in the ear of the Justice, who immediately commanded the couple to stand up, and proceeded to join them in the bonds of matrimony. Such an exhibition of true love on the part of the swain is deserving of an extraordinary measure of connubial felicity; but whether his devotion will be thus rewarded, the future must determine.—Fredonia (N.Y.) Censor.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

The greatest natural ornament to the "human form divine," is unquestionably a fine, luxuriant, healthy growth of hair. It has been so esteemed in all ages of the world, and among all nations, savage and civilized. Hence, the Indian brave regards the scalp of his enemy as his greatest trophy. For a similar reason, the fashionable belle often disguises the region of vanity, as well as her other phrenological organs with borrowed locks.

He who should discover a mode of preventing the hair from showing the inroads of envious Time by turning prematurely gray, a method by which it could be restored when falling off or turning white, and a way of promoting its continued and luxuriant growth, would be justly entitled to rank among the benefactors of the human race. Read the testimonials of the wonderful, not to say almost miraculous effects of "Professor Wood's Hair Restorative," and see if he has not accomplished all this. [Capital City Fact.

THE SLAVE SINGING AT MIDNIGHT.

BY HENRY W. LONGFELLOW.

Loud he sung the psalm of David!
He, a negro, and enslaved,
Sang of Israel's victory,
Sang of Zion, bright and free.

In that hour when night is calmest,
Sang he from the Hebrew Psalmist,
In a voice so sweet and clear
That I could not choose but hear,—

Songs of triumph and ascriptions,
Such as reached the swart Egyptians,
When upon the Red Sea coast
Perished Pharaoh and his host.

And the voice of his devotion
Filled my soul with strange emotion;
For its tones by turns were glad,
Sweetly solemn, wildly glad.

Paul and Silas, in their prison,
Sang of Christ, the Lord, arisen,
And an earthquake's arm of might
Broke their dungeon-gates at night.

But, alas! what holy angel
Brings the slave this glad evangel?
And what earthquake's arm of might Breaks his dungeon-gates at night.

☞ The five negroes—a grandmother, mother, and three sons, (the eldest 19 and the youngest 12)—who killed their master, the late Geo. Green, in Prince William county, Va., on Christmas eve, were duly convicted, after a trial lasting two days. They are sentenced to be hung in thirty days.

LOCAL.

☞ On Tuesday, Jan. 13, the Rockingham Councillor Convention of the Democratic party was held in the New Town Hall in Exeter, to nominate a candidate for the March election. Thomas J. Parsons, Esq., of Rye, was nominated.

The Senatorial Convention for District No. 2, was also held there on the 13th, and Nathaniel Clark of Plaistow, nominated.

LATER FROM CALIFORNIA.

ARRIVAL OF THE GEORGE LAW.

The steamer George Law arrived at New York on Tuesday, Jan. 13, bringing California dates of Dec. 20. She brings upwards of $1,250,000 in specie.

The Golden Gate left Panama from San Francisco Jan. 1, with the New York passengers and mails of Dec. 21.

The U. S. ships Independence and St. Marys were lying at Panama, and the Cyane at Aspinwall. All well.

Steamer Sierra Nevada left on the 20th for San Juan, with a large number of recruits for Walker. An attempt was made a few days since to sink her at her dock.

The Supreme Court of California has declared the entire State debt unconstitutional, excepting $300,000, and recommends the adoption of the debt by the Legislature, and that the question of repudiation be submitted to the people. No transfer of stock has been made since the decision.

The people are opposed to repudiation, and meetings have been called in various parts of the State to give expression to public opinion. At a meeting in San Francisco, resolutions were passed, pledging the redemption of the debt by the people. The amount is over $3,000,000.

The Court had also decided that a million and a half scrips issued by the old corporation for street assessments was illegal.

FROM KANSAS.—Topeka, K. T., Jan 7. The State Legislature opened here yesterday, and after a short session, adjourned until to-day, as neither Gov. Robinson nor Lieut. Gov. Roberts have been here.

Gov. Robinson has resigned. Lieut. Gov. Roberts is in Kansas, but failed to attend. Much dissatisfaction prevails in consequence.

Yesterday a U. S. Deputy Marshal, under a writ from Judge Cato, arrested seven members of the State Legislature. The writ has upwards of thirty names attached to it. More arrests will probably be made. This is another effort to kill the Free State movement.

Judge Curtis, of the Senate, will deliver a message, as Acting Governor, to-day.

There is an almost unanimous determination that the Legislature shall go on with its work. It is doubtful whether they will be able to do so.

THE AFRICAN SLAVE TRADE.—It appears from a late number of the London Times that from 1845 to 1856 there were imported successively, year by year, into Brazil from Africa, the following batches of slaves: 17,435, 19,095, 22,849, 19,453, 50,324, 56,172, 60,000, 54,000, 23,000.—It will be observed from these figures that from 1842 to 1845 the slave traffic, though apparently declining, was at any rate, stationary; whereas, in 1846 it received an extraordinary impulse, which for four successive years, nearly trebled its result. It is unnecessary to add that this increase coincided with those legislative acts which opened the British markets to Brazilian sugars.

In 1850, however though the sugar trade retained all its freedom, the importation of slaves fell to 23,000—scarcely one-half its recent amount—and in the next year the returns were more remarkable still. According to the papers before us, the figures, which from 1849 had ranged from 50,000 to 60,000, dropped in 1851 to 3287! showing a decline in this nefarious traffic to less than one-fifth of the smallest importation previously known.

The decline arose from a tardy, though sincere resolution of Brazil, to prohibit the trade.

The trade of Cuba in this detestable commerce, though large in proportion to its extent of territory, is absolutely much smaller than that of Brazil. The number of the slaves imported into this island during the ten years specified, were, respectively, 3630, 8000, 10,000, 1300, 419, 1400 1500, 8700, 3500, 500. It will be seen that these figures present a singular and not very explicable contrast to those extracted above from the Brazilian returns, and that they indicate some sources of encouragement and discouragement entirely peculiar.

In 1844 the traffic was exceedingly large; the next year it suddenly decreased by more than four fifths; and in 1846, the very year when the English sugar bills gave such an impulse to the trade of Brazil, it declined to its lowest point, and almost indeed to a nominal extent. Neither did it recover itself in 1847 or 1848, when the Brazilian dealings were so large, while, on the other hand, now that Brazil seems really desisting from the traffic, Cuba shows a very considerable importation—an importation indeed, surpassing for the first time that of her rival on the southern continent.

These figures are calculated to interest and excite the curiosity of the philantrophist.—N. Y. Mirror.

CONGRESS.

MONDAY, Jan. 12, 1857.

SENATE.—The consideration of the Iowa election case was resumed.

Messrs. Slidell, Adams, Fessenden, Trumbull, Toombs and Houston advocated Mr. Harlan's right to a seat; and Messrs. Malory, Butler and Benjamin opposed it.

The Senate adopted the resolution reported by the Committee on the Judiciary, declaring Mr. Harlan not entitled to a seat as a Senator.

Yeas.—Messrs. Allen, Benjamin, Biggs, Butler, Cass, Clay, Comerys, Crittenden, Dodge, Evans, Fitzpatrick, Geyer, Hunter, Iverson. Jones of Iowa, Mallory, Mason, Pearce, Pratt, Reid, Rusk, Sebastian, Stuart, Toucey, Weller and Wright—28.

Nays.—Messrs. Bell of N. H., Bell of Tenn., Brown, Collamer, Durkee, Fessenden, Fish, Foot, Foster, Hale, Houston, Seward, Slidell, Toombs, Trumbull, Wade and Wilson—18. Adjourned.

HOUSE.—Mr. Stanton, under a suspension of the rules, offered a resolution instructing the Committee on the Judiciary to inquire into the expediency of re-organizing the Circuit and District Courts of the United States, in such manner as to equalize the population and business of the several Circuits and Districts, and give to all sections of the Confederacy their equal and just representation in the Supreme Court of the United States. Mr. Stanton showed the inequality now existing, and urged the importance of such reform on the ground that all sections should have a just and fair representation.

Mr. Keitt inquired whether, if the Supreme Court declared the Fugitive Slave Law constitutional, the gentlemen would carry it out.

Mr. Stanton replied—If the Court decided that Dred Scott is a slave, he would acquiesce in that judgment, but would not, in obedience to the Court, renounce his opinion as to the Fugitive Slave Law.

The resolution was passed.

Mr. Benson reported back the Senate bill amendatory of the act to promote the efficiency of the Navy, which provides for the restoration of such dropped, furloughed, or retired officers, as may be favorably reported on this Court Martial; the findings being approved by the President.

The bill was passed without amendments, by a vote of 159 against 50.

Mr. Orr, from the Select Committee to inquire into the allegal corrupt combination of members, reported a resolution enlarging the field of their inquiry, from the commencement of the present Congress, instead of confining them to measures now pending, and asking to be empowered to employ a Clerk.

The resolution was adopted.

Mr. Savage moved a suspension of the rules, in order to enable him to introduce a resolution, making the bill for pensioning the soldiers of the war of 1812, a special order for the first Tuesday in February. Disagreed to by a vote of 103 to 85; not two-thirds. Adjourned.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—The committee on Territories have prepared a report adverse to the petition of citizens of Carson Valley, asking for the annexation of that portion of Utah Territory to California.—One of the reasons for refusal is that California is too large already, and would be made more unwieldy by such an extension of its boundaries. The Committee believe that some measure of wider scope is necessary to effect a cure of the evils of which the citizens of Carson Valley complain, viz.: Mormon oppression,—and accordingly recommend the passage of the bill now on calendar for the prevention and punishment of bigamy. This, they add, would remove the moral and political pestilence which makes Utah the scandal of the American people.

The Committee on Territories have also prepared an unfavorable report on the petition for the organization of a territorial government in Arizona, in the Gadsden purchase. From the statements to the Committee, there appears to be from 8000 to 10,000 inhabitants therein, and, by the lowest estimate, from 2000 to 3000. Taking the medium there are from 5000 to 7000 inhabitants, and this number is deemed too small for a separate government, and will not warrant the large expenditure necessary.

Hugh Miller, the eminent geologist, was found dead on the floor of his bedroom at his residence in Edinburgh, shot through the heart. For some time past he has been in the habit of having a loaded revolver in his room, an attempt having been made lately to break into his Museum. It is believed that the circumstance of his death was accidental, his general character and position precluding the idea of suicide.

HEALTH AND STRENGTH.

☞ DR. S. O. RICHARDSON'S SHERRY WINE BITTERS is the best Medicine ever used, for Summer Complaints. It has been more liberally patronized than any other ever established in this country. THE GREAT DISCOVERY.

Many years ago, Doctor Burleigh Smart, of Kennebunk, Me., discovered that a simple article never before used as a medicine, was a never failing cure for coughs of every description, and an excellent blood purifier. By its use in his private practice, he acquired the reputation of being the best physician in New England, for all diseases of the lungs. After his death, Messrs. Shaw & Clark of Biddeford, Me., obtained a Copy Right from Government, for its exclusive manufacture, and now have it carefully prepared strictly according to the original recipe:—There is no cough that it will not cure, unless the patient is past all human aid before commencing its use! It is called "Doctor Burleigh Smart's Cough Medicine," and is for sale by all apothecaries. nov7 1yTkFh6m

If you wish to take any Magazine or Newspaper, subscribe of some responsible firm in Town.—Hundreds of dollars are lost every year by subscribing for works of strangers and travelling agents, and by being induced to subscribe by the thousands of contrivances to cheat the public—such as Art Unions, Premiums, Cosmopolitan Art Associations, and various humbugs to gull the unwary. Keep clear of all these, and pay your money to those whom you know to be responsible.

The subscriber has been in the business four teen years, and will guarantee to furnish any publication as cheap as can be obtained.

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.

DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS FOR FEMALES,

Prepared by an old Physician of 40 years experience.

THE combination of ingredients in these Pills, is the result of a long and extensive practice; they are mild in their operation, and certain to restoring nature to its proper channel. In every instance have the Pills proved successful. They are certain to open those obstructions to which females are liable, and bring nature into its proper channel, whereby health is restored, and the pale and deadly countenance changed to a healthy one. No female can enjoy good health unless she is regular; and whenever an obstruction takes place, whether from exposure, cold, or any other cause, the general health immediately begins to decline, and the want of such a remedy has been the cause of so many consumptions among young females. Headache, pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, loathing of food, and disturbed sleep, that most always arise from the interruption of nature; and whenever that is the case, the Pills will invariably remedy all these evils. In all cases of painful menstruation, or nervous and spinal affections in the back and limbs, lowness of spirits, hysterics, &c. Nor are they less efficacious in the cure of Fever and Ague, commonly called the "Whites." These Pills should never be taken during pregnancy, as they would be sure to cause a miscarriage. Warranted purely Vegetable, and free from any thing injurious to life or health. Full and explicit directions which should be read, accompany each box.

These Pills are put up in square flat boxes.—Persons residing where there are no Agencies established, by enclosing One Dollar in a letter, prepaid, to Dr. L. L. Cheeseman, Box No. 4,631, Post Office, New York City, can have them sent to their respective addresses by return of mail.

A large freight engine exploded on Wednesday near Norwich, Vt., and was literally torn to pieces. A brakeman was instantly killed, and the engineer wounded, and died in a few minutes. The fireman was thrown to a great height, and fell at some distance from the track entirely divested of his clothing, and scalded. Another man was also seriously scalded.—Forty hogs were killed or badly mutilated. The boiler turned a complete summerset, and fell beside the track, completely shorn of machinery. Two heavy driving wheels were blown 180 feet from the track, passing the top of a tree at a height of 40 feet.

Rev. Mr. Dodge, a Baptist clergyman, was lately taken by the citizens of Grant county, Wisconsin, plunged naked into a snow bank, and afterwards ridden out of town on a rail. The cause was the discovered arrangement by Mr. Dodge to elope with another man's wife. The baptism by snow may be the means of saving this divine from the fire.

E. E. DYER & CO.

(Sign of the Chinaman grinding coffee.)

141 Washington St., Boston,

SUPPLY the best, finest and purest articles, at lowest Cash prices. Their Stock consists of—

Teas, Coffees, Chocolates, Allspice, Pepper, Mustard, Ginger, Cayenne Pepper, Cloves, Cinnamon, Cloves, Cream Tartar; Taraxacum, or Prepared Dandelion Root, &c., &c.

Having every facility for manufacturing and preparing the several articles named, the public may rely upon having them pure and genuine, as they are put up carefully, and bear our name and label, "TREMONT MILLS, E. E. DYER & CO."

To give consumers some idea of our sales, we annex the following scale of prices, viz:

5 lb. Souchong Tea,	1.50	5 lb. Mocha Coffee,	1.00
5 lb. Oolong "	1.75	5 lb. Java "	1.00
5 lb Y. Hyson "	2.25	8 lb. good "	1.00

☞ The Spices are put up in ¼ and ½ lb. tin cases, expressly for family use, and are warranted to be strictly a pure article, and only need a trial to establish them in public favor.

SPANISH COFFEE.—We would call the attention of customers and dealers to our Spanish Coffee, as an article which is highly esteemed, and gives the greatest satisfaction. It is prepared by a particular care, and by a peculiar process in roasting, one pound of the coffee, it is believed, is equal to 1½ lb. of any other.

DANDELION COFFEE.—This article is carefully prepared at our Mills, and put up in packages having our trade mark, and may be relied upon as the best and most approved mixture of dandelion and coffee.

TARAXACUM, or Prepared Dandelion Root.—This article is prepared and roasted at our Mills, is retailed by Family Grocers generally in city and country, and bearing our trade mark, "Chinaman grinding coffee," may be relied upon as the GENUINE ARTICLE. The proportion used is about one-half the quantity of coffee, and price 25 cents per pound, and it is warranted to be the same as that which has been sold for fifty cents a pound by Druggists.

The medical properties of Dandelion are well known, and held in high estimation by all who use it. This being a preparation of the root, with all its medicinal virtues retained, can be mixed with coffee or not, as best suits the taste, and will be found cheap and economical as a family beverage, one pound of which being nearly equal to two pounds of coffee. It is prescribed by many eminent physicians to invalids, children and aged persons, as a nutritious beverage, and as a remedy for Dyspepsia, Bilious complaints &c.

☞ Be careful to observe that all our Coffees have our trade mark, "Chinaman grinding coffee."

☞ To Grocers and Dealers a liberal discount is made, enabling them to supply their customers at the same low rate.

☞ TO CASH PURCHASERS.—Our object being to secure large sales at small profits, we offer inducements which cannot be afforded by those who do business on the credit system, and we cordially invite an examination of the quality of our stock and our prices, as compared with those of any other house.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,

(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)

No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston,

AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to procure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions. Opinions and advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The unusually favorable terms given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber, and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES ARISING, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, enable him to render, in most cases, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in recommending to those who cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

August 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and, accomplished practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON, of these instruments have been finished and are now in use.
Commissioner of Patents.

THE latest improvement in our Melodeons is the DIVIDED SWELL, secured to us by Letters Patent 22d May, 1855.—By means of this Swell Solo Passages may be played with the full power of the Instrument, while the Accompaniment is soft and subdued.—Heretofore, all Melodeons made by us, will be furnished with this attachment without extra charge.

Extract from the Commercial Advertiser, July 27, '55

"Messrs. Prince & Co. could realize a handsome fortune by disposing of rights to other manufacturers to use their new improvement; but as they prefer to make it a feature in their Instruments, it can only be obtained by purchasing one of their manufactures."

It is now eight years since we commenced the manufacture of this new celebrated Musical Instrument, during which time we have finished and sold more than EIGHTEEN THOUSAND. Voluntary testimonials to the excellence of our Instruments, from the most distinguished Professors of Music in different parts of the United States, have from time to time been received. Thus far we have said but little, and our advertisements were seldom seen for the reason that we could not supply the demand. We have lately erected one of the largest and most perfect Manufacturing Establishments in the United States, and we now think that we can fill orders promptly. We there store give one testimonial we have received.

NEW YORK, 15th Oct. 1855

"G. A. Prince & Co.: Gentlemen—the Double Reed Melodeon has arrived, and a most charming instrument it is. It has been played on by Wallace, Doct. Hodges, Wm Mason, and a host of others, and they all pronounce it one of the most beautiful and perfect instruments they have ever touched. Very resp'ly. JAMES F. HALL."

We are not aware that the above mentioned Melodeon is in any particular superior to those we are daily finishing, and we can assure those who are about contracting for them with their orders, that they will be furnished with an instrument equally as good. Our Instruments are all finished in Rosewood, and warranted the superior of the very best quality. The styles and prices are—

Singer's Sewing Machines.

THESE celebrated machines are in practical and profitable use in all parts of the civilized world. It is now ascertained by experience that for sewing every sort of fabric, either of cloth or leather, they have been fully tried and approved. Sewing machines of other manufacturers often fail to work, but SINGER'S MACHINES

ALWAYS OPERATE PERFECTLY,

being strong, durable and complete in contrivances and workmanship. A perfect sewing machine should be capable of performing yearly a year; but an imperfect one is a cause of constant vexation and loss. The entire RELIABILITY of our machine is very great reason for their unparalleled popularity of a frail and delicate construction, are recommended by other manufacturers. Such machines are made to catch the eye, not to perform substantial work. The truth is, family sewing machines should be simple, durable, and, because they go into less skilful hands than when sold to manufacturers, and are used for a greater variety of work. The machines which have proved best for all other purposes must be best for family use, and they are Singer's. The speed of our machines has lately been doubled. No other can compare with them in quantity of work.

MACHINES FOR FAMILY SEWING,

☞ New machine of the latest improved style will be exchanged on liberal terms for old sewing machines of our own make, or for operative machines of other manufacturers. Local agents wanted to sell our machines.

N. B.—All persons desiring full information about sewing machines, can obtain it by applying for a copy of "I. M. Singer & Co.'s Gazette," a paper devoted entirely to the subject. It will be sent gratis. I. M. SINGER & Co.

SPIRITUALISM.

BOSTON, Dec. 31, 1856.

Last Sunday evening I was attracted to the Music Hall by the announcement of a lecture by Judge Edmonds of New York, the expounder of "spiritualism," and defender of that faith. On entering the lecture room I found it well filled by an intelligent looking audience, whose countenances indicated that most of them were drawn thither by motives of curiosity.—Judge Edmonds commenced the services by reading from a manuscript a prayer, which I think he states was dictated by "the spirits" for the occasion. Whether the prayer was dictated by mortal or supernal beings, it was a well written document, and would compare favorably with the efforts of any of the preachers whose minds yet abide in fleshly tabernacles. At the close of this supplication, a select choir of young ladies, tastefully and attractively arrayed, stepped upon the platform and with plaintive voices sang the weird-like song commencing "Tell me, thou wintry wind," to the great satisfaction of the audience, who seemed to think that this performance alone compensated them for the dimes which they had slipped into the hands of the doorkeeper. Judge Edmonds then read an appeal from the aforesaid spirits to the disciples of the new faith, urging them to strenuous efforts for the spread of the doctrine, and promising that their brethren in the spirit-land, though unseen, would heartily co operate with them in the glorious cause.

After another song by the fair choristers, Judge Edmonds addressed the assembly an hour, with great ability and ingenuity, claiming that the spiritualists occupy precisely the same relative position to this age of the world, as Christ and his disciples did to their day and generation. He related many incidents to show that the spiritual media have power to heal the sick, raise the dead, and cast out devils; and then proceeded to show that the promulgators of the new faith have encountered the same opposition, revilings, scorn and temptations which fell to the lot of Jesus and his followers.

This wonderful spiritual revelation, said the Judge, was first imparted, as was that of Christ, to people of humble origin; it has been scoffed at by men of science and learning. Like the disciples, the spiritualists has found their foes to be of their own household. Spiritual mediums have even quarrelled among themselves, who should be greatest, as did the disciples The unbelievers of the present day called upon the spiritualists to perform certain miracles, in like manner as the "wicked and adulterous generation" of Christ's time called for a sign; and the spiritualists made to all such the ancient reply, that "no sign should be given to them." Men had offered to place thousands of dollars at his disposal, if he would exercise his spiritual power in certain ways; to all such he had made the scriptural reply—"Thy money perish with thee; dost thou think to purchase the gifts of God?" Persons of judicial eminence had applied to him, with seeming sincerity, for information; but he, "seeing their thoughts," and their conceaded sneers, had refused to comply with their requests.—Nevertheless, he was always willing to impart information to sincere inquirers for the truth, and many a Nicodemus had secretly sought of him an exposition of the new faith.

Judge Edmonds spoke with fluency and clearness, and his arguments, if not convincing, were certainly bold and ingenious.—This new faith has many believers in this city, and they now hold meetings regularly on Sundays, which are generally well attended. Like all new sects, they are stimulated by opposition, and increase in defiance of ridicule and scorn. The mystery which shrouds the manifestations is a powerful element in keeping alive the belief in their spiritual origin. When will a Franklin arise to explain this mystery?—Correspondence Newburyport Herald.

PROVIDING FOR THE FUTURE.—An old gentleman in Newburyport, between seventy and eighty years of age, accompanied by a sexton, for whom he expected soon to have service, called on a cabinet-maker last week, to inquire the price of coffins. A mahogany one was in view, and the old man eyeing it carefully, asked of what wood it was made. Upon being informed, he asked if there were not cheaper ones.—He was shown another, which he said was too long; and a third which was too narrow; and then said he wished one sufficient for a man of five feet eight inches. The desired size was placed before him, when he wanted to look inside. The manufacturer kindly removed the lid and turned around to place it one side, when, on looking back, what was his surprise to see the old gentleman getting into it and stretching himself out, remarking that it fitted precisely. Satisfied upon that point, he inquired the price. It was very cheap—only seven dollars! "But," responds the sexton, "I can purchase so and so for six and a half." "If you take it from the shop and I am not troubled to put the corpse in, you may take this for six and a half," replied the maker. "Well! Well," said the old man, who was in perfect health, "I want to understand the matter. I don't want to take it now, but would have you keep it for me, until I shall need it;" whereupon he with his sexton friend, departed, leaving the cabinet-maker more astonished than he had ever been in nearly a fifty years term at coffin making. The old man has not sent for it yet; but if he is equally careful about all his matters he will live almost long enough to bury himself and settle his own estate.—Newburyport Herald.

Mrs. Partington is enjoying a trip to Niagara and the regions thereabout, for the benefit of her health and pocket. The old lady never was so far from home before.—Boston Bee.

Not so fast. We think we have heard the old lady tell stories of centipedes and tarantulas she became acquainted with in the West Indies, when on a trip "for the benefit of her health" alone—which we are glad to know she found; and we hope she will secure both objects of her search this time.

Morning Chronicle.

THURSDAY, JANUARY 15, 1857.

PENNSYLVANIA.—The Boston Advertiser says:

We have the cheering intelligence from Pennsylvania, that Mr. Simon Cameron, republican, was elected United States Senator yesterday, on the first ballot, receiving 67 votes to 58 for John W. Forney and 7 for Mr. Foster. Mr. Forney is editor of the Philadelphia Pennsylvanian; he was formerly clerk of the U. S. House of Representatives, and was said to be recommended for the office of Senator by President Pierce. A protest against the election of Mr. Cameron was afterwards entered, on the ground of some alleged informality.

The alleged informality is, that of a teller not having been elected by the Senate on the last day prior to the election.

It is to Mr. Forney's adroit management in Pennsylvania, that Mr. Buchanan owes his election to the presidency:—and the result of this vote, just taken, on the election of Senator shows that the Pennsylvania State Election, which really turned the scale, was decided by some hocus pocus of this same Mr. Forney and a few coadjutors.—It also shows a looseness of the key stone in the arch whereon the incoming administration is to stand.

FOREIGN RELATIONS.—The Boston Advertiser says that a report comes from various quarters, that Mr. Villiers had declined the mission to this country from England.—The suggestion of his appointment seems to have been received most favorably in England as well as in America. It is now reported that the place is likely to be offered to Lord Elgin, a man whose character, as well as the opportunities he has had of acquiring the information to qualify him for the station, seem strongly to recommend him to the confidence of both countries, as well qualified to preserve friendly relations between them. There appears to be a popular desire in England that the mission may be speedily filled, and it seems probable that an appointment will be made by the time of the assembling of Parliament.

It is stated in the columns of Le Nord of Brussels, that Mr. Fay, the American Minister at Berne, has taken the lead towards inducing the representatives of those powers which have not yet interfered with the Swiss government in the affair of Neuchatel to recommend to the federal government to set the royalist prisoners at liberty, as the most likely way of obtaining a satisfactory settlement of the quarrel with Prussia.

MACKEREL.—The catch of last year, in Massachusetts, was 3000 barrels more than in 1855, and larger than it has been any year since 1849 excepting in 1852, when there were 317,540 bbls taken. The expenses of provisions, barrels, &c., were higher this year than last, (barrels were never so high before,) while mackerel have brought much less, and the business has not paid. Newburyport was, last year, the fourth port for inspection, with 13,240 barrels; now it is the fourth, falling off to 12,130; and there the business has been poor. Of the other principal ports, Boston, in the last year, increased its inspection more than 10,000 bbls; Gloucester has fallen off 5000, and Wellfleet held its own within a few hundred barrels.

☞ The Portland Argus is very much disturbed about the Maine Law—apparently as anxious now to have the present Republican Legislature pass such a law, as it was last Fall, before the September election, to make the people believe that such would be the result if the Republicans shall succeed. We shall see.

☞ Hon. Frederick Smyth of Manchester, is a delegate from the N. H. Agricultural Society to the annual meeting of the United States Agricultural Society to be held at Washington City the present week, he has gone for Washington.

☞ At a meeting of the Democratic State Committee of New Hampshire, held on the 8th instant, resolutions were unanimously adopted,—recommending Hon. John S. Wells for a seat in the Cabinet, and advising Mr. Buchanan to put him there.—The Patriot says:

We should regret to lose him as our standard bearer, yet a seat in the Cabinet would afford a wider field of usefulness both to the Democracy of New Hampshire and of the Union.

Rev. H. D. Moore delivered an eloquent lecture on Sunday evening, in Union Church in behalf of the Martha Washington Society, from the text "He was in want and no one gave unto him." After the discourse, which occupied about an hour and a quarter, a collection was taken up, amounting to about eighty-six dollars.—Portland Argus.

HUGH MILLER.

We have already given the mournful intelligence of the death of Hugh Miller, the celebrated Scotch geologist, who was found in his house shot dead. It is supposed that the sad event was accidental. Mr. Miller has achieved a world-wide reputation as a geologist, and as a man of great powers of research and scholarship. His death will be universally deplored as a great loss to the world of science.

Mr. Miller (says the Boston Journal) was born in the year 1805, at Cromarty, in Scotland, where he labored about fifteen years as a common quarryman, storing his mind meanwhile by diligent reading and close observation of the geology of the strata in which he delved. He subsequently received the appointment of accountant in the bank in his native village, which post he filled for five years. In 1839, a letter addressed to Lord Brougham, which he wrote on the contest in the church of Scotland, that was closed by the decision in the Auchterarder case, attracted the attention of the evangelical party by its great ability, and he was selected as the fittest person to conduct the Witness newspaper, the principal metropolitan organ of the free church. This paper owes its success to Mr. Miller's able articles on political, ecclesiastical, and geological subjects.

Notwithstanding his arduous labors as an editor, Mr. Miller enthusiastically devoted himself to the prosecution of scientific inquiries, which resulted in the publication of several works that have achieved for him an undying fame. The first of his books, entitled "Scenes and Legends of the North of Scotland," was printed in 1835, and proved highly popular, having run through several editions, and been republished in this country. Another work, entitled "The Whiggism of the Old School," as exemplified in the Past History and Present Position of the Church of Scotland," attained great local celebrity. But the works which have given to Mr. Miller a world-wide reputation, are "The Old Red Sandstone, or a New Walk in an Old Field," "First Impressions of England and its People," and "Footprints of the Creator." These works have probably done more to popularize geology, than any other writings upon this science. At the same time they have ably set forth the harmony of the revealed word with the works of the Creator.

One of the most recent of the works of Hugh Miller, and one which shows the versatility of his genius, is a reply to the aspersions of Macaulay on Scotland. It is an able, forcible and patriotic vindication of the Scottish character from the swearing calumnies of the historian. Another work from his pen is now in press, "Sermons in the Stones," and its appearance has been looked forward to with much interest as a vindication of the Mosaic record by geological proofs. The manuscript is probably completed, although all of the sheets have not yet been received by his American publishers, Messrs. Gould & Lincoln.

Mr. Miller probably had a wider popularity in this country than in the old world. There was something in the fact that he was a self made man which at once commended him to the favor of the American public, and his reputation has grown with every new work from his pen. His many friends and admirers were looking forward with pleasure to the fulfilment of a promise that he would soon visit this country, but the ways of Providence are inscrutable. We hazard little in saying that the tidings of the death of no public man in the old world would be received here with more sorrow. He has left a void in the ranks of the men of science which will not soon be filled.

LOWELL MORALS.—The yearly report of the Minister at Large, in Lowell, is just published. "Quite a space is devoted to the subject of intemperance, which is said to have fearfully increased for the last twelve months, as every one well knows. Comparisons are made between the past and other years, and if they are not, as Justice Shallow said, 'odorous,' they at least make a stench in the nostrils of all good citizens."

☞ On Tuesday, in the Massachusetts Legislature, the election of United States Senator on the part of the Senate, took place; and every Senator, being present, rose in his seat as his name was called, and in an audible, earnest tone, pronounced as his choice the name of CHARLES SUMNER of Boston.

☞ The newspapers still work on to manufacture a cabinet for Mr. Buchanan. More than sixty persons have thus been proposed for the heads of the departments. The President elect does not seem to appreciate the kindness, and as yet no person is positively named for one single place.

LETTER FROM A SUBSCRIBER.

LYME, N. H., Jan. 12, 1857.

Sometime last summer I found myself transferred from "The Phenix" to the Portsmouth "Chronicle," and in a week or two became the joint property, or victim, or patron—at any rate the reader and debtor of the joint concern, the "Chronicle & Phenix." This unfortunate Phenix! It rose from the ashes of some half dozen temperance journals that had previously died in New Hampshire, and has only escaped annihilation itself by a hasty marriage. I hope one good result will follow—that the issue will improve in longevity, and we shall not so soon be called to mourn "the early dead."

But then I am aware that papers are not chamelions, to live on air, (though as to their complexions, they are apt, like this "lizard's body," to be rather changeable;) and as they can subsist only on auriferous food, I suppose the infantile departure of temperance papers may be generally attributed to famine.

I have for a good many years felt under obligation to do something for the temperance cause; and have always taken and paid—and more than paid—for a paper devoted to the cause, whenever one has been printed in this State.

I like your paper, and think it is well calculated to promote "the cause." Those short items and startling facts "tell." They fall like hot shot in the camp of the enemy; and if they could be brought to bear in every family, could not fail to make an impression. I am taking too many papers, and have been trying to determine which to suspend; but have concluded that the "Chronicle & Phenix" was worthy of support, as the most efficient temperance journal in the State. I therefore send herewith One Dollar, which you will please place to my credit. Yours truly, S. P.

Correspondence of the Chronicle.

EXETER, Jan. 13, 1857.

Dear Chronicle:—The Concert given by Miss Durgin, week before last, was well attended, and seems to have given general satisfaction. The Exeter Cornet Band played very finely, considering the time for practice that they have had. On Tuesday evening last, Mr. B. B. Thompson, teacher of one of our town schools, gave an exhibition with his scholars at the New Town Hall. The youngsters did well in their declamations, dialogues, &c., and moreover the entertainment was doubly interesting since it was a display of native talent.—Since this exhibition, amusements have been on the wane, and nothing has happened, except a furious snow storm, to relieve the monotony of the week.

We chanced to see in the News-Letter of yesterday what was rightly denominated "a wretched attempt at an epigram," which was copied from your paper. It had nearly the same disastrous effect on us as Holmes' lines (which pretended to be funny also) did on his corpulent servant, and we hope the author will adopt the same rule as H. did, and in future never dare to write as funny as he can. The poet himself, whom we can rank as second only to Boiling Rock, must be a perfect brick!

We are glad to observe that some genius, fully appreciating Prof. Whittaker's lectures, (we believe he lectured a short time ago at Portsmouth,) has devoted himself to the noble art of engraving, and has lately given birth to such inimitable productions. We think your artist decidedly better than your neighbor's, because the former leaves so much room for the imagination to act in. We await with deep interest his next great work! Yours, r. a.

ANOTHER ATTACK UPON ELBOW LANE.—That vile and dirty avenue, when two or three persons have been carried to the House of Correction this month, for violating the "Maine Law," and where are several rum holes remaining, was visited by Marshal Brown on Monday morning, and another female, for some crime or other—and there are enough of all kinds committed there—was sent for one term to the County House.

Before the Maine law, there were no Irish grog shops in the city; now nearly every third Irish house keeps rum to sell. Newburyport Herald.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

The greatest natural ornament to the "human form divine," is unquestionably a fine, luxuriant, healthy growth of hair. It has been so esteemed in all ages of the world, and among all nations, savage and civilized. Hence, the Indian brave regards the scalp of his enemy as his greatest trophy. For a similar reason, the fashionable belle often disguises the region of vanity, as well as her other phrenological organs with borrowed locks.

He who should discover a mode of preventing the hair from showing the inroads of envious Time by turning prematurely gray, a method by which it could be restored when falling off or turning white, and a way of promoting its continued and luxuriant growth, would be justly entitled to rank among the benefactors of the human race. Read the testimonials of the wonderful, not to say almost miraculous effects of "Professor Wood's Hair Restorative," and see if he has not accomplished all this. [Capital City Fact.

POLICE COURT.

JAN. 12.

Before Justice Odell—James Townsend [painter and mariner] was accused of breaking and entering, in the night time, Jan. 10th, the schooner Betsey Ames, at Pier wharf, with intent to steal. Plea not guilty. Held to bail in $500, to appear at the Supreme Judicial Court at Exeter on the 4th Tuesday of February.

COURT OF COMMON PLEAS.

WEDNESDY, Jan. 14, 1855.

No. 192, Rowell vs. Chase was given to the jury, at 4 o'clock.

No. 211,—Edmund Adams 2d, vs. Eliza Adams, was put on trial.—This is an action of assumpsit. Bartlett for Plf. Rollins for Deft.

Mr. Oliver Dow, of Buxton, Me., on Saturday, was run over by some boys coasting down the hill in that town, and injured it is feared, fatally. He struck on his head, as he fell, and has since been senseless. Mr. Dow is an old and prominent citizen of Buxton.

Just as might be expected, from allowing boys to coast in the streets—and as may be expected in High, Hanover, or some other streets in Portsmouth, every day. And what a fuss would be made, too, if anybody should happen to run over one of these (back) sliding youngsters—who have just as much right to slide in the street as their parents have to build a house there. Something ought to be done, to abate this nuisance.

☞ The lecture before the Mechanic Lyceum on Tuesday evening, was by E. H. Chapin, of New York; and it was one of his very best. The subject was Christopher Columbus; and the lecture sketched his life, illustrated his character, and gave the moral and religious lessons in the most impressive manner.

The audience, was large, attractive, and highly gratified.

DROLL BLUNDERS.—Not long ago, in an article on George Whitefield, we wrote "The Pastor of the South Church was Rev. Samuel Haven, D. D."—but a typographic blunder made us say Pastor of the North Church—which never was true.

The Portland Argus of Tuesday, in commending Mr. Clifford as a candidate for Mr. Buchanan's Cabinet, said of him

As a man of indefatigable industry, a qualification indispensable, but having far less weight in these matters than is should, our neighbor knows equally well, that Mr. Clifford has no inferior in New England, or elsewhere.

The Argus reprinted the piece next day, and corrected it by saying "Mr. C. has no superior, &c.—Quite an improvement.

☞ Mr. Edwin M. Wheelock was ordained Pastor of the First Unitarian Society at Dover, on Wednesday, Jan. 7th. The sermon was preached by Rev. Dr. Peabody, of this city. The services were very impressive. Owing to the storm, Dr. Peabody did not arrive till a late hour, and the sermon followed the charge.

EAST BOSTON.—There are in this ward, says the East Boston Mirror, according to the best estimate that can be made, 300 places where liquors are sold contrary to law.

Admitting that each place receives only $10 daily, it amounts to $3000—now multiply this by 313, the number of days in a year, (exclusive of Sundays,) and we have the enormous sum of nine hundred and thirty nine thousand dollars, expended for poisonous liquors, to pour down our throats to make us fools and madmen.—Now let the people of East Boston look to this matter.—Let them consider how much might have been accomplished if this money had been differently applied. Three hundred dwellings, at an expense of over $3000 each, might have been built with the money which has been thus expended. Let every one who has the interest of East Boston at heart imagine what a different state of things we should have had, during the past year, if instead of the three hundred grog shops, in successful operation, we had had as many dwelling houses in process of erect on. This would have given employment to more than 1000 mechanics during the whole year. It would have created a demand for lumber, bricks, and other building materials, and in various ways advanced the interest of the place;—and at the end of the year, instead of the 300 tippling shops, we should have 300 dwelling houses, worth in the aggregate nearly a million of dollars. Assuming that ships can be built for $50 per ton, this money would have paid for building 28 ships of 1000 tons each.

HEALTHY.—In the town of Whitefield only nine deaths occurred during the past year, being one in ninety-five of its inhabitants. In Bath, fourteen deaths occurred, being one in a hundred and twelve inhabitants. It is stated that the deaths in the State at large average about one in forty-five inhabitants. Of the deaths in Whitefield, four were of persons aged 75, 79, 80, and 82, respectively, and three others were 50, 55, and 66, one 44, and the other an infant.—Patriot.

CONGRESS

TUESDAY, Jan. 13.

The Senate passed the bill to allow the widow of a great mail contractor the amount due him for carrying the mails. The claim has been before Congress for fifteen years, and amounted to $180,000.—It was undoubtedly a just claim. The claimant was Mrs. Mary Reeside, widow of Land Admiral Reeside, as he used to be called. The claim was for a balance due to her late husband, for his services in carrying the mails, with interest from December 1841. The case was favorably reported on by the Court of Claims,

The bill passed by a vote of 28 against 15, after an amendment striking out the allowance for interest.

The House discussed the President's message, and referred it to the Committee of the Whole. A bill for the reduction of the tariff was discussed at some length, in Committee of the Whole.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—Mr. Campbell of Ohio, having successfully demanded the previous question on referring the President's annual message to the Committee of the Whole on the State of the Union, wishing to proceed to the consideration of the tariff bill, many gentlemen who wanted to make speeches have been cut off, although they endeavored in vain to persuade him from pressing his motion.

Mr. Rust made some remarks rather tartly in condemnation of the course of Mr. Campbell in thus cutting of debate, and replied to by Mr. Campbell in a similar spirit.

A STREET INCIDENT.—A full rigged maid of fashion, with hoops all boldly set, moved up the sidewalk gaily, observed by all she met. The walk was very wide, but the hooped skirts were wider, and 'twas useless e'en to think of walking up beside her. Her cheeks were "red as roses," her face was all a smile; and her tread, it was as though earth were all "too vile." It was her hour of triumph, and she didn't seem to know that a coasting sleigh was coming at a speed not very slow. But it came, and ere she knew it, her "props" were knocked away, and she was going down street with a boy upon a sleigh.—The wind it blew quite roughly, turning all the hoops aback, and of partly smothered screams there wasn't any lack; while the maiden didn't know what she was or wasn't about, her person much resembling an umbrella inside out. The passers stopped and wondered, as the swiftly passing sleigh devotedly kept onward, rushing pace and fast away; the boy cried "road," and liked it, and safely "shied" his sled, with his own feet pointing backwards, and the maid's thrown out ahead. They gained the level safely, and the maiden, full of wrath, looked back in angered silence upon their travelled path. "You good-for-nothing scamp," she said, "I've a mind to shake you well." "Your face was covered up, mem, and you know I never'll tell," said the coasting lad quite boldly, and in a jovial mood, he bowed and said, "Good morning, mem; you held your feet up good—you did."—Springfield Republican.

SLEIGHING TIME—AMERICAN COURTSHIP.—This must be an everlastin' fine country beyond all doubt, for the folks have nothin' to do but to ride about and talk politics. In the winter, when the ground is covered with snow, what grand times they have a slayin' over these here marshes with the gals, or playin' ball on the ice, or goin' to quiltin' frolics on nice long winter evenings, and then a drivin' home like mad by moonlight. Natur made that season on purpose for courtin'. A little tidy scrumptious lookious lookin' slay, a real clipper of a horse, a string of bells as long as a string of inions round his neck, and a strip on his back, lookin' for all the world like a bunch of apples broke off at a gathering time, and a sweetheart alongside, muffled up to her eyes and lips—the one looking right into you, and the other talkin' right at you—its o'enamost enough to drive one ravin, tarin' distracted mad with pleasure, aint it? And then the dear critters say the bells make such a din there's no hearin' one's self speak; so they put their pretty little mugs up close to your face, and talk, talk, talk, till one can't help lookin' right at them instead of the horses, and then whap you both go capsized into a snow-drift together, skins, cushions and all. And then to see the little critter shake herself when she gets up, like a duck landin' from a pond, chatterin' away all the time like a canary bird, and you a haw-hawkin' with pleasure, is fun alive you may depend. In this way a feller gets led on to offer himself as a lover afore he knows where he goes.—Sam Slick.

THE GREAT DISCOVERY.

Many years ago, Doctor Burleigh Smart, of Kennebunk, Me., discovered that a simple article never before used as a medicine, was a never failing cure for coughs of every description, and an excellent blood purifier. By its use in his private practice, he acquired the reputation of being the best physician in New England, for all diseases of the lungs. After his death, Messrs. Shaw & Clark of Biddeford, Me., obtained a Copy Right from Government, for the exclusive manufacture, and now have it carefully prepared strictly according to the original recipe. There is no cough that it will not cure, unless the patient is past all hope, and before commencing its use! It is call ed "Doctor Burleigh Smart's Cough Medicine," and is for sale by all apothecaries. ny27 TuTh&m

If you wish to take any Magazine or Newspaper, subscribe of some responsible firm in Town.—Hundreds of dollars are lost every year by subscribing for works of strangers and travelling agents, and by being induced to subscribe by the thousands of contrivances to cheat the public—such as Art Unions, Premiums, Cosmopolitan Art Associations, and various humbugs to gull the unwary. IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.

DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS FOR FEMALES,

Prepared by an old Physician of 40 years experience.

THE combination of ingredients in these Pills, is the result of a long and extensive practice; they are mild in their operation, and certain to restoring nature to its proper channel. In every instance have the Pills proved successful. They are certain to open those obstructions to which females are liable, and bring nature into its proper channel, whereby health is restored, and the pale and deathly countenance changed to a healthy one. No female can enjoy good health unless she is regular; and whenever an obstruction takes place, whether from exposure, cold, or any other cause, the general health immediately begins to decline, and the want of such a remedy has been the cause of so many consumptions among young females. Headache, pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, loathing of food, and disturbed sleep, that most always arise from the interruption of nature; and whenever that is the case, the Pills will invariably remedy all these evils. In all cases of painful menstruation, or nervous and spinal affections in the back and limbs, lowness of spirits, hysterics, &c. Nor are they less efficacious in the cure of Leucorrhœa, commonly called the "Whites." These Pills should never be taken during pregnancy, as they would be sure to cause a miscarriage. Warranted purely Vegetable, and free from anything injurious to life or health. Full and explicit directions which should be read, accompany each box.

These Pills are put up in square, flat boxes.—Persons residing where there are no Agencies established, by enclosing One Dollar in a letter, prepaid, to Dr. C. L. CHEESEMAN, Box No. 4,531, Post Office, New York City, can have them sent to their respective addresses by return of mail.

A STIRRING WOMAN.—Not two miles from our office, a woman 68 years of age, who has done all the work for five in a family; on Monday morning, in preparing and clearing away breakfast, baking and broiling, went four times down cellar, seven times out of doors, thirty-one times to her cupboard, and forty-five times out of the room. The account was kept unbeknown to her, by one who was unwell.—Newburyport Herald.

MR. SUMNER.—The rumor current in the city that Hon. Charles Sumner is to return to Washington on Wednesday, is incorrect. He is hesitating, in obedience to the advice of physician and friends, whether to go at all during the present session. He is yet a sick man.—Bost. Bee.

Samuel Higgins, a man of intemperate habits, residing near Waterville, Me., was burned to death on the 6th by his clothes taking fire.

TREMONT MILLS.

Teas, Coffees, Chocolates, Cocoas, Spices, &c.

WHOLESALE,—AND ALSO IN SMALL PACKAGES.

E. E. DYER & CO.

(Sign of the Chinaman grinding coffee.)

141 Washington St., Boston,

SUPPLY the best, finest and purest articles, of their respective brands. Their Stock consists of Teas, Coffees, Chocolate, Allspice, Pepper, Mustard, Ginger, Pepper, Nutmegs, Cinnamon, Cloves, Cream Tartar, Tamarindes, Prepared Dandelion Root, &c., &c.

Having every facility for manufacturing and preparing the several articles named, the public may rely upon having them pure and genuine, as they are put up under our own name and label, "TREMONT MILLS, E. E. DYER & CO."

To give consumers some idea of our sales, we name the following prices, viz:

5 lb. Souchong Teas,	1.50	5 lb. Mocha Coffee,	1.00
5 lb. Oolong "	1.75	5 lb. Java "	90
5 lb. Y. Hyson "	2.25	5 lb. good "	1.00

☞ The Spices are put up in ¼ and ½ lb. tin cases, expressly for family use, and we feel inclined to be strictly a pure article, and only need a trial to establish them in public favor.

SPANISH COFFEE.—We would call the attention of customers and others to our Spanish Coffee, as an article which is highly esteemed, and gives the greatest satisfaction. It is prepared with particular care, and by a peculiar process in roasting, the aroma of the coffee, it is believed, is equal to ½ lb. of any other.

DANDELION COFFEE.—This article is carefully prepared at our Mills, and put up in packages having our trade mark on them, and may be relied upon as the best and most approved mixture of dandelion and coffee.

TARAXACUM, or Prepared Dandelion Root.—This article is prepared and roasted at our Mills, (established by Pandiff Graham some years ago in this country, and bearing our trade mark, "Chinaman grinding coffee.") may be relied upon as the purest article of the genuine root, which is one-half the quantity of coffee. The price is 25 cents per pound, and it is warranted to be the same as that which has been sold for fifty cents a pound by the druggists.

The medical properties of Dandelion are well known, and held in high estimation by all who use it. This being a preparation of the root, with all its medicinal virtues retained, can be mixed with coffee or not, as best suits the taste, and will be found cheap and economical in a family because, one pound of which being nearly equal to two pounds of coffee it is prescribed by many eminent physicians to invalids, children and aged persons, as a nutritious and healthy substitute, and as a remedy for dyspepsia, bilious affections &c.

☞ He careful to observe that all our Coffees have our trade mark, "Chinaman grinding coffee."

☞ To Grocers and Dealers a liberal discount is made, enabling them to supply their customers at the same low rate.

☞ TO CASH PURCHASERS.—Our object being to secure large sales at small profits, we offer inducements which cannot be offered by those who do business on the credit system; and we confidently invite an examination of the quality of our stock and our prices, as compared with those of any other house.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,

(Late Assist'nt U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the act of 1836,)

No. 76 State st., opp. Kilby st., Boston.

AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Attends specially to Reissues, Amendments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through its facilities, it gives advantage for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber and as SUCCESS IS THE MEASURE OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that no other office in the kind has the charges for professional services so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and other documents relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of Patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved invention.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most faithful Solicitors of Patents in the United States. I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to insure for them a speedy and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

Agency 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.

of these Instruments have been finished and are now in use.

THE latest improvement in our Melodeons is THE ÆOLIDEVOLVEL,

Extract from the Commercial Advertiser, July 27, '55.

"Messrs. Prince & Co. continue to add to their fortune by disposing of rights to other manufacturers to use their new improvement; but as they prefer to make it a feature in their Instruments, it can only be obtained by purchasing one of their manufacture."

It is now eight years since we commenced the manufacture of this new celebrated Musical Instrument, during which time we have finished and sold nearly NINETEEN THOUSAND. Voluntary testimonials to the excellence of our Instruments, from the most distinguished Professors of Music in every part of the United States, have from time to time been received. Thus far we have said but little, and our advertisements were seldom seen the reason that we could not supply the demand. We have lately erected one of the largest and most perfect Manufacturing Establishments in the United States, and we now think there will be no difficulty in supply. We therefore give one testimonial we have received.

NEW YORK, 15th Oct., 1855.

"G. A. Prince & Co.: Gentlemen—The Double Reed Melodeon you sent me arrived, and a most charming instrument it is. It has been played on by Wallace, Dodt, Hodges, Wm Mason, and a host of others, who all pronounce it one of the most beautiful toned reed instruments they have ever touched. Very really, JAMES F. HALL."

We are not aware that the above mentioned Melodeon is in any particular superior to those we are daily manufacturing, and we would say to those who are inclined to favor us with their orders, that they will be furnished with an instrument equally as fine as the one last finished for Rosewood Cases, and the workmanship is of the very best quality. The styles and prices are—

Singer's Sewing Machines.

THESE celebrated machines are in practical and profitable use in all parts of the civilized world. Still all the various trades, and in sewing every sort of fabric, either of cloth or leather, they have been fully tried and approved. Sewing machines of other manufacturers often fail to work, but SINGER'S MACHINES being strong, durable and complete in contrivance and execution, and perfect sewing. One machine kept employed affords a clear profit of $1000 a year; but an imperfect one is a cause of constant vexation and loss. The great excellence of our machines is the one great reason for their unparalleled popularity.

ALWAYS OPERATE PERFECTLY,

MACHINES FOR FAMILY SEWING, of a trifle less elegant construction, are recommended by other manufacturers. Such machines are made to catch the eye, not to perform substantial work. Such machines are sold cheap, but cost more bought to be stronger than any other, because they go into less skillful hands than when sold to manufacturers, and are used for a greater variety of work. The machines which have proved best for all other purposes must be best for family use, and they are Singer's. The speed of our machines has lately been doubled. No other can compare with them in quantity of work.

☞ New machines of the latest improved style will be exchanged on liberal terms for old sewing machines of our own make, or for inferior machines of other manufacturers. Local agents wanted to sell our machines.

☞ All who purchase desiring full information about sewing machines, can obtain it by applying for a copy of "I. M. Singer & Co.'s Gazette," a paper devoted entirely to the subject. It will be sent gratis. Give us a call.

The Lowell News of Monday, says that a Catholic Priest of that city, whipped a number of Irish boys for not attending church; and that not bringing them to good fashions, he repeated the same medicine on Sunday. If he keeps on he will either whip religion into them, or will whip the souls out of them so they wont be worth the saving. He ought to have his portrait painted, as a shepherd carrying lambs in his bosom.

LIQUOR LAW.—A bill to prevent the traffic in intoxicating liquors has been introduced into the New York Legislature, which provides—

1st. That any person who shall in any respect keep or sell intoxicating liquors as a beverage, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and punished as misdemeanors are now punished. 2d. Judges or other officers wilfully refusing or neglecting to perform their official duty shall also be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and punished in the same manner. 3d. Makes witnesses of parties violating the first section, against other persons so offending, and compels them to appear.

Elbow Alley, yesterday, says the Newburyport Herald, yielded another victim for the County House—a fair looking Irish woman, who acknowledged herself a common drunkard, and who leaves behind her a little child of eight years for the Alms House. The City Marshal better clear the lane at once. There are no less than seven rum shops in that locality. And when he gets through that, there are some other delectable spots that need his attention as much.

WASHINGTON AS A PHILOSOPHER.—MRS. Kirkland says, a guest at Mount Vernon, who slept in a chamber next to that of George Washington and his wife, heard the latter Caudle him very soundly. The hero and patriot did not utter a word till she had done, when he said, "Now, good sleep to you, my dear."

MERRIMACK COUNTY BAR SUPPER.—The supper of the Merrimack County Bar, on the occasion of the completion of the new Court House for the County of Merrimack, took place at the Eagle Hotel in Concord, on Tuesday evening of last week. About forty gentlemen were present; the supper was tastefully and bountifully furnished by the new landlord of the Eagle, and the table was supplied with all the luxuries of the season. The occasion was one of high enjoyment, and abounded in that social good humor and genial pleasantry for which the members of the bar are perhaps more distinguished in their social moments than any other profession. The President of the meeting was Henry A. Bellows, Esq., of Concord.

☞ The official vote of California is as follows; Buchanan, 51,936: Fillmore, 35,113; Fremont, 20,339.

One hundred and fifty thousand gallons of wine have been manufactured at Los Angelos and vicinity, in Southern California, the past season, and the culture of the grape is extending. A considerable quantity of brandy was also made.

A severe drouth had been experienced in Southern California, and great numbers of cattle had perished from hunger and thirst.

Eight men were recently drowned in Grand Lake, Louisiana, by the upsetting of a yawl belonging to the steamer Pennsylvania. The yawl had been sent ashore to receive the men, and on returning to the steamer, it chanced to get under one of the wheels in motion at the time, which upset it, causing the men to drown before they could be saved.

The Democratic County Convention for Strafford county, met in this city on Tuesday last, and made the following nominations, to be supported at the ensuing March election: For County Treasurer, Sherburne Sleeper of Great Falls; for Register of Deeds, Gilman Hall of Barrington; for Co. Commissioners, James H. Edgerly, Samuel Downing, jr., and William J. Chesley.—Dover Gazette.

As but one County Commissioner is to be chosen, will our Strafford friends inform us which of their three candidates we shall print votes for? In nominating their candidates they were of course laboring under the impression that all of the County Commissioners are elected annually; but this is not the case, only one being elected each year.—Concord Patriot.

MARKET STREET.—The citizens of Fitchburg have established a market-day, proposing on a certain day of the week to have a market in the public square of the town, where producers from all the neighboring towns will be invited to bring their commodities, and where consumers are expected to meet and purchase what they wish. The 4th Monday of January is fixed upon as the first Market Day. This way of bringing the producers and consumers in direct proximity is common in the South and West, and it is one of the fashions that could well be introduced into all our New England towns. All that is wanting is to find an open lot, convenient, where a cheap open market house could be erected, for shelter against sun or storm, with sufficient space around it for the accommodation of country teams. If the people of Newburyport (says the Herald)—or we suppose of any other large town—would make their principal purchases upon one or two days in the week, and the sellers could thus be accommodated, we should have a hundred times better market than we do now. Sellers of everything produced from the land, caught from the waters, shot in the air, or manufactured for household use, would be in attendance. They could sell cheaper by not having to run all over town to find purchasers; and we should be better provided for by the variety that would be offered, and the competition that would spring up.

Arnold's Vital Fluid

PURIFIES and strengthens the blood by eradicating through a nice chemical action, the causes of impurities and humors. Hence its power to cure humors that mere medicine cannot cure. It exerts the power of strengthening and vitalizing the blood. It furnishes to a certain extent, the element of which pure blood is composed. It eradicates and cleanses away what ever clogs and thickens the blood.

ARNOLD'S VITAL FLUID

Renders the system strong and healthy, by freeing the blood and stomach from objectionable materials. It nerves and invigorates the system, by furnishing the elements which give vitality.

ARNOLD'S VITAL FLUID

Gives to the system an influence and effect similar to that produced by exercise in the free open air. It exhilarates by strengthening the blood to brighter and better action—doing its work by beginning at the beginning. It is pleasant to the taste, and becomes a favorite wherever known.

ARNOLD'S VITAL FLUID

Removes Biliousness in the most direct and easy manner, by neutralizing the cause. This is the principle of its action in removing illness generally. It neutralizes the cause, by freeing the blood from impediments to its proper fulfilment of its life-giving functions

This principle of neutralizing the cause is why ARNOLD'S VITAL FLUID CURES HUMORS that mere medicine cannot sensibly affect, and why it cures other diseases

Resulting from Poisons in the Blood, that mere medicinal preparations cannot alleviate. Humors are poisons in the blood, and it is by their chemical action in neutralizing those poisons that ARNOLD'S GLOBULES

are enabled to cure them so that they stay cured.

VITAL FLUID 50 cents per bottle; GLOBULES 25 cents per box.

Morning Chronicle.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 16, 1857.

WASHINGTON MATTERS.—The Boston Journal learns from Washington that the tidings of the defeat of Forney and the election of Cameron, has created an intense excitement among the Democratic politicians in that city. Bribery and corruption are openly charged, and it is avowed that Cameron will not be allowed to hold his seat. His election will be contested; and with a Democratic Senate and all the power of the administration opposed to him, it is thought he can be easily unseated.

The discussion which commenced yesterday on the tariff bill, is the beginning of a debate which will probably continue to the close of the session. The Southern and Western members have declared war against the principle of protection, and the manufacturing interest may not come out of the contest unscathed. Even the boon of a removal of the duties on the raw material, will be granted grudgingly, if granted at all.

The knowing ones at Washington laugh in their sleeves at the bribery and corruption investigation. Although the weakness of certain members of Congress is notorious, it is confidently predicted that they will be whitewashed and come out pure and immaculate.

PENNSYLVANIA.—It seems that Mr. Forney's friends in the Pennsylvania Legislature take his defeat very much to heart:—and there is some commotion in Washington on this account, not without reason, as we view the case. Mr. Forney—who managed in Pennsylvania as adroitly as Messrs. Pierce and Burke used to manage in New Hampshire,—was said to be, as he deserved to be, the particular candidate of Mr. Buchanan, our President elect. But he is defeated.

And now the Boston Chronicle thus explains the matter:—

Mr. Forney's friends in the legislature "are protesting vehemently against the legality of the operation, which is the more noteworthy because they themselves, backed by the Pennsylvanian, insisted on having the election take place on that day, without waiting for all the usual formalities in regard to the appointment of a teller. The argument was this: 'We must have the election to-day because the law requires it, and it is not really essential to the proceedings to have a teller elected a day previous to the ballot for Senator.'—But they were confident of success, and that made a world of difference. Now that they are defeated, they are protesting against their own sound and satisfactory argument.

It appears that Gen. Cameron received all the opposition votes, and also three from those who were classed as Buchanan men. The seven votes for Gen. Henry D. Foster were cast by Buchanan men who would not vote for Forney, and resented Buchanan's interference in Forney's behalf. Gen Foster is a member of the Legislature and voted for Mr. Wilkins, so that the majority against Forney was seventeen."

We presume the U. S. Senate will unseat Cameron,—but the defeat in Pennsylvania is not affected by that.

GLOUCESTER.—On Wednesday morning last, about four o'clock, some citizens of Gloucester were awakened by cries of distress in the street, and upon proceeding there, a man was found lying on the snow in a helpless state. He had been imbibing, and after falling, had not the power to get up, and would soon have perished with the cold had not his cries been heard. Mr. Alfred Crossey took him into his house, and succeeded in reviving him, thus saving him from an untimely death. He and all others should be careful how they imbibe, this cold weather, for such doings frequently place men in unpleasant positions.

We trust, says the Telegraph, the police will overhaul those vagrants who are prowling about our town, sleeping in barns and vessels at night, and see that they are provided with comfortable and permanent lodgings, through this cold weather. We understand that there are several about town, and it would be much better for them, as well as for the safety of the public if they were so disposed of.

☞ In a recent number of the Illustrated London News, there appeared an obituary of Miss Elizabeth Gray, teacher, who died in Edinburgh in April, 1856, at the age of 108. Her oldest brother died in 1748, twenty years before her birth, and her father in 1755. So that she survived her father 101 years, and her brother died 128 years before her.

MAINE.—In the Legislature of Maine, on Saturday, Elder Peck was chosen Treasurer of the State of Maine, and Mr Barker Land Agent, as was previously signified by the result of the Republican caucus. There is said to be a great contest for the office of Senator for the term which exists between now and the fourth of March, and Mr. John A. Poor is one of the candidates, and is said to be the only one who has Whig antecedents.—Boston Courier.

Rev. Benjamin D. Peck is an elder in good standing in the Freewill Baptist Church; is an able speaker and a judicious editor; has been the editor of the Maine Temperance Journal & Enquirer; has been city printer in Portland; and will make a good officer.

New Hampshire has had several clerical treasurers; among whom we name Rev. John Atwood and Rev. Walter Harriman.

Mr. John A. Poor is the able editor of the State of Maine newspaper, and would make an able Senator if chosen. The Eastern Argus, however, "hears it rumored" that Hon. Neal Dow is to be chosen Senator for the short term. Of his ability no one doubts who ever heard him speak.—Neal Dow is a tanner. The Senate would not be damaged in the least, by the presence of a few mechanics, mariners, and merchants.

"GIVE ME LIBERTY, OR."—The Springfield (Mass.) Republican calls ours a "free and glorious country," and as a proof of the appropriateness of the appellation so far as the slaveholding portion of it is concerned, publishes a note recently received from one of its subscribers in a Southern State, in which the writer says:

Although I subscribed to your paper for the sole purpose of receiving the local news of my native State and county, I am compelled to request its discontinuance. I am not allowed to receive it here.

The Concord Reporter, also, not long ago, received a similar note from a subscriber residing in Alabama, who had paid in advance and had been compelled by slavery influence to discontinue before the time of his subscription had half run out. What a gel-lorious thing this blessed institution of slavery is!

A subscriber to the Weekly Chronicle—a schoolmate of ours, but who has for some years resided in New Orleans,—requested us to discontinue his paper, for which he had paid in advance, as it was "too black for him and that latitude." So a man can neither read, act, say nor think as he pleases, "out South."

☞ Rev. Charles Burnham was installed as Pastor of the Congregational church at Meredith Village, on the 8th inst. The introductory services were performed by the Rev. Mr. Quimby of the Free Will Baptist church. Sermon by Rev. E. E. Adams of the Pearl street church, Nashua; installing prayer by Rev. Almon Benson of Centre Harbor; charge to the Pastor by Rev. Mr. Adams; fellowship of the churches, an address to the people, and closing prayer, by Rev. James Boutwell of Sanbornton.

The Rev. E. Irving Carpenter was dismissed from his pastoral charge of the Congregational church in Littleton, on the 6th inst.

☞ Some great forger has been discovered in Boston, for about $20,000. The paper bore the signature of A. K. Norris of Janesville, Wisconsin, and was endorsed "Daniel Deshon."

It is stated these endorsements were made at Janesville last fall, by a son of Mr. Deshon, who attached his father's name to several notes drawn by Mr. Norris, and also attached the name of his father to blank paper left at Janesville to be filled up. Mr. Deshon is of course no ways bound by the notes, and will not respond to them.

TWO GIRLS SUFFOCATED.—On Thursday night two domestics in the employment of E. H. Han, Esq., of Tubby Hook, on the Hudson river, were suffocated by burning charcoal in their bedroom. The girls being ignorant of the danger attending the lighting of charcoal in a close room, went to bed, leaving a fire of the coal in the middle of the room. The fumes arising from the charcoal suffocated them both, and in the morning, when the coachman came to awake the domestics, he found them dead in their beds.

☞ One cold morning lately, many of the shopkeepers of Chelsea found their door locks so full of ice, that they could not enter the keys. Some scamp had poured in water, and Jack Frost had cemented all together. One shopkeeper rushed home for his tea-kettle, and soon made entry.—Another tried his lighted cigar; others banged away: but the hot water was the best.

We give away nothing so generously and receive nothing so reluctantly as advice.

☞ The Phrenological Journal for Jan., 1857, contains a beautiful likeness of Anna Cora Mowatt Ritchie;—a portrait of Dr. Kane, with his Beard, Bears, Barbarians, &c.—with ever so many interesting articles.

Fowler & Wells, Boston and New York, are the publishers—and they also publish the Water Cure Journal, the Jan. No. of which is just received.

TEXAS.—The Galveston Civilian says that every steamship arriving at that port from New Orleans is crowded with emigrants, including many slaves. The statistics of the State show that Texas is entitled to fire instead of two Representatives in Congress.

NOVEL SUIT.—Mr. Walker, one of the editors of the Newton (Iowa) Express has been sued for $2500 by three individuals of that town for "quietly lookin' on," as he says, while some ladies were destroying the whiskey of the plaintiffs.

CONGREGATIONAL ASSOCIATIONS.—The Piscataqua Association will meet at Great Falls, with Rev. G. N. Anthony, on Tuesday, Jan. 20th, at 11 o' clock, A. M.

Harmony Association, at Wakefield, same day.

Derry Association will be held at the house of Rev. Mr. Condit, in Deerfield, Feb. 3, (1st Tuesday.)

☞ On Monday a lady stopped at the Madison House, Covington, Ky., with her husband and thirty-two children. She was about 60 years of age, but looked young and hearty. She is the mother of all of them.

If a man deceives you once, do not trust him again; if a man insults you, take no notice of him.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

The greatest natural ornament to the human form divine," is unquestionably a fine, luxuriant, healthy growth of hair. It has been so esteemed in all ages of the world, and among all nations, savage and civilized. Hence, the Indian brave regards the scalp of his enemy as his greatest trophy. For a similar reason, the fashionable belle often disguises the region of vanity, as well as her other phrenological organs with borrowed locks.

He who should discover a mode of preventing the hair from showing the inroads of envious Time by turning prematurely gray, a method by which it could be restored when falling off or turning white, and a way of promoting its continued and luxuriant growth, would be justly entitled to rank among the benefactors of the human race. Read the testimonials of the wonderful, not to say almost miraculous effects of "Professor Wood's Hair Restorative," and see if it has not accomplished all this.[Capital City Fact

REPUBLICAN CONVENTIONS.—Republican Conventions for the nomination of Councillor for the 1st District; County Officers for Rockingham County; and Senator for District No. 2, were held at Exeter on Thursday.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—Mr. Gowen proceeded upon Secretary Marcy to-day, and deposited the necessary bonds and authenticated documents in accordance with the act passed last session, having discovered a new island, called Somburo, containing 6,000,000 tuns, within eight days' sail of New York. The Secretary informed him that Government would protect him in its occupation with its strong arm. CONGRESS.

WEDNESDAY, Jan. 14,

SENATE.—The Senate passed the House bill making appropriations for the Military Academy.

Mr. Benjamin reported a bill providing for improvements on the Mississipi, and other rivers. Mr. Benjamin remarked that, at the last session, bills were referred to the Committee on Commerce, to provide for such objects, but the committee being unable to agree on the subject, no report was then made. A proposition in those bills was to advertise for certain numbers of hands to go work in removing the various obstructions in those rivers by contract, but the committee found great difficulties in the way of such a system, and, accordingly reported that now before the Senate, the consideration of which he would ask at an early day.

The bill proposes to have the Western rivers divided into convenient sections, and then advertise for contracts for the removal of all obstructions of each section, whether from stumps, snags, sunken wrecks rocks, logs, or of whatever nature, either in the main channel of the river, or in the channels leading to the various ports and landings. It provides that no money shall be paid on any contract until the entire work undertaken shall be completed, and inspected by suitable officers of the Topographical Corps of Engineers. The bill includes various appropriations which do not exceed $150,000 per annum, for five years. For that sum the Committee have ascertained that contracts can certainly be made, by which all these Western rivers could be kept entirely clear of the obstructions at present so destructive to life and property. At the end of five years, when these rivers are to be delivered up to the government entirely free from obstructions, a continued appropriation of one third of that sum will keep them clear.

Mr. Houston offered a resolution, which lies over, calling on the President to inform the Senate of the number of deserters from the Navy since the passage of the act to provide for the efficiency of the Navy, the cause of the return from the Pacific station of certain officers, and in relation to the resignation of any commissioned officers recently serving in the East India squadron.

The house bill providing for the settlement of the claims of officers of the revolution, was advocated by Mr. Bell of New Hampshire, and opposed by Mr. Clay. Adjourned.

HOUSE.—A large number of bills were introduced. Among them were the following:

By Mr. Carlisle—One equalizing grants of lands to the several States

By Mr. Letcher—Establishing a Branch Mint in the city of New York.

By Mr. Colfax—Abolishing the duty on Sugar.

By Mr. Woodworth—For a Railroad and Telegraph to the Pacific.

By Mr. Herbert—Granting alternate sections of land to California purposes (?) and also a bill providing for the sale of the the surveyed land in that State.

By Mr Whitfield—For the erection of public buildings and military roads in Kansas.

By Mr. Wood—For one or more Railroads from the Mississippi to the Pacific.

By Mr. Florence—Equalizing the Army, Navy, and Marine pensions.

The House went into Committee of the Whole on the Tariff bill.

Mr. Akers made a speech in vindication of the American party.

Mr. Durfee advocated protection for American manufacturers. Adjourned.

HARRISBURG, Jan. 14.—A protest was presented in the Senate, to-day, against the election of Mr. Cameron, because he did not receive a concurrent majority in each House, and because the Senate failed to comply with the law requiring the appointment of a teller, and the nomination of candidates on the day before the meeting of the Convention. The protest is signed by fourteen Senators. The consideration of the matter was postponed, in consequence of the absence of Mr. Browne.

A similar protest was presented in the House, and debated warmly. A motion to place the protest on the journal was lost, no quorum voting. A call of the House was ordered, pending which the House adjourned.

KEENE, N. H., Jan. 15.—Two barns belonging to Lewis Carpenter, in Factory Village, Swanzey, about two miles from Keene, were totally destroyed by fire last evening. A shed adjoining was also destroyed. A man named Pierce was in the loft pitching hay, and was severely burned while making his escape.

☞ The Milford (N. H.) Republican, a new paper, neat and well-filled, is just commenced, and promises well.

THE GREAT DISCOVERY.

Many years ago, Doctor Burleigh Smart of Kennebunk, Me., discovered that a simple article never before used as a medicine, was a never failing cure for coughs of every description, and an excellent blood purifier. By the use in his private practice, he acquired the reputation of being the best physician in New England, for all diseases of the lungs. After his death, Messrs. Shaw & Clark of Biddeford, Me., obtained a Copy Right from Government, for its exclusive manufacture, and now have it carefully prepared strictly according to the original recipe. There is no cough but it will not cure, unless the patient is past all human aid before commencing its use! It is call'd "Doctor Burleigh Smart's Cough Medicine," and is for sale by all apothecaries. 3m* FuTxh 6m

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.

DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS FOR FEMALES,

Prepared by an old Physician of 40 years experience

THE combination of ingredients in these Pills, is the result of a long and extensive practice: they are mild in their operation, and certain to restoring nature to its proper channel. In every instance have the Pills proved successful. They are certain to open those obstructions to which females are liable, and bring nature into its proper channel, whereby health is restored, and the pale and deathly countenance changed to a healthy one. No female can enjoy good health unless she is regular; and whenever an obstruction takes place, whether from exposure, cold, or any other cause, the general health immediately begins to decline, and the want of such a remedy has been the cause of so many consumptions among young females. Headache, pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, loathing of food, and disturbed sleep, that most always arise from the interruption of nature; and whenever that is the case, the Pills will invariably remove all these evils. In all cases of painful menstruation, or nervous and spinal affections in the back and limbs, lowness of spirits, hysterics, &c. Nor are they less efficacious in the cure of Leucorrhœa, commonly called the "Whites." These Pills should never be taken during pregnancy, as they would be sure to cause a miscarriage. Warranted purely Vegetable, and free from anything injurious to life or health. Full and explicit directions which should be read, accompany each box.

These Pills are put up in square, flat boxes.—Persons residing where there are no Agencies established, by enclosing One Dollar in a letter, prepaid, to Dr. C. L. CHEESEMAN, Box No. 4,581, Post Office, New York City, can have them sent to their respective addresses by return of mail.

SWEETSER'S COMPOUND
Iceland Moss Candy,

an old established and effectual remedy for RECENT COUGHS, COLDS, INFLUENZA, BRONCHITIS, TICKLINGS and uneasy Sensations in the THROAT, ASTHMA, and AFFECTIONS of the PULMONARY ORGANS generally.

THOSE suffering under any Complaints of the Lungs will find this Candy a pleasant, convenient and effectual agent for relief.

The Healing and Curative powers of the Iceland Moss (Lichen Islandicus) have long been recognized by medical Practitioners—particularly in CONSUMPTIVE cases and affections of the Lungs, as it combines with these qualities both tonic and NUTRITIOUS powers. Numerous cases are recorded in which cures have been effected by the use of ICELAND MOSS, alone.

Prepared in this form, it is rendered more pleasant and convenient, without being deprived of its medicinal virtues; while it is wholly free from the unpleasant flavor which attends its usual preparation.

REMARKABLE LIQUOR CASE IN WOBURN, MASS.—An Irish boy only eight years of age, named Owen Hoy, was last week sentenced by Justice Nelson, of Woburn, to pay $10 and costs and be confined in the House of Correction for three months, for selling liquor. He had been convicted of six distinct sales. Ann Hoy, the mother of the boy, says the Boston Herald, was convicted on a charge of selling liquor, in October last, and is now serving a sentence in the House of Correction for that offence. Since his mother's imprisonment the younger her attended to the business, some of the time selling upwards of a barrel of rum a week.

DRESS REFORM.—One of the objects advocated in the late "dress reform convention" was announced to be "to put Down low necked dresses." We were not aware that any further progress in that direction was desirable.—Worcester Transcript.

TREMONT MILLS.

Teas, Coffees, Chocolates, Cocoans, Spices, &c.

WHOLESALE,—AND ALSO IN SMALL PACKAGES.

E. E. DYER & CO.

(Sign of the Chinaman grinding coffee.)

141 Washington St., Boston.

SUPPLY the best, finest and purest articles, at lowest cash prices.

Stock consists of

Teas, Coffees, Chocolates, Allspice, Pepper, Mustard, Ginger, Cassia, Pepper, Nutmegs, Cinnamon, Cloves, Cream Tartar, Tarraxacum, or Prepared Dandelion Root, &c., &c.

Having every facility for manufacturing and preparing the several articles named, the public may rely upon having them pure and genuine, as they are put up carefully, and bear our name and label, "TREMONT MILLS, E. E. DYER & CO."

To give consumers some idea of our sales, we annex the following scale of prices:—

6 lb. Souchong Tea, 1.50 | 5 lb. Mocha Coffee, 1.00
5 lb. Oolong " 1.75 | 5 lb. Java " 90
5 lb. Y. Hyson " 2.25 | 5 lb. good " 1.00

☞ The Spices are put up in 2 and 4 lb. tin cans, expressly for family use, and are warranted to be strictly a pure article, and only need a trial to establish them in public favor.

SPANISH COFFEE.—We would call the attention of customers and dealers to our Spanish Coffee, as an article which is highly esteemed, and gives the greatest satisfaction. It is prepared with particular care, and by a peculiar process in roasting, one pound of this coffee, it is believed, is equal to 2 lb. of any other.

DANDELION COFFEE.—This article is carefully prepared at our Mills, and put up in packages having our trade mark, and may be relied upon as the best and most approved mixture of dandelion and coffee.

TARAXACUM, or Prepared Dandelion Root.—This article is prepared and roasted at our Mills, is retailed by Family Grocers generally in city and country, and bearing our trade mark, "Chinaman grinding coffee." may be relied upon as the GENUINE ARTICLE. The proprietors have but about one-half the quantity of coffee. The price is 20 cents per pound, and it is warranted to be the same as that which has been sold for fifty cents a pound by druggists.

The medical properties of Dandelion are well-known, and held in high estimation by all who use it. This being a preparation of the root, with all its medicinal virtues retained, can be mixed with coffee or not, as best suits the taste, and will be found cheap and economical as a family beverage, one pound of which makes nearly equal to two pounds of coffee. It is prescribed by many eminent physicians to invalids, children and aged persons, as a nutritious beverage, and as a remedy for Dyspepsia, Bilious affections &c.

☞ Be careful to observe that all our Coffees have our trade mark, "Chinaman grinding coffee."

☞ To Grocers and Dealers a liberal discount is made, enabling them to supply their customers at the same low rate.

☞ TO CASH PURCHASERS.—Our object being to secure large sales at small profits, we offer inducements which cannot be offered by those who do business on the credit system; and we confidently invite an examination of the quality of our stock and our prices, as compared with those of any other house.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,

(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)

No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston,

AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries, on reasonable terms. Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made in American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unattainable by all not immediately superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber, and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and other reference, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the highest honorable and skillful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

CHAS. MAGUIRE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.

Commissioner of Patents.

Prince & Co.'s Improved Melodeons.

THE OLDEST ESTABLISHMENT IN THE U.S.

Employing Two Hundred Men, and building

Eighty Instruments per Week.

BETWEEN 18,000 AND 19,000 of these instruments have been finished and are now in use.

THE latest improvement in our Melodeons is the DIVIDED SWELL, secured to us by Letters Patent dated May, 1855.—By means of this Swell Solo Passages may be played with the full power of the instrument, while the Accompaniment is soft and subdued.—Hereafter all Melodeons made by us will be furnished with this attachment without extra charge.

Extract from the Commercial Advertiser, July 27, '55.

"Messrs Prince & Co could realize a handsome fortune by disposing of rights to other manufacturers to use their new improvement; but as they prefer to make it a feature in their Instruments, it can only be obtained by purchasing one of their manufactures."

It is now eight years since we commenced the manufacture of this new celebrated Musical Instrument, during which time we have finished and sold nearly SEVEN THOUSAND. Volunteered testimonials to the excellence of our Instruments, from the most distinguished Professors of Music in different parts of the United States, have been received, and are now on file. Thus far we have said but little, and our advertisements were seldom seen for the reason that we could not supply the demand. We have lately opened one of the largest and most perfect Manufacturing Establishments in the United States, and we now think that we can fill orders promptly. We therefore give one testimonial we have received.

NEW YORK, 15th Oct. 1855

"G. A. Prince & Co.: Gentlemen—The Double Reed Melodeon has arrived, and a most charming instrument it is! It has been placed on the Parlace, Doct. Hodges, Wm. Mason, and a host of others, and they all pronounce it one of the most beautiful reed instruments they have ever touched. Very really, JAMES F. HALL."

We are not aware that the above mentioned Melodeon is in any particular superior to those we are daily finishing, and we can assure those who are inclined to favor us with their orders, that they will be furnished with an instrument equally as good. Our Instruments are all finished in Rosewood Cases, and the workmanship is of the very best quality. The styles and prices are—

Singer's Sewing Machines.

THESE celebrated machines are in practical and profitable use in all parts of the civilized world. In all the various modes, and in sewing every sort of fabric, either of cloth or leather, they have been fully tried and approved. Sewing machines of other manufacture have often fail to work, but SINGER'S MACHINES being strong, durable and complete in contrivance and workmanship. A person using a machine kept employed, affords a clear profit of $1000 a year; but an imperfect one is a cause of constant vexation and loss. The entire ASSURANCE of our manufacture is our great reason for their unparalleled popularity.

ALWAYS OPERATE PERFECTLY,

MACHINES FOR FAMILY SEWING, instead of a trifle and disease constitution, are recommended by other manufacturers. Such machines are made to catch the eye, not to perform substantial work. The truth is, family sewing machines are harder on the operator than others, because they go into less skilful hands than when sold to manufacturers, and are used for a greater variety of work. The machines which have proved best for all other purposes must be best for family use, and they are Singer's. The speed of our machines has lately been doubled. No other can compare with them in quantity of work.

☞ New machines of the latest improved style will be exchanged on liberal terms for old sewing machines of any kind, or for other articles, in exchange of other manufacturers. Local agents wanted to sell our machines.

N B.—All persons desiring full information about sewing machines, can obtain it by applying for a copy of "I. M. Singer & Co's Gazette," a paper devoted entirely to the subject, which will be sent gratis I. M. SINGER & CO.

THE OLD DOCTORS.

"Will not some of our learned and talented antiquarian readers furnish sketches of the life and character of some of the old physicians of New England? Who will contribute the first article of a series?"—Boston Transcript, Jan. 10th, 1857.

To this, Sigma, who is well known as a writer, responds as follows:

True enough, Mr. Editor, who will?—This is a ticklish topic; for, though the old saw is as good as ever, and needs no setting snow, that dead men tell no tales, yet live ones may. Upon the whole, this idea of yours is not a bad one; and, after the series shall be completed, perhaps some one may give us a second series, upon the life and character of some of the old ladies of New England.

There are some good stories of the old doctors, doubtless; and without any intention of accepting your challenge, or any claim to be "learned or talented," I myself will endeavor to give you a clever story—so it seemed to me, in the recital, many years ago—which may serve, like a piggin of water, to "fetch the pump" of some of your "learned, talented, and antiquarian readers."

An old friend of mine, a man of keen sensibility, with a head to think, and a heart to feel, and a hand, ready and open, upon every reasonable call, and whose memory it is very pleasant to cherish, told me the story, which I am about to record; and brought me acquainted with the physician, who was the principal subject of the narrative. There is no good reason for withholding the name of the gentleman, who brought me acquainted with the narrator. Dr. George Cheyne Shattuck came, one morning, to my office, and said that he had an interesting temperance story to tell me, but should prefer to have me hear it from the principal, Dr. ——, rather than from himself.

He informed me, that Dr. ——, on account of his great success in the treatment of cancer cases, had been summoned from a neighboring State, to attend upon a lady in Boston, who was suffering—dying, it afterwards appeared—from an internal malady, supposed to be cancerous. Dr. Shattuck proposed to bring Dr. —— to my house, in the country, to which I readily assented. They arrived that afternoon. Dr. ——, who then appeared to be quite an old man, would, probably, seem to me now a young fellow of seventy, like myself. He was rather portly, with a wholesome, healthy countenance, a clear, observant eye, and hair of a grizzly grey, very short and closely buckled, leaving me for sometime in doubt, whether it was of foreign or domestic growth; for it had much the appearance of a wig, rather fancifully curled. This minuteness of description is not an unimportant part of the narrative.

After tea, Dr. ——, though with some reluctance, proceeded to relate his story.—It was a brief one, though recited evidently at no small cost to the narrator. I will now repeat it, substantially as I heard it, and in the person of the speaker.—"I was in the medical staff of the army, during the revolutionary war. I was rather young, to be there. My constitution was one of the best. Had it been otherwise, I should, no doubt, have fallen a victim to the habits which I contracted in early life. My tendencies were convivial; temptations to intemperate drinking and gambling were always present, and importunate; we were a clique by ourselves, with no one to molest or make afraid; and no one thought himself degraded by being drunk.

I married very early in life, when I was little better than a boy. The girl that I married was thought to be a great deal too good for me, by everybody but herself. I was not intemperate then; and, for a time, my wife and our little home seemed all the world to me. She had a little property; and, in about a year after our marriage, she gave birth to a daughter. Bad habits soon got the mastery of my better feelings. The attractions of the gay circle at the tavern, or in the quarters of some comrade, became irresistible; and the very consciousness of the neglect to which I was subjecting the woman, whom I had promised to love and to cherish, began to make her presence undesirable, and home a place of mental and moral punishment. Qualms, and struggles, and gnawings of the worm that dies not, doubtless there were, neither few nor far between; but the temptations were irresistible. I was lost. I know it.

The details of a thousand cases are much the same. The little modicum of property that my wife brought me, had dwindled away, piece after piece. Where had it gone? Down my insatiable throat! I had swallowed it, or gambled it away!—No memorial remained but rags and tatters! We were very poor. A more uncomplaining woman God never made. She struggled to hide even her tears, to save me from pain on her account.

Let me pass over some three years of misery, and come at the conclusion of the whole matter. One bleak December morning, I was about going forth, as usual from my wretched habitation, when my wife put her hand upon my shoulder, and pointing first to our sick child, and then to a few brands upon the hearth, reminded me that those were the last, and that it was bitter cold. As I turned away I promised to send her some fuel immediately. I soon met some of my comrades; and, resorting to the tavern, we passed the hours, as usual in drinking and revelry, until near midnight, when I staggered homeward. It was piercing cold. I reached my door step, and placed my hand upon the latch—then it first occurred to me that I had wholly forgotten my promise—I had sent home no fuel! I entered the apartment. A light was still burning. The hearth was cold.—My wife sat rocking her sick child, in the cradle. She turned her eyes upon mine. The tears were streaming down her shivering cheeks. 'Wife,' said I, 'for Heaven's sake, when will you leave off crying?'—'Dear husband,' said she, 'when you leave off drinking.' 'God help me,' I exclaimed, as I put my arm around her neck, for the appeal was irresistible—'God help me, and I will never touch another drop.'

By God's help I never have, to the present hour; and, from the date of that resolution, the days of our uninterrupted happiness began." Dr. —— then called our attention to his hair; stating that it was a second crop, and that he was very bald at the early age of twenty-four.

SINGULAR COINCIDENCE.—Six years ago this winter, Jam s M. Usher, Esq., of Medford, Mass., then a member of the Senate, was sent to the House with a m ssage informing that body of the election to the United States Senate on the part of the Senate, of Charles Sumner of Boston. On Tuesday Mr. Usher was again appointed by the President of the Senate to convey the same message to the House.—Boston Telegraph.

Arnold's Vital Fluid

PURIFIES and strengthens the blood by eradicating, through a nice chemical action, the causes of impurities and humors; hence its power to cure almost incurable diseases—because it gives power of strengthening and vitalizing the blood. It turnishes to a certain extent, the element of which part of blood is composed. It eradicates and cleanses away what ever clogs, and thickens the blood.

ARNOLD'S VITAL FLUID

Renders the system strong and healthy, by freeing the blood and stomach from objectionable materials. It nerves and vivifies the system, by furnishing the elements which are wanting.

ARNOLD'S VITAL FLUID

gives to the system an influence and effect similar to that produced by exercise in the free open air. It invigorates by strengthening the blood to bright red and better action—and by work by beginning at the beginning. It is pleasant to the taste, and becomes a favorite wherever known.

ARNOLD'S VITAL FLUID

removes Biliousness in the most direct and easy manner, by neutralizing the causes. Fate is the principle of its action in removing illness generally. It neutralizes the cause, by freeing the blood from impediments to its proper fulfilment of its life giving functions.

This principle of neutralizing the cause is why ARNOLD'S VITAL FLUID CURES HUMORS that mere medicine cannot sensibly affect, and why it cures other diseases.

Resulting from Poisons in the Blood, that mere medicinal preparations cannot alleviate. Humors are poisons in the blood, and it is by their chemical action in neutralizing those poisons that ARNOLD'S GLOBULES AND VITAL FLUID are enabled to cure them so that they stay cured.

VITAL FLUID 50 cents per bottle; GLOBULES 25 cents per box.

GRAND UNION CONCERT.

VOCAL AND INSTRUMENTAL—CONTINENTAL AND GERMAN (OR MODERN.)

It will be seen by our advertising columns, that a Rehearsal of the Old Folks Choir is called on Sunday evening next, at Exchange Hall. This is preparatory to a grand union entertainment to be given on the Sunday evening following, at the Temple,—by the full Old Folks Choir, and an excellent Orchestra of twenty instruments, with a piano and melodeon—which will make up one of heaviest and best choruses ever heard in this region.

We learn that the programme will commence with the splendid instrumental part of Mozart's Requiem Mass,—which will be performed by the Orchestra under direction of Mr. Wm. F. Lawrence—formerly well known in this city as a skilful musical conductor,—comprising the best players in Exeter, Epping, and neighboring towns, with the aid on this occasion of some of the best performers in this city.

Besides the good old tunes of yore, which always find an echo in the hearts of the hearers; the beautiful Song of the Old Folks, written for this Choir by A. L., will be performed, by special request—to hear which alone, as sung to the tune of Auld Lang Syne, especially by so fine a chorus, is worth more than the price of admission.

Altogether, from what we hear, we have no doubt this will be one of the best Concerts ever given in Portsmouth; and it will hardly fail to draw a large audience.

THALBERG.

Mr. Brewster, Dear Sir:—When in Boston, I inquired into the probability of hearing this great artist at home, and received the assurance that he, with his troup, would give one concert here, if a sufficient sale of tickets is secured by subscription. The price of the ticket is one dollar.

The opportunity of having the first pianist in the world with us, is herewith offered. To those not acquainted with the great name, we would only mention, that, what Jenny Lind is as a vocalist, Thalberg is as pianist: the true, pure artist, without fault or blemish, and as such, elevated high beyond all others. His art is Music, not finger-show.

The subscription papers are at Preston's, Shores's, Foster's and Harvey's, and the public is respectfully invited to fill them before Wednesday next.—Four hundred tickets must be subscribed for to secure the concert. C. MEINERTH.

January 16, 1857.

From the Boston Traveller. tched

SIGISMUND THALBERG.—After having warmed the movements of that gentleman, since he arrive in this country, with considerable interest, we at last been favored with a hearing. In New-York, Philadelphia, and other places of minor consequence, he has invariably been received with the utmost enthusiasm. We are inclined to take the seeming slight as a delicate compliment, as if he would like to try the temper of the people before subjecting himself to the criticism or admiration of an "Athenian" audience. We had been led to believe, from various notices of Mr. Thalberg's concerts which have appeared, that in him we should see the consummation of all that pianism could accomplish—that we should hear playing, the most simple passages of which would be approachable by none except the best artists who have hitherto appeared among us, and we were gratified in finding our expectations realized.

M'lle D'Angri, who accompanies him, has a voice of great compass and force, which she manages with the skill of a consummate artiste.—Depth without huskiness, volume without harshness, brilliancy and intensity without sharpness, are the characteristics of her tones. All this with extraordinary execution for a contralto, will make her immensely popular in Boston.

Father Mathew's funeral took place in Cork on the 12th ult. The Roman Catholic Bishop and seventy priests officiated at the obsequies in the Catholic Church of the Holy Trinity. It was attended by the Corporation and city officers in mourning, by several dignitaries and clergymen of the established church, as well as by a vast number of the Roman Catholic clergy, with their bishop at their head, and all the Roman Catholic and a great many of the protestant gentry, of the surrounding country. It was estimated that not fewer than 50,000 people were assembled in and around the cemetery on the occasion. The cortege was more than three miles long.

Why was he thus honored? It was because he had labored for the good of his fellow men. He had been the instrument of happiness to thousands of families, by leading parents to abstain from ardent spirits, and to become industrious and useful members of society. Can any man who holds the bottle to his neighbor's mouth ever expect to be thus honored here, or enjoy so high a position hereafter?

ACCIDENT ON THE EASTERN RAILROAD.—The E. R. R. train from Boston, on Thursday evening, brought along Mr. Wm. P. Tufts of Raymond, badly disabled by an accident on the Eastern road in Lynn. He took the next Concord train to Raymond that evening. Mr. Tufts was trading at a store in Lynn, where the railroad track passes close to the door, and had stepped across the track to attend to his horse, when he heard the engine bell. In attempting to back his sleigh, his foot slipt and he fell across the track. The engine as it struck him, threw him some distance against a tree, breaking his leg in two places.

THE POSITION OF WILSON THE MURDERER AT THE STATE PRISON.—We understand from the Traveller that Wilson, who murdered Adams, one of the convicts at the State Prison, for which crime he was condemned to be hung, but afterwards had his sentence commuted to imprisonment in the State Prison for life was, on his arrival at the prison placed in a cell by himself, and still remains there. He is not allowed to work with the convicts—in all respects a similar position to that of the colored convict Peter York, who was sent there for a murder in Boston, but who has proved too dangerous to be at large, even within the walls of a prison. York has occupied his present cell for a half dozen years or more. He is occasionally allowed to walk for exercise in the passage-way of his cell, and at times, under a proper guard, is taken to the chapel. Wilson expresses his disappointment at his not being permitted to labor with the other prisoners, and on one occasion gave utterance to a regret that a change had been made in his sentence.

NEW STATES.

As the Richmond Enquirer claims that, if Kansas shall come into the Union as a free State, it must be in company with another slave State, the question is, where shall this State be found? It can't be in Nebraska, as that Territory was graciously "conceded to freedom" by the slaveholding democracy from the beginning. It can't be in Minnesota that is, or Dacotah that is to be, for they have not a slave in them, and are not likely to have one. Washington Territory is out of the question, and so is Oregon. The slaveocracy therefore, (says the Boston Chronicle,) must look to California or to Texas, for a new slave State, to come into the Union with Kansas, so that freedom may not become too strong in the national Senate, where she certainly has been too weak this many a year. It has more than once been proposed that California should be divided into two States, with the view of having slavery established in one of them. This scheme may be revived, and judging from the enormous pro-slavery vote thrown there in November last, it could be revived with excellent prospects of success. All would depend upon the action of the Buchanan administration. As to Texas, although the right to create new states out of that nation was secured by the terms of its admission into the Union, the South has been very shy about availing itself of that right. It has been so because if it should be proposed to divide Texas, the fact of the slow increase of a country under the slave system would be brought more clearly before the world than it has ever yet been. Texas has been twelve years in the Union, and yet she is in no condition, reference being had to population, to furnish materials for even one new state. She had but 154,000 free people in 1850, five years after her admission, and 58,000 slaves. As a free state, her population would have been double that number. Compare her progress with that of Minnesota, and see how vast are the advantages on the side of free labor.

We should not be deceived by this talk on the part of the organs of slavery, about the coming in of Kansas as a free state. It is probably meant to deceive, and it may deceive the North, though it should not. The South, we may be assured, has not given up all hope of making Kansas a slave State. If not now so violent on that point as formerly, its moderation proceeds only from its doubts as to how far it can depend upon the new administration for support. The matter is merely in abeyance until after the fourth of next March.

☞ Godey for February, is before us;—and is decidedly a beautiful and true Lady's Book. Another of the Beautiful Slipper Patterns is given in this number, in addition to a Beautiful Fashion Plate, which contains a Bride's Dress, with a front and back view. Hear ye this, oh, ye bachelor editors!—a bride's dress. It also contains a beautiful engraving from a steel plate, entitled "Charity," a lovely woman teaching her child to be charitable; the Tinted Plate of "Old and Young America," is a capital design, and admirably engraved.—We count no less than 80 engravings in the number.

AN OLD MAN TEN YEARS IN JAIL FOR DEBT.—An old man named Gregg, who had been confined in Fahquier county jail since the first of October, 1856, for debt, under the old law, was released on Christmas day by Jailer Cross, there being nothing left in the hands of the law to pay his jail expenses. We learn that this man had property enough to pay the debt against him, but that he preferred spending his weary hours within the gloomy walls of the county prison to paying the debt which he owed. The person who had confined him has been dead for some years, but we learn put a provision in his will appropriating a sufficient amount to keep him in limbo as long as he lived. Somehow or other this stipulation has given out, and of course Gregg becomes free again. When he left the jail door he appeared to be perfectly bewilder d, and did not know which way to travel, but in a short time he became fully conscious of his freedom, and strutted about with the air of one who knew what liberty used to be in "by-gone days."—Warrentown (Va.) Whig.

If this statement be correct, both Debtor and Creditor were not wiser than the man who should bite off his nose to spite his face.

The free negro bill, which has been pending before the Legislature of Arkansas for several weeks, and which had for its object the removal of all free negroes from the State, has been defeated.

The best way to discipline one's heart against scandal, is to believe all stories to be false, which ought not to be true.

THE SNOW MIRACLE.

BY T. B. ALDRICH.

The fairies are not dead,
The fairies of our childhood, long ago!
There is an angel walking overhead
When frosty eaves are hung with icy curls,
And January shivers in the snow!
She speaks unto the North wind, and her words
—A miracle! a miracle!—are pearls!
Lo! how they flutter down
And fill each secret nook,
The willow hidden brook,
And the house tops of the town,
And the chimneys as they look,
With yawning mouths, to all
The flakes, till in a pail
Of pearls the earth is hid,
The Dame-earth is hid!
The pearls, the crispy pearls!
Lo! how they flutter down
From the snowy angels' lips!
Till the hemlocks, and the pines,
And the ghostly poplar trees,
Are like the shroud and rigging of the ships!
Lo! how they flutter down,
So wondrously complete—
So marvellously wrought—
And in the stifled town,
Each half-deserted street
Is piled with her white thought!

O, we are blind and weak:
We daily yearn and seek
For miracles like those of long ago;
We moan and murmur still,
As if this falling snow
Were not a miracle! —[Home Journal.

WILLIE'S CHOICE.

BY HARRIET M'EWEN KIMBALL.

When Willie wins and weds a wife,
I wonder who the bride will be?
For any maiden might be proud
Of such a noble lad as he.

Now Willie is our village pride;
The flower of all our country youth:
He's turned the heads of twenty girls!
Though they are easy turned, in truth!

His father lives on yonder farm;
The country people call him "Squire:"
They say, to save his son from harm,
That he would pass through flood or fire!

The good Squire hints of days to come;
And looks as wise as wise can be!
When Will shall bring his maiden home;
But no one knows his choice but me!

Nay, do frown so, stately Maud;
For we will call you "princess" still;
Though Willie calmly passed you by,
I'm sure you wish his bride no ill.

Withhold your anger, pretty Madge:
Still pout your lips, and curl your hair:
The simple maid that Willie loves
Is not one-half—one-half so fair!

She's lovely only in his eyes—
Indeed she wants no other praise,
Her only wealth is in his love—
Her pleasure follows in his ways.

I cannot blame our princess Maud;
Or Madge, the rosy little elf!
What marvel that they tried their best?
I strove to please the lad myself!
—[Home Journal.

Mad dogs are plenty in Illinois. At Joilet, last week, three children and a number of cattle were bitten; and at Augusta a single dog bit upwards of twenty cattle, hogs and sheep, most of which have since gone mad. The stock bitten was estimated to be worth $800.

DR. KANE.—The correspondent of the New York Courier & Enquirer, at Havana, under date of Jan. 3, says:—"The health of Dr. Kane, I am happy to say, is improving."

NOVEL WAY OF DISCHARGING A CARGO.—Two vessels which are frozen up in the river, below Wareham, are being discharged where they lie, one and one half miles below the wharves, the ice being of sufficient thickness to sustain loaded teams.

Fourteen cattle perished in an open car on Wednesday night on the northern Railroad, and were found on the arrival of the train at Lowell.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

The greatest natural ornament to the "human form divine," is unquestionably a fine, luxuriant, healthy growth of hair. It has been so esteemed in all ages of the world, and among all nations, savage and civilized. Hence, the Indian draws regards the scalp of his enemy as his greatest trophy. For a similar reason, the fashionable belle often disguises the region of vanity, as well as her other phrenological organs with borrowed locks.

He who should discover a mode of preventing the hair from showing the inroads of envious Time by turning prematurely gray, a method by which it could be restored when falling off or turning white, and a way of promoting its continued and luxuriant growth, would be justly entitled to rank among the benefactors of the human race. Read the testimonials of the wonderful, not to say almost miraculous effects of "Professor Wood's Hair Restorative," and see if he has not accomplished all this. [Capital City Fact

Mr. Thrasher, long a resident in Cuba, and well known for his intimate connection with the attempts made of late years to detach that island from Spain, has published a letter in which he avows his opinion that for the present any filibustering enterprises directed from this country against Cuba must be utterly fruitless.—The former efforts of this sort, with which Mr. Thrasher was so intimately connected, were all based upon a state of discontent among the inhabitants of Cuba, from whom the pecuniary means to support those operations, estimated by Mr. Thrasher at fully two millions of dollars, were entirely drawn.

Since that time the policy of the Spanish Government and the state of public feeling in Cuba have both undergone a great change.—Portland Ard.

CHARITABLE SERMON.—Rev. L. Whiting, of Portsmouth, delivered the Annual Address before the Concord Female Charitable Society, on Sunday evening last, at the South Church. It was in the shape of one of the most original and eloquent sermons we ever heard. Mr. Whiting is an original thinker—he deals in no second-hand ideas—no common place modes of expression. He is Mr. Whiting and nobody else. The audience responded to his appeals in behalf of the poor and unfortunate, by contributing about $72. — Independent Democrat.

A highly important feature in this connection, is the invaluable process of Enlarging a small-sized picture up to Cabinet or even the size of Life. This process also I have obtained, so that any one possessing a small picture of a lost friend, for instance, can have a beautiful large Photograph executed from it. A. GREGORY.

COURT OF COMMON PLEAS.

FRIDAY, Jan. 16.

No. 221, Folsom vs. City of Portsmouth, is still on trial,—and will probably occupy to-morrow. This is for damages, the plff.'s leg having been broken by the overturn of a sleigh near the corner of Vaughan and Congress streets. He sues the city for damages by a defect in the street.

MUSICAL.—It will be seen by a notice from the Journal, on the second page, that arrangements are being made for a very attractive Concert in this city, on Sunday evening of next week.

Also that Mr. Meinerth proposes to favor our citizens with an opportunity to hear Thalberg's celebrated and talented troupe,—if four hundred tickets are subscribed for, at $1 each. Now we think very likely this number of tickets could be taken, by lovers of music, and the curious, in Portsmouth and vicinity—and perhaps they would subscribe to this extent, if called on, but not otherwise. The best, if not the only way, is for somebody to take the risk, and get out the best audience they can.

☞ Dr. Dewey's lecture before the Mercantile, on Friday evening, was an elaborate essay on the Philosophy of the relation of the Body to the Soul. It was a fine lecture and is one of a course which he delivered for the Lowell Institute a few years since.

ARRIVAL OF THE EMEU.—New York, Jan. 15.—The propeller Emeu left Havre Dec. 28. A despatch from Berlin states that the war enthusiasm in Switzerland was increasing on all sides. The whole Swiss Union is organized for defence. An appeal had been made to the women for the organization of Ambulances. The Diet had received from Napoleon a proposition for an amicable arrangement.

LATEST FROM THE VINEYARD.—Edward Manroe, Esq., of the New York Express, arrived in New Bedford Friday night, from Holmes' Hole by way of Woods' Hole.—He went from Holmes' Hole to Woods' in a schooner, on Wednesday, and from the latter place in a sleigh to the line of the railroad. There were between thirty and forty vessels frozen in at Holmes' Hole, and the Vineyard Sound was completely frozen over. From Woods' Hole, no water could be seen in the harbor or Sound, and nothing presented itself to the view seaward but a wide spread sheet of ice. Mr. Munroe brought off the Vineyard mails. Nantucket as yet remains ice-bound. —Standard.

EX-GOVERNOR SHANNON.—The noted Ex-Governor of Kansas Territory has arrived in Lecompton, where he intends to enter upon the the practice, of his profession, as a lawyer. He has a claim near town, which has been squatted upon during his absence. He, however, seems determined to get possession of it, and to practice not only law, but farming. His family still remain in Ohio, and are expected to come out in the spring. The old man looks better as a private citizen than as Governor; he has an easier time of it, and his invitations to "take a drink" are of less frequent occurrence now than formerly. It is presumed that for the future he will keep a little more temperate than he used to, when occupying the Gubernatorial Chair. As a private citizen of Kansas, he will have fewer friends among the leaders of the Border Ruffian party than he has been accustomed to while Governor.—Cincinnati Com.

A CLERGYMAN IN DISGUISE.—A stout man of red complexion, strong presence and bearing an immense moustache, accosted Amasa, the page, in the Massachusetts Representatives' lobby at the State House, yesterday, and asked the boy where he should hang his coat. Amasa replied that the firemen usually pegged their extra toggery in the basement, and added—"If you are a fireman or a watchman, you had better go below." "I am the Chaplain of the House," responded the stranger;—whereat Amasa bowed meekly, and conducted his reverence to an ante chamber.—Boston Courier.

INNOCENT.—Another case of innocence, or we might rather say, simplicity, came under our observation, a few days since.

While visiting a friend, who resides in an adjoining town, and enjoying a social chat, we were suddenly interrupted by the abrupt entrance of one of the children, holding up his right hand, minus three of his fingers, apparently having been just cut off. The poor little fellow was too much frightened to cry, and his face had the appearance of a small piece of white rag; when asked if he did it by accident, he replied, "O no, I did it with the hay cutter!" The answer was so different from what we expected that we could not refrain from smiling.—Charleston Advertiser.

REGISTERING LETTERS.—We have a word to say about this abomination. Nine out ten of our losses by mail, so far, have been registered letters, and in no one instance has one of them been traced up. Is the thing not evident. Rogues do not have to play the grab game. The P. M. General kindly points out to them which letters have money in them, and they are saved all trouble. We say unhesitatingly, do not register your letters.—Godey's Magazine.

CONGRESS.

THURSDAY, Jan. 15.

SENATE.—Mr. Seward, from the Committee on Commerce, reported a bill for the protection of steamboats from damage or destruction by fire.

The Senate resumed the consideration of the House bill, providing for the settlement of the claim of officers of the Revolutionary Army, but without taking the question the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE.—Mr. Pelton presented a memorial from 200 ship owners, merchants and pilots of New York, recommending the passage of Rogers' Marine Signal bill.

The House passed the Senate bill, with amendments, relative to foreign coin. It provides that quarter, eighth and sixteenth dollar pieces shall be received by the Federal officers at twenty, ten, and five cents, but not again paid out; the new cent to consist of 88 parts of copper and 12 nickel, and the coinage of half cent pieces to cease.

Mr. Chapman introduced a bill for the construction of a wagon road from the South Pass in the Rocky Mountains, in Nebraska Territory, via Gt. Salt Lake Valley, to the eastern portion of the State of California, and for the establishment of military posts thereon, and making further appropriations for the completion of the Territorial road now in process of construction from opposite Council Bluff, Iowa, to new Fort Kearney.

The House went into Committee on the Tariff bill.

Mr. Keitt said he was opposed to all free lists in measures of this kind, because they would render necessary, to the extent of exemption, additional duties on articles which were taxed. Branching from this subject, he alluded to the slave trade, and the slavery question generally. Some men had announced a political millenium in the event of the election of Mr. Buchanan.—But who was to come into the Senate from the State of the President elect, where he received 30,000 majority? Was he (Cameron) one of the national, conservative men? Look at his record. This Senatorial election was the first alarm gun, or the first flag which fluttered at the masthead as a signal of distress.

He (Keitt) need not be told that some few tricky men were bought. If a true man was not elected, it was either because of a dereliction of duty, on the part of national men, or because they were in a minority in the Legislature. Slavery, he said, existed prior to law. It was as old as the institution of marriage, or the individuality of property. It did not rise from compact, or violence, but grew like any other rudimental institution. He argued that it was the very foundation and glory and refinement of Athens and Rome.

The South must and will expand—she will carry her institutions into the surrounding States, where the governments are falling and the populace lapsing into mongrelism. The State Rights men at the South, numbering nine-tenths of the citizens, will rally around the standard of progress. Whatever else perish, those institutions will be saved.

Mr. Bliss said that Mr. Keitt had succeeded in showing that, from the earliest period of the world, it had been subject to rapine and bloodshed, and proceeded to reply to him, when—

Mr. Stanton remarked that it seemed to him that the Committee ought to determine whether it would do business or not. He, therefore, called Mr. Bliss to order.

Mr. Giddings hoped that the gentlemen from the North would not undertake to apply a gag, when freedom of speech was indulged in on the opposite side of the Chamber.

The Chairman (Mr. Washburn of Me.) was under the impression that it had recently been ruled that a general discussion was out of order. He decided that Mr. Bliss would confine himself to the discussion pending.

Mr. Wade appealed from the decision, which the Committee overruled.

Mr Bliss continued his remarks, replying to Mr Keitt, reviewing the President's Message, and contending for Constitutional power to prohibit Slavery in the Territories.

The Committee then rose, and the House adjourned.

Messrs. Richards & Greenough of Chester, who lost all their goods by fire, two weeks ago last Sunday, are again the victims of the devouring element, though to a less extent. After their first loss, a new stock of goods was obtained, and on Monday the proprietors received a second lesson of the danger of fire.—Manchester Mirror.

MONTPELIER, Jan. 15.—Hon. Samuel Prentiss, Judge in the U. S. District Court of Vermont, and formerly, for many years, U. S. Senator from this State, died at his residence in this place, at half past one to day.

THE GREAT DISCOVERY.

Many years ago, Doctor Burleigh Smart, of Kennebunk, Me., discovered that a simple article never before used as a medicine, was a never failing cure for coughs of every description, and an excellent blood purifier. By its use in his private practice, he acquired the reputation of being the best physician in New England, for all diseases of the lungs. After his death, Messrs. Shaw & Clark of Biddeford, Me., obtained a Copy Right from Government, for its exclusive manufacture, and now have it carefully prepared strictly according to the original recipe. There is no cough but it will not cure, unless the patient is past all his [illegible] before commencing its use. It is call'd "Doctor Burleigh Smart's Cough Medicine," and is for sale by all apothecaries. IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.

DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS FOR FEMALES,

Prepared by an old Physician of 40 years experience

THIS combination of ingredients in these Pills, is the result of a long and extensive practice; they are mild in their operation, and certain to restoring nature to its proper channel. In every instance have these Pills proved successful. They are certain to remove those obstructions to which females are liable, and bring nature into its proper channel, whereby health is restored, and the pale and deathly countenance changed to a healthy one. No female can enjoy good health unless she is regular; and whenever an obstruction takes place; whether from exposure, cold, or any other cause, the general health immediately begins to decline, and the want of such a remedy has been the cause of so many consumptions among young females. Headache, pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, loathing of food, and disturbed sleep, that most always arise from the interruption of nature; and whenever that is the case, the Pills will invariably remedy all these evils. In all cases of painful menstruation, or nervous and spinal affections in the back and limbs, lowness of spirits, hysterics, &c. Nor are they less efficacious in the cure of Leucorrhœa, commonly called the "Whites." These Pills should never be taken during pregnancy, as they would be sure to cause a miscarriage. Warranted purely Vegetable, and free from anything injurious to life or health. Full and explicit directions which should be read, accompany each box.

These Pills are put up in neat, flat boxes.—Persons residing where there are no Agencies established, by enclosing One Dollar in a letter, prepaid, to Dr. CHEESEMAN, Box No. 4531, Post Office, New York City, can have them sent to their respective addresses by return of mail.

SWEETSER'S COMPOUND

Iceland Moss Candy,

an old established and effectual remedy for RECENT COUGHS, COLDS, INFLUENZA, BRONCHITIS, TICKLINGS and uneasy Sensations in the THROAT, ASTHMA, and AFFECTIONS of the PULMONARY ORGANS generally.

THOSE suffering under any Complaints of the Lungs will find this Candy a pleasant, convenient and effectual agent for relief.

The Healing and Curative powers of the Iceland Moss Medicine (which it is) have long been recognized by medical Practitioners—particularly in CONSUMPTIVE CASES and affections of the Lungs, as it combines with those qualities both TONIC and NUTRITIVE powers. Numerous cases are recorded in which cures have been effected by the use of ICELAND MOSS, alone.

Prepared in the form, it is rendered more pleasant and convenient, without being deprived of its medicinal virtues; while it is wholly free from the unpleasant flavor which attends its usual preparation.

Just received, and for sale at the Medicine Store of B. HUTCHINGS,

A MATRIMONIAL ALLIANCE.—Fashionable folks have ceased to marry. Now, according to Jenkins and his imitators, "they form a matrimonial alliance;" upon which, Susan Jane writes to Punch to inquire, "if such an alliance is to be considered offensive and defensive?" Mr. Punch ventures to reply—'offensive, when misfortune or difficulty is to be attacked and overcome; defensive, when sorrow or sickness assails; and expensive, when certain little parties, whether or no, will join in the compact."—Punch.

A happy fortune has befallen literary gossips in both hemispheres. They say that Guizot, the great diplomatist and historian, and the Princess Liewen, equally distinguished in the salons of Paris, have been privately married. The affair is enveloped in mystery, which even scandal has not been able to penetrate. The bride does not assume his name, nor live under his roof. Both are on the verge of threescore and ten, and have been known to entertain toward each other sentiments of personal regard for may years.

TREMONT MILLS.

Teas, Coffees, Chocolates, Cocoas, Spices, &c.

WHOLESALE—AND ALSO IN SMALL PACKAGES.

E. E. DYER & CO.

(Sign of the Chinaman grinding coffee.)

141 Washington St., Boston.

SUPPLY the best, finest and purest articles, lowest market prices. Their Stock consists of Teas, Coffees, Chocolates, Allspice, Pepper, Mustard, Ginger, Cayenne Pepper, Nutmegs, Cinnamon, Cloves, Cream Tartar; Tarragon, or Prepared Dandelion Root, &c., &c.

Having every facility for manufacturing and preparing the above articles named, the public may rely upon having them pure and genuine, as they are sold upon their name and label, "TREMONT MILLS, E. E. DYER & CO."

To give consumers some idea of our sales, we annex the following scale of prices, viz:

5 lb. Souchong Tea,	1.50	5 lb. Mocha Coffee,	1.00
5 lb. Oolong "	1.75	5 lb. Java "	.90
5 lb. Y. Hyson "	2.25	5 lb. Good "	1.00

☞ The Spices are put up in ¼ and ½ lb. tin cans, expressly for family use, and are warranted to be strictly a pure article, and only need a trial to establish them in public favor.

SPANISH COFFEE.—We would call the attention of customers and dealers to our Spanish Coffee, as an article which is highly esteemed, and gives the greatest satisfaction. It is prepared with particular care, and by a peculiar process in roasting, one pound of this coffee, it is believed, is equal to 1½ lb. of any other.

DANDELION COFFEE.—This article is carefully prepared at our Mills, and put up in packages, having our trade mark, and may be relied upon as the best and most approved mixture of dandelion and coffee.

TARAXACUM, or Prepared Dandelion Root.—This article is prepared at our Mills, and is retailed by Family Grocers generally in city and country, and bearing our trade mark, "Chinaman grinding coffee," may be relied upon as the genuine Article. The proportion used is about one-half the quantity of coffee. The price is 20 cents per pound, and it is warranted to be the same at that which has been sold for fifty cents a pound by Druggists.

The medical properties of Dandelion are well known, and held in high estimation by all who use it. This being a preparation of the root, with all its medicinal virtues retained, can be mixed with coffee or not, as best suits the taste, and will be found cheap and economical in a family average, one pound of which being nearly equal to two pounds of coffee. It is recommended by many eminent physicians to invalids, children and aged persons, as a nutritious beverage, and as a remedy for Dyspepsia, Bilious affections, &c.

☞ Be careful to observe that all our Coffees have our trade mark, "Chinaman grinding coffee."

☞ To Grocers and Dealers a liberal discount is made, enabling them to supply their customers at the same low rate.

☞ TO CASH PURCHASERS.—Our object being to secure large sales at small profits, we offer inducements which will be found to suit those who do business on the credit system, and we confidently invite a examination of the quality of our stock and our prices, as compared with those of any other house.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,

(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)

No. 76 State st, opp. Kilby st, Boston,

AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on the most liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, and ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. Numerous testimonials given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber, and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND SKILL, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents, which, with a regular and extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, enable him, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office, and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner of Patents.

AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the more capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.

CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

Extract from the Commercial Advertiser, July 27, '55.

"Messrs Prince & Co could realize a handsome fortune by disposing of rights to other manufacturers to use their new improvements, but they prefer to make it a feature in their Instruments it can only be obtained by purchasing one of their manufacture."

It is now eight years since we commenced the manufacture of the New Cabinet Musical Instrument, during which time we have finished and sold nearly NINETEEN THOUSAND. Voluntary testimonials to the excellence of our Instruments, from the most distinguised Professors of Music in different parts of the United States have from time to time been received. Thus far we have said but little, and our advertisements will seldom seen for the reason that we could not supply the demand. We have lately erected one of the largest and most perfect Manufacturing Establishments in the United States, and we now think that we can all orders promptly. We there fore give one testimonial we have received.

NEW YORK, 10th Oct., 1855

"G. A. Prince & Co.—Gentlemen.—The Double Reed Melodeon has arrived, and a most charming instrument it is. It has been played on by Wallace, Gottschalk, Thalberg, and a host of others, and they all pronounce it one of the most beautiful toned reed instruments they have ever touched. Very really, JAMES P. HALL."

We are not aware that any other mentioned Melodeon is in any particular superior to those we are daily finishing, and we can assure those who are inclined to favor us with their orders, that they will be furnished with an instrument equally as good. Singer's Sewing Machines.

THESE celebrated machines are in practical and profitable use in all parts of the civilized world. In all the various trades, and for sewing every kind of fabric, either of cloth or leather they have been fully tried and approved. Sewing machines of other manufacturers often fail to work, but SINGER'S MACHINES being strong, durable and complete in contrivance and workmanship. A perfect sewing machine kept employed affords a clear profit of $1000 a year, but an imperfect one is the cause of constant vexation and loss. The entire RELIABILITY of our machines is one great reason for their unparalleled popularity.

MACHINES FOR FAMILY SEWING, of a trail and delicate construction, are recommended by other manufacturers. Such machines are too slight and too delicate to perform substantial work. The truth is, family sewing machines ought to be stronger than any other, because they are used by inexperienced hands, been sold to manufacturers, and are used for a greater variety of work. The machines which have proved best for all other purposes must be best for family use, and they are Singer's. The speed of our machines has lately been doubled. No other can compare with them in quantity of work.

☞ New machines will be taken for old sewing machines of our own make, or for operative machines of other manufacturers. Local agents wanted to sell our machines.

N B.—All persons desiring full information about sewing machines can obtain it by applying for a pamphlet, gratis, at Singer & Co.'s Gazette,—a paper devoted entirely to the subject. It will be sent gratis I M SINGER & CO.

Arnold's Vital Fluid

PURIFIES and strengthens the blood by eradicating, through a nice chemical action, the causes of impurities and humors. Hence its power to cure humors that mere medicine cannot cure. It neutralizes the poisonous and enervating the blood. It furnishes to a certain extent, the element of which pure blood is composed. It eradicates and cleanses away who ever clogs and thickens the blood.

ARNOLD'S VITAL FLUID

Renders the system strong and healthy, by freeing the blood and stomach from objectionable materials. It nerves and vivifies the system, by furnishing the elements which give vitality.

ARNOLD'S VITAL FLUID

Gives to the system an healthiness and effect similar to that produced by exercise in the free open air. It exhilarates by strengthening the blood to brighter and better action—doing its work by beginning at the beginning. It is pleasant to the taste, and becomes a favorite wherever known.

ARNOLD'S VITAL FLUID

Removes Biliousness in the most direct and easy manner, by neutralizing the cause. This is the principle of its action in removing illness generally. It neutralizes the cause, by freeing the blood from impediments to its proper fulfilment of its life-giving functions

This principle of neutralizing the cause is why ARNOLD'S VITAL FLUID CURES HUMORS that mere medicine cannot sensibly affect, and why it cures other diseases

Resulting from Poisons in the Blood, that mere medicinal preparations cannot alleviate. Humors are poisons in the blood, and it is by their chemical action in neutralizing those poisons that ARNOLD'S GLOBULES AND VITAL FLUID are enabled to cure them so that they stay cured.

VITAL FLUID 50 cents per bottle; GLOBULES 25 cents per box

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,

(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)

No. 70 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston,

AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but the oldest. Inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. Their were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

August 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.

CHAS MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

SPANISH COFFEE.—We would call the attention of customers and dealers to our Spanish Coffee, as an article which is highly esteemed, and gives the greatest satisfaction. It is prepared with particular care, and by a peculiar process in roasting, one pound of this coffee, it is believed, is equal to 1 lb. of any other.

This being a preparation of the root, with all its medicinal virtues retained, can be mixed with coffee or not, as best suits the taste, and will be found cheap and economical as a family beverage, one pound of which being nearly equal to two pounds of coffee. MONDAY, JANUARY 19, 1857.

THE SEIZURE CLAUSE.—In the S. J. Court at Manchester, last week, Lawrence Dowd of that city was tried, under the Search Clause, for keeping liquors for sale. The evidence was perfectly clear,—Judge Bell instructed the jury that it was not necessary for the State to prove a single sale of liquor, but that liquor was kept by him under circumstances that warranted a reasonable belief that it was kept for sale for the respondent; yet the jury, after being out an hour and a half, returned a verdict of not guilty. They evidently did so under constitutional or legal scruples.

MALPRACTICE.—Somebody in Massachusetts broke his leg and sent for the Doctor, who mended his leg as well as he could.—It was not quite so good as new;—and so the lame man sued the Doctor at the law, to take away his coat, and make him pay a pile of money, because he did not perform a perfect cure. The case has just been tried in Boston, before the Supreme Court. H. W. Paine, Esq., counsel for the plaintiff, stated to the Court and jury that the plaintiff's counsel were entirely satisfied that it would not be justifiable to proceed further in the case. They had supposed the wound to be a case of a simple fracture, and had so opened it to the jury. It turns out to have been a compound, comminuted fracture, of a difficult and complicated character, and the evidence shows that the treatment of it by Dr. Hatt away was careful and skillful, and that the slow progress and ultimate unsatisfactory result is not attributable to any want of attention, care or skill on his part. Under this frank admission a verdict for the defendant was at once rendered.

This is one of those numerous cases, wherein a client gives his counsel a one-sided, false view of the matter, and goes into a suit, out of which he comes minus, and then blames his lawyer, as this foolish man blamed his doctor, for not doing what was not possible to be done.

THE DEFEAT.—A Washington correspondent of the New York Herald says that Forney's defeat in Pennsylvania, was caused by influences existing in that city, which will be disclosed in a few days. He also states that a determination exists among Southern members to keep aloof from all Cabinet combinations. The same writer says:

It is asserted here with confidence that Mr. Forney will be placed either in the Cabinet or in charge of the government organ. Up to this time there has been an unusual amount of good will and disposition to compromise among Southern men. Now they are unanimous in their determination to leave nothing more to an uncertainty. What they before desired as a courtesy, they now demand as a right. I state upon the very best means of information that there is not a single State rights Democrat in Congress who will accept any Cabinet appointment under Mr. Buchanan, unless the constitutional platform of the party is clearly reflected throughout, so far as the South is concerned.

PENNSYLVANIA SENATOR.—The Philadelphia North American says:

This result (the election of Cameron) was so entirely unexpected in this region as to take everybody by surprise, and cause no little excitement. It had been generally believed that either Colonel Forney would be chosen, or the opposition majority in the Senate refuse to go into convention, and thus defeat the election. It will be perceived that all the Republican and American members voted for Mr. Cameron, and yet it was not known that any nomination had been made in the caucus of the opposition. Still more wonderful, the opposition majority in the Senate, which had firmly held out, as though intending to prevent an election, yesterday gracefully yielded, and went into joint convention.—From all the circumstances, it seems pretty clear that the secret management in this affair has been most astonishingly perfect. How so many persons could be in it, and yet no one else get wind of it, is a mystery.

MARRIAGES BY REV. MR. HOW.—Rev. Moses How, of New Bedford, has joined ninety-one couples in the bonds of wedlock during the past year. The whole number of marriages at which Mr. How has officiated as clergyman during the time he has been engaged in the christian ministry, is fourteen hundred and eighty-four.

☞ Crosby, Nichols & Co., of Boston, have just published, and J. H. Foster of this city has for sale, The American Almanac and Repository of Useful Knowledge, for the year 1857. This is the 28th year of this Almanac, which is valuable alike for its accuracy, its fulness of matters in small compass, and its careful index. 476 pages, closely printed; containing Nautical, State, Astronomical, Chronological, and Obituary information.—most of it of permanent value.

MR. HAMLIN.—So this gentleman has played a successful as well as a bold game; he "stooped to conquer" indeed, when he threw up the remnant of one term of the U. S. Senate to secure the whole of the next. Whether his method of shuffling off the responsibilities of the gubernatorial office is an honorable one, is a question that concerns us far less than it does those who cast their votes to make him Governor of the State of Maine for the whole of the year 1857. He has deceived not us, but them.

So says the Bath Tribune, an opponent of Hamlin. Per contra, the Portland Advertiser, which supported him, says:

The action of the Legislature in filling up the long and short terms for U. S. Senatorship, has been laid before our readers, and, we have every reason to believe, has met their general and hearty approval.

The return of Hannibal Hamlin to the place in the Senate, in which he has won a national reputation and conferred pre-eminent services upon his native State, was, indeed, a step to which public opinion unmistakably pointed.

In consequence of the necessary withdrawal of Mr. Hamlin from the Gubernatorial Chair, Hon. Joseph Williams, President of the Senate, will become acting Governor of the State of Maine. This will be satisfactory to the people.

CHOICE EXTRACTS.—A writer in the N. H. Patriot, who signs himself "Rumney," waxes eloquent, and says:

Think of it, friends! and gaze into futurity, remembering the blood and sacrifice of the past. Gaze upon it, I say, and see the scattered fragments of the greatest nation on earth rocking too and fro, and fast sinking into barbarian nonentity! And what was the cause of the greatest fall mankind ever experienced? Why, that "terrible institution," ordained of heaven though it be, with which we have nothing to do, and over which the nation has no control, must be made a football for a few disaffected asses to kick at.

* * * *

Now this warfare upon the moral, intellectual and union-sustaining position of the South is the most demoralizing scheme ever entered into by any other faction in this country. What effect has it on the rising generation? The most quiet and orderly communities are often set in confusion by mere gossip. But when that gossip is turned to malignity and pressed with vigor, it not only divides neighbors and friends, but even families and churches.—So this infernal gossip in regard to Southern slavery is made the wedge by which an entrance may be effected into public favor. The young stock of the present age seem bent upon becoming not only "chips of the old blocks," but old blocks and all.

☞ The people of Delaware have adopted an amendment to the Constitution of the State, prohibiting lotteries after Jan. 1st, 1862. The Governor has signed the amendment, and he asks the Legislature to make the necessary legislation to carry the amendment into effect. In Maryland lotteries will cease to exist on the 1st of April 1859, in virtue of a provision of the State Constitution.

THE STAMMERING ACTOR.—A gentleman conceiving himself in possession of great theatrical genius and abilities, chose the part of Richmond for his debut. From a natural defect in his utterance, the delivery of his first line produced an effect. He spoke the line as follows: 'Thus f—f—far have w—w—we marched int—to the b—bowels of the land w—without impediment.'

The Universalist Church recently formed in Enfield, N. H., was publicly recognized on Wednesday, Dec. 24th, 1856, by appropriate exercises. Reading of the Scriptures, by Br. Simon Goodenough, of So. Woodstock, Vt. Prayer, by Br. J. S. Lee, Woodstock. Sermon, by Br. R. Stinson, of Croydon, N. H., from Matt. xvi. 18, and Rom. i. 16. Ordinance of Baptism, by the Pastor, Br. F. S. Bliss. Fellowship of the Churches, by Br. J. S. Lee. The Communion was also administered by Brs. Lee and Stinson. These exercises were listened to with deep interest by the audience present. The rite of baptism and the communion affected all hearts. The singing was impressive and contributed to render the exercises more spiritual and devotional. The Church now formed consists of 57 members.—Trumpet.

Twenty-five Dakota families living at Hazlewood, some forty miles above Fort Ridgeley, Minnesota, have renounced their tribal character, donned civilized dress, and formed themselves into a sort of republic, with a written constitution, President, &c. They are intelligent and industrious, and have wheat and corn to sell.

☞ A young man named D'Estimanville, who went from Philadelphia to the Crimea, and was for a time, Vice Consul at Marseilles, and correspondent of the Journal of Commerce at the Crimea and Constantinople, was recently robbed at a cafe in Paris, and was last heard from in a state of utter destitution wandering about the docks of London.

☞ A grand salute of sixty seven guns (one for each vote) was fired at Philadelphia, Thursday morning, in honor of the election of Gen. Simon Cameron to the United States Senate.

THALBERG.

The following beautiful and graphic description of several of the leading musicians of Paris twenty years ago, and among them Mr. Thalberg, who is just now exciting so much interest in musical circles in this country, we copy for the benefit of our readers.—Boston Trav.

A SOIREE AT HILLER'S, IN PARIS, '36.—Translated from the German.—It was one of the favorite soirees of Hiller, celebrated on account of the many and distinguished virtuosos who were accustomed to meet together there. Ferdinand Hiller, the young Frankfurter, full of love for, and admiration of, the fine arts, invites every week in winter to his rooms, all the musicians of distinction at the time in Paris. There one hears good music, and the company sit or stand around the rooms, listening, with almost suspended breath, to the rare and rich treat.

I will steal a glance or two at one of these select companies, and endeavor to give my readers some description of what I see. The little man yonder, clothed in black, bearing the ribbon of the Legion of Honor on his breast, with snow white hair and pale face, from out of which a pair of fiery eyes glitten so dazzingly; he, who listens so profoundly to the sweet sounds, moving his head slightly to and fro, while a gentle smile plays around his mouth—is Cherubini. The large, broad-shouldered man, with the broad countenance, the expression of which is very German, clothed in black, the red ribbon in his button hole, with greyish hair—I mean the one who has just seized a violin in order to accompany a Beethoven Sonata, is one of the greatest virtuosos. In delicacy and niceness of execution no one excels him—it seems as though he sang upon his instrument.—What exquisite bowing! How sweetly the gentle tones murmur! What depth of feeling, what expression! All this is classical, and solid—there is no illusory firework there—this quiet, sober man, who plays so splendidly, is Baillot. The fashionably dressed man, with the aristocratic look and handsome countenance, is Onslow. The young man with spectacles, who converses so much with the ladies, is Halevy, and that short, stout man, with the strongly-marked features, the long beard and the dark, thick set eye-brows, is Adolph Nourrit, the hero of the grand opera. This small, elegantly-dressed man, with the friendly smile and the pretty eyes, is Chopin, the great pianist, who is at the present time bewitching all Paris.

At the grand piano sits a young and rather corpulent man, with thick, black, crispy hair, and a handsome rosy countenance; the fire of genius manifests itself in his whole demeanor, and the Beethoven Sonata, which he has been playing in so masterly a manner with Baillot, and which is just finished, excites the greatest enthusiasm. This is Hiller himself, our worthy host.

All eyes are now directed towards a pretty, youthful figure, which at this moment comes out of the adjoining room, where so many of the most attentive listeners have remained during the performance of the sonata. It was a young man, who appeared to have just emerged into manhood, so youthful did he look. His face was beautiful and noble, the eyes and forehead were full of expression and restless imagination; the nose, very much curved and sunk in, gave to the head a very peculiar look, and a small, almost feminine mouth, completed the singular impression which this appearance made upon me. He went to the grand piano, and the slightest noise was in an instant hushed. Before the young man sat down, he went to Baillot and Onslow, and begged them, in a most earnest manner, to excuse him for playing something, which they had so often heard, adding that he was utterly incapable of playing anything worthy of their attention. The youth then returned to the grand piano, passed one hand lightly over his forehead, and then commenced. This was Sigismond Thalberg.

Thalberg is the son of a very respectable man, and was born in the same year, the same month, and the same hour as the Prince de Reichstadt, the unfortunate son of the great Napoleon. He was brought up and educated with this unfortunate Prince, who cherished for him the warmest affection. Thalberg was inconsolable at the death of his young friend. He would willingly have sacrificed his great talent, and all the fame which awaited him, his life, even could he have been able to recall the young Prince to life. Already in early youth Thalberg had come to France.—These particulars which I learnt in Paris, and which were there pretty generally known, served not a little to prepare a most brilliant reception for the young artist.

One cannot use either the expression brilliant or elegant in regard to Thalberg's playing; it is truly colossal. Cherubini remarked in admiration and astonishment: "Had I heard this with my eyes blindfolded, I should not have dared to believe the instrument a common grand piano." In the hands of this artist, it has almost the power of an organ. If one looks over the keys, and at his hands, his astonishment only increases the more. How is it possible to grasp all that? one asks of himself. He sees it, but can hardly credit his own eyes. The skillful pianists say, a man must have two fingers more on each hand, but nevertheless Thalberg has only eight fingers and two thumbs, just like any one else. But how well he can use them!—While the two thumbs and seven fingers are running through the most difficult variations, the little finger of the left hand will be playing the theme with a precision and delicacy that is truly marvellous. During the performance, the young wizard occasionally casts his eyes full of fiery inspiration, around the little circle of almost breathless listeners. His attitude is graceful and unconstrained, his deportment noble, his body betrays not in the least the immense difficulties which he overcomes.—The mechanical part is perfect, while at the same time he appeals to the soul in a powerful manner.

☞ One of the large copper stills containing thirty barrels of whiskey, in a distillery at Pittsburg, exploded on Monday evening with a tremendous noise, scattering its contents in every direction. A portion of the brick wall of the building was torn down, and some of the hands injured.

S. J. COURT.—At Manchester, N. H., Jan. 15, Michael Lane was found guilty of keeping liquor for sale.

Dennis Flynn, do.—guilty.
James O'Brien, do.—guilty.
Michael Fox, do.—not guilty.
Morris Haran, do.—guilty.
F. Bond, do.—guilty.

☞ The Cincinnati papers state that the slaves are taking advantage of the ice bridge across the Ohio River to escape to "the other side of Jordan." Three men and one woman escaped on Thursday night of last week, hotly pursued, but at last accounts not overtaken.

☞ Lord Mansfield having once threatened to hold his court on Good Friday to clear off arrears of business, much to the disgust of the lawyers, Serjeant Davy said to him, that if he did, "he would be the first judge who had sat on that day since Pontius Pilate." His lordship concluded to adjourn the court.

PUBLIC BUILDING IN NANTUCKET.—The Inquirer says that Nantucket should follow the example of Plymouth, and petition Congress at once for an appropriation for the erection of a building on the Island for the accommodation of the custom house and post office. It says that a building is greatly needed there.

☞ Silas Morey, of Dutchess county, N. Y., was married on the 11th inst., and the morning following was found dead in his bed. An inquest was held upon his body. Verdict—"Died of disease of the heart."

THE QUAKER VOTE HEARD FROM—The Quaker vote in Pennsylvania was heard from at the election of Cameron to the U. S. Senate. Curious enough when the result was announced the quakers were found to be the democrats.

☞ Hannibal Hamlin, republican Governor of Maine, is elected to the U. S. Senate for the long term, and Amos Nourse for the short term.

☞ The navigation of Long Island Sound is so much obstructed by ice, that none of the boats of the Boston lines left New York on Friday evening.

☞ It is reported by telegraph that a serious riot between Americans and Irish, took place at Albion, N. Y., on Friday evening.

☞ The Pennsylvania House of Representatives have instructed the Senators in Congress from that State to vote for the admission of Kansas as a free State.

HENRY HARVEY, a member of the Society of Friends, who has been in Kansas ever since 1833, as missionary among the Shawnee Indians, and who is probably better acquainted with the wants and resources of the inhabitants than any man in the territory, is now on his way to Washington, his object being to endeavor to induce Congress to authorize measures for the election of a new legislature by the present population. This he regards as a better plan for settling the disputes in Kansas than the adoption of the Topeka Constitution. He thinks that a majority of the inhabitants are in favor of a free State constitution, and that such a constitution would be adopted now if Congress would authorize a new election.—New Bedford Standard.

☞ Trusten Polk, Governor of Missouri, is elected U. S. Senator for the long term.

☞ The harbor of Baltimore is entirely closed with ice.

COURT OF COMMON PLEAS.

SATURDAY, Jan. 17.

The case Folsom vs. Portsmouth, was argued for the defence by Mr. Hatch. The Court adjourned to Monday, when Mr. Goodall will argue for the prosecution.

[Judge Kittredge seems disposed to clear the docket; and not disposed to let cases hang along from term to term, without sufficient reason.]

☞ On Saturday morning we observed a fine-looking dog harnessed to a sled going by our office at quite a decent pace, although the sled bore a boy of at least twice the dog's weight. His track was rather erratic, as he had no reins to guide him — 'Twould be a good thing for this city, if more of the dogs could be employed for some purpose, no matter how trivial.

REMEMBER THE POOR.—On Sunday morning the thermometer at Raynes' ship yard stood at 15° below zero; at the same time on the North Road, at 14° below, making it the coldest day, we believe, for two years. Those persons who were so fortunate as to take a ride of from six to eight miles at that time, had an opportunity to see Jack Frost in all his terrible sublimity.

Now, if ever, is the time the poor need help. Oh! it is fearful to think of the poor children, as they crouch around the desolate hearth, with chattering teeth and purple lips, endeavoring to gain a little warmth from the scanty flame, or lie shivering, huddled beneath the scanty covering of rags, which barely suffices to sustain life.

Wood! Wood!! Wood!!! In the inclement season it behooves every humane person to look to his neighbors, and see they suffer not for this greatest of all necessities. Starvation, of body and soul, is not to be compared to the congelation of either.

A. B. C.

☞ On Saturday, a sleigh containing two ladies and a driver, was upset near the Academy. One of the ladies was slightly injured, but the other, we are happy to say, escaped unharmed.

Another team was driven around a corner rather too briskly, on Friday afternoon; the body of the sleigh, with that of the young man driving, being flung off by the impetus — and the horse running about town considerable, with the runners — the whole concern being materially damaged by the operation.

☞ The arrangements for the grand Union Concert (Old Folks and Orchestral) to be given in this city on Sunday evening next, are now completed; and the programme will be announced to-morrow.

Another rehearsal will be had at the Temple, on Saturday evening at seven o'clk.

☞ The statement which we made that the new yard of Messrs. Marcy & Pettigrew was to be at South End, was not so far from being correct, after all. We learn that they have purchased the site, and intend to commence operations immediately.

N. H. AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.—At the meeting of the Directors, it was decided to hold the next annual Fair at Concord about the first of October.

☞ We are requested to state that the funds which accumulate from the Young Americans' course of lectures, are to be given to the Howard Benevolent Society.

☞ Steamer Texas, from San Juan, Jan. 10, has arrived at New Orleans, and brings a famous account of a famous victory by Walker.

Gen. Henningsen received reinforcements at Granada Dec. 8th; and on the 19th, after a siege of 19 days, he succeeded in driving the enemy before him, killing 1400 of the enemy, with the loss of only 200 of his own troops.

The odds against him were ten to one.— All the military stores, artillery, and public documents at Granada, were removed to Rivas uninjured, Walker having previously taken possession of the latter city without opposition, the enemy retiring on learning of his approach.

The Costa Ricans, however, had taken possession of all the boats on the San Juan River, thus cutting off Walker's communications.

Just as the Texas was leaving, a message reached San Juan, stating that Walker had recaptured Fort San Carlos, which had been taken by the enemy, and was then coming rapidly down the river, scattering all before him.

The above dispatch was furnished by the Purser of the Texas, and is evidently highly colored.

PORTLAND, Jan. 15.—The Republican caucus, at Augusta this evening, on the second ballot, nominated Amos Nourse of Bath, as Senator for the short term.

CHURCH BURNED.—The Orthodox Church in Fitzwilliam, N. H., was destroyed by fire on Thursday afternoon. Loss nearly $4000.

FOUR DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

NEW YORK, Jan. 17. Steamer City of Washington, from Liverpool December 31, is below.

Intelligence had been received from China that on the 24th of October, the British fleet, under Admiral Seymour, commenced bombarding the city of Canton.

The collision at Canton was owing to the seizure of 12 British seamen, on board of a vessel in the river.

The British Consul interfered, was insulted, threatened with violence, and when remonstrated with, the Chinese Governor General treats him with contempt.

The matter was placed in the hands of Admiral Seymour on the 21st of Oct.

Hostilities commenced on the 24th.

The forts at Canton were taken and several destroyed.

The Governor still rejecting Seymour's demand for satisfaction, a fire was opened on the 27th, upon the city walls and Governor's palace.

The walls were breached and stormed on the 29th, and troops penetrated to the palace, but were withdrawn in the evening.

The British lost 3 killed and 29 wounded.

Attempts at negotiation continuing fruitless, the city was bombarded on the 3d and 4th of Nov.

On the 6th, 23 war junks were destroyed by a British steamer.

Further time was given, but the Chinese remained obstinate.

The difficulty between Switzerland and Prussia had assumed a new phase, and the latest rumors favor peace negotiations.

The British government has appointed a new Minister to Washington. The name is as yet a secret, but it is not Mr. Villiers.

CONGRESS.

FRIDAY, Jan. 16, 1857.

The Senate took up the resolution of Mr. Houston, calling on the Secretary of the Navy to state what number of desertions from the Navy had taken place since the passage of the act to promote the efficiency of that branch of the public service, etc.

The resolution was laid aside for the special order, being the bill providing for the settlement of the claims of the Officers of the Revolution.

The presiding officer laid before the Senate a letter from the President of the Joint Convention of the Pennsylvania Legislature, giving information relative to the election of Mr. Cameron as Senator.

Sixteen private bills were passed, when the Senate adjourned till Monday.

The House passed thirteen private bills.

Mr. Kelsey, rising to a question of privilege, offered a preamble, setting forth that Jos. L. Chester had been duly summoned before the Corruption Investigating Committee, and had neglected to appear, and concluding with the resolution that the the Speaker issue his warrant, directed to the Sergeant-at-Arms, commanding him to take into custody the body of the said Chester, wherever found, and the same forthwith bring to the bar of the House, to answer for contempt of its authority.

The House refused to lay the resolution on the table, and then passed it nearly unanimously. Adjourned.

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—Bark Byron, Capt. Gray, from Cardenas, with sugar, was driven ashore this morning on the inner middle ground, in our lower bay, by the ice. She was cut through by the ice, and her decks are under water. The crew were taken off in safety.

COSMOPOLITAN ART ASSOCIATION.—The distribution of the splendid prizes in the Cosmopolitan Art Association takes place January 28th. If you wish to take any of the $3 Magazines, with a chance to get a fine work of Art, call on E. N. FULLER, at the Gazette Office, Daniel St. Remember the 28th!

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

The greatest natural ornament to the "human form divine," is unquestionably a fine, luxuriant, healthy growth of hair. It has been so esteemed in all ages of the world, and among all nations, savage and civilized. Hence, the Indian braves regards the scalp of his enemy as his greatest trophy. For a similar reason, the fashionable belle often disguises the region of vanity, as well as her other phrenological organs with borrowed locks.

He who should discover a mode of preventing the hair from showing the inroads of envious Time by turning prematurely gray, a method by which it could be restored when falling off or turning white, and a way of promoting its continued and luxuriant growth, would be justly entitled to rank among the benefactors of the human race. Read the testimonials of the wonderful, not to say almost miraculous effects of "Professor Wood's Hair Restorative," and see if he has not accomplished all this. [Capital City Fact.

THE GREAT DISCOVERY.

Many years ago, Doctor Burleigh Smart of Kennebunk, Me., discovered that a simple article never before used as a medicine, was a never failing cure for coughs of every description, and an excellent blood purifier. By its use in his private practice, he acquired the reputation of being the best physician in New England, for all diseases of the lungs. After his death, Messrs. Shaw & Clark of Biddeford, Me., obtained a Copy Right from Government, for its exclusive manufacture, and now have it carefully prepared strictly according to the original recipe. There is no cough that it will not cure, unless the patient is past all hope when aid before commencing its use! It is called "Doctor Burleigh Smart's Cough Medicine," and is for sale by all apothecaries. n27 DtWkly 6m

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.

DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS FOR FEMALES,

Prepared by an old Physician of 40 years experience

THE combination of ingredients in these Pills, is the result of a long and extensive practice; they are mild in their operation, and certain to restoring nature to its proper channel. In every instance have the Pills proved successful. They are certain to open those obstructions to which females are liable, and bring nature into its proper channel, whereby health is restored, and the pale and deathly countenance changed to a healthy one. No female can enjoy good health unless she is regular; and whenever an obstruction takes place, whether from exposure, cold, or any other cause, the general health immediately begins to decline, and the want of such a remedy has been the cause of so many consumptions among young females. Headache, pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, loathing of food, and disturbed sleep, that most always arise from the interruption of nature; and whenever that is the case, the Pills will invariably remove all these evils. In all cases of painful menstruation, or nervous and spinal affections in the back and limbs, lowness of spirits, hysterics, &c. Nor are they less efficacious in the cure of Leucorrhea, commonly called the "Whites." These Pills should never be taken during pregnancy, as they would be sure to cause a miscarriage. Warranted purely Vegetable, and free from anything injurious to life or health. Full and explicit directions which should be read, accompany each box.

These Pills are put up in square flat boxes.—Persons residing where there are no Agencies established, by enclosing One Dollar in a letter, prepaid, to Dr. C. L. CHEESEMAN, Box No. 4531, Post Office, New York City, can have them sent to their respective addresses by return of mail.

THOSE suffering under any Complaints of the Lungs will find this Candy a pleasant, convenient and effectual agent for relief.

The Healing and Curative powers of the Iceland Moss (Lichen Islandicus) have long been recognized by medical Practitioners—particularly in consumptive cases and affections of the Lungs, as it combines with these qualities tonic roots and nutritious powers. Prepared in this form, it is rendered more pleasant and convenient, without being deprived of its medicinal virtues; while it is wholly free from the unpleasant flavor which attends its usual preparation.

MOZART'S REQUIEM.

From Dwight's (Boston) Journal of Music, Jan. 17th.

The following account of the origin of the "Requiem" was contributed to Novello's Musical Times, (London,) by Mr. E. HOLMES, the author of the excellent English Life of Mozart. As we have not before published any version of the familiar story, and as we are now about to have the Requiem performed in Boston, (thanks to Mr. Thalberg,) we have no doubt that it will interest our readers. There is no better version of the story, and the accompanying remarks will help prepare the listener for a right understanding of the music.

During the twelve years which Mozart spent at Vienna, on his removal from Salzburg, his genius had borne the fruits of these preparatory studies (his earlier Masses) principally in secular music, for the stage, the orchestra, and the chamber; and, except the Mass in C minor, composed the year after his marriage, he had rendered no tribute to the church—though this nursing mother, who had brought him up to maturity under her especial care, maintained his interest and affection. * *

The Requiem owes its chief peculiarities and impassioned style to the circumstances under which it is produced; the mind bright and unimpaired, the body wasting,—the hand of death tracing notes in which the composer fully believed he was celebrating his own obsequies, and bidding final adieu to earth and its concerns.

The history of the composition of the Requiem is too familiar to be repeated: we all know what terrible domestic scenes and embarrassments it occasioned—how Mozart worked at it sometimes to swooning—how often the score was taken from him by his wife, and again, at his earnest solicitation, returned, to be finally completed by the time when he took to his death-bed; his imagination being through the whole period filled with fatal presentiments and images of the other world—that he had received a supernatural commission—that his health was undermined by poison—with other "sick man's dreams."

He appears to have been surprised by the sudden summons; he thought how young he was to die, estimating life by years rather than by sensations—forgetting that he had compressed in thought, feeling, and action, three lives into one—forgetting the nine hundred works which he had composed—the night how often turned into day by him, for business or pleasure—the masquerades, the balls, and the occasional convivial excesses in which he had shared with the actors; for all which, as it may have been too much on either side, the laws of our mechanical being demand a reckoning, and even the favored Mozart could claim no exemption. * * *

It was in the autumn of 1791, when his health had suffered a serious change, though it at first occasioned no ground for alarm, that he received a commission from some unknown hand to compose a Requiem, which was to be in his best manner, and entirely in the style which he himself approved. For what purpose the original possessor of the work treated for it in the manner he did, making no restrictions on him from retaining a score, or even publishing it when he thought fit, remains to this day a mystery. We have heard a Count Wallsegg named as this individual "stranger." Desiring to celebrate the anniversary of the decease of a lady whom he had tenderly loved, by the performance of a Requiem exclusively his own, he procured this; some say that he wished it to pass as his own composition—a dangerous fraud if he had done nothing, and still more if the contrary: but to this story we give no heed. * * *

The composer himself innocently founded the tale of mystery which has circulated with his Requiem—the origin of which may be distinctly traced to the excited and gloomy imagination which accompanied his sickness. That a rich and tasteful nobleman, who knew Mozart's power of writing in the most elevated style of sacred music, should wish to possess a Requiem by him was not wonderful; but that, in treating for it, he concealed his name, paid handsomely beforehand and transacted the whole affair through the agency of one who seemed to watch Mozart and to come upon him at unexpected times and places, was strange, and appeared to the composer almost supernatural. He was haunted from time to time by the presence of a man whose sole care seemed to be the Requiem; and this mysterious figure approached him just as he was stepping into the carriage which conveyed him to Prague, to compose La Clemenza di Tito. With his head and heart full of the beautiful melodies which distinguish that opera, the disagreeable effect of such an apparition—the train of ideas called up by it—may be imagined.—"Who can it be that is thus earnest on this ghastly funeral theme? Certainly a messenger from the other world, and he foretells my death." Thus reasoned on false grounds the sick Mozart, and he arrived at a right conclusion by the instinct which is beyond reason.

Another circumstance brought to this application for the Requiem a kind of supernatural interest. Mozart had all his life been secretly wishing for the opportunity of composing one, and now it occurred almost miraculously, and just as he could have desired. The subject coincided exactly with his frame of mind in failing health, and the composer, who had been educated among theologians, and in the strictest observances of his community, was eager for the opportunity of once more doing honor to that church of which he had been of late a lax and somewhat pardonable member. He knew that the first privilege of composing for the church is independence of the public and freedom from the prejudices of taste and fashion; and to be able to write his best without fear or hesitation was, to him who had sacrificed himself continually to others, a rare and much desired opportunity.

Possibly, also, he thought with humility that his good works might deserve the favor of heaven—that voca me cum benedictis, the humble prayer of his music, might be fulfilled on his own behalf, and that at the general consummation he might himself, though unworthy, be admitted to nestle among the wings of the angels. The composition breathes these feelings; though suppliant and religious, it is full of human passion—it casts a lingering, lingering look at the past, amidst the terrors of the future,—it is, in fact, Mozart revolving his experience of life, and lost in a dream of the final Judgment, with feelings which he was the first to express in the mysterious language of music. * * *

The Requiem began to be known in England to musicians soon after the first introduction of Don Giovanni, when Mozart became an object of general curiosity and interest. It came over with its full quota of rumors. Mozart was believed to have died during the composition, and some, in indulging their speculations on this head, would fain impute out the chord at which the pen dropped from his hand. * * *

That it was finished by him with deliberation and choice, we have since had proof.

Productions in Art take their standing through the force of invention which gave them birth; whatever has been once magnificently done cannot be repeated, and all works formed on acknowledged models and styles bear a feeble existence. Let us, in endeavoring to appreciate the Requiem, try to approach it from the composer's point of view. That the models of the severe church style are here in part superseded, is at once confessed. To have kept within the limits of custom and authority, would have been to have surrendered the opportunity; and, as all the later productions of Mozart—operas, symphonies, &c., are memorable commencements in different styles of music, in which he, as pioneer of the art, opened paths of unexplored novelty and effect, he was naturally desirous to carry this on into church music. All his boyish studies in fugue and canon—all that art of counterpoint which had been growing stronger in him from year to year at Vienna but which only broke out occasionally in his operas, being there held in subjection to melody and dramatic effect—flourished in the Requiem as in a fitting soil.—Handel's art of double counterpoint is even outdone; we have the same depth of learning—the same elaborate contrivance, with more refinement and effect. As a fugal writer, Mozart was by nature so strong, that, had he lived in the time of Sebastian Bach, he might have been his rival. His part writing shows the natural clearness of his mind, and profound insight into the problems of harmony. He knew his strength and rejoiced in it.

The contrapuntal and profoundly scientific forms of the movements of the Requiem form a very striking feature of that production. Had these, however, exhibited merely new combinations of the old art of counterpoint, they would not have satisfied Mozart. He blended the severe old style with what was new and beautiful in the art of modern times, and made both in the highest degree subservient to expression. The melodies are so flowing and so natural, even when they move in canon, that the ear is unconscious of the restraint of rule. Hundreds receive delight from the symmetry, which they perceive in the construction of the movements of the Requiem, who cannot trace the cause of their pleasure in the scientific forms of composition employed. One of the most wonderful qualities of Mozart's mind was certainly his power of fusion. He could melt the old into the new—he could be Handel or Bach at will, and show his own lineaments blended with theirs. * * *

The peculiar instrumentation of the Requiem, affords another interesting aspect of the science of the composer. But science and taste in combination merely contribute towards the poetical design. The Requiem may be considered as a kind of tragic drama, the action and scenery of which are left to the imagination. It combines the old church music, with the dramatic effect of the serious opera, and has introduced into music a perfectly new creation.

TUESDAY, JANUARY 20, 1857.

A Case Altered by Circumstances.—There is a great hue and cry now raised in Pennsylvania about contesting Gen. Cameron's election, because no teller had been previously appointed by the State Senate. Forney and his tribe pretend that that omission is fatal, being desperately unconstitutional and all that. But this is what the Pennsylvanian, (Forney's organ) said before the election, and when it was thought the boot would be on the other leg:

To-day is the period fixed by law for the election of a United States Senator to represent Pennsylvania. Although the Senate yesterday refused to pass the usual resolution, in reference to the appointment of a Teller, we are loth to believe that the members will fail to go into an election to-day. By the existing law of the Commonwealth, it is made the duty of the members to meet in joint Convention and elect a Senator, and law makers should be the last to turn law breakers, and thus set the example of trampling under foot the highest legal obligations. An act of this character is clearly revolutionary in its nature, and exhibits one of the worst and most dangerous phases of a factious spirit.

The trouble was, the Pennsylvanian upon announcing the above, didn't see exactly whose ox was gored by whose ball.

Elm Street Church, Bath, Me.—The tall steeple of the Elm st. Baptist Church in Bath, Me., was recently blown down. It fell upon the roof and crushed it in.—This is the church of which Dr. Sheldon is—was—or claims to be, the pastor.—This may or may not be ominous. The preacher was blown down awhile ago, by a certain wind of doctrine. He fell upon the church, and nearly crushed it, but it has thrown off the weight and appears prosperous.—Christian Era.

The doctrinal wind which blew down Rev. Dr. Sheldon, was Universalism.—The wind which blew down the steeple, we presume was a wind blowing from the same quarter. They may probably build a shorter steeple next time, and perhaps settle a shorter pastor.—Tall steeples and tall men are not so safe as those of more breadth and thickness, and less altitude.

Cass Superseded.—The Legislature of Michigan on Saturday made choice of Zachariah Chandler, of Detroit, as U. S. Senator in place of Hon. Lewis Cass, whose term expires in March. Mr. Chandler is a merchant, about 45 years of age, and a native of Bedford, N. H. He went to Detroit when a boy, with nothing but his own energy and strength of character for capital, and has risen to be one of the wealthiest men in the State. He has been mayor of Detroit, and a candidate for Governor of that State.

☞ We are indebted to a musical friend, for an invitation to attend the semi-annual session of the Worcester Co. Musical Institute, to commence on Tuesday, the 27th inst., in the North Church, at Oxford, Mass., and hold a four day's session. This is the oldest, and one of the largest and most prosperous Musical Institutes in New England, and we should much enjoy attendance on another of their Conventions; but as we have a trifle of business to attend to at home, and there might come a snow-storm to block us up, we must send our "regrets," &c. The Massachusetts folks know how to improve and enjoy these occasions. We notice their circular offers free accommodations to all singers from abroad.

There are said to be no less than 10,000 dram shops in the city of New York. And their fruits are sufficiently appalling to alarm us all. Of 225 serious assaults in that city during the last year, 213 were committed under the influence of liquor. Of the 59 assaults with intent to kill, 51 were impelled by liquor. Of the 21 murders, 18 were caused by liquor. These are startling facts. They ought to arouse the whole country against the terrible evil which is the cause of them.

Free-Will Baptists.—The Triennial Convention of the Free-Will Baptist churches has recently been held in Mainville, Warren county, Ohio. The attendance from all parts of the Eastern States was large. They have in the U. States 1178 churches, 1107 ministers, and 49,809 church members. The first church was formed in New Hampshire in the year 1780.

☞ Mrs. Partington is on a lecturing tour in New York State; and her admirers can hold weekly communion with her through the Boston Saturday Evening Gazette, in which her letters are published each week. Mr. Morse will furnish the Gazette.

TEMPERANCE BANQUET.

The great Temperance Banquet held in Portland, last week, to raise funds for the prosecution of the cause of temperance, was eminently successful, both in its management and objects. One of the most attractive features of the whole, to us, is that there were no free tickets and no dead heads—of both which we are "tired and sick."

The tables were furnished entirely by the contributions of friends, but those who did the work, and furnished the feast, paid for their tickets, as outsiders did. The tickets presented to the clergymen, were paid for by friends and parishioners, but we should think "the clergymen" would prefer to buy their own tickets. Persons furnished large quantities of cake—and flesh and fowl—all ready for the table, but purchased tickets for their entire families as if they had none of the burdens and care of the feast. The ladies by whom all the head work and hand work was done, and who officiated at the tables, were there not by a privileged entre, but only by ticket paid for. Such was the spirit which animated and stimulated all those engaged in this most successful enterprise—and which is worthy of imitation on all such occasions.

Neal Dow presided, and the exercises were enlivened with vocal and instrumental music. Five minute speeches were made by Rev. Messrs. Church, Adams, of Gorham, Carruthers, Neal Dow, Judge Davis, Rev. Messrs. Pratt, E. W. Jackson, Willey, Cox, H. D. Moore, and Dr. Shailer.

One of the toasts was

The Maine Law in Maine.—We pledge the Temperance men of the Pine Tree State to a speedy restoration of this Law to our Statute Books—and the people will pass upon it in their primary meetings, but only by passing upon the men, who are to enact it.

The toast,

Woman.—Last at the cross, and first at the grave. It is her mission to illustrate by her life, the mercy and love of Christ, who came to deliver from temptation and to save the lost, "was responded to by Rev. H. D. Moore in a very brief and happy speech."

In a complimentary mention of Neal Dow, and his labors in the cause, an allusion was made to his intended visit to Great Britain, on a Maine Law Mission.

☞ The Temperance men and women of Portland and vicinity seem to be wide awake. Meetings are frequently held in their churches, and are fully attended. Among the rest, we see that Neal Dow was announced to speak in the new Union Church,—Rev. H. D. Moore's. Rev. E. W. Jackson is also addressing meetings in and about Portland.

☞ In London there are 62 George streets, 55 Charles streets, and 45 John streets. There are 571 streets that possess but 17 names.

☞ Mrs. Frederick, while dancing at a ball in the National Hall, New York, on Monday night of last week, dropped dead upon the floor. Death was supposed to have been caused by disease of the heart.

The Death of Chas. F. Osgood.—The jury of inquest summoned by Coroner Smith to investigate the circumstances attending the recent sudden death of Chas. F. Osgood, have returned the following verdict:

"That the deceased came to his death at the Irving House, No. 72 Lincoln street in the city of Boston, at half past one o'clock, A. M., 13th inst., from some cause operating like a poison in the blood, which cause was produced by the free and habitual use of ardent spirits."

An autopsy of the blood was made by Dr. J. C. H. Stedman, who states as follows in regard to an unusual state of the blood:

"On opening the abdomen an odor strongly resembling that of chloroform was very perceptible. The same odor was noticed arising from the blood of every part of the body. All the blood, noticed, was fluid. Not a particle of coagulum could be discovered in any portion of the system.—All the other organs were examined and found healthy.—Boston Journal.

"Surprise" of a Veteran Advocate of Temperance.—On Monday evening about two hundred of the inhabitants of Littleton, Mass., of all parties, assembled at the residence of their venerable and esteemed fellow-citizen, Benjamin Dix, Esq., whose locks are whitened by the frosts of ninety winters, yet who is still as active in body and vigorous in mind as many who have not lived half his years. For the last fifty years he has been an active and efficient advocate of the temperance cause. The party took with them the materials for a bountiful repast, after dispatching which, speeches, appropriate to the occasion, were made by Rev. Sanderson Looms, Dr. Normandie and Mr. Cleaves. The venerable host thanked his friends for their kind remembrance, and after singing Old Hundred, the company departed. Mr. Dix left yesterday, in company with his daughter, on a visit to friends in New York and New Jersey. Few men at his age, probably would undertake such a journey at this season of the year.—Journal.

COL. BENTON.

The old Col. has a very high opinion of the women of New England. The reporter of the Boston Chronicle says there was a large audience at the Tremont Temple on Tuesday evening, to hear Col. Benton's lecture in behalf of the Female College.

He began by saying that on this occasion he felt more vividly than heretofore, that he was in Boston—the cradle, not only of liberty, but also of institutions beneficial to man. He enumerated the various beneficent institutions of the city, made some reference to its early history, and mentioned some of those who have contributed to found the charitable and humane institutions which have marked its riper years.—He then said:

"But with all this benevolence and munificence, there was something, for a long time, still wanting in Boston and in the world; and of which Boston, as usual, is about to become the mother—a college for the instruction of women physicians to minister to their own sex, chiefly in their peculiar complaints. That college has begun—is now in the seventh year of its age and its promotion the object of this assemblage, and of the discourse which you now hear. The future annalist may chiefly attribute the establishment of this new institution to the zealous exertions of Dr. Samuel Gregory; my own first knowledge of it was through one of its matron managers—Mrs. Anna Goulding. This institution fills a gap in the circle of human instruction, and completes the list of human preparation to meet the evils that flesh is heir to."

He said that women seem born physicians and nurses, especially where their own sex and children are concerned. Every one feels this, and every one must admit that education should be added to their natural aptitude for the business. He referred to Florence Nightingale, spoke in terms of admiration of the Sisters of Charity of the order of St. Vincent de Paul, and said he had seen courage and skill of woman in attending the victims of pestilence in St. Louis, New Orleans, and on the Mississippi river. Therefore he bore willing testimony in behalf of this enterprise.

He referred again to Boston, to its various notable localities and their history.—He spoke of his recent forty days' travel in New England, which, he said, had given him the highest opinion of the people;—they are "sound to the core on the integrity of the Union, and just and fraternal to the rights of the South." He said:

"All are against the extension of slavery by breaking laws and compromises;—and in that I am no better than they are; but few, very few—they tell me not five per centum of the population—would disturb the relation of master and slave in any place where that relation exists by law. As a community, New England is loyal to the Constitution, to the Union, and to the rights of the South;—and this every Southern man may see as well as myself, if he would come, like me, and see for himself; and, from experience, I guarantee him a pleasant and hospitable reception if he come."

He wished that every Southern member of Congress would travel forty days in New England before taking his seat; it would do him good; he would learn to like New England men and New England women also; and moreover, if he had not found his "lost rib," he would find it here. He complimented the beauty of the ladies before him, and bade the audience farewell.

Reason in Rhyme.—Our friend John G. Saxe, during his recent convalescence from a long and severe sickness, wrote a letter to a lecture correspondent near Boston, asking him to "wait a little longer." The concluding portion contained the following lines, which (begging the poet's pardon) we venture to publish:

Alas! my dear friend, could you see
My features so meagre and pallid,
You would own that my 'invalid' plea
Is not altogether invalid.

But though I've been tortured and wracked,
And for months have been wasting away so,
You may just set it down for a fact
It's not my intention to stay so!

The doctor (he comes to me yet)
Is welcome to some of my 'dust,'
But Nature's exorbitant debt—
I mean to pay that—when I must!

P. S.—
I've handed the doctor his pay,
For potions "too tedious to mention;"
And Nature (God bless her!) to-day
Has promised another "extension."

Boston Evening Gazette.

One Hundred Dollars a Drink.—For a day or two past a case has been pending in the Superior Court, Boston, in which the plaintiff, Barnabas B. Bailey, seeks to recover for services as a singer while engaged by Ossian E. Dodge. The defendant refuses to pay, because there was an agreement that if the plaintiff used ardent spirits he should forfeit $100 for each drink; and the defendant alleges that the plaintiff has used ardent spirits five separate times, and claims as a set-off $500. At the conclusion of the trial, the Court charged that the jury must be assured that damages were sustained, and must allow only the amount of damages as a set-off; and the jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff $265.43, the whole amount claimed.—Chron.

GRAND UNION CONCERT,

("OLD FOLKS" & ORCHESTRAL,) AT THE TEMPLE,
SUNDAY EVENING, Jan. 25th.

THE OLD FOLKS CHOIR, of Portsmouth, with all from abroad, as heretofore, will give a Concert at the Temple, on Sunday Evening next, under the direction of
on which occasion they will perform some of the most popular of the ancient music, and will introduce several tunes not performed at their previous Concerts.
From their continued practice together, the sterling old music and the fact that the Instrumental portion of the Choir will be much heavier (and the number of Singers larger) than at their former Concerts—they can promise a more attractive entertainment even than those of last year, which were received with so much favor.
LAWRENCE'S ORCHESTRA,
Consisting of Piano, Melodeon, 6 Violins, 2 Violoncellos, 2 Basses, Clarionet, Flute, Ophicleide, and Bassoon,—under direction of Mr. WM. F. LAWRENCE, will join with the Choir on this occasion, and will open the Concert with the splendid INSTRUMENTATION of MOZART'S REQUIEM.
The Orchestra which has heretofore performed with the Choir, will also join on this occasion—forming together a chorus of nearly two hundred performers.

LOCAL.

THE STORM.—"Everything is beautiful in its season," says a well worn quotation. This is the season of snow storms; and the storm of Sunday night and Monday was a model storm. It snowed and blowed and froze. Or rather, everything that could freeze was frozen before, by the iron weather of Saturday night and Sunday.—On Sunday evening people said it was too cold to snow—but somehow it did snow and blow too,—so that in the morning, on Monday, there were great heaps of snow, but no sleighing. All the roads were filled in spots, especially the Rail Roads.

The people who hungered for news, or those who feel this mental hunger, went to the Rail Road Depots, but there were no trains; to the Post Office, but there were no mails; to the Custom House, but there were no arrivals; and to the Court, but there was no jury.

Out of doors there were no truck teams nor pleasure teams, no silks nor satins, no belles nor beaux. Some dry goods and fancy stores were open, some half open, and some not open at all;—the latter probably sold almost as many goods as the former.

On the whole, though not a great day for business, it was a good day for in-door work, patient waiting, looking over old drawers and papers, calm thought, and the examination and proof of our own mental resources. Such days have their uses and their beauties too. They are the foils to show off the gems,—the back ground to the bright picture of the year,—the emblems of that frowning providence, behind which, as Cowper has it, our Heavenly Father "hides a smiling face."

P. S.—The morning train from Portland arrived in this city about 3 P. M.

The train which left this city at 7:15 A. M. arrived at Ipswich late in the afternoon; while the storm was so violent in Boston that no train was sent out.

COURT OF COMMON PLEAS.

MONDAY, Jan. 19.

The Court came in at half past 10, A. M.; but as some jurymen were detained by the storm, the case of Nicholas L. Folsom vs. City of Portsmouth could not proceed. The Court therefore adjourned to half past 2 o'clock, P. M.;—and then to 9 o'clock on Tuesday morning.

THE UNION CONCERT.—We present in another column, the programme for the grand (Old Folks and Orchestral) Concert, to be given at the Temple on Sunday evening next. It embraces some of the best and most popular of the old tunes, with the Song of the Old Folks (Auld Lang Syne) for the introductory piece,—after the performance of the Requiem Mass by the Orchestra.

On the outside of this paper, we print some extracts, giving a partial description of this splendid composition—Mozart's Requiem Mass,—with the history of its origin, and the peculiar circumstances under which it was written. The instrumental portion alone will be presented,—but with so efficient an Orchestra, will be a most interesting and varied performance.

Mr. Christie is "leader" of the Choir, as heretofore—and the largest and best chorus of voices the Old Folks have yet had, is expected; while the instrumental accompaniment will be much heavier and better than ever before at any of the Old Concerts here, if indeed it was ever equaled at any concert in the city.

The Orchestra is under direction of Mr. Wm. F. Lawrence, and consists of 1 piano, 1 melodeon, 6 violins, 2 basses, 1 bassoon, 1 ophicleide, 1 flute, 1 clarionet. These will perform the Requiem Mass; and will join with the regular players for the Old Folks' Choir, in accompanying them throughout the rest of the programme—forming altogether a splendid chorus.

THE ROCKINGHAM CO. MUSICAL ASSOCIATION met at Portsmouth, N.H., on Tuesday the 6th inst, and continued in session three days, closing with a concert on Thursday evening following. This session was characterised by the right sort of spirit and interest. The new regulation with regard to the admission of members, charging one dollar to each, had the effect to diminish the numbers somewhat, while the quality of the talent was thereby largely improved. The curiosity and love of excitement merely, of the few, was offset against the initiatory fee, and the work of the Institute was bestowed on appreciative minds.

Frank W. Miller, Esq., rendered a noble service in the executive department, which the members of the Institute will long and gratefully remember. The Misses Miller and the Misses Ham, whose voices chimed as from fountains of pure song, were a great acquisition to the concert.—The younger Miss Miller sang the soprano obligato in the "Storm King," with simplicity and winning sweetness, from which many of our old singers might copy with profit to themselves. Miss Olive of Topsfield, Mass., sang a ballad which was well received by the audience. Mr. Robinson of Exeter, N. H., rendered a timid but a grateful tribute of song. Mr. A. Pearson, of Portsmouth, presided at the Grand Pianoforte, with great credit to himself. Mr. Bassett, of Samon Falls, sang a tenor solo composed by Mozart, 'O God, our Father,' with fine effect. Mr. Bassett is one of the teachers who knows how to sing; he being able to give good examples, we infer, therefore that he is a good teacher. Others took prominent parts in the concert, and deserve commendation, whose names we have forgotten.—Boston Musical Journal.

The thermometre in this city stood at 8° above zero, this morning at 6 o'clock.

BY TELEGRAPH TO CHRONICLE.

Below we give a general synopsis of the News received in Boston from Saturday to Monday night—which was sent down by over the wires, by our reporter, about mid night.

BOSTON, Monday Night, 12 o'clk.

All the Railroads are completely blocked up. This is considered the worst storm we have had for many years.

The Thermometer on Sunday morning ing was down to 15 degrees below zero in Boston. The storm extended to Washington.

A man was found frozen to death under snow in Boston.

Boston harbor is frozen tight.

No arrivals nor departures on Eastern Railroad.

The storm is reported worse at New York than this way.

A train of cars left New York at 7 o'clk Sunday night, and arrived at New Haven at 9 o'clock Monday morning, and has not been heard of since.

George G. Page's stable, in Cambridgeport, and adjoining buildings, were burnt during the intense cold on Saturday night. Loss $12.000.

Several churches in Boston caught fire on Sunday.

Hon. Joshua R. Giddings, while speaking in the House on Saturday, was seized with atrophy of the heart, and fell backwards. His condition on Sunday evening was considered favorable.

The Steamship America, whith has arrived at Halifax, confirms the previous accounts of the British attack on China.—Americans also were engaged in the attack, in consequence of insults offered to our flag. The American ship Portsmouth destroyed a Chinese fort.

The Congress of Paris had re-assembled, and was proceeding favorably. In the affairs of Prussia and Switzerland, a more favorable adjustment was hoped.

No other news. C.

RETURNED FROM KANSAS.—Capt. Otis Webb, of this city, who visited Kansas some time since, for the pupose of investing for himself and others, in Kansas lands, arrived home on Tuesday last week. He reports that it is a most beautiful country and that the descriptions of it are not exaggerated. In his opinion, the free state men were most clearly in the right, although he had no particular sympathy for them until he visited the territory and saw the state of affairs there.—New Bedford Standard.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

The greatest natural ornament to the human form divine," a luxuriant, healthy growth of hair. It has been so esteemed in all ages of the world, and among all nations, savage and civilized. Hence, the Indian brave regards the scalp of his enemy as his greatest trophy. For a similar reason, the fashionable belle often disguises the region of vanity, as well as her other phrenological organs with borrowed locks.

He who should discover a mode of preventing the hair from showing the inroads of envious Time by turning prematurely gray, a method by which it could be restored when falling off or turning white, and a way of promoting its continued and luxuriant growth, would be justly entitled to rank among the benefactors of the human race. Read the testimonials of the wonderful, not to say almost miraculous effects of "Professor Wood's Hair Restorative," and see if he has not accomplished all this. [Capital City Fact

In calling the attention of the public to my list of Magazines and Newspapers; I would caution all against subscribing for Magazines, Newspapers, or other works, to irresponsible and transient persons, or travelling agents; for in nine cases out of ten you will be swindled and cheated.

If you wish to take any Magazine or Newspaper, subscribe of some responsible firm in Town.—Hundreds of dollars are lost every year by subscribing for works of strangers and travelling agents, and by being induced to subscribe by the thousands of contrivances to cheat the public—such as Art Unions, Premiums, Cosmopolitan Art Associations, and various humbugs to gull the unwary. Keep clear of all these, and pay your money to those whom you know to be responsible.

The subscriber has been in the business fourteen years, and will guarantee to furnish any publication as cheap as can be obtained.

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.

DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS FOR FEMALES,

Prepared by an old Physician of 40 years experience

THE combination of ingredients in these Pills, is the result of a long and extensive practice; they are mild in their operation, and certain to restoring nature to its proper channel. In every instance have the Pills proved successful. They are certain to open those obstructions to which females are liable, and bring nature into its proper channel, whereby health is restored, and the pale and deathly countenance changed to a healthy one. No female can enjoy good health unless she is regular; and whenever an obstruction takes place, whether from exposure, cold, or any other cause, the general health immediately begins to decline, and the want of such a remedy has been the cause of so many consumptions among young females. Headache, pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, loathing of food, and disturbed sleep, that most always arise from the interruption of nature; and whenever that is the case, the Pills will invariably remedy all these evils. In all cases of painful menstruation, or nervous and spinal affections in the back and limbs, lowness of spirits, hysterics, &c. Nor are they less efficacious in the cure of Leucorrhœa, commonly called the "Whites." These Pills should never be taken during pregnancy, as they would be sure to cause a miscarriage. Warranted purely Vegetable, and free from anything injurious to life or health. Full and explicit directions which should be read, accompany each box.

These Pills are put up in Large Flat Boxes.—Persons residing where there are no Agencies established, by enclosing One Dollar in a letter, prepaid, to Dr. C. L. CHEESEMAN, Box No. 4,581, Post Office, New York City, can have them sent to their respective addresses by return of mail.

Headache, Sick Headache, Foul Stomach.

PITTSBURG, PA., May 1, 1856.

DR. J. C. AYER. Sir: I have used your Pills in my family for the worst headache any body can have by a dose or two of your Pills. It seems to arise from a foul stomach, which they clean out in a short time. If they will cure others as they do me, the fact is worth knowing.

Yours with great respect, ED. W. PREDLE,

Clerk of Steamer Clarion.

Bilious Disorders and Liver Complaints.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR, WASHINGTON CITY, Feb. 1856.

SIR: I have used your Pills in my general and hospital practice ever since you made them, and cannot hesitate to say they are the best cathartic we employ. They are alterating action on the liver is quick and decided, consequently they are an admirable remedy for derangements of that organ. Indeed, I have seldom found any other remedy so effective in obstinate that it did not readily yield to them.

Fraternally yours, ALONZO BALL, M. D.,

Physician of the Marine Hospital.

Dysentery, Relax, and Worms.

POST OFFICE, HAVILLAND, LIV. CO., MICH., Nov. 16, 1855

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the best cathartic medicine. They have done my wife more good than I can tell you. She had been sick and pining away for months. Went off to Kentucky to see her friends, and got two relatives of bloody dysentery. One of our neighbors had it too, and my wife cured him with two doses of your Pills, while others around us paid from five to twenty dollars doctors bills and lost much time, without being benefited at all, even then. Such a medicine as yours, which is actually good and honest, will be prized here.

GEO. J. GRIFFIN, Postmaster.

Indigestion and Impurity of the Blood.

From Rev. J. V. Himes, Pastor of Advent Church, Boston.

DR. AYER: I have used your Pills with extraordinary success in my family and among those I am called to visit in distress. They regulate the organs of digestion and purify the blood they are the very best remedy I have ever known, and I can confidently recommend them to my friends.

Yours, J. V. HIMES.

WABASH, WYANDOT CO., O., Oct. 24, 1855.

DEAR SIR: I am using your Cathartic Pills in my practice, and find them an excellent purgative to cleanse the system and purify the fountains of the blood.

JOHN G. MEACHAM, M. D.

Erysipelas, Scrofula, King's Evil, Tetter, Tumors, and Salt Rheum.

From a Forwarding Merchant of S. Louis, Feb. 4, 1856.

DR. AYER: Your Pills are the paragon of all that is left in medicine. They have cured my little daughter of ulcerous sores upon her hands and feet that had proved incurable for years. Her mother has been long grievously afflicted with blotches and pimples on her skin and to her both, after our child's cure, I gave your Sarsaparilla and Pills, and they have cured her. ASA MORGRIDGE.

Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and Gout.

From the Rev. Dr. Hawkes, of the Methodist Episc. Church.

PLANTE HOUSE, SAVANNAH, GA., Jan. 6, 1856.

HONORED SIR: I should be ungrateful indeed if your skill has brought me if I did not report my case to you. I could settled in my limbs and brought on excruciating neuralgic pains which settled in my stomach and heart. Notwithstanding I had the best of physicians, the disease grew worse and worse, until, by the advice of your excellent agent in Baltimore, Dr. Mackenzie, I tried your Pills. Their effects were slow, but I persisted in persevering in the use of them I am now entirely well.

SENATE CHAMBER, RHODE ISLAND, Jan. 3 Dec., 1855.

DR. AYER: I have been troubled for many years with a Rheumatic Gout—a painful disease that has afflicted me for years. VINCENT SLIDELL.

For Dropsy, Plethora, or kindred Complaints, requiring an active purge, they are an excellent remedy.

For Costiveness or Constipation, and as a Dinner Pill, they are agreeable and efficient.

Fits, Suppression, Paralysis, Inflammation, and even Deafness, and Partial Blindness, have been cured by the alterative action of these pills.

Most of the pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skilful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the dreadful consequences that frequently follow its improper exhibition. These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

and for the relief of consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease.

We need not speak to the public of its virtues. Throughout every town, and almost every hamlet of the American States, its wonderful cures of pulmonary complaints have made it almost familiar household words. Its qualities in any civilized country on this continent without some personal experience of its effects; and fewer, yet the communities say where which have not among them some living trophy of its victory over the subtle and dangerous diseases of the throat and lungs. While it is the most powerful antidote yet known to man for the fatal Cable and dangerous diseases of the pulmonary organs, it is also the pleasanest and safest remedy that can be employed for infants and young persons. Parents should have it in store against the insidious enemy that steals upon them unprepared. We have abundant grounds to believe the CHERRY PECTORAL seven more lives by the consumption it prevents than any other medicine. Keep it by you, and cure your colds while they are curable, not neglect them until no human skill can master the incorrigible cough, fastened on the lungs. It is safer to take a cough when it is slight than to trifle with disorders, and if they know too the virtues of the remedy, we need not dispose than to assure them it is still made the best of its kind. We again as confidently offer our CHERRY PECTORAL as the most perfect possible, and thus afford those who rely on it the best agent which our skill can furnish for their relief.

BETWEEN 18,000 AND 19,000 of these instruments have been finished and are now in use.

THE latest improvement in our Melodeons is the DIVIDED SWELL, secured to us by Letters Patent 22d May, 1855—By means of this Swell Solo Passages may be played with the full power of the instrument, while the Accompaniment is soft and subdued—Hereafter all Melodeons made by us will be furnished with this attachment without extra charge.

Extract from the Commercial Advertiser, July 27, '56.

"Messrs Prince & Co could realize a handsome fortune by disposing of rights to other manufacturers to use their new improvement; but as they prefer to make it a feature in their instruments it can only be obtained by purchasing one of their manufacture."

It is now eight years since we commenced the manufacture of this new reed instrument. In that time, during which time we have finished and sold nearly NINETEEN THOUSAND. Voluntary testimonials to the excellence of our instruments, from the most distinguished Professors of Music in different parts of the United States, have from time to time been received. Thus far we have manufactured little, and our advertisements were well nigh seen for the reason that we could not supply the demand. We have lately created one of the largest and most perfect Manufacturing Establishments in the United States, and we now think that we can fill orders promptly. We therefore give one testimonial we have received.

NEW YORK, 15th Oct. 1855

"G. A. Prince & Co.: Gentlemen—The Double Reed Melodeon has arrived, and a most charming instrument it is. It has been played on by Wallace, Bristow, Bridge, Wm Mason, and a host of others, and they all pronounce it one of the most beautiful toned reed instruments they have ever touched. Very truly, JAMES F. HALL."

We do not know aught of the above mentioned Melodeon is in any particular superior to those we are daily finishing, and we can assure those who are inclined to favor us with their orders that they will not be furnished with instruments equally as good. Our Instruments are all finished in Rosewood Cases, and the workmanship is of the very best quality. The styles and prices are—

Singer's Sewing Machines.

THESE celebrated machines are in practical and profitable use in all parts of the civilized world: in all the various trades, and in sewing every fabric from coarse cloth, or leather, they have been fully tried and approved. Sewing machines of other manufacturers often fail to work, but SINGER'S MACHINES being simple in their nature and complete in contrivance and workmanship. A perfect sewing machine kept employed affords a clear profit of $100 a year, but for less than one is a saver of economy and vexation and loss. The entire reliability of our machines is one great reason for their unparalleled popularity.

ALWAYS OPERATE PERFECTLY,

MACHINES FOR FAMILY SEWING,

of a trail and delicate construction, are recommended by other manufacturers. Such machines are very expensive, and are not to be compared in practical work. The truth is, family sewing machines ought to be stronger than any other, because they are used intermittently, but when sold to manufacturers, and are used for a greater variety of work. The machines which have proved best for all other purposes must be best for family use, and for this reason the sales of our machines has lately been doubled. No other can compare with them in quantity of work.

☞ New machines of the latest improved style will be exchanged on liberal terms for old sewing machines of our own make, or for operative machines of other manufacturers. Local agents wanted to sell the celebrated machines.

N B.—All persons desiring full information about sewing machines, can obtain it by applying to the undersigned, who will forward a pamphlet or paper devoted entirely to the subject. It will be sent gratis. I. M. SINGER & CO.
